France And U. S. Reject Russia's Conference Bid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 —UP—France and the United States Saturday rejected Russia's latest bid for a general European security conference, and called instead for early ratification of the Paris agreements on German rearmament to "strengthen the unity of the Western world."

They spelled out their stand in a joint communique issued by French Premier Pierre Mendes, France and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the conclusion of three days of "very satisfactory" talks here in which they also discussed joint measures to cope with a reported buildup of Red military strength in Indo-China.

The communique, issued only a few hours after Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov modified Russia's bid for a European conference, said that East-West talks should not be held until the Paris agreements are ratified. Then, the U. S. - French communique said such negotiations can be carried on in "good faith, and not to engage in propaganda."

Molotov had offered to postpone Russia's proposed European security conference on Nov. 29 if the West would put off ratification of the German rearmament agreements.

The communique said Dulles and Mendes - France reached agreement on plans to assist the free states of Indo-China "to maintain their freedom and independence," but it gave no details on how this will be done.

Considerable attention was given during the conference to intelligence reports indicated that the Reds have moved about three divisions, including the armored divisions, into northern Viet Nam since the Geneva armistice, which forbade any such buildup.

Dulles and Mendes-France were holding their final conference when Molotov called his extraordinary news conference. The U. S. and French leaders prolonged their meeting, remaining in session for four hours, to await word from Moscow. When Molotov's suggestion was reported to them, they quickly rejected it. One participant reported they were "amused" by it.

The communique dispelled any fears that Western diplomats may have entertained that France would nibble at the bait Russia has been dangling before her to stall off final ratification of the German rearmament agreements.

It said emphatically that early

Molotov Says Paris Pacts To Foment War

MOSCOW, Nov. 20 —UP— The Soviet Union offered Saturday to postpone the Nov. 29 date for its proposed European security conference if the West will delay ratification of the Paris agreements for German rearmament.

Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov made the statement in reply to one of four questions put to him by a correspondent for the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda at a press conference in the Soviet foreign ministry.

Molotov warned that the "danger of war" would be increased if the Paris agreements were ratified and Germany drawn into "militaristic groupings of the Western states."

Such a situation would mean "peaceful European countries will be forced to consider new measures to ensure their security," the foreign minister said in a statement read to Western correspondents by Foreign Ministry Press Chief Leonid Ilyichev.

Molotov said it appeared the Western powers planned to turn down the Soviet invitations to a European security conference. He accused the Western nations' parliaments of attempting to block the proposed talks.

The foreign minister warned that the responsibility for speeding the arms race and increasing military spending would "lie on those who today reject organizing of collective security in Europe."

"As far as the Soviet Union is concerned," Molotov's statement said, "It considers it necessary to warn that the Paris agreements will prepare a new war in Europe."

The statement was read by Ilyichev at a press conference, Molotov was not present. His statement consisted of answers by Molotov to questions by an unidentified correspondent for the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda at a press conference not attended by Western correspondents.

Molotov told the Pravda correspondent that the United States, Britain and France had not replied to the Nov. 13 Soviet note inviting 23 European nations, the U. S. and Communist China to a European security conference in Paris or Moscow Nov. 29.

His statement again emphasized that Russia feels that ratification of the West German rearmament and sovereignty pacts will endanger all other East-West negotiation on Europe and particularly Germany itself.

Molotov was asked his opinion of press comments that the Nov. 29 date for the 25-nation conference was too short notice.

"An agreement on some other date could be reached if the consideration of the question of rati-

Woman Doctor Is Trussed, Beaten To Death In Car

CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—Dr. Elinor Majorie Langton, 52, a prominent Philadelphia psychiatrist, was found beaten to death today on the floor of her automobile.

The car was parked on a quiet, residential street in this city of 60,000 a few miles south of Philadelphia.

Her skull had apparently been fractured by the killer's blows. There were deep bruises on the face and head. Her ankles and wrists were bound with leather cords. The upper part of her clothing was disarranged.

"There is no doubt this woman was brutally murdered," said Earl Allen, chief of the Delaware County detectives. "We are trying to find out now where the murder happened. She could have been murdered elsewhere and driven here."

Dr. Langton, who was unmarried, was on the staff of the Veterans Administration clinic in Philadelphia. She lived at the Drake Hotel there.

Her nephew, Dr. Harold Bryon, an intern at a Philadelphia hospital, identified her in a Chester garage, where the body had been removed temporarily.

Residents of McIlvain St. here discovered the slaying when they looked into a car which had been parked along the street since Friday night.

The body was lying on its back on top of an umbrella between the front and back seats, with the head resting partly against the seat and partly against a rear door.

She was fully clad in a gray dress and dark plaid cloth coat

Umbrella Thrust Fatal To White Man; Negro Held

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The sword-like thrust of an umbrella fatally wounded a 54-year-old industrial worker last night as he was about to keep a motoring date with a woman companion, police said.

City Detective William Gilmore said the pointed tip of an umbrella pierced G. G. Reefer's eye and entered his brain. He died early today in Mercy Hospital.

William Crawford, 33, of Pittsburgh was arrested on a charge of felonious assault and battery shortly after Reefer was stabbed. The woman companion, Miss Irene Taylor, 33, also of Pittsburgh is being detained as a material witness.

Gilmore said Reefer was a white man and Miss Taylor and Crawford are negroes. He said Crawford had been dating Miss Taylor until about two months ago when she started keeping company with Reefer.

The detective said Crawford will continue to be held on the assault and battery charge until the investigation is completed. An autopsy was ordered.

Gilmore gave this version:

Reefer, a resident of nearby New Brighton drove here last night to meet Miss Taylor. He parked at an intersection as he saw her walking down the street.

Miss Taylor said Crawford suddenly appeared and walked to the driver's side of the auto. He was carrying an umbrella, she said. By the time she reached the auto Crawford had left and Reefer was lying on the seat holding his eye.

Gilmore said Crawford returned and drove Reefer and Miss Taylor to the hospital. Then he left and walked to the police station where he asked if they were looking for him.

Gilmore quoted Crawford as saying he attempted to strike Miss Taylor with the umbrella but missed her and struck Reefer. There was no immediate explanation for the difference between the two statements as to Miss Taylor's nearness to the auto at the time.

The umbrella was found in a vacant lot near the scene.

Reefer twice divorced was employed by the Mayer China Co., at Beaver Falls, Pa.

Air Force Major Admits Slaying At Lake Placid

Killed Policeman, Deserter Says In Signed Statement

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP)—State police announced tonight that Maj. James A. Call, Air Force major turned deserter, had signed a statement admitting that he shot and killed a Lake Placid policeman last August.

The slayer fled into the Adirondack Mountain wilderness and touched off a 104-day manhunt.

Capt. Harold Muller announced the development at a news conference at the state police substation in Saranac Lake about an hour after he and other troopers had arrived there with Call, at the end of a day-long drive from the state police barracks at Hawthorne, near New York City.

Asked, "Have you gotten a confession," Muller replied "Yes, we have one, a written confession obtained at Hawthorne, N. Y."

Call was formally charged with first-degree murder just two hours after his arrival at Saranac Lake. Arraigned in the town hall at nearby Lake Placid, he waived examination and waived counsel. Peace Justice Clarence Eccleston remanded him to Essex County jail at Elizabethtown to await grand jury action.

Throughout the five - minute proceeding he showed no emotion and spoke in a low voice.

Muller said the 29-year-old Call had admitted other crimes, in addition to burglaries in Reno, Nev., where he was arrested, but said, "We cannot go into detail."

Less than an hour later, state police announced that Call had been identified by three Lake Placid village policemen as the man who fired at them when they surprised an intruder in an unoccupied summer home last Aug. 5.

Troopers said that the three picked Call out of a six-man lineup made up of men resembling the airman.

Two of the policemen are recuperating from wounds suffered in the gun battle, which was fatal to Patrolman Richard Pelkey, 32.

Call was arrested in Reno last week on a burglary charge. A Reno reporter spotted a newspaper clipping about the Lake Placid slaying and manhunt among Call's effects and telegraphed New York State police.

Two troopers flew to Reno to question the man. Call waived extradition and was returned to New York by plane yesterday.

Call, dark-haired and handsome,

As the News-Star—World once more initiates the annual Good Fellows campaign, for those who may not yet be familiar with the project, we will give a little explanation. Back in the early thirties, the late Wilson Ewing suddenly came upon a store that was operated by B. B. Martin. This big-hearted man had piled up forty or fifty boxes in which he had collected clothing, food and toys which he planned to donate to some people that he knew would have nothing to make their lives happy on Christmas time.

"Next year we at the News-Star—World will take over this project and see if we can't widen it out so that many more persons can be benefitted," was Mr. Ewing's comment. Then it was that "B. B." and Mr. Ewing started to plan what became known as "Good Fellows."

From this start from $2,000 to $4,000 has been realized each year wholly from voluntary donations of the public, and this has been expended judiciously for food, clothing and toys. Many a darkened home has been made alive with Christmas joy through this means.

It was quite natural that Mr. Martin was named the "Chief of Good Fellows," for each year he has given much time, and as a former large grocery operator, his skill in buying foodstuffs is extremely valuable, and he throws his time, his heart and soul, into this important detail of Good Fellows. Last year he begged off, and sought to have others take over, but we are sure he still will have supervisory control of many details, while Jack Hesketh, director of the Monroe Recreation department, will this year as in past years, take upon himself much of the program of seeing that the proper distribution is made of all that can be bought with the funds available.

We hope that this year there will be a large, enthusiastic response to Good Fellows for we are confronted with much need.

In this day and age, it appears

North Louisiana Liquor Law Raids Embrace 11 Spots

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 20 (AP)—State police and federal agents made 11 simultaneous liquor violation raids today on five towns in three northwest Louisiana parishes, seizing 2,000 cases of liquor valued at about $100,000.

Two persons were arrested and at least 30 others were under investigation.

Forty-five state troopers and an undisclosed number of agents made the raids on drug stores, liquor stores and groceries in Shreveport, Minden, Springhill, Homer and Haynesville.

State police sought persons who violated state law by selling liquor in dry areas and those who sold liquor at wholesale without a specific permit. Federal agents sought only persons who sold liquor at wholesale without a license.

All of Claiborne Parish is legally dry as are parts of Webster and Caddo parishes.

No charges were brought immediately by federal agents.

The places raided included: the D. and G. Grocery, Donnie Ware's Grocery, Martin's Grocery, and the Highway Grocery, all of Haynesville; The City Drug Store, the City Limit Grocery, Maddry's Drug Store and David's Drug Store, all of Minden; Ware's Cut Rate Liquor Store, Shreveport, and Ware's Cut Rate Liquor Store, Springhill. In addition, a raid was made on the home of a Minden couple accused of bootlegging.

State police Supt. Francis Grevemberg, who directed the raids from his command post here, said so far it was the biggest raiding, considering the number of men involved in a concentrated area. He said the troopers were volunteers working in their free time.

During the last 10 days, Lt. Leon Price and Sgt. Wally Moll, working as undercover men, said they made purchases in the places raided.

Louis F. Cole, chief of the enforcement branch of the alcohol and tobacco tax of the internal revenue service at Dallas, Tex., came here to take part in the raids. Federal men were armed with search warrants for the raids.

The government considers the sale of five gallons of liquor in one purchase as a wholesale transaction.

Maj. John DeArmond, head of the state police detective bureau, and Lt. C. V. Pocorello, arrested C. D. Holt, 36, owner of Ware's Cut Rate Liquor Store here, and L. C. James 40, an employe, on charges of operating without a wholesale license. About 1,200 cases of liquor were seized. Holt and James were released under bonds of $150 each.

Generally Fair Today, Monday

According to last night's government weather bureau forecast, Louisiana will be generally fair today and Monday. Slightly higher temperatures are expected today.

Arkansas, it was predicted, will be generally fair during the two-day period. No important changes in temperature are expected.

Civil Aeronautics Administration officials at the Selman Field station last night reported that the mercury reached its peak at the 66 degree mark in the Twin Cities yesterday. The low for the day was 37 degrees.

Police Recover Blouse Worn By Kidnaped Girl

MOUNT VERNON, Mo., Nov. 20 —UP—A striped blouse bearing what appeared to be bloodstains was found beneath a highway culvert Saturday and identified positively as that worn by a kidnaped 11-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., girl.

Finding of the blouse all but wiped out hope that the girl was still alive.

The blouse was found on U.S. 66 about 12 miles east of Lebanon, Mo., on the known route of a Texas aircraft worker who was held here in connection with his niece's disappearance.

The blouse was identified by Mrs. Etta May Priest, wife of the uncle, Thurman Priest, 48, of Grand Prairie, Tex. Mrs. Priest said it was the blouse she bought for the missing child, Jeannette Earnest.

Priest said early Saturday he "stole the girl for her own protection."

At Rolla, Mo., State Trooper N. E. Tinnan said he saw the blouse Wednesday morning and kicked it off the culvert. He returned to get it Saturday after hearing the alarms on the missing girl.

Tinnan said the blouse was a Dundee (trade name.) It was white with pink and grey vertical stripes.

While under the influence of "truth serum" administered Friday night, Priest said absolutely "nothing at all coherent," officers said. But later in his cell "he became coherent for the first time," according to Ed Max, special in-

Good Fellows Again Are Seeking To Aid Needy

In memory of Wilson Ewing and George Lofton by a friend	$ 50.00
B. B. Martin	$100.00
Total	$150.00

We are pleased to receive and acknowledge two donations, one of $100 from B. B. Martin, who treasures Good Fellows, as extremely close to his heart, and also we have a donation of $50, in memory of Wilson Ewing, former publisher of the News-Star and Morning World, and George V. Lofton, who was for years, up to time of his death, managing editor of these papers.

Once again the News - Star—World opens the 1954 compaign of Good Fellows as it has done in many past years, when essentials of life as well as holiday toys have been distributed in homes where it seemed that Christmas was only a little understood word. These papers, through money donated cheerfully by a multitude of people, have been able in past years to accomplish much.

But it is by no means the wish of these papers to confine efforts to small circles of people. Christmas is for all persons and each one who reads these papers is cordially invited to be a participant by the donating of their money. If it is possible we would like some fairly sizeable donations but this is not meant to preclude the donations of everyone be they nickels, dimes, or quarters for it is everybody's opportunity to participate in the sheer job of giving to those who really need things that the average person accepts all too thoughtlessly.

There is a certain joy in doing for others and until one does par-

Airman Killed In Unauthorized B-25 Solo Hop

BILOXI, Miss., Nov. 20 (AP) — Rescue crews groped in shallow water near here today for the body of an airman killed in a B-25 crash during a solo unauthorized flight shortly after a flight engineer boasted to a girl in a bar he could fly that type of bomber.

Keesler Air Force Base officials here said a missing flight engineer, whose identity was withheld pending notification of next of kin, had boasted early last night that he could fly a B-25.

Witnesses told Keesler officials the bomber buzzed the area of the bar last night shortly before it dove into the Gulf of Mexico, about 400 yards off the Biloxi business district, scattering wreckage over a quarter mile area.

Air Force officials said they found a few pieces of the body of the victim, but not enough for positive identification. Wading search crews continued probing the shallow water late today.

Keesler officials said the duties of a flight engineer were such that he became acquainted with the operation of the plane and would have had access to it. They said the plane took off without a proper warm-up.

Earlier today, they found the plane's number and identified it as a Keesler plane. Officials said the plane crashed while on an unthorized flight.

Witnesses said the bomber roared low over the business district last night, then dived into the Gulf and shattered, scattering sections over a quarter mile area.

Base officials said evidence at the scene, and the fact that the plane took off without operations or control tower clearance, indicated only one man was aboard.

They said all efforts to establish radio contact with the plane failed.

Grandmother Quits As Football Player

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 20 (AP) — An 82-year old grandmother who is probably the nation's oldest football casualty of 1954, got out of the hospital today and declared her sports career was ended.

Mrs. Ann Kammers tried to place kick her 14-year old grandson's football Nov. 7. The ball was blocking the doorway of her home. In trying to kick it away she fell and broke her thigh.

World War II Veteran Leaves No Survivors

Fashionable Home In Florida Scene Of Stark Tragedy

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. Nov. 20 (AP) — The bodies of Lt. Col. John Samuel Arnold, frequently-decorated hero of World War II, his wife and his mother-in-law were found today in their pretentious home overlooking Tampa Bay.

Acting Coroner Edward P. Silk said the 56-year-old Arnold, who was discharged from the Army four years ago because of a nervous ailment, obviously went berserk and shot himself after killing the two women.

The body of his wife, Mary Ellen, 54, was found face down on the bathroom floor. She had been shot in the back of the head with a nine millimeter automatic pistol. The body of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Annie E. Nulls, 84, was found in her bedroom.

Police entered the home and found the bodies at 10:20 a.m. today after the all night barking of the family's mongrel dog, Cracker, had aroused the anxiety of neighbors. Police Lt. Sidney Hilliard said the shooting apparently took place about noon yesterday.

The body of Arnold, an Army career man with a long and illustrious career of service, was sprawled in a corridor between the bedroom and the living room.

Hilliard said the shooting is believed to have wiped out the entire Arnold family. There are no known survivors.

Silk ruled the deaths double murder and suicide and said there would be no inquest.

The Arnolds were long-time residents of Alexandria, Va., living at 706 Braxton Place. They moved here after Arnold's Army discharge.

Their St. Petersburg home had been sold and they were planning to leave next month to go back to Alexandria. Arnold has been scheduled to enter Walter F. Reed Hospital for treatment of his nervous condition.

Arnold was with American forces in the invasion of Europe and was an aide to Gen. George S. Patton in the Seventh Armored Division sweep to Germany.

Anti-Freeze Kills Three Prisoners In Federal Jail

LA TUNA, Tex., Nov. 20—UP—Three federal prisoners died Saturday from trying to go on a binge with anti-freeze.

"The anti-freeze had no alcohol content," R. H. Armstrong, warden of the La Tuna Correctional Institution, said. "The men drank it because they thought they could get a kick out of it."

Armstrong said the three drank the anti-freeze early Wednesday. Two became ill shortly afterward and the third was placed under a physician's care Friday.

"The three men worked in the prison garage," Armstrong said. "They got the anti-freeze from a car radiator or while pouring it into a radiator."

The three were Melvin Lloyd Simpkins, 22, of Phoenix, Ariz.; Allan Everett Haggard, 24, of San Diego, 9, Calif.

Armstrong said the deaths were "unfortunate." He said there would be no inquest since the prison physician, Dr. Charles Keever, determined the cause of death.

S. Shlenker, Sr., Dies; Rites Set In Monroe Today

Simon Shlenker, Sr., 80, of Monroe died in Houston, Tex., at an early hour Saturday. The body arrived in Monroe late Saturday night and the funeral will be held in the Mulhearn Funeral home at 2:30 p.m. today. Interment will be in the Jewish cemetery here with Rabbi F. K. Hirsch officiating at the funeral home and in the cemetery.

Mr. Shlenker was a native of Harrisonburg, La. but resided in Monroe up to ten years ago when he divided his time between New Orleans and Houston.

For years he was a well known cotton broker in Monroe and had a wide acquaintance and large circle of friends.

He was member of B'Nai Israel congregation here and of the B'Nai Brith.

Mr. Shlenker's wife died about ten years ago. He is survived by two sons, Simon Shlenker, Jr., New Orleans; Irvin Shlenker, Houston, Tex.; a sister, Mrs. Emil Haas, Kansas City, Mo.; and the following grandchildren, Simon Shlenker third, New Orleans; Sidney L. Shlenker, Houston, Tex.; and Gay Shlenker, Houston; and several nieces and nephews.

Surgical Scissors Mystery Solved

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP)—A former Army nurse has ended conjecture that a pair of surgical scissors found 12 miles southeast of here, might be connected with the Sheppard murder case in Cleveland.

The scissors, found Wednesday by 11-year-old Sherry Lynn Babcock of Elkhart, Ind., had the initials "M. J. S." and the name "M. Shepard" scratched on them.

Mrs. Margaret Shepard, of Traverse City, said today she had lost the scissors.

France And U. S. Reject Russia's Conference Bid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 —UP—France and the United States Saturday rejected Russia's latest bid for a general European security conference, and called instead for early ratification of the Paris agreements on German rearmament to "strengthen the unity of the Western world."

They spelled out their stand in a joint communique issued by French Premier Pierre Mendes, France and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the conclusion of three days of "very satisfactory" talks here in which they also discussed joint measures to cope with a reported buildup of Red military strength in Indo-China.

The communique said Dulles and Mendes - France reached agreement on plans to assist the free states of Indo-China "to maintain their freedom and independence," but it gave no details on how this will be done.

Considerable attention was given during the conference to intelligence reports indicated that the Reds have moved about three divisions, including the armored divisions, into northern Viet Nam since the Geneva armistice, which forbade any such buildup.

Dulles and Mendes-France were holding their final conference when Molotov called his extraordinary news conference. The U. Molotov Says Paris Pacts To Foment War

MOSCOW, Nov. 20 —UP—The Soviet Union offered Saturday to postpone the Nov. 29 date for its proposed European security conference if the West will delay ratification of the Paris agreements for German rearmament.

Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov made the statement in reply to one of four questions put to him by a correspondent for the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda at a press conference in the Soviet foreign ministry.

Molotov warned that the "danger of war" would be increased if the Paris agreements were ratified and Germany drawn into "militaristic groupings of the Western states."

Such a situation would mean "peaceful European countries will be forced to consider new measures to ensure their security," the foreign minister said in a statement read to Western correspondents by Foreign Ministry Press Chief Leonid Ilyichev.

The statement was read by Ilyichev at a press conference, Molotov was not present. His statement consisted of answers by Molotov to questions by an unidentified correspondent for the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda at a press conference not attended by Western correspondents.

Molotov told the Pravda correspondent that the United States, Britain and France had not replied to the Nov. 13 Soviet note inviting 23 European nations, the U. S. and Communist China to a European security conference in Paris or Moscow Nov. 29.

His statement again emphasized that Russia feels that ratification of the West German rearmament and sovereignty pacts will endanger all other East-West negotiation on Europe and particularly Germany itself.

Molotov was asked his opinion of press comments that the Nov. 29 date for the 25-nation conference was too short notice.

Asked, "Have you gotten a confession," Muller replied "Yes, we have one, a written confession obtained at Hawthorne, N. Y."

Call was formally charged with first-degree murder just two hours after his arrival at Saranac Lake. Arraigned in the town hall at nearby Lake Placid, he waived examination and waived counsel. Peace Justice Clarence Eccleston remanded him to Essex County jail at Elizabethtown to await grand jury action.

Throughout the five - minute proceeding he showed no emotion and spoke in a low voice.

Muller said the 29-year-old Call had admitted other crimes, in addition to burglaries in Reno, Nev., where he was arrested, but said, "We cannot go into detail."

Less than an hour later, state police announced that Call had been identified by three Lake Placid village policemen as the man who fired at them when they surprised an intruder in an unoccupied summer home last Aug. 5.

Troopers said that the three picked Call out of a six-man lineup made up of men resembling the airman.

Two of the policemen are recuperating from wounds suffered in the gun battle, which was fatal to Patrolman Richard Pelkey, 32.

Call was arrested in Reno last week on a burglary charge. A Reno reporter spotted a newspaper clipping about the Lake Placid slaying and manhunt among Call's effects and telegraphed New York State police.

Two troopers flew to Reno to question the man. Call waived extradition and was returned to New York by plane yesterday.

Woman Doctor Is Trussed, Beaten To Death In Car

CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—Dr. Elinor Majorie Langton, 52, a prominent Philadelphia psychiatrist, was found beaten to death today on the floor of her automobile.

The car was parked on a quiet, residential street in this city of 60,000 a few miles south of Philadelphia.

Her skull had apparently been fractured by the killer's blows. There were deep bruises on the face and head. Her ankles and wrists were bound with leather cords. The upper part of her clothing was disarranged.

"There is no doubt this woman was brutally murdered," said Earl Allen, chief of the Delaware County detectives. "We are trying to find out now where the murder happened. She could have been murdered elsewhere and driven here."

Dr. Langton, who was unmarried, was on the staff of the Veterans Administration clinic in Philadelphia. She lived at the Drake Hotel there.

Her nephew, Dr. Harold Bryon, an intern at a Philadelphia hospital, identified her in a Chester garage, where the body had been removed temporarily.

Residents of McIlvain St. here discovered the slaying when they looked into a car which had been parked along the street since Friday night.

The body was lying on its back on top of an umbrella between the front and back seats, with the head resting partly against the seat and partly against a rear door.

She was fully clad in a gray dress and dark plaid cloth coat

Jes' Ramblin'

As the News-Star—World once more initiates the annual Good Fellows campaign, for those who may not yet be familiar with the project, we will give a little explanation. Back in the early thirties, the late Wilson Ewing suddenly came upon a store that was operated by B. B. Martin. This big-hearted man had piled up forty or fifty boxes in which he had collected clothing, food and toys which he planned to donate to some people that he knew would have nothing to make their lives happy on Christmas time.

"Next year we at the News-Star—World will take over this project and see if we can't widen it out so that many more persons can be benefitted," was Mr. Ewing's comment. Then it was that "B. B." and Mr. Ewing started to plan what became known as "Good Fellows."

From this start from $2,000 to $4,000 has been realized each year wholly from voluntary donations of the public, and this has been expended judiciously for food, clothing and toys. Many a darkened home has been made alive with Christmas joy through this means.

It was quite natural that Mr. Martin was named the "Chief of Good Fellows," for each year he has given much time, and as a former large grocery operator, his skill in buying foodstuffs is extremely valuable, and he throws his time, his heart and soul, into this important detail of Good Fellows. Last year he begged off, and sought to have others take over, but we are sure he still will have supervisory control of many details, while Jack Hesketh, director of the Monroe Recreation department, will this year as in past years, take upon himself much of the program of seeing that the proper distribution is made of all that can be bought with the funds available.

We hope that this year there will be a large, enthusiastic response to Good Fellows for we are confronted with much need.

North Louisiana Liquor Law Raids Embrace 11 Spots

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 20 (AP)—State police and federal agents made 11 simultaneous liquor violation raids today on five towns in three northwest Louisiana parishes, seizing 2,000 cases of liquor valued at about $100,000.

Two persons were arrested and at least 30 others were under investigation.

Forty-five state troopers and an undisclosed number of agents made the raids on drug stores, liquor stores and groceries in Shreveport, Minden, Springhill, Homer and Haynesville.

State police sought persons who violated state law by selling liquor in dry areas and those who sold liquor at wholesale without a specific permit. Federal agents sought only persons who sold liquor at wholesale without a license.

All of Claiborne Parish is legally dry as are parts of Webster and Caddo parishes.

No charges were brought immediately by federal agents.

The places raided included: the D. and G. Grocery, Donnie Ware's Grocery, Martin's Grocery, and the Highway Grocery, all of Haynesville; The City Drug Store, the City Limit Grocery, Maddry's Drug Store and David's Drug Store, all of Minden; Ware's Cut Rate Liquor Store, Shreveport, and Ware's Cut Rate Liquor Store, Springhill. In addition, a raid was made on the home of a Minden couple accused of bootlegging.

State police Supt. Francis Grevemberg, who directed the raids from his command post here, said so far it was the biggest raiding, considering the number of men involved in a concentrated area. He said the troopers were volunteers working in their free time.

During the last 10 days, Lt. Leon Price and Sgt. Wally Moll, working as undercover men, said they made purchases in the places raided.

Louis F. Cole, chief of the enforcement branch of the alcohol and tobacco tax of the internal revenue service at Dallas, Tex., came here to take part in the raids. Federal men were armed with search warrants for the raids.

The government considers the sale of five gallons of liquor in one purchase as a wholesale transaction.

Maj. John DeArmond, head of the state police detective bureau, and Lt. C. V. Pocorello, arrested C. D. Holt, 36, owner of Ware's Cut Rate Liquor Store here, and L. C. James 40, an employe, on charges of operating without a wholesale license. About 1,200 cases of liquor were seized. Holt and James were released under bonds of $150 each.

Generally Fair Today, Monday

According to last night's government weather bureau forecast, Louisiana will be generally fair today and Monday. Slightly higher temperatures are expected today.

Arkansas, it was predicted, will be generally fair during the two-day period. No important changes in temperature are expected.

Civil Aeronautics Administration officials at the Selman Field station last night reported that the mercury reached its peak at the 66 degree mark in the Twin Cities yesterday. The low for the day was 37 degrees.

Police Recover Blouse Worn By Kidnaped Girl

MOUNT VERNON, Mo., Nov. 20 —UP—A striped blouse bearing what appeared to be bloodstains was found beneath a highway culvert Saturday and identified positively as that worn by a kidnaped 11-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., girl.

Finding of the blouse all but wiped out hope that the girl was still alive.

The blouse was found on U.S. 66 about 12 miles east of Lebanon, Mo., on the known route of a Texas aircraft worker who was held here in connection with his niece's disappearance.

The blouse was identified by Mrs. Etta May Priest, wife of the uncle, Thurman Priest, 48, of Grand Prairie, Tex. Mrs. Priest said it was the blouse she bought for the missing child, Jeannette Earnest.

Priest said early Saturday he "stole the girl for her own protection."

At Rolla, Mo., State Trooper N. E. Tinnan said he saw the blouse Wednesday morning and kicked it off the culvert. He returned to get it Saturday after hearing the alarms on the missing girl.

Tinnan said the blouse was a Dundee (trade name.) It was white with pink and grey vertical stripes.

While under the influence of "truth serum" administered Friday night, Priest said absolutely "nothing at all coherent," officers said. But later in his cell "he became coherent for the first time," according to Ed Max, special in-

Airman Killed In Unauthorized B-25 Solo Hop

BILOXI, Miss., Nov. 20 (AP) — Rescue crews groped in shallow water near here today for the body of an airman killed in a B-25 crash during a solo unauthorized flight shortly after a flight engineer boasted to a girl in a bar he could fly that type of bomber.

Keesler Air Force Base officials here said a missing flight engineer, whose identity was withheld pending notification of next of kin, had boasted early last night that he could fly a B-25.

Witnesses told Keesler officials the bomber buzzed the area of the bar last night shortly before it dove into the Gulf of Mexico, about 400 yards off the Biloxi business district, scattering wreckage over a quarter mile area.

Air Force officials said they found a few pieces of the body of the victim, but not enough for positive identification. Wading search crews continued probing the shallow water late today.

Keesler officials said the duties of a flight engineer were such that he became acquainted with the operation of the plane and would have had access to it. They said the plane took off without a proper warm-up.

Earlier today, they found the plane's number and identified it as a Keesler plane. Officials said the plane crashed while on an unthorized flight.

Witnesses said the bomber roared low over the business district last night, then dived into the Gulf and shattered, scattering sections over a quarter mile area.

Base officials said evidence at the scene, and the fact that the plane took off without operations or control tower clearance, indicated only one man was aboard.

They said all efforts to establish radio contact with the plane failed.

Grandmother Quits As Football Player

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 20 (AP) — An 82-year old grandmother who is probably the nation's oldest football casualty of 1954, got out of the hospital today and declared her sports career was ended.

Mrs. Ann Kammers tried to place kick her 14-year old grandson's football Nov. 7. The ball was blocking the doorway of her home. In trying to kick it away she fell and broke her thigh.

Good Fellows Again Are Seeking To Aid Needy

B. B. Martin	$100.00
Total	$150.00

We are pleased to receive and acknowledge two donations, one of $100 from B. B. Martin, who treasures Good Fellows, as extremely close to his heart, and also we have a donation of $50, in memory of Wilson Ewing, former publisher of the News-Star and Morning World, and George V. Lofton, who was for years, up to time of his death, managing editor of these papers.

Once again the News - Star—World opens the 1954 compaign of Good Fellows as it has done in many past years, when essentials of life as well as holiday toys have been distributed in homes where it seemed that Christmas was only a little understood word. These papers, through money donated cheerfully by a multitude of people, have been able in past years to accomplish much.

But it is by no means the wish of these papers to confine efforts to small circles of people. Christmas is for all persons and each one who reads these papers is cordially invited to be a participant by the donating of their money. If it is possible we would like some fairly sizeable donations but this is not meant to preclude the donations of everyone be they nickels, dimes, or quarters for it is everybody's opportunity to participate in the sheer job of giving to those who really need things that the average person accepts all too thoughtlessly.

There is a certain joy in doing for others and until one does par-

S. Shlenker, Sr., Dies; Rites Set In Monroe Today

Simon Shlenker, Sr., 80, of Monroe died in Houston, Tex., at an early hour Saturday. The body arrived in Monroe late Saturday night and the funeral will be held in the Mulhearn Funeral home at 2:30 p.m. today. Interment will be in the Jewish cemetery here with Rabbi F. K. Hirsch officiating at the funeral home and in the cemetery.

Mr. Shlenker was a native of Harrisonburg, La. but resided in Monroe up to ten years ago when he divided his time between New Orleans and Houston.

For years he was a well known cotton broker in Monroe and had a wide acquaintance and large circle of friends.

He was member of B'Nai Israel congregation here and of the B'Nai Brith.

Mr. Shlenker's wife died about ten years ago. He is survived by two sons, Simon Shlenker, Jr., New Orleans; Irvin Shlenker, Houston, Tex.; a sister, Mrs. Emil Haas, Kansas City, Mo.; and the following grandchildren. Simon Shlenker third, New Orleans; Sidney L. Shlenker, Houston, Tex.; and Gay Shlenker, Houston; and several nieces and nephews.

Surgical Scissors Mystery Solved

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP)—A former Army nurse has ended conjecture that a pair of surgical scissors found 12 miles southeast of here, might be connected with the Sheppard murder case in Cleveland.

The scissors, found Wednesday by 11-year-old Sherry Lynn Babcock of Elkhart, Ind., had the initials "M. J. S." and the name "M. Shepard" scratched on them.

Mrs. Margaret Shepard, of Traverse City, said today she had lost the scissors.

Umbrella Thrust Fatal To White Man; Negro Held

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The sword-like thrust of an umbrella fatally wounded a 54-year-old industrial worker last night as he was about to keep a motoring date with a woman companion, police said.

City Detective William Gilmore said the pointed tip of an umbrella pierced G. G. Reefer's eye and entered his brain. He died early today in Mercy Hospital.

William Crawford, 33, of Pittsburgh was arrested on a charge of felonious assault and battery shortly after Reefer was stabbed. The woman companion, Miss Irene Taylor, 33, also of Pittsburgh is being detained as a material witness.

Gilmore said Reefer was a white man and Miss Taylor and Crawford are negroes. He said Crawford had been dating Miss Taylor until about two months ago when she started keeping company with Reefer.

The detective said Crawford will continue to be held on the assault and battery charge until the investigation is completed. An autopsy was ordered.

Gilmore gave this version:

Reefer, a resident of nearby New Brighton drove here last night to meet Miss Taylor. He parked at an intersection as he saw her walking down the street.

Miss Taylor said Crawford suddenly appeared and walked to the driver's side of the auto. He was carrying an umbrella, she said. By the time she reached the auto Crawford had left and Reefer was lying on the seat holding his eye.

Gilmore said Crawford returned and drove Reefer and Miss Taylor to the hospital. Then he left and walked to the police station where he asked if they were looking for him.

Gilmore quoted Crawford as saying he attempted to strike Miss Taylor with the umbrella but missed her and struck Reefer. There was no immediate explanation for the difference between the two statements as to Miss Taylor's nearness to the auto at the time.

The umbrella was found in a vacant lot near the scene.

Reefer twice divorced was employed by the Mayer China Co., at Beaver Falls, Pa.

Anti-Freeze Kills Three Prisoners In Federal Jail

LA TUNA, Tex., Nov. 20—UP—Three federal prisoners died Saturday from trying to go on a binge with anti-freeze.

"The anti-freeze had no alcohol content," R. H. Armstrong, warden of the La Tuna Correctional Institution, said. "The men drank it because they thought they could get a kick out of it."

Armstrong said the three drank the anti-freeze early Wednesday. Two became ill shortly afterward and the third was placed under a physician's care Friday.

"The three men worked in the prison garage," Armstrong said. "They got the anti-freeze from a car radiator or while pouring it into a radiator."

The three were Melvin Lloyd Simpkins, 22, of Phoenix, Ariz.; Allan Everett Haggard, 24, of San Diego, 9, Calif.

Armstrong said the deaths were "unfortunate." He said there would be no inquest since the prison physician, Dr. Charles Keever, determined the cause of death.

34-Inch Rat Is Caught; Put On Exhibition Here

By JOHN EARL TAYLOR
Staff Writer

Two Union Parish men didn't make an excursion to South America in an effort to trap big game, but in their possession they have a "creature" supposedly known as the South American rat.

The men, Guy Upshaw, 41, and M. W. Smith, 49, both of Marion, found in their trammel nets Friday morning, in a bayou north of Alexandria, a creature which measured 34 inches from tip to tip and weighed thirteen and one-half pounds. The furry animal, bearing a tail similar to the rat, possessed a head like a beaver or otter. Four menacing looking, extra long teeth, in pairs of two, extended from the upper and lower jaws and were colored a deep rust. The "rat" had a webbing between the first three toes of its foot.

A bystander, George Butler, of Sunshine Heights Addition, West Monroe, of the crowd which gathered at the Monroe Ice Delivery Plant at 521 Trenton, to view the creature, made a possible identification of the animal.

Butler stated that while on a duck hunting trip to south Louisiana, one of these animals was killed by a Frenchman there. The man described the "creature" as a South American rat and said the animals, in all probability, stowed away on vessels leaving the ports of that country.

Upshaw and Smith stated that about seven or eight "buffalo" fish were partially eaten by these animals in their nets. Upshaw, fisherman and hunter renown of Union Parish, said that the hide, not too good in quality, was worth approximately 40 cents.

Of plans for disposing of the animal, Upshaw commented that he was going to show it to his neighbors and possibly keep the hide for a souvenir.

Stepped-Up Production Of Durable Goods Aids General Business Rise

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Stepped up production of consumer "durable" goods paced a general rise this week in the nation's business.

Automobiles, home appliances, TV sets and ball point pens came off assembly lines in ever-increasing volume. Some manufacturers said output was running behind prospective sales.

Confidence continued higher despite some setbacks.

The stock market, extending its post-election boom, climbed to new 25-year highs, but at times ran into selling difficulties.

Steel production, scheduled at 78.9 per cent of rated capacity, was the highest in 11 months; oil drilling activity reached its second highest level this year. Businessmen who market their products overseas were encouraged by a rising trend in U.S. exports.

Government economists said the building industry—rolling toward an all-time high of 37 billion dollars for 1954—would do even better in 1955. Volume of new construction put in place next year, they said, would push to a new record of 39½ billion.

Less encouraging were reports of a sharp falling off last month in machine tool orders.

Also somewhat disappointing were the latest figures on retail sales.

Total volume of retail trade was down from the previous week, and in many parts of the country it was off as much as 6 per cent from a year ago.

Plans for further retrenchment were announced by Montgomery Ward & Co. The big mail order and department store chain said it is closing an undisclosed number of its smaller stores next month "as part of a general program of concentrating on larger stores and better locations."

The week's decline in over-all retail trade—all the more disappointing because it followed a steady upturn—came despite increased buying of automobiles, sparked by the industry's new models."

Auto dealers said the new, restyled 1955's were selling like hot cakes. Some worried out loud about the sizzling production pace scheduled by the big auto markers for the next few months. Many wondered if the industry would be pushing out new cars faster than retailers could sell them.

Detroit sources said the unusually high production planned for November and December might be stepped up even more next year.

With Chrysler Corp.'s new line introduced to the public, the 1955 sales and production race was on in earnest.

Output of the nation's auto factories for the week was estimated at 130,176 cars—a gain of nearly 12 per cent of the industry's U.S. production.

The Federal Reserve Board reported that the nation's total industrial output increased a little more than seasonally last month and rose further in November.

Output of U.S. factories and mines in October was approximately 125 per cent of the 1947-49 average and compared with an index of 124 in the month before.

Commenting on general business activity, the Federal Reserve Board said:

"Unemployment declined more than seasonally in October, and construction activity and retail sales were maintained at high levels. In early November, sales at department stores showed a greater than seasonal rise."

Final Plans For Parade Monday Are Completed

Final plans have been made for the annual Christmas parade, which will be held Monday beginning at 5 p.m. The parade, featuring Santa Claus and his reindeer, will leave the point of origin, Talemaque street near Ouachita parish High school, and continue through the downtown area of Monroe.

David C. Silverstein, chairman of the retail merchants division of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce, the sponsoring organization, said 10,000 lollipops will be distributed en route by Santa Claus.

The Christmas decorations have been installed and the gayly colored lights will be turned on shortly before the parade reaches DeSiard street. The parade will turn north on South Grand street until it reaches DeSiard when it will turn to Sixth Street. On Sixth street the parade, moving at a very slow pace, will go to Grammont street and then turn back west to St. John and on to the Central Grammar school.

Through the cooperation of the Monroe Fire department and the American Legion post, the emergency equipment truck will be used to illuminate the Central Grammar school grounds, where Santa will talk with the youngsters until 7 p.m.

Luciano Is Under Severe Scrutiny In Native Italy

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Charles (Lucky) Luciano, deported New York vice lord, will appeal against a rigid crackdown by Italian authorities on his movements, his attorney said today.

A six member "admonition board" yesterday ordered the former rackets boss to stay in his Naples villa after dark, to remain within 12 miles of Naples at all times and to avoid "questionable" companions.

The restrictions were imposed for a two-year period. The board acted after police told it Luciano was a social menace, a threat to law enforcement, a security threat to U.S. forces in Naples and 'a man capable of directing narcotics traffic from Italy to the United States."

Luciano's attorney, Ettore Bottwin, said he will appeal to a central committee of admonition in the Italian Interior Ministry at Rome.

Naples newspapers said today Luciano, who has no visible means of income for the luxurious race-track life of ease he has led since his deportation to his native Italy in 1946, was warned yesterday by the board to get a job.

The former New York vice king was quoted as saying "I already have a job. I am the administrator for my brother Bartoli's properties."

Training Meet For Kiwanians Is Slated Wed.

An organizational training conference for all incoming Kiwanis International officers in division six of this district will be held here in the Cameo Room of the Virginia hotel Wednesday, it was announced Saturday.

The meeting was called by Charles Griffin, lieutenant governor of division six of the Louisiana-Mississippi - West Tennessee district of the Kiwanis International, and nine Kiwanis clubs comprising the division are expected to be represented.

These include clubs in Bastrop, Columbia, Ferriday, Jonesboro - Hodge, Monroe, Rayville, Ruston, Olla and West Monroe.

The meeting here will be one of the steps in the training programs for Kiwanis Club officers given internationally.

Instructors at the conference here have previously been instructed by higher officers and those taught at this session will in turn give instructions to other members of their own clubs.

All club presidents, vice presidents, secretaries, and treasurers in the clubs of the nine towns are scheduled to assemble here for the training program.

Staff for the meeting here will include Griffin, out-going lieutenant governor Don Weil; Ivy Jordon, past district governor; W D. Cotton, past international trustee; Ray Green, Dr. George Purvis, and Clifford Roberts, past lieutenant governors; and Robert S. Hargis, past secretary.

N. E. Professor To Take Part In Research Meeting

Foster H. Holdeman, assistant professor of agricultural engineering and specialist in poultry at Northeast State, will be in Graceville, Florida Monday to attend a special conference sponsored by the Ralston Purina company on the results of research into the new method of cage laying in poultry.

Recent research findings in feeding caged layers have demonstrated that special management and feeding problems exist in the new method of improving poultry management through a system of caging individual hens. The new method is designed to increase egg productivity and lengthen the productive life of each hen. Discussion by research experts of these problems and recent developments in solving them will feature the program.

In addition to a tour of facilities at the Cage Research Unit at Graceville, results of work at the temperature-air movement control unit at Ralston's Gar Summit, Missouri Farm will also be shared with Holdeman and others who attend.

Among the leading poultry scientists who will speak on the problems of caged hen production will be Professor D. F. King, head of the poultry department at Alabama Tech.; Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, head of the department of poultry management at Texas A. & M., and Dr. R. M. Bethke, director of research of the Ralston Purina Company.

Editorials

The Rise Of The Sun

Throughout the United States there has been a blanket of blackness over the dissemination of the truth. The "liberals" have long been in possession of most of the means of information in this nation and through this media, the American people have been successfully propagandized as regards China, Yugoslavia, the Czech state, foreign policy, "peaceful co-existence" and other considerations so vital in the war against the Marxist conspiracy.

In short, a lid has been strapped down for numerous years.

Now, in the political "East," there are faint rays of a new dawn. Newspapers which had not dared to print the truth and to give the people of their reading area a clear picture of the political situation, are slowly emerging from their miasma, and they are telling the truth. The papers in this category are not the larger metropolitan newspapers, they are the "grass roots" journals scattered here and there throughout the nation. More and more of them are coming to the front in a gradually growing tide which may someday sweep the Marxists from the field. An informed American people can save this nation.

There are, however, those who are in powerful positions, and who do not want the people to be carefully informed. They are using every means at their disposal to keep these papers "quiet." The story still resembles one of David and Goliath with Dave holding a stone (the Chicago Tribune) in his hand. The stone resembles a magnet, and it is attracting more "stones."

The newspapers attempting to tell the truth must pay a severe price. Truth in these days is most assuredly not a popular nor a profitable affair. The truth hurts and it seems to hurt some individuals harder than others.

In the case of this newspaper, the readers might be interested to know that a most determined effort is being conducted from many directions to "shut it up." Apparently, statements made, which have turned out to be true (we knew they were true or we never would have printed them) have seriously "wrangled" some individuals in powerful positions nationally and internationally.

Few people in this area know that their newspapers, the World and the News-Star, have for many months been going out to key people in all fields of endeavor throughout the United States. Senators, Congressmen, Administration officials, Governors, Journalists and important business leaders have been getting the papers, thanks to several local citizens who subscribe to them and send them out. In addition, these contacts have spread and others across the face of the nation are now counted as News-Star and World subscribers.

To make their reading worthwhile, these papers have endeavored to set up a system of information contacts the world over who have made this editorial column a collecting station and an information center of the first order. There are several complete intelligence services which have placed their files at this paper's disposal.

Why do we, the editors and the publishers of these newspapers advertise these dangerous facts? The answer is simple. In the life of every conservative pro-American journal attempting to print the truth, there are two separate existences. The first is the slow development of the printing of all truthful information—the process of developing the necessary contacts. These "existences" might well be called "stages."

During this time, the "liberals," the outright Marxists and the Bolsheviks ignore the existence of such an endeavor. However, as the papers begin to spread, and to gain influence through the printing of the truth, a point is reached wherein the Marxists can no longer safely ignore the existence of such a threat.

Therefore, they call in their numerous power groups and legitimate organizations and friends who make friendly "suggestions" to the publishers and the directors of the papers asking that a "general reconsideration of editorial policy" be considered.

In short, "boys, for your own good, take it easy."

Failure in the acceptance of a "suggestion" brings on another series of events. This one is noted for the excavations in the closets and the backgrounds of the editors and the publishers to see if "something can't be found." Snide statements by ficticious letters in the Public Forum are sent. Curious telephone calls to the editors and publishers along with letters to the same are included in this category.

Should the amazed (and many of them are actually amazed that this could really be going on in America) editors not close down their aggressive mannerisms, the final process will be entered. This is where the sheep are separated from the goats and the poodles from the shepherds.

This is where the grisly business begins.

It is at this point that the high pressure smear organizations, the goons and the Communists enter the picture. Threats are made of a most positive nature, and heavy pressure is brought to bear in order to "shut them up fast."

THERE IS NOT A SINGLE NEWSPAPER OR INDIVIDUAL WHO HAS BEEN ACTIVE IN THE FIGHT FOR AMERICANISM WHO HAS NOT SUFFERED ALL THREE SUCCESSIVE STAGES IN THIS MARXIST BOOKBURNING AND INFORMATION DROWNING PROCESS.

Now, these people are greatly assisted by a hostile federal administration which has been known to use numerous federal departments to close down "irritating" elements. Mary Cain of Mississippi can tell you about it. Richard Jones of the Tulsa Tribune, Robert McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, William Loeb of the Manchester (New Hampshire) Union Leader, John Chapple of the Ashland (Wisconsin) Daily Press, Hoyles of the Freedom Newspapers (scattered throughout the West) and many others can tell you about it.

Among the feature writers, syndicated columnists and radio commentators, ask George Sokolsky, Fulton Lewis, Jr., Westbrook Pegler, Paul Harvey, Robert F. Hurley and many others about the "pressure."

In short, these fighting newspapers, commentators and journalists both of the written and the spoken word represent more than just a mere threat, they represent a new dawn, a platform of hope on which millions of loyal Americans can stand, and can grasp a firm foothold. Still not well organized, they are the first rays of a new sunrise, and the Marxists are hoping to exterminate them, and to cast more black clouds and more fog onto the horizon.

To state that this newspaper is included in the group fighting for fundamental Americanism, and subjected to these attacks is not necessary as the readers are well aware of the existing situation. However, in small type on the lower righthand side of the page is found the statement of policy which is hereby reprinted for all would-be smear artists, hate mongers and Marxists to read, as well as the good and loyal citizens of this community which these papers take such great pride in serving every day of each year:

"THE MONROE MORNING WORLD (AND NEWS-STAR) IS AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER. IT PRINTS THE TRUTH IMPARTIALLY. IT SUPPORTS WHAT IT BELIEVES TO BE RIGHT. IT OPPOSES WHAT IT BELIEVES TO BE WRONG WITHOUT REGARD TO PARTY POLITICS."

THE WORDS OF THE FOUNDER STILL STAND AND WILL REMAIN STANDING AS LONG AS THIS NEWSPAPER CONTINUES TO PUBLISH.

Standard Stop Signs

Road traffic signs are abcut as standardized as people. In some places the signs are yellow. In some states they are green with white or fluorescent letters on them. Some are dark red. A tourist must be alert to merely decipher the signs to ascertain whether they say merely "No Passing," or some such, or whether it says "Stop."

U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has mailed the highway departments of the various states suggested revisions in the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices. Possibly the most important is the suggestion that stop signs should be painted uniformly bright red, with large white letters spelling out the order.

The theory is that red is automatically associated with danger and that the red is sufficient background, from a visual standpoint, to make the white letters stand out arrestingly (no pun intended). Yellow has been most common color used for stop signs because of its high visibility characteristics, but paint manufacturers can produce a red with equal visual bounce. Addition of fluorescent elements to the paint, and perhaps high visibility reflectors in the letters, can make the signs still more easily visible.

Raising the height of the signs is also suggested. Many states have lowered them in recent years, but the low-set signs can be easily obscured by a parked car and there has been the complaint that mud and film from wet roads splash on the low signs and gradually cut down the distance from which the sign can be easily read.

Perhaps more important than any of these suggestions is the matter of standardization of signs. Most driving is by automatic reflex. Conditioning the drivers of 60,000,000 cars and trucks to prepare for a stop when a wink of red appears along the road will be a great service, and it can be a life saver.

The Rule Of Taboo

This complex civilization and heralded culture occasionally must stagger under man's admission that the howling savage at times solved his problems with greater ease. Savages were ruled by the taboo and the law of the taboo was not to be violated.

Modern human beings are creatures in a culture that never has learned how to impress its members with "musts" and "must nots."

Children refer to teachers as "sour pusses," "old goats" and "heels," without a word of admonition from their parents. Too many are sent to school with orders to go because they have to go, and without explanation that school is maintained for the child's benefit.

Children are permitted to be cop-haters, with parents neglecting to explain that police have a place in the scheme of modern life. Few parents bother to explain destruction of public property comes out of the family purse—through taxes.

Borrowing again from the savage, it must be remembered that one thing he hated was cowardice. Not one of the young vandals who frequently run afoul of the law by destroying public or private property probably has ever been told that such an act is the act of a coward. They think it is an act of boldness because they have never been told differently.

Leaners And Lifters

Just as true as they were the day they were written are the words of Ella Wheeler Wilcox, "There are two kinds of people on earth today—the people who lift and the people who lean."

Leaners are by no means small in number. Half of us sit back and watch the other half do the hard work. We do not seem to care who does it. We just know someone does it and that it gets done in some way or other.

But we may be thankful for the lifters! And grateful for the tasks they perform so capably. And we know their efforts are not in vain, for they have made this country what it is.

Tonight I bought a copy of your paper at the hotel. It is my custom to turn to the editorial page more often than not with disappointing results. You can imagine my amazement to see in print a copy of the resolution so many patriotic Americans intend to sign. In my judgment, this is an instance of newspaper service at its best. It has become the order of the day for newspaper publishers to avoid issues. Tonight's edition reminds me of the old days when an editor stood four-square on his convictions and had the courage to publish them to the four corners of the earth.

I live in Baton Rouge — one might say a city without a newspaper! Something has happened to newspaper legmen. Fulton Lewis reported this evening that the news services out of Washington reported that the resolution to recess the senate on account of the disability of Senator McCarthy was passed, but they failed to state that it passed by a vote of 74 to 2. Ike's Promise Of Change

Los Angeles.

Editor, Morning World:

President Eisenhower says, and is echoed by the majority opinion of at least our big metropolitan dailies here in L. A. that he sees no particular threat to his program as a result of the recent election. Perhaps they are both right. If so, I believe it to be perhaps salubrious—though for an entirely different reason. Let's consider.

The New-Fair Deals were not only leading us into World Federation, they were driving us. So is Ike. Cause number one for the present election results.

Both the New-Fair Deals and the Eisenhower crowd, while protesting vehemently communism abroad, catered to and encouraged Communists at home, by belittling, besmirching and discrediting wherever possible, those who were most actively and effectively exposing it on the home front. At the same time they were outlawing the Communist party in the U. S. they were hobnobbing with and making bedfellows of the fellow travelers and Leftists of both parties here at home. Cause number two for the results of the election.

Elected on a platform of "change" and "economy" Eisenhower succeeded in getting an increase in the national debt ceiling of 12 billion dollars. This made his much publicized "tax reduction" an empty gesture a farce and fraud. Count number three.

On Yalta, Teheran and Pottsdam he erected Panmunjom, Berlin and Geneva. Millions and millions of us are not blind, nor so enamoured of "peaceful co-existence" as to willing to sell our national soul to get it. Count number four.

We talk peace, or he does, but he has let one, one hundred and sixty million contract, another two hundred million, one twenty-six million and another seventeen million dolar contract for war materials, to go abroad—mostly free, I suppose, though I'm only guessing the present by the past.

At the same time we insist for all the world to know that we will not do anything either to destroy communism abroad ourselves, nor will we permit Chiang, Rhee, or any of the peoples behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains to do anything aimed at destruction of the status-quo unless and until we are first attacked. Cause number five.

We won't even break off diplomatic relations with Russia in spite of aiming all the millions spent in war munitions at her. We maintain the farce, worse than a mere fiction, of being at peace with Russia. Number six.

Knowing that the U. N. is a nest for spies, traitors, and saboteurs, and knowing that it is even now plotting the end of our sovereignity, he still insists on maintaining our membership therein and keeping it here in the United States. Not only that, but the most assurance he is willing to give as regards Red China's getting in, is that we will not permit it at "this time." Walter Winchell outlined a few days ago the plans for getting it in later, and conspicuously, he omitted any American plans to block it or get us out if they were admitted. Point number seven.

Ostensibly aiming all these millions for "protection against Soviet expansion," he permits, he and the State Department, a relaxing of the shipment of munitions and "strategic" materials to Russia until there are almost no prohibitions whatever. Point number eight in why the election results.

I could go on. But how can all this be salubrious? Because it took the Republicans twenty years to know that the American People wanted no half-way New-Fair Deal. Too much like trying to get a man with a whole loaf to accept a half loaf.

In '52 they won by promising a change. We didn't get it. It seems beyond the bounds of reason that with such an object lesson as this election before their eyes, they could, or would be permitted to make the same errors in '56 in choosing a presidential candidate.

UN Suggestion

Boston, Mass.

Editor, Morning World:

In a recent Concord (Mass.) Journal editorial, I was severely taken to task for being an "opponent" to the United Nations merely for having suggested observance of United States Day!

Any red - blooded American patriot cannot help questioning the value of the U. N. when a member nation can start and stop wars at will — when it can (and did) supply an aggressor nation with 95 per cent of the tools and know-how of war,—when it can (and did) provide that aggressor nation with all its planes (plus a MIG pilot or two thrown in for good measure), to kill or maim 150,000 of our young men.

"Of course I'm an "opponent" of the U. N. under these conditions! But the charter comes up for revision next year, so here's a positive suggestion to make the U. N. work — or else:

Adopt an amendment to the charter providing that the veto power reserved to the "Big Five" shall be forfeited by any member thereof upon proof that such member has, overtly or covertly, supplied an aggressor nation with planes, ships, ammunition, arms or other war materiel, except such booty as may have been captured by an aggressor nation in the course of its aggressions. Any resolution pertaining to this amendment shall not be subject to the present veto power.

It's as simple as that.

And if one of the "Big Five" does not agree to this amendment, either expel her from the U. N. or get out ourselves. The present set-up makes a cruel, ugly travesty of the brave and beautiful hope that nations can band together to stop war.

McCarthy Issue To Be Heard In 1956

WASHINGTON D. C. — The reverberations of the whole McCarthy episode will still be heard in the national political campaign of 1956.

That is the opinion of most political forecasters in Washington, who feel safer in that prediction than they did about their guesses on the outcome of the 1954 election.

Republicans say that the McCarthy vote, whatever its strength, will be cast in 1956 for their candidates, because it will have no place else to go. The McCarthyites are united in the view that supporters of the Wisconsin senator stayed away from the polls in droves this year. They assert that "the McCarthy issue" was not involved.

Whatever the reason, it seems apparent that Senator McCarthy did not figure nearly as much in the 1954 campaign as both sides believed he would. Some of his friends were defeated and some of his enemies won, but not enough to provide much of a cross section.

The showdown, then, has been postponed until 1956, when the following possibilities are foreseen:

1. Though senator McCarthy is not expected to be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, some extremists will boom him and in some important states, contests are predicted between slates of delegates to the Republican national convention supporting and opposing "what McCarthy stands for." Even in the absence of such contests, delegates will be pressured by McCarthy supporters to state their position on McCarthy, his record and whether they will support platform pledges offered by the McCarthy faction.

2. While it is conceded that President Eisenhower can be renominated without opposition, McCarthy demonstrators in the convention galleries can be upsetting to party harmony. For this reason, some leading Republicans are quietly opposing Chicago as the convention site, because it is conceded to be a strong McCarthy town. Los Angeles may bid for both conventions.

3. The division within the Republican party is now less than it was at the end of the last congress, but recurrent talk of a new party movement, spurred by the organization of several new nationalist groups, is disturbing to Eisenhower's friends. These groups are mostly friendly to McCarthy, though not prepared to boom him for the presidency. They are also cool toward Ike.

4. The McCarthy issue — whether he should be commended or condemned — will figure strongly in several senatorial campaigns. Thirty - two senate seats will be filled in 1956, including those held by 16 Republicans, 15 Democrats and Senator Wayne Morse (Ore.) Independent.

They include those of Senators Everett M. Dirksen (Rep.-Ill.), Herman Welker (Rep.-Idaho) and John M. Butler (Rep.-Md.) all McCarthy supporters; Alexander Wiley (Rep.-Wis.), McCarthy's colleague, whose renomination he is expected to oppose; Homer Capehart (Rep.-Ind.) and Francis Case (Rep. S.D.) who advocated compromise on the McCarthy censure resolution; and several other Republicans who may support McCarthy on the coming censure vote.

Since the congressional election, many Republicans believe that the party can repeat its presidential victory of 1952. But when questioned, most of them concede that such expectancy would be reduced considerably if President Eisenhower were not the nominee. Furthermore, Ike's withdrawal would precipitate a battle for the nomination in which Senator McCarthy and his followers would figure.

Regardless of the censure vote, McCarthy has now attracted enough voters to assure his continuance as a national political figure, at least until his own expected race for reelection from Wisconsin in 1958, many members of congress believe.

Not only his supporters in the senate, but several other Republican senators who must run again in 1956, wonder how the McCarthy vote will affect the senatorial primary and election contests then. Dirksen, Welker, Butler and the others who back him are gambling that their support of McCarthy will help them to be reelected.

The Rise Of The Sun

Throughout the United States there has been a blanket of blackness over the dissemination of the truth. The "liberals" have long been in possession of most of the means of information in this nation and through this media, the American people have been successfully propagandized as regards China, Yugoslavia, the Czech state, foreign policy, "peaceful co-existence" and other considerations so vital in the war against the Marxist conspiracy.

In short, a lid has been strapped down for numerous years.

Now, in the political "East," there are faint rays of a new dawn. Newspapers which had not dared to print the truth and to give the people of their reading area a clear picture of the political situation, are slowly emerging from their miasma, and they are telling the truth. The papers in this category are not the larger metropolitan newspapers, they are the "grass roots" journals scattered here and there throughout the nation. More and more of them are coming to the front in a gradually growing tide which may someday sweep the Marxists from the field. An informed American people can save this nation.

There are, however, those who are in powerful positions, and who do not want the people to be carefully informed. They are using every means at their disposal to keep these papers "quiet." The story still resembles one of David and Goliath with Dave holding a stone (the Chicago Tribune) in his hand. The stone resembles a magnet, and it is attracting more "stones."

The newspapers attempting to tell the truth must pay a severe price. Truth in these days is most assuredly not a popular nor a profitable affair. The truth hurts and it seems to hurt some individuals harder than others.

In the case of this newspaper, the readers might be interested to know that a most determined effort is being conducted from many directions to "shut it up." Apparently, statements made, which have turned out to be true (we knew they were true or we never would have printed them) have seriously "wrangled" some individuals in powerful positions nationally and internationally.

Few people in this area know that their newspapers, the World and the News-Star, have for many months been going out to key people in all fields of endeavor throughout the United States. Senators, Congressmen, Administration officials, Governors, Journalists and important business leaders have been getting the papers, thanks to several local citizens who subscribe to them and send them out. In addition, these contacts have spread and others across the face of the nation are now counted as News-Star and World subscribers.

To make their reading worthwhile, these papers have endeavored to set up a system of information contacts the world over who have made this editorial column a collecting station and an information center of the first order. There are several complete intelligence services which have placed their files at this paper's disposal.

Why do we, the editors and the publishers of these newspapers advertise these dangerous facts? The answer is simple. In the life of every conservative pro-American journal attempting to print the truth, there are two separate existences. The first is the slow development of the printing of all truthful information—the process of developing the necessary contacts. These "existences" might well be called "stages."

During this time, the "liberals," the outright Marxists and the Bolsheviks ignore the existence of such an endeavor. However, as the papers begin to spread, and to gain influence through the printing of the truth, a point is reached wherein the Marxists can no longer safely ignore the existence of such a threat.

Therefore, they call in their numerous power groups and legitimate organizations and friends who make friendly "suggestions" to the publishers and the directors of the papers asking that a "general reconsideration of editorial policy" be considered.

In short, "boys, for your own good, take it easy."

Failure in the acceptance of a "suggestion" brings on another series of events. This one is noted for the excavations in the closets and the backgrounds of the editors and the publishers to see if "something can't be found." Snide statements by ficticious letters in the Public Forum are sent. Curious telephone calls to the editors and publishers along with letters to the same are included in this category.

Should the amazed (and many of them are actually amazed that this could really be going on in America) editors not close down their aggressive mannerisms, the final process will be entered. This is where the sheep are separated from the goats and the poodles from the shepherds.

This is where the grisly business begins.

It is at this point that the high pressure smear organizations, the goons and the Communists enter the picture. Threats are made of a most positive nature, and heavy pressure is brought to bear in order to "shut them up fast."

THERE IS NOT A SINGLE NEWSPAPER OR INDIVIDUAL WHO HAS BEEN ACTIVE IN THE FIGHT FOR AMERICANISM WHO HAS NOT SUFFERED ALL THREE SUCCESSIVE STAGES IN THIS MARXIST BOOKBURNING AND INFORMATION DROWNING PROCESS.

Now, these people are greatly assisted by a hostile federal administration which has been known to use numerous federal departments to close down "irritating" elements. Mary Cain of Mississippi can tell you about it. Richard Jones of the Tulsa Tribune, Robert McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, William Loeb of the Manchester (New Hampshire) Union Leader, John Chapple of the Ashland (Wisconsin) Daily Press, Hoyles of the Freedom Newspapers (scattered throughout the West) and many others can tell you about it.

Among the feature writers, syndicated columnists and radio commentators, ask George Sokolsky, Fulton Lewis, Jr., Westbrook Pegler, Paul Harvey, Robert F. Hurley and many others about the "pressure."

In short, these fighting newspapers, commentators and journalists both of the written and the spoken word represent more than just a mere threat, they represent a new dawn, a platform of hope on which millions of loyal Americans can stand, and can grasp a firm foothold. Still not well organized, they are the first rays of a new sunrise, and the Marxists are hoping to exterminate them, and to cast more black clouds and more fog onto the horizon.

To state that this newspaper is included in the group fighting for fundamental Americanism, and subjected to these attacks is not necessary as the readers are well aware of the existing situation. However, in small type on the lower righthand side of the page is found the statement of policy which is hereby reprinted for all would-be smear artists, hate mongers and Marxists to read, as well as the good and loyal citizens of this community which these papers take such great pride in serving every day of each year:

"THE MONROE MORNING WORLD (AND NEWS-STAR) IS AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER. IT PRINTS THE TRUTH IMPARTIALLY. IT SUPPORTS WHAT IT BELIEVES TO BE RIGHT. IT OPPOSES WHAT IT BELIEVES TO BE WRONG WITHOUT REGARD TO PARTY POLITICS."

THE WORDS OF THE FOUNDER STILL STAND AND WILL REMAIN STANDING AS LONG AS THIS NEWSPAPER CONTINUES TO PUBLISH.

Standard Stop Signs

Road traffic signs are about as standardized as people. In some places the signs are yellow. In some states they are green with white or fluorescent letters on them. Some are dark red. A tourist must be alert to merely decipher the signs to ascertain whether they say merely "No Passing," or some such, or whether it says "Stop."

U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has mailed the highway departments of the various states suggested revisions in the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices. Possibly the most important is the suggestion that stop signs should be painted uniformly bright red, with large white letters spelling out the order.

The theory is that red is automatically associated with danger and that the red is sufficient background, from a visual standpoint, to make the white letters stand out arrestingly (no pun intended). Yellow has been most common color used for stop signs because of its high visibility characteristics, but paint manufacturers can produce a red with equal visual bounce. Addition of fluorescent elements to the paint, and perhaps high visibility reflectors in the letters, can make the signs still more easily visible.

Raising the height of the signs is also suggested. Many states have lowered them in recent years, but the low-set signs can be easily obscured by a parked car and there has been the complaint that mud and film from wet roads splash on the low signs and gradually cut down the distance from which the sign can be easily read.

Perhaps more important than any of these suggestions is the matter of standardization of signs. Most driving is by automatic reflex. Conditioning the drivers of 60,000,000 cars and trucks to prepare for a stop when a wink of red appears along the road will be a great service, and it can be a life saver.

The Rule Of Taboo

This complex civilization and heralded culture occasionally must stagger under man's admission that the howling savage at times solved his problems with greater ease. Savages were ruled by the taboo and the law of the taboo was not to be violated.

Modern human beings are creatures in a culture that never has learned how to impress its members with "musts" and "must nots."

Children refer to teachers as "sour pusses," "old goats" and "heels," without a word of admonition from their parents. Too many are sent to school with orders to go because they have to go, and without explanation that school is maintained for the child's benefit.

Children are permitted to be cop-haters, with parents neglecting to explain that police have a place in the scheme of modern life. Few parents bother to explain destruction of public property comes out of the family purse—through taxes.

Borrowing again from the savage, it must be remembered that one thing he hated was cowardice. Not one of the young vandals who frequently run afoul of the law by destroying public or private property probably has ever been told that such an act is the act of a coward. They think it is an act of boldness because they have never been told differently.

Leaners And Lifters

Just as true as they were the day they were written are the words of Ella Wheeler Wilcox, "There are two kinds of people on earth today—the people who lift and the people who lean."

For this reason, some leading Republicans are quietly opposing Chicago as the convention site, because it is conceded to be a strong McCarthy town. Los Angeles may bid for both conventions.

3. The division within the Republican party is now less than it was at the end of the last congress, but recurrent talk of a new party movement, spurred by the organization of several new nationalist groups, is disturbing to Eisenhower's friends. These groups are mostly friendly to McCarthy, though not prepared to boom him for the presidency. They are also cool toward Ike.

4. The McCarthy issue — whether he should be commended or condemned — will figure strongly in several senatorial campaigns. Thirty - two senate seats will be filled in 1956, including those held by 16 Republicans, 15 Democrats and Senator Wayne Morse (Ore.) Independent.

They include those of Senators Everett M. Dirksen (Rep.-Ill.), Herman Welker (Rep.-Idaho) and John M. Butler (Rep.-Md.) all McCarthy supporters; Alexander Wiley (Rep.-Wis.), McCarthy's colleague, whose renomination he is expected to oppose; Homer Capehart (Rep.-Ind.) and Francis Case (Rep. S.D.) who advocated compromise on the McCarthy censure resolution; and several other Republicans who may support McCarthy on the coming censure vote.

Since the congressional election, many Republicans believe that the party can repeat its presidential victory of 1952. But when questioned, most of them concede that such expectancy would be reduced considerably if President Eisenhower were not the nominee. Furthermore, Ike's withdrawal would precipitate a battle for the nomination in which Senator McCarthy and his followers would figure.

Regardless of the censure vote, McCarthy has now attracted enough voters to assure his continuance as a national political figure, at least until his own expected race for reelection from Wisconsin in 1958, many members of congress believe.

Not only his supporters in the senate, but several other Republican senators who must run again in 1956, wonder how the McCarthy vote will affect the senatorial primary and election contests then. Dirksen, Welker, Butler and the others who back him are gambling that their support of McCarthy will help them to be reelected.

Swordfish Center Of Hawaiian Controversy

By ROBERT C. MILLER

HONOLULU, T.H., Nov. 20—UP—A half-ton swordfish caught on a homemade lure fashioned from bathroom fixtures has become Hawaii's hero of the hour, and the storm center of a bitter controversy.

The 1,002 pound fish is the largest ever caught on rod and reel in American waters, but the question is whether the giant is a black or striped marlin.

Veteran sports fisherman George Parker Jr. of Kona, Hawaii, boated the monster while fishing alone Saturday night after a thrilling, 3 1-2 hour fight. If the fish is a striped marlin, it is a new world's record by some 310 pounds. But if it's a black, it merely becomes the largest game fish ever landed in U.S. waters with hook and line.

Lines have been drawn, sides chosen, and what started out as a purely academic argument by local icthyologists and scientists has become a name calling contest.

Vernon E. Brock, territorial fish and wildlife director, insists the fish is a black marlin, regardless of its stripes.

After repeated queries and lengthy badgering by the striped marlin backers, the exasperated Brock answered: "I don't care if the fish has pink ribbons down its dorsal fins, it's still a black marlin."

Dudley C. Lewis, Hawaii representative of the International Game and Fish Association, is equally adamant that the prize catch is a new world record for striped marlin.

"The basis of all arguments," Lewis said testily, "is ignorance, and people are insisting this is a black marlin just because we have never seen a striped variety this size."

The man who started the rumpus is 38-year-old Parker, who wasn't even fishing when he made the hookup Saturday. The Kona fisherman was ferrying his boat from Hawaii to Oahu for drydocking, and was trailing a line "just in case."

The monster hit his bathroom fixture lure at exactly 4:00 p.m., and the battle was on with Parker shuttling back and forth trying to play the fish, steer the boat, and call for help over the radio telephone. He was all by himself for more than an hour, and the fish had stripped all but 100 yards of line off the reel. The first help to arrive was the American Navy in the form of an aircraft carrier and an escorting destroyer. They playfully bore down on the hapless Parker at 20 knots.

"I became convinced at that point that the Navy didn't want me to land that fish," the big-boned fisherman explained. "The carrier passed right over the line within 200 yards of my boat and if the fish had ever surfaced, it would have ended then and there. Waves from the prop wash caused me to ship water."

Other boats in the vicinity finally arrived and fellow fishermen jumped aboard to help Parker. His 14-0 reel froze at that point, and they finally managed to slowly tow the brute into shallow water where the fish was boated.

The fish was caught on a 16-ounce fiber glass rod, a Penn Senator 14-0 reel with 800 yards of 130 pound test dachron line.

The argument will be settled by the Museum of Natural History which is being supplied with full measurements, specifications and description along with color and black and white pictures of the fish.

Two Priests Get Life Imprisonment

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) Two priests were sentenced yesterday to five days imprisonment in the toughest action yet taken in President Peron's campaign against Roman Catholics he has accused of trying to undermine his regime.

The priests were sentenced on charges of "disturbances and disorders." As is customary in Argentina in cases of misdemeanors, the sentences were based on police investigation without public trial. The priests were taken to a home for aged priests to serve their sentences.

Pegler Receives Two Big Awards

NEW YORK — Westbrook Pegler, whose column appears in the Monroe News - Star, received a double - barrelled award — one a surprise — here this week.

Pegler had been selected by The Banshees to receive their annual "Silver Lady" award at a luncheon in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf - Astoria Hotel. After the statuette had been presented by emcee Arthur "Bugs" Baer, 25 Congressional Medal of Honor winners in the audience rose to offer their own tribute to the columnist, an illuminated scroll signed by all of them and decorated with the Medal of Honor insigne.

The group included army, navy and marine veterans from World Wars I and II, the Spanish-American War, the Mexican campaign and the Philippines insurrection. They came from as far away as California. Another 65 recipients of the medal who wished to attend wrote and wired regrets at not being able to be present.

Richard W. O'Neill, who received his decoration for single-handedly assaulting 25 Germans, though severely wounded himself, in World War I, acted as spokesman for the Medal of Honor group.

The Banshees, a famous luncheon club composed of writers, editors, artists and other topnotchers in the creative trades, were entertained by Bob Hope, John Raitt, Janis Paige, Eddie Foy Jr., and the entire company of "The Pajama Game," and "Elaine Stritch, star of "On Your Toes." More than a thousand persons attended.

Among the distinguished guests present were: George Abbott, the producer; Roy M. Cohn; Rabbi Benjamin Schutlz; Jack Dempsey; William Randolph Hearst Jr., publisher of the New York Journal-American; Former Postmaster General James A. Farley; Ward Greene, editor and general manager of King Features Syndicate; Gene Tunney; Morton Downey; bandleader Sammy Kaye; John Charles Daly, vice president of the American Broadcasting Company; Elliot Nugent, star of "The Seven Year Itch"; Roy Howard, editor of the New York World Telegram and Sun; and Lt. Gen. Withers A. Burress, retiring commander of the first army.

The signers of Pegler's Medal of Honor citation, besides O'Neill, were:

James A. Walsh, N. Y.; Charles W. Shea, N. Y.; Thomas J. Kelly, N. Y.; Nicholas Oresko, N. J.; John W. Meagher, N. J.; Stephen R. Gregg, N. J.; Samuel I. Parker, N. J.; Michael Valente, N. Warning Issued On Road Deer Hunting

John L. McGee, law enforcement division chief of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission, today warned that regulations governing the hunting of deer from a highway right - of - way will be enforced throughout the state.

"It is unlawful to shoot deer while standing on a highway or right - of - way or to stand or loiter on any road that is maintained by the federal government, state or parish with a gun during deer season," Mr. McGee explained.

He also cited a section of the law which prohibits the hunting or shooting of deer with a .22 caliber rifle during the 1954-55 season which opened in south Louisiana November 7 and will begin in the northern portion of the state November 22. Deer seasons in the various parishes will close January 5, 1955.

Official Election Returns Show 8 Proposals Vetoed

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Official election returns were promulgated today showing what everybody knows, that eight of 31 constitutional amendments failed in the November 2 voting in Louisiana.

Top measures winning approval were the amendments on school segregation, a Korean veterans' bonus and annual sessions of the Legislature.

Major amendments defeated included a package plan for validating 92 million dollars worth of highways and institutions bond issues and a proposal for a southwest Louisiana water conservation district.

With the promulgation, the amendments go into effect 20 days after today or Dec. 10.

The official promulgation, ready a week ago, was held up by Gov. Robert Kennon. His signature was required before the returns could be published today in the Baton Rouge State-Times, official state journal.

Kennon had delayed in order to help solve a question of timing arising in one of the amendments creating a Family Court in Baton Rouge.

The amendment's language on appointment of the new judge appeared confusing, but attorneys said if the governor timed it right the appointee would be able to serve a full six-year term.

Kennon already has indicated he will name attorney Joe W. Sanders of Baton Rouge to the Family Court bench.

Hun Highwaymen Rob American GI

DUSSELDORF, Germany, Nov. 20 (AP)—Police reported that West Germany's autobahn bandits pounced on three more victims last night despite a far-flung drive to capture them.

U. S. Army officials warned servicemen to stay off the autobahns at night — the favorite time of operations for the bandits.

The new disclosures upped last night's total of victims to five — one of them a U.S. sergeant.

The soldier victim was Sgt. Orville Herron of Hot Springs, Ark.

The new reports brought the total number of highway holdups to 18.

Eye Of TV Star Removed After Highway Collision

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—Sammy Davis Jr.'s left eye was removed by surgery last night several hours after the brilliant young night club and TV singer-dancer was hurt in a highway collision.

Betty Hutton came out of her 11-day announced retirement to join singer Billy Eckstine in replacing Davis in the floor show of the last Frontier Hotel at Las Vegas, Nev., last night. Actor-singer Jeff Chandler will do the fill-in tonight and tomorrow, the hotel announced.

A nationwide television audience saw Davis perform on NBC's Comedy Hour only last Sunday night. The versatile, 28-year-old Negro sings, dances, clowns and does imitations as star of the Will Mastin Trio.

The trio's other members are his uncle, Will Mastin, and his father, Sammy Davis Sr., veteran vaudevillains.

Dr. Frederick Hull, eye surgeon who performed the operation at Community Hospital, said young Davis was in generally good condition afterward but would be hospitalized here another week or 10 days.

Davis was driving from Las Vegas to Los Angeles to make a recording yesterday when his car was in a collision on Highway 66 with one driven by Mrs. Helen Boss, 72, Van Nuys, Calif., highway patrolmen said.

Davis was thrown against the instrument panel of his car, receiving the eye injury and facial cuts. An occupant of the machine, Charles Head, 39, received a jaw fracture. Mrs. Boss and her passenger, Mrs. Bessie Roth, 69, Akron, Ohio, had minor injuries.

A hotel spokesman said various entertainers will substitute for Davis until he is able to appear. Miss Hutton's return to show business apparently was for only the one night.

Aroused Opinion Seen As Safeguard To Press Freedom

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 20 (AP)—The Associated Press Managing Editors Association was told at a its final meeting today the best way of protecting freedom of information is through an aroused public opinion.

The group heard from three speakers that continual efforts are being made to throw up barriers to news coverage and that the combined efforts of all newspapers are needed to protect the right of the people to know about their government.

The speakers were J. Russell Wiggins of the Washington Post, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors; V. M. Newton Jr., of the Tampa Tribune, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi; and James S. Pope of the Louisville Courier-Journal, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Pope told the group:

"If you tell the people in the paper and report as a matter of news that someone is keeping news from them then you are recruiting the army that can do the job."

Newton said real work of Congress was done in committees and that he had waged an unsuccessful campaign during the past year to persuade the Senate to open up all committee sessions to the press.

He reported that less than one third of the members of the Senate would agree to open committee sessions.

Wiggins said there was a tendency in the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the government to impose restrictions on news coverage, but that some headway was being made in breaking down barriers.

He made the observation that press conferences were helping to provide an access to the real news of government and overcoming the practice of telling a favorable one-sided story through handouts.

Presiding at the panel was Norman E. Isaacs of the Louisville Times, who is chairman of the AMPE Freedom of Information Committee.

A resolution adopted by the association praised the action of Circuit Judge Walter B Jones of Montgomery, Ala., in upholding the freedom of information principle at the Phenix City, Ala., vice trials. The resolution, introduced by Charles A. Fell of the Birmingham News, cited Judge Jones for "distinguished service in behalf of a free press in America."

In a report on a study of the AP news report, Charles H. Hamilton of the Richmond News-Leader said clarity was the big objective in good news writing.

Egg salad may be packed into small containers, chilled and then unmolded on salad greens at serving time. Garnish with extra mayonnaise and capers, paprika or minced parsley.

Assails Sheriff As Strikebreaker In Sugar Dispute

THIBODAUX —UP— Father J. A. Drolet, executive secretary of the LaFourche Social Action Committee, today said acting Sheriff Eddie St. Marie's escorting of "strikebreakers" at the South Coast Corp. sugar mill strike was "immoral and revolting."

He said the escort was in effect taking the side of the company and raised the question if deputy sheriffs might be taking gifts from the corporation.

Father Drolet, pastor of the St. Charles Church here, said that "St. Marie is using force unjustly against Lafourche working men and women. He should realize that this supreme violence easily provokes and breeds other violence."

The sugar mill at Matthews has been struck since Nov. 6 and several acts of violence have been reported. Five men charged with simple battery are to go on trial Dec. 6.

Father Drolet also said St. Marie's calling in of state police to break the picket lines is unjust.

He said the sheriff's statement of "enforcing law and order" in the parish did not apply to "certain disreputable bars and so-called night club in the area.

St. Paul's Will Launch Campaign For Bigger Church

St. Paul's Methodist Church officials announced today the beginning of a $100,000 expansion program for their new church located on Lexington Avenue.

A financial campaign to raise over $100,000 will begin on Thursday, December 2nd and last until December 12th. Pledges will be subscribed over a three year period.

Money collected will be used to build additional church school building, buy additional property, finish the present building, and reduce the mortgage debt.

St. Paul's has had a rapid growth since its beginning in June, 1952. Last December the congregation moved into its first unit, a $100,000 educational building.

A planning committee under the leadership of Mr. G. L. Morgan has been at work for several months considering the immediate and future needs of the congregation.

The new program was adopted by the official board on November 15th, and will be announced to the congregation this morning by its chairman, Mr. Thomas A. Pitt.

Dr. Ben Oliphint, the pastor, has served the church since its beginning.

Madison Schools To Close Monday

TALLULAH, Nov. 20 (Special)—Schools of Madison Parish will be closed all next week according to M. A. Phillips, superintendent.

On Monday Tuesday and Wednesday the teachers will be attending the Louisiana Education Association Convention and Thursday and Friday will be the regular Thanksgiving holidays.

Tallulah To Have Thanksgiving Feat

TALLULAH, Nov. 20 (Special)—A Union Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Ministerial Association here will take place at the Methodist Church here on Wednesday evening with the Rev. Irvin Cheney, pastor of the First Baptist Church, preaching the sermon.

Music will be rendered by members of the church choirs.

RCA Denies U. S. Antitrust Charge In Patent Field

NEW YORK (AP)—The Radio Corp. of America, charged with monopolizing radio-television patent rights since 1932, says the agreements complained about were approved by the government and by the courts in 1932, and also upheld in court in 1942 and 1954.

The government, filing a civil antitrust suit yesterday, said competing radio-TV manufacturers had to depend on RCA, which obtained rights to 10,000 U.S. patents and allegedly used them to control new developments in the industry.

Only RCA's patent licensing system was being contested, with no question raised about its manufacturing operations.

The government asked no punishment for the corporation, but only that it be required to share its patents and know-how more readily with other concerns.

Among others named as co-conspirators in the suit — but not defendants — were the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., the Western Eelectric Co., Bell Telephone Laboratories, the General Electric Co., and Westinghouse Electric Corp.

In a statement yesterday, RCA said it does not acquire for itself, nor does it grant to others, exclusive patent licenses.

RCA also said its "liberal licensing policy of making inventions available to all has resulted in the development of the radio-television industry as the fastest growing and most competitive industry in America."

Party Strategists Already At Work On 1956 Election

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Senate Republican and Democratic campaign strategists already are working on preliminary plans for the 1956 election even though the 1954 voting is barely over.

In one sense, the statistical edge will swing to the Democrats two years hence, since they will have fewer seats at stake than the GOP.

This year it was just the opposite, with the Democrats forced to defend 22 seats while the Republicans had 16 at issue.

The Democrats made a net gain of two seats in the Nov. 2 election, barely enough to give them control of the Senate with its vital committee chairmanships in the 84th Congress.

The lineup starting Jan. 5, barring any last-minute changes by recounts or deaths, will be 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and the one Independent, Sen. Morse (Ore). Morse plans to vote with the Democrats on control.

In the 1956 election, as things now stand, the Republicans will have 17 seats at stake, while the Democrats have 14. The 32nd seat in this class is held by Morse.

But Democratic strategists contend this margin does not tell the full story. They say that nine of their 14 places are in southern or border states which long have been anchored in the Democratic column.

On the other hand, they consider 10 of the 17 Republican seats to be battlegrounds where they figure they have a chance to oust a GOP member.

Republican Senate campaign leaders agree that the statistical picture is not so favorable for them in 1956 as it was this year.

Frost thick tomato slices with softened cream cheese and garnish with thinly sliced pimiento-stuffed olives; serve on lettuce with a well - seasoned French dressing.

Thin slices of cucumber, radishes, celery wedges and green onions make good additions to a cheese snack tray; have an assortment of crackers to go with the cheese, too.

Convicted Killer Of Educator Here Tells Of Crime

Jay Dean Davis, who Friday morning was given a life sentence in the state penitentiary at Angola for the murder of John L. Adams on Aug. 18, said he felt the sentence "was what I would have gotten anyway."

The statement was made after Davis, who confessed to the killing shortly after being arrested in Biloxi, Miss., on Aug. 22, was asked how he felt now that he knew his fate. Davis said he was satisfied with the sentence because "I know they were after my neck."

The 21-year-old Kansan entered a plea of guilty Friday morning to the murder charge with the consent of the state and automatically received a life sentence in the state penitentiary. In addition to this sentence, he also received 10 years after pleading guilty to theft of an automobile. (The vehicle, a 1954 Plymouth, belonged to Adams and was used, as Davis said, "to put space between me and Monroe.")

In an interview, Davis recounted again the incidents which led up to the brutal slaying and discussed freely what happened in the apartment. Questioned as to his feelings on the matter, the man replied matter of factly, "I have committed a crime and now I'm going to pay for it. "But," he added optimistically, "I'm going to get out on good behavior and start over again."

Contrary to reports which emanated from Biloxi when Davis was first questioned, he said he was at Delta Point, across the river from Vicksburg, Miss., when he was picked up by Adams. He said the music official was traveling west and he was going east when he stopped. "I was sitting under the tree just off the highway, when he stopped and asked me where I was going," Davis said. "When I told him I was going to the gulf coast, he said it would be better to go down Highway 165, which runs through Monroe," the man continued. He also told me he was going to Monroe and would put me on the highway, which he described would be better for hitchhiking.

Davis, who has been held in the parish jail since his arrest and return to Monroe on Aug. 22, said his treatment has been "real good" and added "they (officers of the Ouachita parish sheriff department) have been real nice to me; it's not like it would have been in Kansas."

(At the time of his arrest he said he did not want to return to his native state and the institution from which he had escaped because, he alleged, officials would have beat him as they had done prior to his escape. This, he contended, was one of the main reasons for his fighting his victim to keep him from contacting police on the fatal day.)

Shortly after he had escaped from the Kansas institution, he hitchhiked to the west coast, travelling up and down the area "getting in on the cherry picking" and later turned back east to "go sightseeing on the east coast." Later he returned to his hometown, got his personal belongings and headed for the gulf coast. It was on this trip that Adams had picked him up and consequently been killed.

The continuous travelling, Davis said, was to keep from being in one place too long and have officials catch and return him to the institution.

At one time, Davis said, he was offered a job of being a "personal bodyguard" against other persons who might come to the apartment. Davis repeated twice that his victim had told him he could live in the second bedroom of the apartment. This part of the conversation with his victim, Davis pointed out had not been brought to light before. However, he added, there were several things that he hadn't discussed before, but which "I'll answer now . . . you just ask the questions."

Davis also named two taverns, one of which has since been closed down, as places where "that bunch met."

Prior to going in the service, Davis had been a truck driver and with his brother, had driven from Kansas to California. "That's where I got the bug for traveling," he said. Since then he had never wanted to settle down, but had planned on seeing the country.

What did he think of going to Angola? "I'm going down there and learn a trade, then get out on good behavior. That's what I'm going to do!"

Aroused Opinion Seen As Safeguard To Press Freedom

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 20 (AP)—The Associated Press Managing Editors Association was told at a its final meeting today the best way of protecting freedom of information is through an aroused public opinion.

The group heard from three speakers that continual efforts are being made to throw up barriers to news coverage and that the combined efforts of all newspapers are needed to protect the right of the people to know about their government.

The speakers were J. Russell Wiggins of the Washington Post, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors; V. M. Fingerprints Of Insane Criminal Found In Home

NEWTON, Miss., Nov. 20 (AP)—Highway patrolmen and county officers scoured this area today after fingerprints from a burglarized home were identified as those of an escaped criminally insane man.

Brig. Gen. T. B. Birdsong, commissioner of public safety, said the fingerprints were found on the refrigerator of the burglarized home of William Horton.

They were identified as those of Luther Musselwhite who, with three other patients, slugged their ward attendant and fled the unwalled mental hospital near Jackson last October. The other three were captured within four days but no trace of Musselwhite was found until Horton's place was entered.

Birdsong said indications were that Musselwhte was moving eastward and he alerted the Meridian area.

Musselwhite was convicted of the fatal beating of a Columbia fishing camp operator and was sentenced to death. While awaiting execution, the killer staged a hunger strike and was declared insane.

Minor Crisis In Turkey-American Relations Over

By FRED ZUSY

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkish-American friendship appears to have weathered a minor crisis involving the arrest of four U.S. servicemen charged with tearing down and trampling the Turkish flag.

The incident occurred in Izmir, on the Aegean Sea, the headquarters for NATO's Southeast Europe Land and Air Command. The servicemen, jailed since Oct. 30, will be judged in a Turkish criminal court at Izmir Monday. They have pleadel innocent of insulting the Turkish flag — a charge which carries a penalty of up to three years in prison—and explained the flag was torn down accidentally in a playful scuffle among themselves.

There has been no official Turkish reaction. Turkish officials are traditionally close-mouthed. But Turkish newspapers took up a cry of "arrogance" and "colonialism."

Hurriyet of Istanbul. Turkey's largest circulation paper, commented that repeated incidents of this type created "general indignation" in Turkey.

Hurriyet complained that American soldiers have engaged in black market operations, assaulted people and molested Turkish girls.

There are more than 1,000 Americans, with dependents, in Turkey. Some are with the Izmir headquarters of NATO but most are attached to the American Military Aid Mission with headquarters in Ankara, the capital.

In recent months Turkish papers were affronted by reports that medical advisers to American military groups had counseled against drinking local water and using locally grown vegetables.

A few days after the Izmir incident, U.S. Maj. Gen. Robert E.L. Eaton, commander of nato's 6th Allied Tactical Air Force, issued a public apology. He said the case should not be allowed to affect Turkish-American friendship and "we are ready to give our lives if necessary for Turkey."

The servicemen charged in the Izmir incident, with addresses of next of kin as supplied by NATO officials,

Art No Longer Looked On As 'Extra' Activity

Art is no longer considered an "extra" activity of the school day and so will have special emphasis at the annual convention of the Louisiana Education Association, which opens today in Monroe. A preview of the Children's Art Carnival, a regular part of the convention, will be held from 9 to 10 a. m. Monday, followed on Tuesday with the full carnival.

Local parents and teachers have gone all out to prepare for the big event. Chairmen are Mrs. Vera Dowling and Miss Berdie Hatton. Chairmen of the demonstration participation program are Miss Gertrude Gregory and Mrs. Guy Bordelon. Mrs. Paul Thompson is serving as chairman of the hostess committee and honorary chairmen are Mrs. Alton Kirby, president of the Louisiana Classroom Teachers, and B. S. Walker, president of the Louisiana Principal's Association.

Mrs. Patsy Platt, local art section chairman, is an ex-officio member of the committee.

Feature of the carnival is the principal's hour, 2-3 p. m. on Tuesday preceded by a repeat performance of the puppet show at 1:30 p. m. Also, an entire roomful of second grade tots, complete with chairs, will be transported by their teacher Mrs. Grace Willard, from Georgia Tucker School to room 202 at Neville to work their unique "waste" equipment. Corrugated cardboard becomes drawing board, milk tops glued on, are paint cups, and spools padded with muslin - held cotton, serve as brushes for wet or dry paint.

Since it is only when readymade patterns and figurines stop that a creative arts program can start, says Mrs. Irma Sompayrac Willard, state consultant in art education, this carnival serves as a means of learning what to start with.

At the "ingenuity table" where no art supplies, as such, are used, children will work only with newspapers, paste and string, and color pages from magazines in dry paper modeling. At another table, fun box (waste) materials will form patchwork pictures, stabiles, and mobiles in abstract and representational designs. Besides developing ingenuity, an advantage of such materials is the ease of "carry over" into the home life that accessible material affords.

Only crayons at a third table are to be used, on newsprint, wrapping paper, or pages of classified ads; and the book, "Creative Expression with Crayons" by Boylston will be displayed. At other tables there will be hand puppets, temper painting, plastic clay modeling, postermaking, printing from potatoes and blocks; slides, and texture printing. Painting to music will anticipate the art project just announced by the Youth Symphony Concerts.

On hand will be the hostess committee of the P.-T. A. and Mothers Club to distribute brochures of the state department of education, to answer questions and register interested visitors for the mailing list. They will explain the state art program and its underlying philosophy in overcoming stumbling blocks, of which the greatest is "AT," art timidity of the teacher, and therefore of the child; and adult standards for children's work. Regarding the "fill-ins," Mrs. Willard says they may not be considered a substitute for art and should never be exhibited. Neither are they to be confused with reading and arithmetic tests in which squares or other objects are colored-in. Exceptions to this are maps, where accuracy is important, and lettering in which familiarity aids reading. Here, only in decorative additions to maps and composition of space is originality necessary.

48,000 Milk Cows Too Rich For Islanders Blood

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I. (AP)—Prince Edward Island is a land flowing with so much milk it's a problem what to do with it.

Healthy islanders drink lots of milk and use a lot of butter and cheese, but 98,000 people can't keep up with 48,000 good dairy cows.

The cows have such a long lead, in fact, that at the end of September there was a surplus of 1,412,000 pounls of butter—about a fourth of the yearly production on this island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

H. J. MacDonald, dairy superintendent of the Agriculture Department, acknowledged the situation is causing concern. If Canadian federal subsidies on surplus butter ceased, the whole price structure of the dairy industry could be toppled.

Nova Scotians buy half the butter produced on Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick is another big market. Some is shipped to the rest of Canada and to the United States, but demand just doesn't keep up with supply.

What's the answer to the surplus production?

President Tests Bomb Shelter's Communications

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower tried out the communication lines in a White House bomb shelter today as top-government officials catered to secret emergency posts miles from the capital in an atomic attack drill.

For six hours, many operations of government were directed in theory from the remote control stations in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and possibly elsewhere, that would be manned in event of an actual attack.

Eisenhower, who directed the invasion of Europe from bomb-battered England in World War II, spent 10 or 15 minutes receiving operational reports in an underground shelter at the White House.

Aides said he carried on a two-way conversation with an outlying control center designated "high point" and wound up by recommending more such exercises to familiarize government officials with remote control operations.

Nearly 2,000 key government employes took part in the drill, one of a series that started in June to test the "continuity of government" under conditions that might force abandonment of Washington installations.

They fanned out to 30 emergency stations within 80 miles to the west and north of Washington and 300 miles to the south. These relocation centers, which would be manned for the duration of an emergency, were not disclosed, except that they are in resort towns, colleges, and communities having unoccupied federal buildings.

The President communicated directly with Arthur S. Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, and received reports from other relocation centers through Cmdr. Edward L. Beach, Naval aide in charge of White House emergency plans.

that homeseekers of discrimination are seeking sites on which to build that have a bayou or other water frontage, or else are largely beautified by trees of the forest. Tracts of land that possess these characteristics are now largely preferred by those who admire nature at its best. The bayous around Monroe are choice places for residence, and so are places that seem at first glance to be almost entirely given over to forests.

Kiroli Woods is the attractive name of what may prove a $2,000,000 suburban area just out of West Monroe, where the first house of some hundreds of homes is now under construction.

All these homes in deeply wooded areas will be of brick veneer and there will be one and one-half bathroom facilities and each bath will be finished in beautifully colored and highly ornate tile.

This new project will be jointly carried out by Troy and Nichols, Inc. and the Adcock-Booth Construction Company. House financing will be made possible through government assistance, long time loans and easy monthly payments.

West Monroe is quite proud of another service club, the Civitans, that had its charter night Thursday. It will make the third such club for that town, the Kiwanis and Lions being also well supported as the two original clubs there.

Incidentally the Civitans met Thursday in the "Barn" and on that night crowded out the West Monroe Lions club which had to hold its meeting at Lenwil School, but in a brotherly spirit they quite gladly gave up possession of the clubroom to the city's newest group of the kind.

This week the school teachers of Louisiana will take possession of Monroe for their 1954 state convention. Looks like it will be difficult to secure rooms sufficient but somehow it will be made possible. This will be the biggest convention that has come to Monroe in 1954 and the Twin Cities are eager to show how good a host they can be. The latchstring is out! There is nothing too good for the educators of the coming generation!

Aside from the many meetings, dinners, speeches and other events of the convention week, there will be some less serious events to break dull monotony.

In this category will be the "Blue Blue Violet," highly secret organization to become a member of which is regarded a decided honor. This group of women meet only once a year at teacher convention time and they put on plenty of high jinks — so it is said. They will meet Sunday (today) at nightfall on Hotel Frances roof. But the men folks, not to be outdone by the ladies, have a group quite similar all their own which is called the "Red, Red Rose." This meets tonight for the annual frolic and dinner on Hotel Virginia roof. Of course, no ladies can possibly be admitted.

ratification of the agreements is an essential first step toward creating the right atmosphere for East-West negotiations.

On other parts of the world the communique said:

Indo-China — "Agreement was reached on coordinated procedures ...to carry out the policies of France also asserted that "exterthat area designed to assist the associated states to maintain their freedom and independence."

North Africa — Mendes-France "reviewed the recent events in North Africa" (native riots against French rule) and "expressed the hope that proposals already made (for more self-government) would lead to a prompt solution." Mendes France also asserted that "externnal influences" — possibly meaning Communist agitators — have "affected the situation in North Africa and compromised the security of this region."

Reliable sources said Dulles and Mendes-France had given detailed consideration, during their three days of talks here, to intelligence reports indicating that the Communists have increased their strength in North Viet Nam by three divisions, two of them armored, since the Geneva armistice last summer.

The armistice strictly forbids either side to build up its military forces.

Possible counter - action by the United States and France would include stepped - up military and economic aid to the free government of South Viet Nam; use of American officers to train native troops, a job France so far has been reluctant to surrender; and a formal protest to Russia and Red China against the reported armistice violations.

Mendes - France, who arrived here Thursday, held a final man-to-man talk with Dulles Saturday before leaving by train to New York, where he will visit the United Nations headquarters.

He quoted Priest as saying he did not think the girl was "being brought up properly," because of "trouble in her family." Priest said the "last thing he would ever do would be to hurt Jeannette. I would fight to protect her."

Priest insisted that he remembered nothing of what had happened in recent days. Max expressed the hope he left the girl somewhere along the way and she would be found.

Priest told officers he had $1,000 with him when he left Fort Worth. He had only $370 when he was arrested.

Originally it was planned to administer "truth serum," sodium pentothal, to Priest again Saturday but Max indicated that might be changed.

Robbery presumably was not the motive, for several pieces of her personal jewelry were scattered about the car.

Dr. Vincent M. Diodati, head of the Professional Services Division of the Veterans Administration branch where Dr. Langton worked, said the slaying victim was chief of the Mental Hygiene Clinic there for about three years.

He described her as an "excellent psychiatrist — one of the best in the city."

Dr. Diodati said he last saw Dr. Langton on Friday afternoon at the office. She was going over a file of cases — bringing them up to date with notations.

"I stopped by her desk and said hello to her," he recalled. "She answered me with a very pleasant and cheerful greeting."

A native of Shenandoah, in the eastern Pennsylvania coal regions, Dr. Langton came from a family widely known in medicine. Her parents were the late Dr. D. J. Langton and Isabell Scanlan Langton. A brother, Dr. D. J. Langton Jr., died some years ago, and a cousin, Dr. Leo Scanlan, is a surgeon at St. Agnes' Hospital in Philadelphia.

ticipate in this manner, he or she can never feel the enjoyment, the self satisfaction that comes through helping where help is vitally needed.

We hope that more people than ever before will this year participate in donating to Good Fellows. Then, and only then, can one realize the real Christmas joy that comes from doing for others.

We recall in Monroe years ago, that a well known resident had two daughters who were about ten and twelve years of age. They decided to save pennies and dimes in a special bank to be used exclusively for Good Fellows.

Each year for some time they came to the News-Star — World delighted with their small store of small change which ran way up into dollars as they joyfully emptied on the counters at the newspaper office, all for Good Fellows after many months of careful saving.

We shall be delighted if there may be other youngsters who will do likewise this season. It will prove a great lesson in helpfulness and such a one as will follow them through life.

Let's make this a big Christmas for one and all!

Five Members Of Watkins Group To Vote For Censure

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP) — Senators who recommended that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) be censured for his treatment of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker said today they will stand fast despite the defection of one of their number, Sen. Case (R-SD).

The Senate session called to consider the censure issue now is in recess until Nov. 29 because of the hospitalization of McCarthy for treatment of an elbow injury. Bethesda Naval Hospital said McCarthy spent a fairly comfortable night last night but required some medication to relieve pain.

Members of the special bipartisan committee that recommended that McCarthy be censured on two counts said that when the debate resumes they intend to reply to Case's contention that evidence new to him had undercut the basis for rebuking McCarthy for the way in which he questioned Zwicker at a hearing.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson D-Colo., vice chairman of the special committee, said he was about to address the Senate on the Zwicker matter Thursday when he was advised that McCarthy could not be present because of illness.

He has postponed his speech until after the recess, but Johnson already has told the Senate he completely changed his mind about McCarthy's treatment of Zwicker after hearing all the evidence. Before that, he said, he was sympathetic to McCarthy's position.

McCarthy has called Zwicker one of the most evasive and arrogant witnesses ever to appear before his Senate Investigations subcommittee.

At a closed hearing in New York City last Feb. 18, McCarthy questioned Zwicker about the promotion and honorable discharge of former Army Maj. Irving Peress. A New York City dentist, Peress has been described by McCarthy as "a Fifth Amendment Communist."

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the six-member censure committee, said his view that McCarthy should be censured for his treatment of Zwicker is unchanged and that he will set forth his reasons when the Senate debate resumes.

Similarly, another member of the committee, Sen. Stennis (D-Miss), said, "I haven't changed my position." He added that, "The same facts exist now as when the committee voted unanimously to recommend censure."

Stennis said these facts show "an intolerable abuse of a witness who was acting under orders."

While Case announced a change of mind about the Zwicker count after joining in the unanimous committee recommendation, he said today he still plans to vote to censure McCarthy on another count unless the Wisconsin senator apologizes to the Senate or otherwise justifies his action.

This count is that McCarthy obstructed the legislative process by failing to cooperate with a Senate Eelections subcommittee that investigated his finances in 1951-52 and by attacking its members.

Molotov Says

fication of the Paris agreements were delayed," Molotov said.

His replies to other questions were largely reiteration.

Last Saturday Russia delivered notes inviting 22 European nations, the United States and Iceland, to a conference on European collective security to be held either in Moscow or Paris on Nov. 29. Red China was invited as an observer. It also was suggested that the Western powers could invite West Germany and Spain.

(The Western powers and other non-Communist nations greeted the original proposal with coolness and labeled it a desperate Russian attempt to prevent West German rearmament and strengthening of the Western alliance.)

In answering the other three questions Molotov emphasized in strong terms that the Soviet contends ratification of the London and Paris agreements for the rearmament of West Germany will prejudice all other East-West negotiations on Europe, and particularly Germany.

Man Found Shot To Death In Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Police said a passerby found a 69-year-old man shot to death in the middle of a downtown warehouse district street here today.

Howard Louis found the body of Louis Eloi shortly before noon, police said. The elderly man lay face down, police said, bleeding from a gunshot wound in the head. No weapon was found immediately.

The Orleans Parish coroner's office said Eloi was identified by his brother, Henry Eloi.

Store Owner's Death Reveals $2,000 Hoard

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 20 (AP) — Police recovered almost $2,000 from tobacco sacks and cans in a little store operated by George Alig, who died today.

Alig was found dead in a rocking chair in the combination store-home.

Several tobacco sacks were stuffed with silver dollars and a coffee can revealed a huge roll of small bills. Late today, the treasure totalled $1,825.86. Pennies and nickels were scattered over the floor.

More than 60 per cent of all fluospar, a mineral necessary in making steel, is mined in Kentucky.

Richard J. Gatling, inventor of the rapid-fire gun, also invented the first wheat-cutting machine in the United States, in 1830.

5,230 Catholics Allowed To Leave North Viet Nam

By JOHN RODERICK

SAIGON, Viet Nam, Nov. 20 (AP)—The International Armistice Commission chairman reported today that in the past 10 days the Vietminh have granted exit permits to 5,230 Roman Catholics who wish to leave Communist North Viet Nam for new homes in the South.

The chairman, M. J. Desai of India, told a news conference the Commission needs more information before it can decide whether the Geneva agreement regarding free movement of refugees has ben violated.

The French have charged that Communist Vietminh leaders are doing everything possible to prevent the Catholics from leaving the areas around Phat Diem, Bui Chu and Thai Binh. In turn, the Vietminh have accused the French of forcing the refugees to move South.

A delayed dispatch from the Vietminh capital of Hanoi — presumably held up by censors—said about 600 Catholics are leaving Phat Diem daily. An IAC team is on the scene there. Similar teams have not yet appeared at Bui Chu and Thai Binh to report on evacuation procedure adopted in the Geneva agreement.

The French have asserted that between 20,000 and 40,000 Catholics in the North are trying to get away from Communist domination.

Desai told newsmen the Vietminh said they are prepared to grant exit permits to the Phat Diem Catholics, but that through a conspiracy aimed at embarrassing the Communist leaders few are appearing to ask for them. The nature of the conspiracy was not explained.

The chairman added he was confident that once mixed freedom start working in all areas the major difficulties surrounding the movement of refugees will be removed.

The delayed Hanoi dispatch gave this information:

From Phat Diem, where the Catholics had gathered under the symbolic protection of their bishop, they are being taken by road directly to harbors or by river to Nam Dinh.

The Louisiana State Board of Health, established in 1855, is the oldest state board of health in the United States.

External inspection can rarely show whether a pearl is cultivated or natural, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

President Tests Bomb Shelter's Communications

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower tried out the communication lines in a White House bomb shelter today as top government officials catered to secret emergency posts miles from the capital in an atomic attack drill.

For six hours, many operations of government were directed in theory from the remote control stations in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and possibly elsewhere that would be manned in event of an actual attack.

Eisenhower, who directed the invasion of Europe from bomb-battered England in World War II, spent 10 or 15 minutes receiving operational reports in an underground shelter at the White House.

Aides said he carried on a two-way conversation with an outlying control center designated "high point" and wound up by recommending more such exercises to familiarize government officials with remote control operations.

Nearly 2,000 key government employes took part in the drill, one of a series that started in June to test the "continuity of government" under conditions that might force abandonment of Washington installations.

They fanned out to 30 emergency stations within 80 miles to the west and north of Washington and 300 miles to the south. These relocation centers, which would be manned for the duration of an emergency, were not disclosed, except that they are in resort towns, colleges, and communities having unoccupied federal buildings.

The President communicated directly with Arthur S. Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, and received reports from other relocation centers through Cmdr. Edward L. Beach, Naval aide in charge of White House emergency plans.

Beach accompanied the President to the White House bomb shelter with press aides James Hagerty and Murray Snyder. Beach told reporters the shelter is one of several emergency relocation sites for the White House.

that homeseekers of discrimination are seeking sites on which to build that have a bayou or other water frontage, or else are largely beautified by trees of the forest. Tracts of land that possess these characteristics are now largely preferred by those who admire nature at its best. The bayous around Monroe are choice places for residence, and so are places that seem at first glance to be almost entirely given over to forests.

Kiroli Woods is the attractive name of what may prove a $2,000,000 suburban area just out of West Monroe, where the first house of some hundreds of homes is now under construction.

All these homes in deeply wooded areas will be of brick veneer and there will be one and one-half bathroom facilities and each bath will be finished in beautifully colored and highly ornate tile.

This new project will be jointly carried out by Troy and Nichols, Inc. and the Adcock-Booth Construction Company. House financing will be made possible through government assistance, long time loans and easy monthly payments.

West Monroe is quite proud of another service club, the Civitans, that had its charter night Thursday. It will make the third such club for that town, the Kiwanis and Lions being also well supported as the two original clubs there.

Incidentally the Civitans met Thursday in the "Barn" and on that night crowded out the West Monroe Lions club which had to hold its meeting at Lenwil School, but in a brotherly spirit they quite gladly gave up possession of the clubroom to the city's newest group of the kind.

This week the school teachers of Louisiana will take possession of Monroe for their 1954 state convention. Looks like it will be difficult to secure rooms sufficient but somehow it will be made possible. This will be the biggest convention that has come to Monroe in 1954 and the Twin Cities are eager to show how good a host they can be. The latchstring is out! There is nothing too good for the educators of the coming generation!

Aside from the many meetings, dinners, speeches and other events of the convention week, there will be some less serious events to break dull monotony.

In this category will be the "Blue Blue Violet," highly secret organization to become a member of which is regarded a decided honor. This group of women meet only once a year at teacher convention time and they put on plenty of high jinks — so it is said. They will meet Sunday (today) at nightfall on Hotel Frances roof. But the men folks, not to be outdone by the ladies, have a group quite similar all their own which is called the "Red, Red Rose." This meets tonight for the annual frolic and dinner on Hotel Virginia roof. Of course, no ladies can possibly be admitted.

France And U. S.

ratification of the agreements is an essential first step toward creating the right atmosphere for East-West negotiations.

On other parts of the world the communique said:

Indo-China — "Agreement was reached on coordinated procedures ...to carry out the policies of France also asserted that "exterthat area designed to assist the associated states to maintain their freedom and independence."

North Africa — Mendes-France "reviewed the recent events in North Africa" (native riots against French rule) and "expressed the hope that proposals already made (for more self-government) would lead to a prompt solution." Mendes France also asserted that "external influences" — possibly meaning Communist agitators — have "affected the situation in North Africa and compromised the security of this region."

Reliable sources said Dulles and Mendes-France had given detailed consideration, during their three days of talks here, to intelligence reports indicating that the Communists have increased their strength in North Viet Nam by three divisions, two of them armored, since the Geneva armistice last summer.

The armistice strictly forbids either side to build up its military forces.

Possible counter - action by the United States and France would include stepped - up military and economic aid to the free government of South Viet Nam; use of American officers to train native troops, a job France so far has been reluctant to surrender; and a formal protest to Russia and Red China against the reported armistice violations.

Mendes - France, who arrived here Thursday, held a final man-to-man talk with Dulles Saturday before leaving by train to New York, where he will visit the United Nations headquarters.

He described her as an "excellent psychiatrist — one of the best in the city."

Dr. Diodati said he last saw Dr. Langton on Friday afternoon at the office. She was going over a file of cases — bringing them up to date with notations.

"I stopped by her desk and said hello to her," he recalled. "She answered me with a very pleasant and cheerful greeting."

A native of Shenandoah, in the eastern Pennsylvania coal regions, Dr. Langton came from a family widely known in medicine. Her parents were the late Dr. D. J. Langton and Isabell Scanlan Langton. A brother, Dr. D. J. Langton Jr., died some years ago, and a cousin, Dr. Leo Scanlan, is a surgeon at St. Agnes' Hospital in Philadelphia.

We hope that more people than ever before will this year participate in donating to Good Fellows. Then, and only then, can one realize the real Christmas joy that comes from doing for others.

We recall in Monroe years ago, that a well known resident had two daughters who were about ten and twelve years of age. They decided to save pennies and dimes in a special bank to be used exclusively for Good Fellows.

Each year for some time they came to the News-Star — World delighted with their small store of small change which ran way up into dollars as they joyfully emptied on the counters at the newspaper office, all for Good Fellows after many months of careful saving.

We shall be delighted if there may be other youngsters who will do likewise this season. It will prove a great lesson in helpfulness and such a one as will follow them through life.

Let's make this a big Christmas for one and all!

Five Members Of Watkins Group To Vote For Censure

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP) — Senators who recommended that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) be censured for his treatment of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker said today they will stand fast despite the defection of one of their number, Sen. Case (R-SD).

The Senate session called to consider the censure issue now is in recess until Nov. 29 because of the hospitalization of McCarthy for treatment of an elbow injury. Bethesda Naval Hospital said McCarthy spent a fairly comfortable night last night but required some medication to relieve pain.

Members of the special bipartisan committee that recommended that McCarthy be censured on two counts said that when the debate resumes they intend to reply to Case's contention that evidence new to him had undercut the basis for rebuking McCarthy for the way in which he questioned Zwicker at a hearing.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson D-Colo., vice chairman of the special committee, said he was about to address the Senate on the Zwicker matter Thursday when he was advised that McCarthy could not be present because of illness.

He has postponed his speech until after the recess, but Johnson already has told the Senate he completely changed his mind about McCarthy's treatment of Zwicker after hearing all the evidence. Before that, he said, he was sympathetic to McCarthy's position.

McCarthy has called Zwicker one of the most evasive and arrogant witnesses ever to appear before his Senate Investigations subcommittee.

At a closed hearing in New York City last Feb. 18, McCarthy questioned Zwicker about the promotion and honorable discharge of former Army Maj. Irving Peress. A New York City dentist, Peress has been described by McCarthy as "a Fifth Amendment Communist."

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the six-member censure committee, said his view that McCarthy should be censured for his treatment of Zwicker is unchanged and that he will set forth his reasons when the Senate debate resumes.

Similarly, another member of the committee, Sen. Stennis (D-Miss), said, "I haven't changed my position." He added that, "The same facts exist now as when the committee voted unanimously to recommend censure."

Stennis said these facts show "an intolerable abuse of a witness who was acting under orders."

While Case announced a change of mind about the Zwicker count after joining in the unanimous committee recommendation, he said today he still plans to vote to censure McCarthy on another count unless the Wisconsin senator apologizes to the Senate or otherwise justifies his action.

This count is that McCarthy obstructed the legislative process by failing to cooperate with a Senate Eelections subcommittee that investigated his finances in 1951-52 and by attacking its members.

Secret Service Arrests Trio With Huge 'Fortune'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—U. E. Baughman, chief of the U. S. Secret Service, announced last night the arrest of two men and a woman who, he said, had $4,300 in "inferior" counterfeit $100 bills in their possession.

Baughman said the trio would be arraigned before a U.S. commissioner tomorrow on charges of possessing and passing counterfeit bills.

He identified those under arrest as:

Farmer Calloway Thomas, 28, of Miami, Fla., an employe of a printing plant there.

William H. Gardner, 31, of Opa-Locka, Fla., an automobile salesman.

Joan St. Clair, 39, of Miami.

Baughman said his investigation indicated they had started printing the bills in the woman's home about a month ago and had turned out a pile adding up to the face value of $250,000.

Baughman said they admitted passing about $4,000 in counterfeit bills in Dallas, New Orleans, Jackson, Miss., Little Rock, Ark., and Atlanta before coming to Washington.

Ex-Marine Once Received Letter From Dixie Red

MILAN, Tenn. —UP— Richard J. Burrows, former Marine Corps lieutenant, said today he received a letter from Junius Scales in March 1952 while stationed at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Burrows said a drive was underway to collect blood for Korean casualties. He said he ran across a pamphlet which demanded that the people quit giving blood to "end the war in Korea."

Burrow said he wrote a letter to Scales telling him he (Scales) ought to be deported.

Burrow said he received a reply on stationary which was headed, "Carolina District, Communist party of the U.S.A. P.O. Box 62, Chapel Hill, N.C." Burrow said the paper listed Scales as chairman.

Burrow released the text of the letter:

"I received your childish note. It was interesting for the light it throws on what is currently passing for 'an officer and a gentleman.'

"Since you seem to have rid yourself of respect for yourself and your rank, I urge that you also rid yourself of some of your ignorance.

"The Worker and Daily Worker subscription blanks are enclosed to aid in this undertaking."

The letter was signed "Junius Scales."

Ousted Cop To Get Hearing On Wednesday

BATON ROUGE —UP— A city police lieutenant who was fired for allegedly shaking down patrolmen goes before the civil service board Wednesday to continue his plea for reinstatement.

A hearing on the dismissal of former Lt. James H. Blanchard was recessed yesterday until next week after five witnesses testified. Four of them said Blanchard forced them to turn over $1 of the $10 they each collected for handling traffic at high school football games.

2 Women Try On Shoe Mates, Give Clerk Hard Time

DENVER, Nov. 20 (AP) — It all started about noon today when shoe salesman Clarence Hopper Jr. tried a gray slipper on Miss Louise Davidson and inadvertantly put the mate on the counter.

As Miss Davidson walked around to get the feel of the shoe, another woman wandered in and tried on the mate. Both decided that was the shoe for them.

"But I already had the shoe on," said Miss Davidson.

"But it was sitting on the counter," said the other.

They sat at opposite ends of the store and glared.

After 15 minutes, Hopper decided it was time for lunch.

Other clerks tried to solve the dispute. They suggested flipping a coin, or different colors. "Certainly not," was the answer.

Miss Davidson herself suggested: "Look, my right foot is a little larger than my left. I'll take the left 7½ and a right — A, and you can have the others."

"No," said the other. "I picked this shoe up off the counter and. . . ."

At 2:30 p.m. they were still sitting. Hopper was still at lunch.

Then in walked a reporter and a photographer.

The unidentified woman kicked off the gray shoe, slipped on her own and disappeared out the door.

Miss Davidson paid for the shoes and left in triumph.

"You know something," said a clerk who had tried to act as peacemaker, "that shoe didn't fit either of them."

Negro Booked In Shooting Of Other Man

A 27-year-old Monroe Negro was arrested by city police early Saturday morning and booked on two counts in connection with the wounding of an out-of-town Negro as he stepped off a bus here late Friday night.

Solomon Warfield of 122 Washington was booked on charges of aggravated battery on El Shaw, Negro, of Winnsboro, and of discharging a firearm inside the city limits of Monroe.

He was arrested by officers Reed and Hatten shortly after midnight Friday.

According to police reports, Shaw stepped off a bus at 14th street and Washington about 10:30 p. m. Friday and was slightly wounded in the left side by a bullet from a .22 caliber pistol fired by a man he did not know. Shaw's injury was slight and he went back to Winnsboro later in the night without being treated at a hospital here, officers said.

Warfield denied later Saturday morning to Chief of Detectives Hugh Tolbert that he fired the shot which wounded Shaw. Detectives were conducting a further investigation into the case later Saturday.

Road Work Begun On Highway 165

FARMERVILLE, Nov. 20 (Special) — Construction is already underway by the Coastal Asphalt Co. of Baton Rouge to eliminate what highway board chairman Fred Preaus calls "bumps and dips" on U. S. 165 between Monroe and Bastrop in Morehouse parish.

Preaus said that the highway department's $25,000 contract with Coastal Asphalt calls for a bituminous hot mix overlay on three sections of the existing concrete beginning at the Ouachita parish line and extending north to a point just outside of Bastrop.

There will be little or no interference to traffic during the estimated 2½ months of construction, according to George Forman of Monroe, state project engineer.

Secret Service Arrests Trio With Huge 'Fortune'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—U. E. Baughman, chief of the U. S. Secret Service, announced last night the arrest of two men and a woman who, he said, had $4,300 in "inferior" counterfeit $100 bills in their possession.

Baughman said the trio would be arraigned before a U.S. commissioner tomorrow on charges of possessing and passing counterfeit bills.

He identified those under arrest as:

Farmer Calloway Thomas, 28, of Miami, Fla., an employe of a printing plant there.

William H. Gardner, 31, of Opa-Locka, Fla., an automobile salesman.

Joan St. Clair, 39, of Miami.

Baughman said his investigation indicated they had started printing the bills in the woman's home about a month ago and had turned out a pile adding up to the face value of $250,000.

Baughman said they admitted passing about $4,000 in counterfeit bills in Dallas, New Orleans, Jackson, Miss., Little Rock, Ark., and Atlanta before coming to Washington.

Ex-Marine Once Received Letter From Dixie Red

MILAN, Tenn. —UP— Richard J. Burrows, former Marine Corps lieutenant, said today he received a letter from Junius Scales in March 1952 while stationed at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Burrows said a drive was underway to collect blood for Korean casualties. He said he ran across a pamphlet which demanded that the people quit giving blood to "end the war in Korea."

Burrow said he wrote a letter to Scales telling him he (Scales) ought to be deported.

Burrow said he received a reply on stationary which was headed, "Carolina District, Communist party of the U.S.A. P.O. Box 62, Chapel Hill, N.C." Burrow said the paper listed Scales as chairman.

Burrow released the text of the letter:

"I received your childish note. It was interesting for the light it throws on what is currently passing for 'an officer and a gentleman.'

"Since you seem to have rid yourself of respect for yourself and your rank, I urge that you also rid yourself of some of your ignorance.

President Given Book Written By His Own Pastor

Dr. Elson is pastor of the National Presbyterian Church, of which the President and Mrs. Eisenhower are members.

The book, out about six weeks, is dedicated to the President "who by personal example and public utterance is giving testimony to the reality of America's spiritual foundations."

Mrs. Eisenhower received a copy of the book at the church services last Sunday.

Lottery Racket Boss Convicted In Phenix City

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Another vice trial defendant—this one accused of being in the higher ranks of Phenix City's rackets—was convicted of operating a lottery in circuit court here yesterday.

Godwin Davis Jr., reputed boss of a lottery operation that brought in as much as $15,000 a day, didn't hear immediately what his penalty will be.

Special Judge Walter B. Jones delayed sentence until Dec. 6. Davis remains free under bond until that time. The accused numbers kingpin faces 43 other lottery indictments.

Former Patient Of Dr. Sheppard Is Interrogated

By ARTHUR EVERETT

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20 (AP)—At the height of Dr. Samuel Sheppard's murder trial, a former patient at his osteopathic hospital was brought here today for questioning in Marilyn Sheppard's slaying.

The man reportedly came here voluntarily. He was not under arrest and there were no charges against him.

He worked in Cleveland at one time and authorities said he admitted being here July 4 when Dr. Sheppard's attractive 31-year-old wife was beaten to death in her bed.

The man was identified by his lawyer as Philip A. Schilling, 38, of Marine City, Mich., near Detroit.

The lawyer, John Cain, said in Algonac, Mich:

"I have been assured by Detroit and Cleveland police my client had nothing to do with the case. Some screwball injected his name into it and Schilling has gone to Cleveland to clear up any questions police there may have."

Cleveland police have been investigating the man's background. Dr. Stephen Sheppard, older brother of the defendant, reportedly mentioned him to authorities as resembling a description of a bushy-haired prowler who Dr. Sam says killed his wife.

Police Chief Charles Holland of Marine City, said Schilling is about 6 feet 2, and has black, wavy hair. Detroit police contacted him yesterday, Holland added, and he voluntarily went with them.

Marilyn Sheppard, 31 and pregnant with her second child, was beaten to death in her bed, her skull crushed by some 27 heavy blows.

Dr. Sheppard, handsome 30-year-old osteopath in suburban Bay Village 12 miles west of here, said a bushy-haired man invaded his home, killed his wife and twice knocked him unconscious.

The state says Sheppard killed Marilyn in a quarrel over an affair with another woman. The osteopath has been on trial for his life since Oct. 18.

Cleveland Police Capt. David E. Kerr said Schilling was brought here at his own request. His lawyer said the Michigan man once underwent a heart checkup at the Bay View Hospital, which the Sheppard family operates in Bay Village.

Schilling was described as a former alderman of Marine City and a one-time justice of the peace for St. Clair County near Detroit. Chief Holland said he once worked for Standard Products Co. here and later for the same firm in Marine City.

The Marine City chief also said Schilling had a divorced wife and child in Ohio, he thinks in Cleveland.

Holland said Schilling had been in Marine City off and on for the last two years. He had been a patient recently at a rest home there and later moved into a hotel.

Last July 10, Dr. Sheppard suggested to Cleveland police that a spurned "potential lover" may have killed his wife in a burst of maniacal frustration.

"How many of these potential lovers did she have?" he was asked in a signed statement which was read into the murder trial record yesterday.

"Three that I know of," was Dr. Sheppard's reply at that time, "and I'm pretty sure more. I am certain that there were more."

Sheppard told the interrogators last July that he had turned the names over to the police. However, the names were not included in the statement.

The defense has theorized more than once in the trial—now in week-end recess—that Marilyn could have been slain by a maniac whom she did not even know, who may have worshipped her from afar and destroyed her when he learned she was to bear another child.

Marilyn's first child, Chip, a boy, is now 7 years old.

Taylor Assumes Command Of U. S. Far East Forces

CAMP ZAMA, Japan, Nov. 20—UP—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who led the Eighth Army in the final stages of the Korean war, took over Saturday as commander of United States Army forces in the Far East.

Taylor assumed command of all American ground troops on guard against Communist aggression in Korea, Japan and Okinawa in a five-minute ceremony in this former Japanese Imperial army training camp.

The command had been held by Gen. John E. Hull, who will continue as the United Nations military commander and commander of all American Army, Navy and air units in northeast Asia. Hull was unable to attend the ceremonies because of "unforeseen circumstances." A spokesman said his helicopter was grounded at Tokyo by rain and fog.

In a message to Taylor from his Tokyo headquarters, Hull said he knew "of no one I would rather see assume command over all the Army forces in the Far East Command than you."

"I know you will carry out these additional responsibilities in the same magnificent manner in which you commanded the Eighth Army," Hull said.

Taylor, who will retain command of the Eighth Army, moved his headquarters from Seoul to Camp Zama, 15 miles south of Tokyo, and assumed the formal title of commander, Army Forces Far East (AFFE).

Some 5,000 Educators Will Converge On City

Approximately 5,000 public school teachers and administrators will descend on the Twin Cities today and tomorrow for the opening of the 60th annual convention of the Louisiana Education Association, which opens here tomorrow and runs through Wednesday.

The convention, which will consist of three general assembly sessions, meetings of the house of delegates, and numerous sectional meetings of various departments of the LEA, boasts a host of prominent, nationally-known educators as speakers.

Featured convention speaker, who will address a general assembly session Tuesday night, and a meeting of the Louisiana Administrators' Association sectional meeting earlier that day, is William G. Carr, executive secretary of the National Education Association, Washington, D. C.

Another prominent individual will talk to members of the Science teachers section on Tuesday. He is Herman M. Roth, internationally renown atomic scientist, and Director of Research and Medicine at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic facility.

Others scheduled to speak include:

Shelby M. Jackson, state superintendent of education, who will address the first general assembly session at Neville high school on Monday night.

F. F. Wimberly, president of the Louisiana Education Association.

Alice V. Kelliher, professor in the Department of Early Childhood and Elementary Education, New York University.

Bernice McCullar, director of the Office of Information, Georgia State Department of Education.

Gertrude Whipple, supervisor of reading, Detroit, Mich., public schools distinguished author, and chairman of language arts, Wayne, Mich., University.

Dr. Samuel T. Burns, chairman of the University of Wisconsin School of Music, who will address the Louisiana Music Educators during the convention.

Blanche Trezevant, assistant professor of English education, Florida State University, former supervisor of Language Arts, state department of education in Louisiana.

Donald I. Wood, executive secretary of the Texas Association of Student Councils and social science teacher at Breckenridge High School, San Antonio, Tex.

Genevieve Foster, writer-illustrator, who will address the Louisiana school librarians' association.

Mary A. Potter, mathematics consultant, Racine, Wis., public schools.

Lowell L. Carver, professor of industrial education, Iowa State College, and Roland F. Nagel, associate professor of industrial education, Northwestern State College, who will speak to the Industrial Education department of the LEA.

Patric Ruth O'Keefe, director of health education and physical education, Kansas City public schools.

Marion Wood, educational consultant for International Business Machines, and Dr. Samuel J. Wanous, professor of business education and office management, University of California, Los Angeles division.

Dr. John A. Thompson, chairman of the Department of Ancient and Foreign languages, LSU.

In addition to the speakers engaged for the convention, dozens of teachers from throughout the state will participate in panel discussions during the numerous sectional meetings to be held here during the three day meetng.

President Given Book Written By His Own Pastor

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower today received from his pastor, Dr. Edward L. R. Elson a special leatherbound volume of the minister's book, "America's Spiritual Recovery."

Dr. Elson is pastor of the National Presbyterian Church, of which the President and Mrs. Eisenhower are members.

The book, out about six weeks, is dedicated to the President "who by personal example and public utterance is giving testimony to the reality of America's spiritual foundations."

Mrs. Eisenhower received a copy of the book at the church services last Sunday.

Lottery Racket Boss Convicted In Phenix City

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Another vice trial defendant—this one accused of being in the higher ranks of Phenix City's rackets—was convicted of operating a lottery in circuit court here yesterday.

Godwin Davis Jr., reputed boss of a lottery operation that brought in as much as $15,000 a day, didn't hear immediately what his penalty will be.

Special Judge Walter B. Jones delayed sentence until Dec. 6. Davis remains free under bond until that time. The accused numbers kingpin faces 43 other lottery indictments.

Former Patient Of Dr. Sheppard Is Interrogated

By ARTHUR EVERETT

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20 (AP)—At the height of Dr. Samuel Sheppard's murder trial, a former patient at his osteopathic hospital was brought here today for questioning in Marilyn Sheppard's slaying.

The man reportedly came here voluntarily. He was not under arrest and there were no charges against him.

He worked in Cleveland at one time and authorities said he admitted being here July 4 when Dr. Sheppard's attractive 31-year-old wife was beaten to death in her bed.

The man was identified by his lawyer as Philip A. Schilling, 38, of Marine City, Mich., near Detroit.

The lawyer, John Cain, said in Algonac, Mich:

"I have been assured by Detroit and Cleveland police my client had nothing to do with the case. Some screwball injected his name into it and Schilling has gone to Cleveland to clear up any questions police there may have."

Cleveland police have been investigating the man's background. Dr. Stephen Sheppard, older brother of the defendant, reportedly mentioned him to authorities as resembling a description of a bushy-haired prowler who Dr. Sam says killed his wife.

Police Chief Charles Holland of Marine City, said Schilling is about 6 feet 2, and has black, wavy hair. Detroit police contacted him yesterday, Holland added, and he voluntarily went with them.

Marilyn Sheppard, 31 and pregnant with her second child, was beaten to death in her bed, her skull crushed by some 27 heavy blows.

Dr. Sheppard, handsome 30-year-old osteopath in suburban Bay Village 12 miles west of here, said a bushy-haired man invaded his home, killed his wife and twice knocked him unconscious.

The state says Sheppard killed Marilyn in a quarrel over an affair with another woman. The osteopath has been on trial for his life since Oct. 18.

Cleveland Police Capt. David E. Kerr said Schilling was brought here at his own request. His lawyer said the Michigan man once underwent a heart checkup at the Bay View Hospital, which the Sheppard family operates in Bay Village.

Schilling was described as a former alderman of Marine City and a one-time justice of the peace for St. Clair County near Detroit. Chief Holland said he once worked for Standard Products Co. here and later for the same firm in Marine City.

The Marine City chief also said Schilling had a divorced wife and child in Ohio, he thinks in Cleveland.

Holland said Schilling had been in Marine City off and on for the last two years. He had been a patient recently at a rest home there and later moved into a hotel.

Last July 10, Dr. Sheppard suggested to Cleveland police that a spurned "potential lover" may have killed his wife in a burst of maniacal frustration.

"How many of these potential lovers did she have?" he was asked in a signed statement which was read into the murder trial record yesterday.

"Three that I know of," was Dr. Sheppard's reply at that time, "and I'm pretty sure more. I am certain that there were more."

Sheppard told the interrogators last July that he had turned the names over to the police. However, the names were not included in the statement.

The defense has theorized more than once in the trial—now in week-end recess—that Marilyn could have been slain by a maniac whom she did not even know, who may have worshipped her from afar and destroyed her when he learned she was to bear another child.

Marilyn's first child, Chip, a boy, is now 7 years old.

Taylor Assumes Command Of U. S. Far East Forces

CAMP ZAMA, Japan, Nov. 20—UP—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who led the Eighth Army in the final stages of the Korean war, took over Saturday as commander of United States Army forces in the Far East.

Taylor assumed command of all American ground troops on guard against Communist aggression in Korea, Japan and Okinawa in a five-minute ceremony in this former Japanese Imperial army training camp.

The command had been held by Gen. John E. Hull, who will continue as the United Nations military commander and commander of all American Army, Navy and air units in northeast Asia. Hull was unable to attend the ceremonies because of "unforeseen circumstances." A spokesman said his helicopter was grounded at Tokyo by rain and fog.

In a message to Taylor from his Tokyo headquarters, Hull said he knew "of no one I would rather see assume command over all the Army forces in the Far East Command than you."

"I know you will carry out these additional responsibilities in the same magnificent manner in which you commanded the Eighth Army," Hull said.

Taylor, who will retain command of the Eighth Army, moved his headquarters from Seoul to Camp Zama, 15 miles south of Tokyo, and assumed the formal title of commander, Army Forces Far East (AFFE).

Post-Election Boom In Stock Market Slowed By Corrective Tendencies

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP) —The stock market ran into selling difficulties this week for the first time in its three-week bull market drive ahead following the election.

At one time the selling looked as though it might become serious. The possibility of a major correction loomed. But the market steadied itself. At weekend it was headed higher again, although with much lessened vigor.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks this week was up 80 cents. Compare that with a gain of $4.70 last week and $4.90 the week of the election.

Volume for the week was unusually heavy at 16,791,320 shares, best since the third week of January, 1951. Every day the tape was swamped with the weight of orders and was forced to drop behind in reporting actual dealings on the floor of the Stock Exchange.

On Wednesday the market had its biggest day in nearly four years with 3,830,000 shares traded. That is the heaviest for a single day since Jan. 17, 1951.

The stock market has been climbing for more than 14 months in a determined and steady manner.

Continued excellent general business formed a firm base for the market. The manner in which leadership revolved from one major group to another, including the railroads, also was viewed as a point of strength.

Tax selling and switching continued to be a factor in producing a ragged list because of the effect of individual issues. All of that, however, helped to swell the volume of business.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were: New York Central, off ¼ at 23¾ on 239,100 shares; Colorado Fuel & Iron, up 3¼; Chrysler Corp., off 2; U.S. Steel, up 3⅝, and Pennsylvania Railroad, ahead ⅝.

Most U. S. Government bonds climbed this week as the Treasury announced terms for refunding part of the national debt. Railroads led the corporate Bond Market higher.

Pvt. John R. (Bobby) May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland May, Old Airport road, has recently entered a typing school in Eta Jima, Japan.

He took basic training at Fort Bliss and his second eight weeks basic was at Camp Chafee, Ark.

He was flown from Vancouver, B. C., Canada, to Tokyo by a Canadian airliner.

The setting at Eta Jima, writes Young May is very beautiful. The school is conducted in what was a Jap naval academy formerly.

May graduated at O. P. H. S. in the class of 1952.

Jury Convicts Tugboat Man Of Manslaughter

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP) — After deliberating four hours, a criminal court jury here early today found Richard Bernard Chotin, 58, guilty of manslaughter in the slaying of his business partner.

Chotin was charged with murdering John Howard Johnson, his 48-year-old partner in a tugboat operation. The manslaughter verdict was one of four which the jury could have returned. It carries a penalty of one to 21 years imprisonment.

Judge Fred W. Oser set no date for sentencing Chotin.

In their final arguments, defense attorneys contended Chotin shot Johnson in self defense during a May 6 argument over Chotin's accusation that Johnson diverted funds, put up for their business, into a private project.

The state introduced as evidence a statement by Chotin admitting the shootng. Chotin entered a joint plea of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity shortly after the crime.

Mothers Fail To Gain Objectives In Bus Wrangle

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Wheelerville mothers who halted school bus operations for two days by setting up a human readblock didn't get the bus service they wanted for their children.

Instead school officials announced yesterday they would remove from service the two buses that about 30 mothers of the Mobile suburb halted because their own children couldn't ride them.

Children who have been riding them to Baker School will be furnished transportation on other buses travelling different routes.

The children of the angry mothers weren't eligible for bus service because they live less than two miles from their schools, according to the school board.

Baker School has a student body of about 750. The human barricade caused about 140 to miss their rides to school, and parents protesting lack of bus service kept about 30 more home.

A pound of bologna yields 16 to 18 slices; a pound of liver sausage makes about 16 slices ¼-inch thick. Handy figures to remember when you are planning a platter of cold cuts and salad for a summer buffet party.

Cotton Futures Prices Hold To Narrow Groove

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Cotton futures prices held a narrowly irregular groove this week and closed out the period with small net changes.

Active futures contracts traded on the New York Cotton Exchange finished at prices ranging from 35 cents a bale lower to 30 cents higher than at the close of the previous week. The nearby December delivery eased on liquidation in advance of the first notice day, and tended to pull the remainder of the list down with it.

Hedging exerted a bearish effect, but this was partly offset by short covering. Some buying was stimulated by the increased movement of cotton into the 1954 loan.

The market took in stride the latest government report on cotton consumption, which placed domestic use of the staple in October at 35,800 bales per day.

This compared with 33,300 bales per day the previous month and 35,200 per day in the same month last year.

More significant from the point of view of many traders was the wide discrepancy between official and private estimates of total cotton use this season. The official government forecast was 9,200,000 bales. Many in the trade felt, however, that consumption for the season ending next July 31 would fail to each 8,750,000.

Exports for the week ended Tuesday were estimated by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau at 55,000 bales.

This compared with 80,000 bales in the previous week and 70,000 in the like week of 1953.

Exports for the season through Nov. 16 were estimated at 828,000 bales vs. 760,000 at approximately the same time last year.

Truck-Car Crash Fatal To Texan

LAUREL, Miss., Nov. 20 (AP) — State police said a 32-year-old Houston, Tex., man died today when his automobile crashed into the back of a truck on U.S. 11, about 18 miles north of Laurel.

State highway patrolman Merrill Pickering identified the dead man as Bennett Hoffman Burks of Houston.

Pickering said Burks attempted to pass a truck, saw an approaching automobile, swerved back into the rear of the truck and was killed. The patrolman said the truck, driven by Fred Brown, 44, Heidelberg, Miss., was slowing to make a left turn into a side road. The truck was loaded with timber slabs.

Pickering said the car was demolished.

Burks was survived by his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Burks of Houston.

Two Sentenced As Tax Evaders

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP) — John J. Waggoner and Irby E. Norris were sentenced in U. S. District Court here yesterday to $2,000 fine and two years each and court costs on income tax evasion charges.

The court suspended the prison sentences, however, and placed the two on three years probation.

Waggoner and Norris were convicted on one count of conspiracy to evade income tax payments and on six counts of evasion. The conspiracy and evasion counts each drew two year sentences to be served concurrently.

Sailor Claims He Will Receive Indian Legacy

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 20—UP—A sailor at the naval training station here said Saturday he stands to collect $300,920 from the government because an Indian ancester served as a guide to Andrew Jackson.

Kyle Ridaught, 17, Hawthorne, Fla., a Navy trainee, said the money is due him because he is a direct descendant of Mathi Ridaught, a Choctaw Indian who served as Jackson's aide in the Seminole War of 1814.

The youth said Jackson gave the Ridnaught family 1,751,000 acres of land in Florida in gratitude for the Indian's services.

He said the deed of the land was found in the family Bible three years ago and a claim for more than $2 million has been filed with the Indian Claims Commission at Washington.

The youth said a decision is expected Dec. 3. The money, he said, would be divided among 84 surviving members of the Choctaw tribe.

Turkey Surplus In 1955 Is Forecast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—UP — The Agriculture department dampened the pre - Thanksgiving joy of turkey farmers Saturday by warning that if they don't trim production next year they will receive "unsatisfactory prices."

The department said the 1955 turkey crop probably will be "somewhat larger" than this year's record 61 million birds. And this year, it added, turkeys have been selling at "substantially lower prices than last year."

Jury Convicts Tugboat Man Of Manslaughter

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP) — After deliberating four hours, a criminal court jury here early today found Richard Bernard Chotin, 58, guilty of manslaughter in the slaying of his business partner.

Chotin was charged with murdering John Howard Johnson, his 48-year-old partner in a tugboat operation. The manslaughter verdict was one of four which the jury could have returned. It carries a penalty of one to 21 years imprisonment.

Judge Fred W. Oser set no date for sentencing Chotin.

In their final arguments, defense attorneys contended Chotin shot Johnson in self defense during a May 6 argument over Chotin's accusation that Johnson diverted funds, put up for their business, into a private project.

The state introduced as evidence a statement by Chotin admitting the shootng. Chotin entered a joint plea of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity shortly after the crime.

Mothers Fail To Gain Objectives In Bus Wrangle

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Wheelerville mothers who halted school bus operations for two days by setting up a human roadblock didn't get the bus service they wanted for their children.

Instead school officials announced yesterday they would remove from service the two buses that about 30 mothers of the Mobile suburb halted because their own children couldn't ride them.

Children who have been riding them to Baker School will be furnished transportation on other buses travelling different routes.

The children of the angry mothers weren't eligible for bus service because they live less than two miles from their schools, according to the school board.

Baker School has a student body of about 750. The human barricade caused about 140 to miss their rides to school, and parents protesting lack of bus service kept about 30 more home.

Cotton Futures Prices Hold To Narrow Groove

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Cotton futures prices held a narrowly irregular groove this week and closed out the period with small net changes.

Active futures contracts traded on the New York Cotton Exchange finished at prices ranging from 35 cents a bale lower to 30 cents higher than at the close of the previous week. The nearby December delivery eased on liquidation in advance of the first notice day, and tended to pull the remainder of the list down with it.

Hedging exerted a bearish effect, but this was partly offset by short covering. Some buying was stimulated by the increased movement of cotton into the 1954 loan.

The market took in stride the latest government report on cotton consumption, which placed domestic use of the staple in October at 35,800 bales per day.

This compared with 33,300 bales per day the previous month and 35,200 per day in the same month last year.

More significant from the point of view of many traders was the wide discrepancy between official and private estimates of total cotton use this season. The official govermnent forecast was 9,200,000 bales. Many in the trade felt, however, that consumption for the season ending next July 31 would fail to each 8,750,000.

Exports for the week ended Tuesday were estimated by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau at 55,000 bales.

This compared with 80,000 bales in the previous week and 70,000 in the like week of 1953.

Exports for the season through Nov. 16 were estimated at 828,000 bales vs. 760,000 at approximately the same time last year.

Truck-Car Crash Fatal To Texan

LAUREL, Miss., Nov. 20 (AP) — State police said a 32-year-old Houston, Tex., man died today when his automobile crashed into the back of a truck on U.S. 11, about 18 miles north of Laurel.

State highway patrolman Merrill Pickering identified the dead man as Bennett Hoffman Burks of Houston.

Pickering said Burks attempted to pass a truck, saw an approaching automobile, swerved back into the rear of the truck and was killed. The patrolman said the truck, driven by Fred Brown, 44, Heidelberg, Miss., was slowing to make a left turn into a side road. The truck was loaded with timber slabs.

Pickering said the car was demolished.

Burks was survived by his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Burks of Houston.

Two Sentenced As Tax Evaders

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP) — John J. Waggoner and Irby E. Norris were sentenced in U. S. District Court here yesterday to $2,000 fine and two years each and court costs on income tax evasion charges.

The court suspended the prison sentences, however, and placed the two on three years probation.

Waggoner and Norris were convicted on one count of conspiracy to evade income tax payments and on six counts of evasion. The conspiracy and evasion counts each drew two year sentences to be served concurrently.

Sailor Claims He Will Receive Indian Legacy

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 20—UP—A sailor at the naval training station here said Saturday he stands to collect $300,920 from the government because an Indian ancester served as a guide to Andrew Jackson.

Kyle Ridaught, 17, Hawthorne, Fla., a Navy trainee, said the money is due him because he is a direct descendant of Mathi Ridaught, a Choctaw Indian who served as Jackson's aide in the Seminole War of 1814.

The youth said Jackson gave the Ridnaught family 1,751,000 acres of land in Florida in gratitude for the Indian's services.

He said the deed of the land was found in the family Bible three years ago and a claim for more than $2 million has been filed with the Indian Claims Commission at Washington.

The youth said a decision is expected Dec. 3. The money, he said, would be divided among 84 surviving members of the Choctaw tribe.

Turkey Surplus In 1955 Is Forecast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—UP — The Agriculture department dampened the pre - Thanksgiving joy of turkey farmers Saturday by warning that if they don't trim production next year they will receive "unsatisfactory prices."

The department said the 1955 turkey crop probably will be "somewhat larger" than this year's record 61 million birds. And this year, it added, turkeys have been selling at "substantially lower prices than last year."

Hermann Field And Wife Rest In Switzerland

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Hermann Field and his wife issued a joint statement tonight saying it was essential for both to have a complete rest and they therefore would "remain quietly in Switzerland for the present."

The Cleveland architect was released recently after five years imprisonment in Communist Poland. He arrived in Zurich yesterday.

The statement was released in London by Mrs. Field's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Thorneycroft, who said she received it by telephone.

Charges Of Fraud In Veterans' Land Program Probed

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Veterans Land Board — comprised of Land Comissioner Bascom Giles, chairman; Gov. Allan Shivers, and Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard—said today it welcomes "full and complete" investigation of the 100-million-dollar veterans land program in Texas.

Following an executive session of the board, the three members held a press conference at which Giles said the Senate Investigating Committee will be asked to join in the investigation of alleged irregularities in the program's operation.

In addition to the probes being conducted by numerous state and local agencies, the board also will emplop the services of private investigators.

Asked why the board felt private investigators are needed when the Department of Public Safety, state auditor's office and attorney general's office already are working on the matter, the board members said this will merely supplement efforts of the state agencies.

Shivers said the board invites investigation "by grand juries down there and here," referring to the South Texas counties and Austin, seat of the state Capitol.

The governor said any evidence of wrongdoing should be laid before the proper authorities "so if there is any need for change in legislative policy or any criminal responsibility, the proper persons can be brought to account."

Investigations underway the past three weeks have resulted from reports that ex-soldiers have said they became owners of farms without knowing they ever signed an application and without ever having made a down payment in the veterans land program.

Hardy Named To Rules Committee Of Demo Party

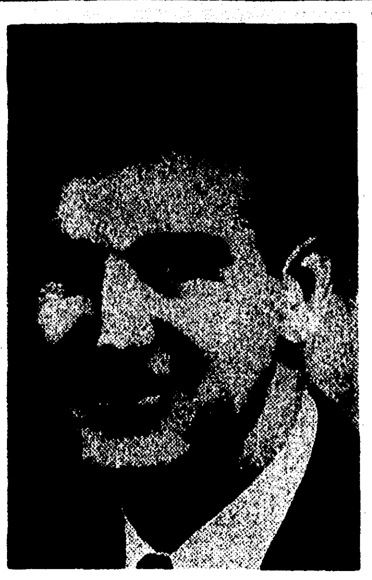
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Democratic Committeeman Camille Gravel Jr., said today Chairman Stephen Mitchell had appointed Judge George W. Hardy Jr. of Shreveport to the national Democratic organization's rules committee.

Judge Hardy's appointment completed the three-man committee which represents Louisiana in the national organization.

Others on the committee are Sen. Russell Long (D-La) and Mayor deLesseps Morrison of New Orleans.

Judge Hardy is the senior judge of the Second Circuit Court of Appeals. He is a veteran leader of the Democratic party.

In 1950-51 the Engineering Division of the Louisiana State Department of Health reviewed plans for seven sewage treatment plants, five new sewerage systems, and major additions to 20 existing systems.



SIMON A. M'NEELY

Simon McNeely Will Be Among L. E. A. Speakers

Guest speaker for the Louisiana Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, which is meeting in Monroe Monday and Tuesday, will be Simon A. McNeely of the U. S. Office of Education. His appearance here will be in connection with the annual Louisiana Education Association convention which opens Monday for a three-day period.

McNeely will speak at 10:40 a.m. Monday in the gymnasium of Ouachita Parish High School. His discussion will emphasize "A Contribution of Physical Education to Child Growth and Development."

He has been affiliated since the latter part of 1947 with the U. S. Office of Education as specialist for health, physical education and athletics, division of state and local school systems.

Just prior to accepting his present post, McNeely was state supelvisor of health, physical and safety education in the Louisiana Department of Education. He served in this capacity from 1940 to 1947, except for a three-year interim when he was an officer in the U. S. Naval Reserve. His duties included those of an athletic and physical training officer and others.

McNeely has worked with children and young people in various capacities and has had extensive teaching experience in teacher preparation institutions, including Louisiana State University, Loyola University of New Orleans and Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

In his work with the Office of Education, he has been consultant in a number of workshops, conferences, institutes and similar activities involving hundreds of school administrators, teachers, public health personnel and other groups throughout the nation.

Important committees on which McNeely has served include: American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Society of State Directors of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and for other professional organizations. He is contributing to the coordination of services of federal agencies through contributions to groups such as the Federal Inter-Agency Committee on Recreation, and committees of Health of the School-age Child, Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He has held the chairmanship of two important joint committees. One is the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation and the Society of State Directors of Health, Physical Education and Recreation on Platform for Physical Education. The other is Athletic Competition for Children of Elementary and Junior High School Age.

Concordia Schools Close All Week For Thanksgiving

VIDALIA, Nov. 20 (Special) — Classes of all Concordia parish schools will be dismissed Monday through Friday, it was announced from the office of Superintendent of Education J. S. Burris.

Supt. Burris stated that about 86 per cent of the parish teachers will attend the Louisiana Education Association meeting in Monroe.

Delegates to the convention from Concordia Parish Education Association are: Ernest Davis, Ferriday, and O. R. Sober, Monterey. Alternates are Charles Loomis and Howard McCullum, both of Ferriday.

The Ferriday High School band under the direction of Robert Lincoln has been given the outstanding honor to play for the opening general session.

Barham To Have Kidney Operation

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 20 (AP)—Lt. Gov. C. E. Barham, one of three men who have announced they will run for governor, said he will enter Foundation Hospital at New Orleans today for removal of a kidney stone.

Barham said there is no infection or emergency. He explained he wants to avoid possibility of surgery during the gubernatorial campaign.

The Ruston official said he expects to be out of his office about two weeks.

Barham, former Gov. Earl Long and State Revenue Collector Rufus Fontenot have announced their intention to run for governor.

Catholic Bishops Say Materialism Is No. 1 Enemy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Roman Catholic bishops of the United States today defined this country's real enemy as atheistic materialism and said the nation "must recover and renew its Christian faith" if it is to survive.

"Materialism is the real enemy, at home as well as abroad," they said, addng:

"Materialism has brought about a decline in the influence of religion upon American life. Confusion in our thinking and a sort of paralysis of the national will have been the inevitable results of this decline. Here then we have the source of that weakness which is causing so much concern to men of good will.

"Unless we arrest this religious decline, unless we push back the domestic invasion of materialism, we shall not be able, as history clearly attests, to withstand the enemy from without."

In a statement at the close of their annual assembly, the bishops said the tyranny of atheistic materialism already has been imposed upon a billion souls and "threatens the destruction of our own land as it has already attacked the culture of others."

"The battle is joined," they said. "If our nation is to escape the fate of Poland and of China, of Yugoslavia and of Hungary, and of so many others, if we are to survive as a free Christian nation, then we must be clear-eyed and we must be strong. It is the blind and the weak who fall into the pit."

Asserting the first need is to identify the enemy and recognize it for what it really is, the bishops said:

"Some see the enemy only as a political state or group of states, or merely as an economic system. The enemy is atheistic materialism that seeks to destroy us. This is the enemy."

Then calling for strength, the bishops said that material strength, while necessary, is not enough.

"This nation must look to its spiritual strength," they said. "our vast physical resources and our masterly technical skills will avail us nothing unless we are a people strong in the faith which gives purpose to action, and in the morality which fosters discipline and courage."

Arkansas Man To Accept Position On Road Agency

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 20 (AP)—Chief Engineer Alf E. Johnson of the Arkansas Highway Department today said he would become executive secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials at Washington on Jan. 1.

Johnson, a 27-year veteran with the Arkansas Department, said he would take a six month leave of absence from his present job but doubted he would return at its expiration.

He said the members of the Arkansas Highway Commission had indicated informally they would approve his request for a leave. Formal action is to be taken at a commission meeting on Dec. 9.

In his new job, Johnson will succeed Hal H. Hale, who has resigned.

Johnson said he wasn't an applicant for the secretaryship but that it had been offered him.

He didn't say what his salary will be, but it was known to be a sizeable boost above the $10,000 yearly he has been getting here.

Johnson is an immediate past president of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

Wheat Advances, Other Grains In Mixed Trading

CHICAGO, Nov. 20 (AP) — Wheat pushed higher on the Board of trade this week, setting new seasonal highs several days. The advance was accomplished without fanfare and resulted as much from a lack of selling pressure as from strong demand.

The rest of the market did not match wheat's action, although oats ended fractionally higher. Soybeans eased and corn ended mixed. These two cereals had fallen quite sharply in the previous week and still weren't able to show recuperative power.

Rye fell back on a continuation of liquidation while lard, responding to the largest live hog run at Chicago in nearly two years, tumbled sharply. Loose lard closed at a low for the year at 13¼ cents a pound. That was down 1½ cents for the week.

Wheat finished 1¼ to 3 cents higher, corn ⅜ lower to ⅜ higher, oats unchanged to ⅞ higher, rye ¼-1 lower, soybeans ½-1¾ lower and lard 40 cents to $1.03 a hundred pounds lower.

NORTHEAST DELEGATES—Selected by the Northeast State faculty to represent the college at the Louisiana Education Association when it convenes here Monday for a three-day session are Miss Hazel Mitchell, assistant professor of Spanish, and E. J. Upshaw, assistant professor of Education. Alternates are B. S. Hamner, George Brian, Edward Whatley and Dr. Clint Hanna.

Memorial Rites Set By Education Group

Memorial vesper services for Louisiana Education Association members who have died during the past year will be held at the First Baptist Church here today at 4 p.m. as a prelude to the opening of the LEA convention tomorrow.

The services have been prepared, and will be presented, by the West Monroe high school chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Juanita Kilpatrick.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 20 (AP)—Chief Engineer Alf E. Johnson of the Arkansas Highway Department today said he would become executive secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials at Washington on Jan. 1.

Johnson, a 27-year veteran with the Arkansas Department, said he would take a six month leave of absence from his present job but doubted he would return at its expiration.

He said the members of the Arkansas Highway Commission had indicated informally they would approve his request for a leave. Formal action is to be taken at a commission meeting on Dec. 9.

In his new job, Johnson will succeed Hal H. Hale, who has resigned.

Johnson said he wasn't an applicant for the secretaryship but that it had been offered him.

He didn't say what his salary will be, but it was known to be a sizeable boost above the $10,000 yearly he has been getting here.

Johnson is an immediate past president of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

Wheat Advances, Other Grains In Mixed Trading

CHICAGO, Nov. 20 (AP) — Wheat pushed higher on the Board of trade this week, setting new seasonal highs several days. The advance was accomplished without fanfare and resulted as much from a lack of selling pressure as from strong demand.

The rest of the market did not match wheat's action, although oats ended fractionally higher. Soybeans eased and corn ended mixed. These two cereals had fallen quite sharply in the previous week and still weren't able to show recuperative power.

Rye fell back on a continuation of liquidation while lard, responding to the largest live hog run at Chicago in nearly two years, tumbled sharply. Loose lard closed at a low for the year at 13¼ cents a pound. That was down 1½ cents for the week.

Wheat finished 1½ to 3 cents higher, corn ⅜ lower to ⅜ higher, oats unchanged to ⅞ higher, rye ¼-1 lower, soybeans ½-1¾ lower and lard 40 cents to $1.03 a hundred pounds lower.

NORTHEAST DELEGATES—Selected by the Northeast State faculty to represent the college at the Louisiana Education Association when it convenes here Monday for a three-day session are Miss Hazel Mitchell, assistant professor of Spanish, and E. J. Upshaw, assistant professor of Education. Alternates are B. S. Hamner, George Brian, Edward Whatley and Dr. Clint Hanna.

Memorial Rites Set By Education Group

Memorial vesper services for Louisiana Education Association members who have died during the past year will be held at the First Baptist Church here today at 4 p.m. as a prelude to the opening of the LEA convention tomorrow.

The services have been prepared, and will be presented, by the West Monroe high school chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Juanita Kilpatrick.

New Congressional Fight Is Brewing Over Federal Control Of Natural Gas

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP) — A new congressional fight appears to be shaping up over the Natural Gas Act.

Legislators from oil and gas states are lining up behind a move designed to offset the Supreme Court's recent decision that the act gives the Federal Power Commission (FPC) authority over the price of all natural gas flowing into interstate commerce.

Rep. Burleson (D-Tex) says he will propose an amendment to exempt "small" independent gas producers from federal regulation. Similar legislation probably will be introduced by other members of Congress, in both Senate and House. Lawmakers from oil and gas states say they hope to unite behind one or another of these proposals.

Such legislation is certain to run into strong opposition from members of Congress from strictly gas consuming states. This was the case in 1950, although Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) succeeded in getting similar legislation through Congress only to have it killed by President Truman's veto.

Rep. Steed (D-Okla), who has declared his support for such a legislative move, says opponents' arguments that the proposal would mean higher gas prices are "just a bill of goods."

Failure of the Kerr Bill in 1950 had just the opposite effect, he asserted.

"Gas prices have gone up, not down," he continued. "The additional cost to consumers that has come since then should convince the consumer that the position we took was for their good."

Sen. Daniel (D-Tex) says he'll be active in efforts to get the amending legislation through the Senate. Just who will introduce the proposal in the Senate hasn't been decided. Senators from oil and gas states probably will agree on one of their number for the job.

Burleson disclosed that he also plans to introduce a bill to curb imports of petroleum and petroleum products. He said he prefers a reduction based on percentage of demand rather than a tariff approach.

Steed said the results of a study by a cabinet level committee would have a bearing on any legislation to reduce imports. The committee, studying problems of oil, gas and coal industries, expects to make a report next month.

In addition, he said, there is hope that some voluntary action within the industry itself may take care of complaints of some independent producers that imports should be restricted.

Doctoring Old, Ailing Oil Wells A Specialized Job, Highly Expensive

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP) — Old oil wells, like most old folks, often have lots of ailments.

But there's often plenty of life left in them both if they can get the proper medical attention.

In the case of oil wells, the "doctor" seldom gets much recognition except from those vitally connected with production.

The University of Texas Petroleum Extension Service has just published a "Primer of Oilwell Service and Workover" that tips its hat to the general practitioner who diagnoses and cures oil well ailments—the well service man.

Debunking the popular theory that an oil well "gushes" year after year like an everlasting fountain of youth with little or no attention, the publication cites that almost all producing wells go on the sick list sooner or later.

To complicate matters, the seat of trouble is almost always underground.

"Some of the operations performed are as delicate as breaking an egg and some require the explosive force of a block-buster bomb.

The performance of these operations by remote control in the bottom of a well bore at a distance of a mile or two is one of the minor miracles of the oil industry," says the primer.

While sickness is by no means limited to old wells, it is the old wells that provide some of the greatest challenges to the well service man.

Some old wells, of course, turn up their toes and die, usually from a deficiency of oil. But thousands have been saved, their vigor restored and their life prolonged.

A workover is one or more of a variety of remedial operations. Sometimes deepening or plugging back the well is involved. Sometimes it's tapping another pay zone, or just simple repairs to underground equipment.

So-called stripper wells often yield so poorly they would have to be abandoned except for workovers. Sometimes an eight-barrel-per-day producer can be stimulated to ten times or more its low-ebb output.

The workover is an expensive pill to swallow—$10,000 a dose is not unusual. The primer explains why:

First, a staff of technical men, consulting engineers and geologists must diagnose the trouble and prescribe a plan for the particular well.

Then the well-service and workover contractor is called in. He can offer a rig just right for the job, from a simple $15,000 pulling unit to a completely equipped workover rig representing an investment of $150,000.

The trucking contractor may use equipment valued at $50,000 in getting the rig in location.

As the job progresses, it may use a logging truck ($40,000), a perforating truck ($20,000), a cementing truck ($50,000), fracturing equipment ($50,000), and a host of other specialized services.

Fifty or more highly-skilled specialists may have a hand in the job.

New Congressional Fight Is Brewing Over Federal Control Of Natural Gas

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP) — A new congressional fight appears to be shaping up over the Natural Gas Act.

Legislators from oil and gas states are lining up behind a move designed to offset the Supreme Court's recent decision that the act gives the Federal Power Commission (FPC) authority over the price of all natural gas flowing into interstate commerce.

Rep. Burleson (D-Tex) says he will propose an amendment to exempt "small" independent gas producers from federal regulation. Similar legislation probably will be introduced by other members of Congress, in both Senate and House. Lawmakers from oil and gas states say they hope to unite behind one or another of these proposals.

Such legislation is certain to run into strong opposition from members of Congress from strictly gas consuming states. This was the case in 1950, although Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) succeeded in getting similar legislation through Congress only to have it killed by President Truman's veto.

Rep. Steed (D-Okla), who has declared his support for such a legislative move, says opponents' arguments that the proposal would mean higher gas prices are "just a bill of goods."

Failure of the Kerr Bill in 1950 had just the opposite effect, he asserted.

"Gas prices have gone up, not down," he continued. "The additional cost to consumers that has come since then should convince the consumer that the position we took was for their good."

Sen. Daniel (D-Tex) says he'll be active in efforts to get the amending legislation through the Senate. Just who will introduce the proposal in the Senate hasn't been decided. Senators from oil and gas states probably will agree on one of their number for the job.

Burleson disclosed that he also plans to introduce a bill to curb imports of petroleum and petroleum products. He said he prefers a reduction based on percentage of demand rather than a tariff approach.

Steed said the results of a study by a cabinet level committee would have a bearing on any legislation to reduce imports. The committee, studying problems of oil, gas and coal industries, expects to make a report next month.

In addition, he said, there is hope that some voluntary action within the industry itself may take care of complaints of some independent producers that imports should be restricted.

Doctoring Old, Ailing Oil Wells A Specialized Job, Highly Expensive

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP) — Old oil wells, like most old folks, often have lots of ailments.

But there's often plenty of life left in them both if they can get the proper medical attention.

In the case of oil wells, the "doctor" seldom gets much recognition except from those vitally connected with production.

The University of Texas Petroleum Extension Service has just published a "Primer of Oilwell Service and Workover" that tips its hat to the general practitioner who diagnoses and cures oil well ailments—the well service man.

Debunking the popular theory that an oil well "gushes" year after year like an everlasting fountain of youth with little or no attention, the publication cites that almost all producing wells go on the sick list sooner or later.

To complicate matters, the seat of trouble is almost always underground.

"Some of the operations performed are as delicate as breaking an egg and some require the explosive force of a block-buster bomb.

The performance of these operations by remote control in the bottom of a well bore at a distance of a mile or two is one of the minor miracles of the oil industry," says the primer.

While sickness is by no means limited to old wells, it is the old wells that provide some of the greatest challenges to the well service man.

Some old wells, of course, turn up their toes and die, usually from a deficiency of oil. But thousands have been saved, their vigor restored and their life prolonged.

A workover is one or more of a variety of remedial operations. Sometimes deepening or plugging back the well is involved. Sometimes it's tapping another pay zone, or just simple repairs to underground equipment.

So-called stripper wells often yield so poorly they would have to be abandoned except for workovers. Sometimes an eight-barrel-per-day producer can be stimulated to ten times or more its low-ebb output.

The workover is an expensive pill to swallow—$10,000 a dose is not unusual. The primer explains why:

First, a staff of technical men, consulting engineers and geologists must diagnose the trouble and prescribe a plan for the particular well.

Then the well-service and workover contractor is called in. He can offer a rig just right for the job, from a simple $15,000 pulling unit to a completely equipped workover rig representing an investment of $150,000.

The trucking contractor may use equipment valued at $50,000 in getting the rig in location.

As the job progresses, it may use a logging truck ($40,000), a perforating truck ($20,000), a cementing truck ($50,000), fracturing equipment ($50,000), and a host of other specialized services.

Fifty or more highly-skilled specialists may have a hand in the job.

Louisiana Tech Crushes Northeast, 51-6

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Their football togs going into storage after last night's closing game with Louisiana Tech, the Indians of Northeast Louisiana State turn their attention to basketball this week with mighty good prospects that Coach Arnold Kilpatrick's cagers may be about ready to give Gulf States Conference opposition a good race, certainly much better than the '53-54 campaign that saw the Tribe winning only seven out of 16, two of ten in league action.

The strongest schedule in Northeast's history, 28 regularly scheduled games and two tournaments, will open Tuesday night at Marshall, Tex., against East Texas Baptist. Then follows two games with Fort Sill at Lawton, Okla., a trip to Barksdale Field, and a meeting with William Carey at Hattiesburg, Miss., before the home opener here December 6 with East Texas Baptist. Others on the schedule include Mississippi College, Delta State, Arkansas A. and M., Arkansas State, Little Rock, and Southern Illinois in non-conference contests, and two games each with G. S. C. rivals Louisiana College, Southeastern, Northwestern, Louisiana Tech, S. L. I., and McNeese. The schedule, ending March 1, will close with five straight conference battles.

Northeast's biggest trouble last season was second line strength. The introductory five was able to hold its own, but several games were lost in the late stages when frontliners had fouled out. Coach Kilpatrick believes he has better depth in talent this year to offset loss of strength due to excessive fouls.

Prentiss Cox, Northeast sports publicist, in his "Basketball Dope Sheet" for press and radio, says, "Basketball at Northeast should be on the up-grade, because of the addition of four junior college transfers and one outstanding freshman. There are three returning from last year's starting five and five letterman reserves from last season's squad . . . We should be considerably stronger in every way . . . We have added scoring punch and a better defensive combination."

Although towering Bob Bennett and Bill Bigby, stars of the past season, are gone, the newest Northeast raves are for Earl Miles, six-foot-eight center from Holmes (Miss.) Junior College; Bill Bradley, six-foot-two pivotman from Hannibal-LaGrange (Mo.) Junior College; Henry Willis, 6-4 forward transfer from Paris (Tex.) J. C.; Jim Henderson, 5-11 guard transfer from Hannibal-LaGrange; and the classy freshman prospect, Bobbie Patterson, 5-10 guard, of Elvins, Mo.

This new quintet in itself should greatly enhance the production of such returning stars as forward Bill Crowe, 6-2, senior and co-captain; Melvin Gibson, the six-foot guard who made the sports writer's All-Gulf team last year, was the leading scorer, and shares captain duties with Crowe; Lloyd Crocker, 6-5 sophomore from Calhoun, who will back up Crowe and Willis as forwards; and Monroe's Harold Davis, 5-11, and Travis "Dick" Ford, Jonesboro's six-footer, who are battling for the No. 4 guard slot. Rounding out the squad are Glynn Robinson, 6-2, junior forward of Friendship; Junior Austin, 6-1, senior forward of Cave-In-Rock, Ill.; Glynn McGuffie, six-foot, junior forward of Harrisonburg; Bob Betz, six-foot, sophomore forward-guard of Monroe; Joe Jordan, six-foot, sophomore guard of Chatham; and Bill McDonald, 6-3, a freshman forward of McGregor, Tex., who won't be eligible until mid-term.

Coach Kilpatrick's non-player personnel includes Freddie Bond, basketball statistician; and Roger Robinson, official scorer from Chatham. Robinson comes to Northeast fresh from Chatham High where he ably handled Chatham scoring and basketball publicity.

Now we only have a short time to wait to see how the Redskins go. Success on the road should more than merit a big welcoming for the Tribe when it moves into Ouachita Parish High gym December 6 for that opener with East Texas Baptist.

K-State's Bowl Dreams Shattered By Colorado

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 20 (AP) — Three touchdown runs of 95, 50 and 46 yards in eight minutes of the second quarter sent Colorado sailing to a 38-14 victory over Kansas State today. The loss buried K-State's hopes for a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Halfback Carroll Hardy, who also ran 79 yards for a fourth-quarter touchdown, touched off Colorado's offensive surge with a 46-yard dash through tackle for the first score. Four minutes later halfback Frank Bernadi pipped 50 yards on a reverse around right end for another touchdown.

Their spectacular runs were capped moments later by a 95-yard touchdown trip by Emerson Wilson, 196-pound junior fullback.

Quarterback Bob Whitehead recovered Bernardi's fumble late in the third period. Eight plays later fullback Bill Carrington scooted four yards around right end to score.

Score by quarters:

Kansas State	0	0	7	7	—14
Colorado	0	19	9	19	—38

Kansas State scoring: Touchdowns, Carrington, Moody. Conversions, Dahnke, Ciboski.

Colorado scoring: Touchdowns, Hardy 3, Bernardi, Wilson, Bayuk. Conversions, Kenkins, Hardy.

Indians Hold Tech To 2-Touchdown Lead At Halftime

By TED HECKATHON

The Louisiana Tech Bulldogs made their first visit to Brown Stadium as Northeast guests an auspicious one last night, as they rolled over the freshman-studded Indians, 51-6.

The Tribe played an outstanding defensive game all during the first half, holding the vaunted Tech power to a 18-6 intermission lead, but in the third quarter, the roof fell in, and the visitors chalked up 26 more points to break the game wide open.

Tech drove 42 yards for its opening score, with halfback Gayle Dick plunging over from the one. Dick set up the second Tech tally in the first period, when he intercepted a Tribe pass on the Northeast 45, and ran it to the 25. Fullback James Oliver, in three carries, the last from two yards out, put the Bulldogs ahead, by two touchdowns.

The Indians scored late in the second, a 38-yard pass play from Danny Hoak to Ken McLellan carrying to the Tech 23, from where Hoak heaved another aerial to Dan Andrews on the 12, and the big end went all the way.

The Techmen scored again with 40 seconds remaining in the half, when they took the Northeast kickoff and drove to the 30, from where Oliver burst through tackle and sped unmolested to paydirt.

Oliver accounted for the initial third-quarter Bulldog score, with a 43-yard run; reserve halfback C. D. Walker went 18 yards for the next; and halfback A. L. Williams, on jaunts of 63 and 42 yards, scored the next two.

Tech added one more in the fourth, with Bud McMichael hitting over from the eight. Northeast unleashed a passing threat in the final stanza, with Clayton Cox on the heaving end, and Bob Scogin the chief target, but the aerial attack stalled on the Tech ten, when the Bulldogs recovered a Northeast fumble.

Scogin played an outstanding game defensively for Northeast, as did guards Bob Windle and C. J. Melancon. Tackles Red Yocum and Sherrod McKoin played their usual 60 minutes of stalwart football for the Tribe.

Dick kicked two extra points for Tech, and guard Jesse Storts the other.

The lineups:

Iowa Crumbles As Notre Dame Hits For 34-18

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 20 (AP) — Vengeance-bent Notre Dame pounded Iowa, 34-18, today and exacted rich revenge for the famous 14-14 tie that cost the Irish the national football championship a year ago.

Notre Dame, under the cunning leadership of Ralph Guglielmi, the passing genius, roared through Iowa for a 34-6 lead midway through the final quarter. There was no need this chilly, crisp day for the feigned injuries that stopped the clock last year to give the Irish the precious time necessary for tying touchdowns.

Only in the late stages did Iowa ramble freely through Notre Dame to furnish some consolation to the Iowans in the crowd of 52,756, a sellout gathering that had been assured when the tickets first went on sale last July.

Coach Terry Brennan's Irish lads were in command all the way until they were far out of danger and both squads were dominated by reserves in much of the late going. Terry did hustle in his first team when Iowa threatened a fourth touchdown, a maneuver that died with the final gun on the Notre Dame 5.

Newellton Wins 12 To 6 Against Lake Providence

NEWELLTON, La., Nov. 20 (Special) — The Newellton Bears closed their 1954 football season last night by downing a scrappy Lake Providence Panther team, 12-6, on a cold, damp field.

The Bears tallied first in the first period when linebacker and center Bill Parker stole the ball as a Panther back started through the middle of the line. He ran 50 yards to score standing. Point after was missed by halfback Parnell Barfield.

In the second period the Bears scored again when fullback Buddy Emfinger carred across from 16 after halfback Terry Head had advanced the ball to that point on a 44-yard-jaunt. Early in the fourth period the Panthers made one of their many marches pay off on a pass from Thomas to Huey Toney, good for 23 yards and a score. Point after was kicked by Robert Earle.

The Bears were unable to go in the air, although receivers were open. The Providence line made it hard on the passer. The Panthers played for keeps with Minsky, their fast little scatback, giving the Bear defenders a lot of trouble. Halfback Terry Head and fullback Emfinger carried the brunt of the Bear attack, both getting off several nice runs, but not able to go all the way. The Panther defenders were too fast for them. Providence came out ahead in first downs 11-8.

Holy Cross Cops Triple-A Throne For New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP) — Holy Cross overwhelmed Nicholls 47-6 today to win its eighth New Orleans prep football championship.

Holy Cross now meets Baton Rouge, winner of the southeast district, in the semi-finals of the triple A playoffs. Bastrop plays Lake Charles in the other bracket.

Holy Cross rolled to two touchdowns in each of the first three quarters and one in the fourth quarter. Nicholls got its only score in the fourth quarter.

Holy Cross marched 99 yards for its first down after Nicholls lost the ball on downs. A 52-yard pass play, Earl Schneider to Joe diGiovanni, capped the drive.

Holy Cross	14	14	13	6	—47

Harold Hill, West Monroe, was acclaimed champion football forecaster for the Recreation Grid Quiz last night as the ten weeks' contest conducted by the Monroe Recreation Department and this newspaper came to a close. Mrs. Scotty Daniel, Monroe, six correct predictions behind Hill for the full distance, won the championship of the women's division.

It was the second time Mrs. Daniel had won the contest, but no man has ever won it twice, and no contender has yet won two in a row.

Second best in the men's class on yesterday's tally were W. W. Stevens, Jiles Davis, Warren Eberts, John Hannah, Jimmy Wyche and Maynard Chambers, Monroe; Henry Hoffman, West Monroe; Jimmy Adams, Newellton; E. H. Coleman, Lake Providence; Oda Todd, Winnsboro; and L. E. Grant, Oak Grove. All had 15 right.

Trailing Mrs. Scalia in Saturday's scores were Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. Alice Hance, and Mrs. Riley Hopkins, Monroe, and Mrs. Sam Hartman, Farmerville, 15; Mrs. Jimmie Bruce, Rayville, Mrs. Jimmie Wyche, Monroe, Mrs. Ralph Marionneaux, Jr., Pittsburgh, Pa., and Mrs. John D. Taylor, Farmerville, 14 each.

The final ten weeks' standings:

Men — Harold Hill, West Monroe, 138; Billy Sanford, West Monroe, 136; Warren Eberts, Monroe, and L. E. Grant, Oak Grove, 135; J. M. McBeth, Monroe, 134; Ralph Marionneaux, Jr., Pittsburgh, 133; Biggie Moore, L. S. U., 132; Jimmie Adams, Newellton, and E. H. Coleman, Lake Providence, 130; and Jiles Davis, Monroe, J. E. Griffin, Ferriday, Buddy Lee, West Monroe, and Oda Todd, Winnsboro, 129 each.

Women — Mrs. Daniel, Monroe, 132; Mrs. Riley Hopkins, Monroe, 131; Mrs. Marionneaux, Pittsburgh, 128; Mrs. Pat Scalia, Monroe, 127; Mrs. Sam Hartman and Mrs. John D. Taylor, Farmerville, and Mrs. Alice Hance, Monroe, 125; Mrs. Jimmie Bruce, Rayville, 123; Mrs. Mimi Smith, Monroe, 121; Mrs. Raymond Rugg, Sterlington, 118; Mrs. Jimmie Wyche, Monroe, 116; Mrs. Annie Woodward, Ferriday, 112; and Mrs. O. B. Wilson, West Monroe, 111.

J. E. Griffin, Ferriday, summed up the contest in a letter to Jack Hesketh, Monroe Recreation director, who selects the games and keeps score, this way: "Really enjoyed your Grid Quiz. You would really be surprised to know the number of people who read it in my area. You have a fine paper which gives interesting local news that is accurate and up to date. Thanks for the privilege."

Said Hesketh: "I also enjoyed doing it, and, although it is a lot of work, it is fun."

Purdue Topples Angry Hoosiers In Bruising Tilt

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 20 (AP) — Purdue kept the Old Oaken Bucket today by beating its intrastate rival from Indiana, 13-7, in one of the roughest games of the series that started in 1891.

Len Dawson's 15th touchdown pass this year was the victory margin.

Purdue finished sixth in the Big Ten, Indiana seventh.

Coach Bernie Crimmins of Indiana raged on the sidelines while penalties repeatedly stopped the Hoosiers. Fist fights broke out in the crowd of 44,000, but state police had the situation under control when the game ended.

Indiana was penalized 132 yards to 20 for Purdue.

Tackle Nate Borden, a converted end playing his 39th consecutive game for Indiana, picked up a blocked punt in the first quarter for Indiana's touchdown. He was ejected from the game in the final period for unnecessary roughness after adding recovery of a Purdue fumble to his final Hoosier performance.

Two 15-yard Indiana penalties set up Dawson's one-yard touchdown sneak in the second quarter. He passed nine yards to Rex Brock for the winning score in the third period.

Score by quarters:

Indiana	7	0	0	0	—7
Purdue	0	6	7	0	-13

Indiana scoring: Touchdown, Borden. Conversion, Helinski.

Purdue scoring: Touchdowns, Dawson, Brock. Conversion, Dawson.

Calhoun, Weston Take Downsville Tourney Crowns

DOWNSVILLE, La., Nov. 20 (Special) — The Calhoun High boys and the girls of Weston High won championships at the annual Downsville High School Invitational Basketball Tournament here tonight. The Calhoun Chiefs defeated Downsville, 52-43, in their final after the Weston girls had beaten Marion, 30-26.

In the day's only semi-finals, one in each division, the Weston girls eliminated Farmerville, 29-17, and Calhoun's boys stopped Marion, 44-29.

The Calhoun girls won the consolation, defeating Farmerville, 30-22. Marion won the boys' consolation, beating Weston 57-35.

The all-tournament teams:

Boys — Mitchell, Calhoun; Roberson, Downsville; Brashier, Marion; J. McBride, Weston; and Finley, Calhoun.

Girls — Barbara Coon, Calhoun; V. Wheelis, Marion; S. Wheelis, Marion; Alice Hurst, Weston; Sue Peel, Weston; and Allen, Farmerville.

Peel hooped 19 points to lead Weston's girls past Marion in the final. V. Wheelis led Marion with 18. Mitchell, Finey, and B. Thompson hooped 16, 14, and 15 points respectivey in guiding Calhoun's chiefs in their final victory, while Roberson and J. Hammonds led Downsville with 16 and 10 respectively.

Ferriday Set For Many; Bastrop To Lake Charles

The Ferriday Bulldogs and Bastrop Rams, football champions of their own class in this area, will enter the State playoffs this week, Ferriday as host to Many Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and Bastrop going to Lake Charles for their appearance in the state triple-A semi-finals.

Ferriday and Many will be battling it out in a Class A playoff. Ferriday was scheduled to play Waterproof in the Thanksgiving game, but they cancelled their date by mutual agreement so that the Bulldogs, undefeated and kings of the 2-A district, and Many, 1-A champs, could get their state playoff underway. Many clinched the title in its district Friday when Farmerville fell before LaSalle of Olla.

The Sicily Island Tigers, 3-B champions, are awaiting the outcome of a protest by Basile High, which has challenged Merryville's right to the 4-B title, before determining when their playoff starts. The Basile-Merryvill dispute is due to be settled at a committee meeting here Monday morning.

Delhi's 2B champs, who defeated Oil City, 1-B champs, in their playoff game Friday night, plays Tallulah in a regularly scheduled game at Tallulah before moving into the state Class B semi-finals.

Ferriday officials last night announced an advanced sale of reserved seat tickets for their game is already underway at Ferriday and Many. The reserved seats are going for $1.50 each.

CELTS DROP KNICKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Trailing at the end of the first quarter, the Boston Celtics turned on the pressure to bury the New York Knickerbockers by a Madison Square Garden record 117-98 tonight in a game which saw the Celts replace the Knicks as eastern division National Basketball Association leaders.

T. C. U. Stopped 3 Times; Rice Owls Grab 6-0 Victory

HOUSTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Jerry Hall, taking over just before game time when the regular fullback was disciplined, teamed with dependable Dickey Moegle today to give Rice a 6-0 Southwest Conference victory over Texas Christian.

After driving 57-yards in the first quarter for the game's lone touchdown, Rice had to call on its best defensive efforts to stop three serious T.C.C. threats inside the 10-yard line.

The clock stopped the Horned Frogs on the six at the end of the second period. A 91-yard fourth quarter drive was stopped on the one. As the final gun sounded T.C.U., on fourth down, threw an incomplete pass from the eight.

Hall, in three plays, accounted for 46 of the 57-yard Rice touchdown drive but quarterback Atchley Proctor plunged over from the one on a keeper. Tackle Dick Laswell broke through to block Hall's extra point attempt.

A sophomore in eligibility despite three years on the Rice campus, Hall took over for Mac Taylor, the regular fullback who was not in uniform. There was no official announcement from Coach Jess Neely but Rice sources said Taylor had been disciplined for missing bed check.

Hall was the leading ground gainer with 124 yards in 21 carries.

Moegle had 100 yards in 17.

Score by quarters:

T. C. U.	0	0	0	0	—0
Rice	6	0	0	0	—6

Rice scoring: Touchdowns, Proctor.

Imbros Beats Out Karim, Determine In Pacific Event

ALBANY, Calif., Nov. 20 (AP) — Andrew J. Crevolin's Imbros beat out Karim by a length and a quarter and came home five lengths ahead of this Kentucky Derby-winning stablemate Determine to win the eighth running of the $11,000 Pacific Handicap at Golden Gate fields today.

With Johnny Longden up, Imbros led from the beginning on a slow track to finish the six furlongs in 1:11 and one fifth and earn Crevolin $6,375. Determine, starting for the first time since July 3, raked in $1,500 to boost his season's total to $303,900. Determine had been idle because of an infected jaw.

Imbros usually ranked as the other half of the Alhambra, Calif., owner's "gold dust twins", was unraced as a two-year-old. The 4-year-old son of Polynesian racked up his 13th victory in 30 starts and raised his lifetime earnings to $202,650.

Determine, the little grey son of Alibhai, still is shooting for the 1954 money-winning crown. His big rival, High Gun of the King Ranch, has banked $314,500.

Mrs. J. Eyraud's Karim was game under George Taniguchi, but never caught up with Imbros, who got out of the gate in a hurry and opened up a three-length lead inside.

Imbros paid $3.40, $2.10 and $2.20. Karim returned $2.60 and $2.20 Determine paid $2.20.

Bolt Running Second In Hawaiian Tourney

HONOLULU, Nov. 20 (AP) —Bud Holscher, Santa Monica, Calif., pro, blistered the par 63 Oahu Country Club course for the third straight round today to take a four-stroke lead at the 54-hole mark in the $2,000 Hawaiian Open golf tourney.

The steady craftsman's card at the three-quarter mark was 65-66-65-196.

But a Texas pro, Tommy Bolt of Houston, turned in the day's best round, a five-under-par 63 which pulled him even with Honolulu's Guinea Kop in second place. Bolt had 69-68-63-200; Kop, 70-64-66-200.

The tournament ends tomorrow.

Louisiana Tech Crushes Northeast, 51-6

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Their football togs going into storage after last night's closing game with Louisiana Tech, the Indians of Northeast Louisiana State turn their attention to basketball this week with mighty good prospects that Coach Arnold Kilpatrick's cagers may be about ready to give Gulf States Conference opposition a good race, certainly much better than the '53-54 campaign that saw the Tribe winning only seven out of 16, two of ten in league action.

The strongest schedule in Northeast's history, 28 regularly scheduled games and two tournaments, will open Tuesday night at Marshall, Tex., against East Texas Baptist. Then follows two games with Fort Sill at Lawton, Okla., a trip to Barksdale Field, and a meeting with William Carey at Hattiesburg, Miss., before the home opener here December 6 with East Texas Baptist. Others on the schedule include Mississippi College, Delta State, Arkansas A. and M., Arkansas State, Little Rock, and Southern Illinois in non-conference contests, and two games each with G. S. C. rivals Louisiana College, Southeastern, Northwestern, Louisiana Tech, S. L. I., and McNeese. The schedule, ending March 1, will close with five straight conference battles.

Northeast's biggest trouble last season was second line strength. The introductory five was able to hold its own, but several games were lost in the late stages when frontliners had fouled out. Coach Kilpatrick believes he has better depth in talent this year to offset loss of strength due to excessive fouls.

Prentiss Cox, Northeast sports publicist, in his "Basketball Dope Sheet" for press and radio, says, "Basketball at Northeast should be on the up-grade, because of the addition of four junior college transfers and one outstanding freshman. There are three returning from last year's starting five and five letterman reserves from last season's squad . . . We should be considerably stronger in every way . . . We have added scoring punch and a better defensive combination."

Although towering Bob Bennett and Bill Bigby, stars of the past season, are gone, the newest Northeast raves are for Earl Miles, six-foot-eight center from Holmes (Miss.) Junior College; Bill Bradley, six-foot-two pivotman from Hannibal-LaGrange (Mo.) Junior College; Henry Willis, 6-4 forward transfer from Paris (Tex.) J. C.; Jim Henderson, 5-11 guard transfer from Hannibal-LaGrange; and the classy freshman prospect, Bobbie Patterson, 5-10 guard, of Elvins, Mo.

This new quintet in itself should greatly enhance the production of such returning stars as forward Bill Crowe, 6-2, senior and co-captain; Melvin Gibson, the six-foot guard who made the sports writer's All-Gulf team last year, was the leading scorer, and shares captain duties with Crowe; Lloyd Crocker, 6-5 sophomore from Calhoun, who will back up Crowe and Willis as forwards; and Monroe's Harold Davis, 5-11, and Travis "Dick" Ford, Jonesboro's six-footer, who are battling for the No. 4 guard slot. Rounding out the squad are Glynn Robinson, 6-2, junior forward of Friendship; Junior Austin, 6-1, senior forward of Cave-In-Rock, Ill.; Glynn McGuffie, six-foot, junior forward of Harrisonburg; Bob Betz, six-foot, sophomore forward-guard of Monroe; Joe Jordan, six-foot, sophomore guard of Chatham; and Bill McDonald, 6-3, a freshman forward of McGregor, Tex., who won't be eligible until mid-term.

Coach Kilpatrick's non-player personnel includes Freddie Bond, basketball statistician; and Roger Robinson, official scorer from Chatham. Robinson comes to Northeast fresh from Chatham High where he ably handled Chatham scoring and basketball publicity.

Now we only have a short time to wait to see how the Redskins go. Success on the road should more than merit a big welcoming for the Tribe when it moves into Ouachita Parish High gym December 6 for that opener with East Texas Baptist.

K-State's Bowl Dreams Shattered By Colorado

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 20 (AP) — Three touchdown runs of 95, 50 and 46 yards in eight minutes of the second quarter sent Colorado sailing to a 38-14 victory over Kansas State today. The loss buried K-State's hopes for a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Halfback Carroll Hardy, who also ran 79 yards for a fourth-quarter touchdown, touched off Colorado's offensive surge with a 46-yard dash through tackle for the first score. Four minutes later halfback Frank Bernadi pipped 50 yards on a reverse around right end for another touchdown.

Their spectacular runs were capped moments later by a 95-yard touchdown trip by Emerson Wilson, 196-pound junior fullback.

Quarterback Bob Whitehead recovered Bernardi's fumble late in the third period. Eight plays later fullback Bill Carrington scooted four yards around right end to score.

Score by quarters:

Kansas State	0	0	7	7	—14
Colorado	0	19	9	19	—38

Kansas State scoring: Touchdowns, Carrington, Moody. Conversions, Dahnke, Ciboski.

Colorado scoring: Touchdowns, Hardy 3, Bernardi, Wilson, Bayuk. Conversions, Kenkins, Hardy.

Indians Hold Tech To 2-Touchdown Lead At Halftime

By TED HECKATHON

The Louisiana Tech Bulldogs made their first visit to Brown Stadium as Northeast guests an auspicious one last night, as they rolled over the freshman - studded Indians, 51-6.

The Tribe played an outstanding defensive game all during the first half, holding the vaunted Tech power to a 18-6 intermission lead, but in the third quarter, the roof fell in, and the visitors chalked up 26 more points to break the game wide open.

Tech drove 42 yeards for its opening score, with halfback Gayle Dick plunging over from the one. Dick set up the second Tech tally in the first period, when he intercepted a Tribe pass on the Northeast 45, and ran it to the 25. Fullback James Oliver, in three carries, the last from two yards out, put the Bulldogs ahead, by two touchdowns.

The Indians scored late in the second, a 38-yard pass play from Danny Hoak to Ken McLellan carrying to the Tech 23, from where Hoak heaved another aerial to Dan Andrews on the 12, and the big end went all the way.

The Techmen scored again with 40 seconds remaining in the half, when they took the Northeast kickoff and drove to the 30, from where Oliver burst through tackle and sped unmolested to paydirt.

Oliver accounted for the initial third-quarter Bulldog score, with a 43-yard run; reserve halfback C. D. Walker went 18 yards for the next; and halfback A. L. Williams, on jaunts of 63 and 42 yards, scored the next two.

Tech added one more in the fourth, with Bud McMichael hitting over from the eight. Northeast unleashed a passing threat in the final stanza, with Clayton Cox on the heaving end, and Bob Scogin the chief target, but the aerial attack stalled on the Tech ten, when the Bulldogs recovered a Northeast fumble.

Scogin played an outstanding game defensively for Northeast, as did guards Bob Windle and C. J. Melancon. Tackles Red Yocum and Sherrod McKoin played their usual 60 minutes of stalwart football for the Tribe.

Dick kicked two extra points for Tech, and guard Jesse Storts the other.

The lineups:

Northeast

Ends: Busby, Andrews, Smith, Cobb, Lee, Collins.

Iowa Crumbles As Notre Dame Hits For 34-18

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 20 (AP) — Vengeance - bent Notre Dame pounded Iowa, 34-18, today and exacted rich revenge for the famous 14-14 tie that cost the Irish the national football championship a year ago.

Notre Dame, under the cunning leadership of Ralph Guglielmi, the passing genius, roared through Iowa for a 34-6 lead midway through the final quarter. There was no need this chilly, crisp day for the feigned injuries that stopped the clock last year to give the Irish the precious time necessary for tying touchdowns.

Only in the late stages did Iowa ramble freely through Notre Dame to furnish some consolation to the Iowans in the crowd of 52,756, a sellout gathering that had been assured when the tickets first went on sale last July.

Coach Terry Brennan's Irish lads were in command all the way until they were far out of danger and both squads were dominated by reserves in much of the late going. Terry did hustle in his first team when Iowa threatened a fourth touchdown, a maneuver that died with the final gun on the Notre Dame 5.

Hill, Mrs. Daniel Clinch Grid Quiz Championships

Harold Hill, Wests Monroe, was acclaimed champion football forecaster for the Recreation Grid Quiz last night as the ten weeks' contest conducted by the Monroe Recreation Department and this newspaper came to a close. Mrs. Scotty Daniel, Monroe, six correct predictions behind Hill for the full distance, won the championship of the women's civision.

It was the second time Mrs. Daniel had won the contest, but no man has ever won it twice, and no contender has yet won two in a row.

Second best in the men's class on yesterday's tally were W. W. Stevens, Jiles Davis, Warren Eberts, John Hannah, Jimmy Wyche and Maynard Chambers, Monroe; Henry Hoffman, West Monroe; Jimmy Adams, Newellton; E. H. Coleman, Lake Providence; Oda Todd, Winnsboro; and L. E. Grant, Oak Grove. All had 15 right.

Trailing Mrs. Scalia in Saturday's scores were Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. Alice Hance, and Mrs. Riley Hopkins, Monroe, and Mrs. Sam Hartman, Farmerville, 15; Mrs. Jimmie Bruce, Rayville, Mrs. Jimmie Wyche, Monroe, Mrs. Ralph Marionneaux, Jr., Pittsburgh, Pa., and Mrs. John D. Taylor, Farmerville, 14 each.

The final ten weeks' standings:

Women — Mrs. Daniel, Monroe, 132; Mrs. Riley Hopkins, Monroe, 131; Mrs. Marionneaux, Pittsburgh, 128; Mrs. Pat Scalia, Monroe, 127; Mrs. Sam Hartman and Mrs. John D. Taylor, Farmerville, and Mrs. Alice Hance, Monroe, 125; Mrs. Jimmie Bruce, Rayville, 123; Mrs. Mimi Smith, Monroe, 121; Mrs. Raymond Rugg, Sterlington, 118; Mrs. Jimmie Wyche, Monroe, 116; Mrs. Annie Woodward, Ferriday, 112; and Mrs. O. B. Wilson, West Monroe, 111.

J. E. Griffin, Ferriday, summed up the contest in a letter to Jack Hesketh, Monroe Recreation director, who selects the games and keeps score, this way: "Really enjoyed your Grid Quiz. You would really be surprised to know the number of people who read it in my area. You have a fine paper which gives interesting local news that is accurate and up to date. Thanks for the privilege."

Said Hesketh: "I also enjoyed doing it, and, although it is a lot of work, it is fun."

Newellton Wins 12 To 6 Against Lake Providence

NEWELLTON, La., Nov. 20 (Special) — The Newellton Bears closed their 1954 football season last night by downing a scrappy Lake Providence Panther team, 12-6, on a cold, damp field.

The Bears tallied first in the first period when linebacker and center Bill Parker stole the ball as a Panther back started through the middle of the line. He ran 50 yards to score standing. Point after was missed by halfback Parnell Barfield.

In the second period the Bears scored again when fullback Buddy Emfinger carred across from 16 after halfback Terry Head had advanced the ball to that point on a 44-yard-jaunt. Early in the fourth period the Panthers made one of their many marches pay off on a pass from Thomas to Huey Toney, good for 23 yards and a score. Point after was kicked by Robert Earle.

The Bears were unable to go in the air, although receivers were open. The Providence line made it hard on the passer. The Panthers played for keeps with Minsky, their fast little scatback, giving the Bear defenders a lot of trouble. Halfback Terry Head and fullback Emfinger carried the brunt of the Bear attack, both getting off several nice runs, but not able to go all the way. The Panther defenders were too fast for them. Providence came out ahead in first downs 11-8.

Holy Cross Cops Triple-A Throne For New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP) — Holy Cross overwhelmed Nicholls 47-6 today to win its eighth New Orleans prep football championship.

Holy Cross now meets Baton Rouge, winner of the southeast district, in the semi-finals of the triple A playoffs. Bastrop plays Lake Charles in the other bracket.

Holy Cross rolled to two touchdowns in each of the first three quarters and one in the fourth quarter. Nicholls got its only score in the fourth quarter.

Holy Cross marched 99 yards for its first down after Nicholls lost the ball on downs. A 52-yard pass play, Earl Schneider to Joe diGiovanni, capped the drive.

Holy Cross	14	14	13	6	—47
Nicholls	0	0	0	6	— 6

Ferriday Set For Many; Bastrop To Lake Charles

The Ferriday Bulldogs and Bastrop Rams, football champions of their own class in this area, will enter the State playoffs this week, Ferriday as host to Many Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and Bastrop going to Lake Charles for their appearance in the state triple-A semi-finals.

Ferriday and Many will be battling it out in a Class A playoff. Ferriday was scheduled to play Waterproof in the Thanksgiving game, but they cancelled their date by mutual agreement so that the Bulldogs, undefeated and kings of the 2-A district, and Many, 1-A champs, could get their state playoff underway. Many clinched the title in its district Friday when Farmerville fell before LaSalle of Olla.

The Sicily Island Tigers, 3-B champions, are awaiting the outcome of a protest by Basile High, which has challenged Merryville's right to the 4-B title, before determining when their playoff starts. The Basile-Merryvill dispute is due to be settled at a committee meeting here Monday morning.

Delhi's 2B champs, who defeated Oil City, 1-B champs, in their playoff game Friday night, plays Tallulah in a regularly scheduled game at Tallulah before moving into the state Class B semi-finals.

Ferriday officials last night announced an advanced sale of reserved seat tickets for their game is already underway at Ferriday and Many. The reserved seats are going for $1.50 each.

Purdue Topples Angry Hoosiers In Bruising Tilt

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 20 (AP)—Purdue kept the Old Oaken Bucket today by beating its intrastate rival from Indiana, 13-7, in one of the roughest games of the series that started in 1891.

Len Dawson's 15th touchdown pass this year was the victory margin.

Purdue finished sixth in the Big Ten, Indiana seventh.

Coach Bernie Crimmins of Indiana raged on the sidelines while penalties repeatedly stopped the Hoosiers. Fist fights broke out in the crowd of 44,000, but state police had the situation under control when the game ended.

Indiana was penalized 132 yards to 20 for Purdue.

Tackle Nate Borden, a converted end playing his 39th consecutive game for Indiana, picked up a blocked punt in the first quarter for Indiana's touchdown. He was ejected from the game in the final period for unnecessary roughness after adding recovery of a Purdue fumble to his final Hoosier performance.

Two 15-yard Indiana penalties set up Dawson's one-yard touchdown sneak in the second quarter. He passed nine yards to Rex Brock for the winning score in the third period.

Score by quarters:

Indiana	7	0	0	0	—7
Purdue	0	6	7	0	-13

Indiana scoring: Touchdown, Borden. Conversion, Helinski.

Purdue scoring: Touchdowns, Dawson, Brock. Conversion, Dawson.

Calhoun, Weston Take Downsville Tourney Crowns

DOWNSVILLE, La., Nov. 20 (Special) — The Calhoun High boys and the girls of Weston High won championships at the annual Downsville High School Invitational Basketball Tournament here tonight. The Calhoun Chiefs defeated Downsville, 52-43, in their final after the Weston girls had beaten Marion, 30-26.

In the day's only semi-finals, one in each division, the Weston girls eliminated Farmerville, 29-17, and Calhoun's boys stopped Marion, 44-29.

The Calhoun girls won the consolation, defeating Farmerville, 30-22. Marion won the boys' consolation, beating Weston 57-35.

The all-tournament teams:

Boys — Mitchell, Calhoun; Roberson, Downsville; Brashier, Marion; J. McBride, Weston; and Finley, Calhoun.

Girls — Barbara Coon, Calhoun; V. Wheelis, Marion; S. Wheelis, Marion; Alice Hurst, Weston; Sue Peel, Weston; and Allen, Farmerville.

Peel hooped 19 points to lead Weston's girls past Marion in the final. V. Wheelis led Marion with 18. Mitchell, Finey, and B. Thompson hooped 16, 14, and 15 points respective in guiding Calhoun's chiefs in their final victory, while Roberson and J. Hammonds led Downsville with 16 and 10 respectively.

CELTS DROP KNICKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Trailing at the end of the first quarter, the Boston Celtics turned on the pressure to bury the New York Knickerbockers by a Madison Square Garden record 117-98 tonight in a game which saw the Celts replace the Knicks as eastern division National Basketball Association leaders.

T. C. U. Stopped 3 Times; Rice Owls Grab 6-0 Victory

HOUSTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Jerry Hall, taking over just before game time when the regular fullback was disciplined, teamed with dependable Dickey Moegle today to give Rice a 6-0 Southwest Conference victory over Texas Christian.

After driving 57-yards in the first quarter for the game's lone touchdown, Rice had to call on its best defensive efforts to stop three serious T.C.C. threats inside the 10-yard line.

The clock stopped the Horned Frogs on the six at the end of the second period. A 91-yard fourth quarter drive was stopped on the one. As the final gun sounded T.C.U., on fourth down, threw an incomplete pass from the eight.

Hall, in three plays, accounted for 46 of the 57-yard Rice touchdown drive but quarterback Atchley Proctor plunged over from the one on a keeper. Tackle Dick Laswell broke through to block Hall's extra point attempt.

A sophomore in eligibility despite three years on the Rice campus, Hall took over for Mac Taylor, the regular fullback who was not in uniform. There was no official announcement from Coach Jess Neely but Rice sources said Taylor had been disciplined for missing bed check.

Hall was the leading ground gainer with 124 yards in 21 carries.

Moegle had 100 yards in 17.

Score by quarters:

T. C. U.	0	0	0	0	—0
Rice	6	0	0	0	—6

Rice scoring: Touchdowns, Proctor.

Imbros Beats Out Karim, Determine In Pacific Event

ALBANY, Calif., Nov. 20 (AP) — Andrew J. Crevolin's Imbros beat out Karim by a length and a quarter and came home five lengths ahead of this Kentucky Derby-winning stablemate Determine to win the eighth running of the $11,000 Pacific Handicap at Golden Gate fields today.

With Johnny Longden up, Imbros led from the beginning on a slow track to finish the six furlongs in 1:11 and one fifth and earn Crevolin $6,375. Determine, starting for the first time since July 3, raked in $1,500 to boost his season's total to $303,900. Determine had been idle because of an infected jaw.

Imbros usually ranked as the other half of the Alhambra, Calif., owner's "gold dust twins", was unraced as a two-year-old. The 4-year-old son of Polynesian racked up his 13th victory in 30 starts and raised his lifetime earnings to $202,650.

Determine, the little grey son of Alibhai, still is shooting for the 1954 money-winning crown. His big rival, High Gun of the King Ranch, has banked $314,500.

Mrs. J. Eyraud's Karim was game under George Taniguchi, but never caught up with Imbros, who got out of the gate in a hurry and opened up a three-length lead inside.

Imbros paid $3.40, $2.10 and $2.20. Karim returned $2.60 and $2.20. Determine paid $2.20.

Bolt Running Second In Hawaiian Tourney

HONOLULU, Nov. 20 (AP) —Bud Holscher, Santa Monica, Calif., pro, blistered the par 63 Oahu Country Club course for the third straight round today to take a four-stroke lead at the 54-hole mark in the $2,000 Hawaiian Open golf tourney.

The steady craftsman's card at the three-quarter mark was 65-66-65-196.

But a Texas pro, Tommy Bolt of Houston, turned in the day's best round, a five-under-par 63 which pulled him even with Honolulu's Guinea Kop in second place. Bolt had 69-68-63-200; Kop, 70-64-66-200.

The tournament ends tomorrow.

L. S. U. Steams For 7-6 Upset Over Touted Arkansas

Doggett Boots Deciding Point To Nip Porkers

By HUGH MULLIGAN

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 20 (AP) —With handyman Al Doggett playing every backfield position, injury riddled Louisiana State University handed Arkansas a 7-6 upset today before the 33,000 fans.

But the defeat didn't stop Arkansas from winning a spot as the Southwest Conference representative in the Cotton Bowl. Baylor, victorious over Southern Methodist, can still tie for the conference title but a defeat by Arkansas earlier in the season gives the Raborbacks' the bowl bid.

Lightly regarded and heading nowhere, LSU sent the Razorbacks down to their second straight defeat by beating them at their own games—possession ball./

The largest public gathering in Shreveport history saw Doggett start the game at halfback, return to quarterback to spark a second quarter scoring drive and then move to fullback when there were kicking chores to be done.

It was Doggett's extra point, after the ball holder juggled the pass from center, that made the difference. Doggett kicked true anyway.

LSU, near the bottom of the Southeastern Conference, gained its fourth victory of the year against six defeats and salvaged some glory from an otherwise unhappy season.

After threatening twice, Arkansas got on the scoreboard first when second string tailback Buddy Benson passed 13 yards to Billy Lyons in the end zone, midway in the second quarter. Benson was wide with his extra point try.

Four minutes later, LSU drove 33 yards to a touchdown in eight plays. Halfback Chuck Johns, used sparingly because of a lame ankle, scooted over from the three. Doggett set up the score with a 14-yard pass to Joe May.

After that LSU concentrated on possession. The Tigers took up the entire third quarter with a 69-yard drive that ran out of gas on the eight, then exchanged punts with the Porkers the rest of the game.

With six key players hobbled by injuries, Coach Gaynell Tinsley juggled his lineup constantly throughout the game. It worked. Fullback Lou Deutschmann played a thundering game at tackle, combining with All-America candidate Sid Fournet to thwart Arkansas' vaunted single wing attack.

Arkansas dominated the first quarter with a massive ground surge alternated by a tattoo of short passes from tailback George Walker to blocking back Preston Carpenter.

But suddenly in the second quarter, the Tigers came to life and Mays, a sophomore halfback, showed the way through the Arkansas line.

The tigers, previously noted for their aerial game, ended up outrushing Arkansas 227 yards to 103. And Arkansas, stymied on the ground, took to the air to gain a 58-40 edge in passing yardage on eight completions out of 19 attempts.

LSU has not lost to Arkansas in 26 years. The victory gave the Tigers a 20-12 advantage in a series that dates back to 1901.

LSU halfback Chico Gonzales made up for two fumbles by playing a standout game on defense as well as being the wheel horse of the Tiger attack. He carried 16 times for 58 yards and a 3.6 average.

But fullback O. K. Ferguson, only recently moved up from the third team to a starting berth, was equally busy, carrying 20 times for 93 yards and a 4.6 average.

Benson did most of the carrying for the Razorbacks and had a 3.4 average for 10 carries.

Tinsley used only 24 players in the game while Wyatt substituted freely and occasionally brought in an entire new unit.

The heart of the game was in the line play, where LSU, despite its fumbles, had the edge, thanks to Deutschmann and Fournet. End Joe Tuminello, sweeping in on the Arkansas passers, played the best defensive game of his career.

Arkansas' line felt the loss of tackle Jim Roth, who did not make the trip from Fayetteville because of an injury. A twisted hip put center Jerry Ford, the mainstay of the Razorback forward wall on limited duty and he did not enter the game until late in the third period.

The crowd of 33,000 included Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, Gov. Francis Cherry of Arkansas, and 125-piece bands from both schools.

LSU for its Shreveport visit had the use of two substitute water boys, Mayor James Gardner and former Mayor Clyde Fant who lugged the pail to pay off a bet to Baton Rouge Mayor Jesse L.Webb Jr. on which city would raise the most money in a 1954 march of dimes campaign.

It was the first LSU - Arkansas game in Shreveport in 18 years although the interconference rivalry was almost a fixture here prior to that.

It was the third time this season that LSU wound up in the spoiler's role. The Tigers blasted Texas Tech from the unbeaten ranks, then put an abrupt end to Florida's dreams of an undefeated SEC season.

LSU, however, has won but one conference game this year. They wind up their season next week against Tulane in New Orleans, while Arkansas takes on Houston.

Mrs. W. C. Summer and Mrs. Clyde Nash, chief golf rivals of the Twin Cities recently, meet this afternoon at 1 o'clock at Bayou DeSiard Country Club in the finals of the Women's Club Championship Tournament. Only a few days ago they were the finalists in the Twin City Women's Tournament at Municipal Golf Club with Mrs. Nash barely beating out Mrs. Summer.

Champions in the other two flights of the Bayou tourney have been decided. Mrs. John Kelso defeated Mrs. E. N. Hemphill, 1 up in 20 holes, to win the first flight, and the second flight went to Mrs. Lloyd Walters with a 4 and 3 win over Mrs. L. E. Ducote.

Vidalia Squeezes By Davidson Foes In 14-13 Contest

ST. JOSEPH, La., Nov. 20 (Special)—The Davidson Warriors of St. Joseph had their homecoming spoiled yesterday afternoon as a fighting Vidalia team came out ahead 14-13. Homecoming festivities began at 11 a.m. with a gala street parade.

The Thanksgiving theme was predominate with many "Braves" and young "Warriors" roaming the streets in colorful attire. However, the winning float was "Westward Ho," a covered wagon pulled by a team of mules, with a bounding dog tied to the rear on a rope and escorted by a group of "homesteaders." The floats showed a lot of planning and preparation and received many compliments. Miss Caryln Spruill was crowned "queen of homecoming" in pre-game ceremonies.

The Vikings scored first in the first period with Leo Landry going across from the 35 on a pass-lateral. Conversion was made by Benny Milligan on a run. Early in the second period the Warriors blocked a Viking punt and recovered on the Viking 24. Fullback Dale Hoover carried across from the seven. Attempt at conversion was blocked. In the last of the second period the Vikings again tallied, sending Bobby Byargeon across from the 32. Point after was made by Johnny Peterson on a run.

In the fourth period, the Warriors got Bobby Wingate loose on a 40-yard punt return down to the Viking 29 yard line. Wingate carried across from the 24. Point after was kicked by Dale Hoover with the final score being 14-13.

Fumble Beats Tulsa; Wyoming wins, 28-27

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 20 (AP)—Wyoming's Cowboys, pressed to the limit by a Tulsa team seeking desperately to break a long losing streak, squeaked to a 28-27 victory today on George Galuska's third touchdown.

The winning score, coming with only two and a half minutes to play, was set up by Cowboy center Frank Radella's recovery of an opposition fumble on the Tulsa 28.

Score by quarter:

Wyoming	7	7	7	7	28
Tulsa	0	13	7	7	27

Huskers Feel Sooners' Might, But Aim For Bowl

By SAUL FELDMAN

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 20 (AP)—The mighty Oklahoma Sooners, invincible in the Big Seven, routed a determined but undermanned Nebraska football team 55-7 today to wrap up their seventh straight conference crown but the Cornhuskers still backed into an Orange Bowl berth.

Nebraska, with a 4-2 record, landed the automatic bid to the Miami, Fla., New Year's Day classic as loop runner-up when contending Kansas State was knocked off by Colorado, 38-13.

Oklahoma, a 7-0 victor over Maryland in the Orange Bowl Jan. 1, is prohibited by a conference rule from playing a return engagement against the Atlantic Coast champion.

Nebraska played Oklahoma to a 7-7 standstill in the first quarter before 56,000 homecoming spectators. But as in the Sooners' other games this year, they quickly wore down their opponent and were comfortably ahead 21-7 at the half.

All of Oklahoma's eight touchdowns were scored by different players as Sooner Coach Bud Wilkinson swept his bench to prevent a greater runaway. However, left halfback Buddy Leake, playing his last home game, was easily the standout.

He intercepted a pass that set up O. U.'s first touchdown, then passed for the tally, smothered a bobbled Nebraska fair catch, ran 19 yards for a TD and converted three times.

Nebraska	7	0	0	0	7
Oklahoma	7	14	14	20	55

Oklahoma scoring: Touchdowns, Boydston, McDonald, Leake, Herndon, Littlejohn, Tubbs, Derrick, Wyatt, Conversions, Leake 3, O'Neal, Harris, Simmons, Carroll.

Tulane, L. S. U. Frosh Clash Wednesday In Annual Grid Contest

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (Special) —The annual Tulane-Louisiana State freshman game goes under the lights for the first time Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in L.S.U. Tiger Stadium at Baton Rouge.

The teams will be making their initial appearances of the season in Louisiana. Tulane has played two games, both with Mississippi junior college teams. They took wins from Perkinston (19-18) and Pearl River (14-7).

L.S.U. has also played a pair of contests. The Baby Bengals lost to the Ole Miss frosh, 20-18, in a game at McComb, Miss., but bounced back later to stop Mississippi State, 26-7, at Starkville Miss.

Tulane frosh coach Stanley Kottemann and assistant Dan Sandifer will field a team which is among the most promising in a long while. Main cog of the machine is quarterback Gene Newton, a 163-pound split-T dandy who has scored 32 of the little Greenies' 33 points. The Shreveport boy has reeled off scoring runs of 54, 19, 17, 15 and 1 yards.

LOUISIANA TECH'S ACE dashman, Bruce Lenoir of Mansfield, has been invited to compete in the 100-yard dash in the Sugar Bowl Invitational Track Meet at New Orleans Dec. 30. One of the fastest sprinters ever to put on a Tech track uniform, Lenoir broke the Gulf States Conference record for the 100 yards last May when he covered the distance in 9.8 seconds.

Double Main Grappling Card Tuesday At Arena

The same four grapplers who waged a fierce tag battle last week return to Kallio's Arena tonight in a double main event. Jack Curtis goes against Rube Wright in one half; and Indian Chief Apache wrestles "Wild Bill" Steddum in the other.

Both matches will be officiated by Bill Barney.

The villainous team of Steddum and Wright won the tag event last Tuesday, when an Apache block misfired in the third fall, enabling Steddum to quickly fall on for the smother and pin.

The bitter rivals waged a rip-roaring tussle all the way, particularly Curtis and Steddum, who banged with closed fist every time they squared off. Once again, Curtis opened a bloody gash on Steddum's forehead during an early exchange, and "Wild Bill" looked like his name for the remainder of the scrap, fighting and jumping around with blood streaming down his face.

The popularites lost the first fall after long and hectic action, but came back strong to even up matters in just five minutes of the second, when they alternated working Wright over until he was groggy enough for the pin.

The villains used the old untagged routine to win in the first, when the untagged grappler enters the ring, thus attracting the referee's attention long enough for the former's partner to commit anything he desires on his opponent. Promoter Gus Kallio put a halt to this activity, though, when he got on the public address system and instructed referee Barney to disqualify the next man who climbed through the ropes untagged. The Steddum-Wright combine evidently knew Kallio meant what he said, for there was no more of this activity.

Wright, who knows he can't beat Curtis by legal means, attempts to use anything and everything on the Vicksburger when they meet, such as paper and tape rubs, eye gouging, etc. Thier match Tuesday should be an exciting one, for most fans will be out to see Jack catch up with him.

Chief and Steddum had a fierce battle in their square-offs last week, with Steddum, not content with him.

Chief and Steddum had a fierce battle in their square-offs last week, with Steddum, not content with merely pulling Apache's hair, using it as a handle, and even throwing the Indian by it.

Duke Nears Orange Bowl Date As Gamecocks Fall

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 20 (AP)—Buddy Bass a sophomore halfback playing before hometown fans, scored two touchdowns and passed for another today as Duke defeated South Carolina, 26-7, to strengthen its chances for an Orange Bowl bid.

Halfback Bob Pascal and quarterback Jerry Barger teamed with Bass to provide the big punch as Duke scored in every period before a crowd of 13,000.

The second half was played in rain that turned the field into a muddy mess.

South Carolina's only score came in the closing minutes when guard Frank Mincevich recovered Worth Lutz's fumble in the end zone for a touchdown.

Duke took the opening kickoff and rammed 56 yards in four plays. The score came on a 37-yard pass play from Pascal to end Tracy Moon. There were five seconds remaining in the second period when Barger flipped a touchdown pass to Bass, the play covering 39 yards.

In the third period, Duke scored on a seven yard pass from Bass to Pascal. The final Blue Devil tally came early in the fourth period when Bass circled left end from the 11.

Guard Jim Nelson converted two of the four extra point attempts.

Score by quarters:

South Carolina	0	0	0	7	7
Duke	6	7	7	6	26

South Carolina scoring: Touchdown, Mincevich. Conversion, Prackett (pass).

Duke scoring: Touchdowns, Moon Bass, 2, Pascal. Conversions, Nelson 2.

Grambling Snaps Back, Measures Arkansas Rivals

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Nov. 20 (Special) — The Grambling Tigers ended a two-game famine here Saturday by erupting for three touchdowns against Ark. State's embattled Lions to score a 21-13 victory in a tingler in which interest never wanted.

Deceptive running, fine passing and the explosive power of a big line carried the Tigers to victory over a determined enemy that fought valorously to the end.

Milton Crosby pounded on a fumble at the 30-yard line and an inside reverse and two plunges later Art Redman bounced into the end zone with the opening marker.

Showing a definite apitude for coming up with the right play when a coupe was essential to the cause, the Louisiana eleven drove 77-yards for another first period score in which Paul Green and Mack Moore were the chief executors.

Green hit Moore with a looping 70-yard pass for the TD.

Arkansas changed operational methods after the opening period and came up with its first touchdown when John Eubanks fielded a fumbled punt on the three.

Joe Napolean, a steady and effective all-around quarterback, scored on the next play.

Neither team scored again until Grambling turned an Arkansas fumble into favorable developments late in the third period.

Green sent a large delegation of Tiger supporters into an uproar by pitching a 35-yard strike to Moore for the score.

All-American candidate Redman, a vivid figure on offense and defense all day, kicked the Pats.

Following the touchdown, Grambling defenders made a personal production out of arresting ball carriers until Joe Davis raced 43-yard for Arkansas' closing score.

Duncan Guides Utah Over Montana State

MISSOULA, Mont., Nov. 20 (AP) —Quarterback Dave Duncan passed for one touchdown, set up two others with his accurate pitches and scored a fourth himself as Utah University whipped Montana State 41-20 in a Skyline Conference football game here today.

Duncan's passes also set up the touchdown he scored personally, bucking over from the one.

Auburn Cops 5th Straight, Dumps Clemson, 27 To 6

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 20 (AP)—Halfback Hoppy Middleton ran for three first half touchdowns to lead the Auburn Tigers to an impressive 27-6 victory over Clemson today for his teams fifth straight win.

Middleton, a 185-pound speedster who also stars as a dash man on the track team, made the important yards on quick up-the-middle smashes. The victors ran up impressive yardage all day but were handicapped by frequent penalties including one which nullified a 67-yard touchdown pass from Bobby Freeman to end Jim Pyburn.

Fullback Bill O'Dell ran well for the losers but they never managed to get into scoring territory until the final minute.

Score by quarters:

Clemson	0	0	0	6	6
Auburn	6	14	0	7	27

Clemson scoring: Touchdowns, Jackson.

Auburn scoring: Touchdowns, Middleton 3, Pyburn. Conversions Childress 3.

Early in the second period the Warriors blocked a Viking punt and recovered on the Viking 24. Fullback Dale Hoover carried across from the seven. Attempt at conversion was blocked. In the last of the second period the Vikings again tallied, sending Bobby Byargeon across from the 32. Point after was made by Johnny Peterson on a run.

In the fourth period, the Warriors got Bobby Wingate loose on a 40-yard punt return down to the Viking 29 yard line. Wingate carried across from the 24. Point after was kicked by Dale Hoover with the final score being 14-13.

Fumble Beats Tulsa; Wyoming wins, 28-27

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 20 (AP)—Wyoming's Cowboys, pressed to the limit by a Tulsa team seeking desperately to break a long losing streak, squeaked to a 28-27 victory today on George Galuska's third touchdown.

The winning score, coming with only two and a half minutes to play, was set up by Cowboy center Frank Radella's recovery of an opposition fumble on the Tulsa 28.

Tulane, L. S. U. Frosh Clash Wednesday In Annual Grid Contest

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (Special) —The annual Tulane-Louisiana State freshman game goes under the lights for the first time Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in L.S.U. Tiger Stadium at Baton Rouge.

The teams will be making their initial appearances of the season in Louisiana. Tulane has played two games, both with Mississippi junior college teams. They took wins from Perkinston (19-18) and Pearl River (14-7).

L.S.U. has also played a pair of contests. The Baby Bengals lost to the Ole Miss frosh, 20-18, in a game at McComb, Miss., but bounced back later to stop Mississippi State, 26-7, at Starkville Miss.

Tulane frosh coach Stanley Kotteman and assistant Dan Sandifer will field a team which is among the most promising in a long while. Main cog of the team is quarterback Gene Newton, a 163-pound split-T dandy who has scored 32 of the little Greenies' 33 points. The Shreveport boy has field scoring runs of 54, 19, 17, 15 and 1 yards.

LOUISIANA TECH'S ACE dashman, Bruce Lenoir of Mansfield, has been invited to compete in the 100-yard dash in the Sugar Bowl Invitational Track Meet at New Orleans Dec. 30. One of the fastest sprinters ever to put on a Tech track uniform, Lenoir broke the Gulf States Conference record for the 100 yards last May when he covered the distance in 9.8 seconds.

Double Main Grappling Card Tuesday At Arena

The same four grapplers who waged a fierce tag battle last week return to Kallio's Arena tonight in a double main event. Jack Curtis goes against Rube Wright on one half; and Indian Chief Apache wrestles "Wild Bill" Steddum in the other.

Both matches will be officiated by Bill Barney.

The villainous team of Steddum and Wright won the tag event last Tuesday, when an Apache block misfired in the third fall, enabling Steddum to quickly fall on for the smother and pin.

The bitter rivals waged a riproaring tussle all the way, particularly Curtis and Steddum, who banged with closed fist every time they squared off. Once again, Curtis opened a bloody gash on Steddum's forehead during an early exchange, and "Wild Bill" looked like his name for the remainder of the scrap, fighting and jumping around with blood streaming down his face.

The popularites lost the first fall after long and hectic action, but came back strong to even up matters in just five minutes of the second, when they alternated working Wright over until he was groggy enough for the pin.

The villains used the old untaged routine to win in the first, when the untagged grappler enters the ring, thus attracting the referee's attention long enough for the former's partner to commit anything he desires on his opponent. Promoter Gus Kallio put a halt to this activity, though, when he got on the public address system and instructed referee Barney to disqualify the next man who climbed through the ropes untagged. The Steddum-Wright combine evidently knew Kallio meant what he said, for there was no more of this activity.

Wright, who knows he can't beat Curtis by legal means, attempts to use anything and everything on the Vicksburger when they meet, such as paper and tape rubs, eye gouging, etc. Thier match Tuesday should be an exciting one, for most fans will be out to see Jack catch up with him.

Chief and Steddum had a fierce battle in their square-offs last week, with Steddum, not content with him.

Chief and Steddum had a fierce Chief and Steddum had a fierce battle in their square-offs last week, with Steddum, not content with merely pulling Apache's hair, using it as a handle, and even throwing the Indian by it.

Duke Nears Orange Bowl Date As Gamecocks Fall

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 20 (AP)—Buddy Bass a sophomore halfback playing before hometown fans, scored two touchdowns and passed for another today as Duke defeated South Carolina, 26-7, to enhance its chances for an Orange Bowl bid.

Halfback Bob Pascal and quarterback Jerry Barger teamed with Bass to provide the big punch as Duke scored in every period before a crowd of 13,000.

The second half was played in rain that turned the field into a muddy mess.

South Carolina's only score came in the closing minutes when guard Frank Mincevich recovered Worth Lutz's fumble in the end zone for a touchdown.

Duke took the opening kickoff and rammed 56 yards in four plays. The score came on a 37-yard pass play from Pascal to end Tracy Moon. There were five seconds remaining in the second period when Barger flipped a touchdown pass to Bass, the play covering 39 yards.

In the third period, Duke scored on a seven yard pass from Bass to Pascal. The final Blue Devil tally came early in the fourth period when Bass circled left end from the 11.

Guard Jim Nelson converted two of the four extra point attempts.

Score by quarters:

South Carolina	0	0	0	7—	7
Duke	6	7	7	6—	26

South Carolina scoring: Touchdown, Mincevich. Conversion, Prackett (pass).

Grambling Snaps Back, Measures Arkansas Rivals

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Nov. 20 (Special) — The Grambling Tigers ended a two-game famine here Saturday by erupting for three touchdowns against Ark. State's embattled Lions to score a 21-13 victory in a tingler in which interest never wanted.

Deceptive running, fine passing and the explosive power of a big line carried the Tigers to victory over a determined enemy that fought valorously to the end.

Milton Crosby pounded on a fumble at the 30-yard line and an inside reverse and two plunges later Art Redman bounced into the end zone with the opening marker.

Showing a definite aptitude for coming up with the right play when a coupe was essential to the cause, the Louisiana eleven drove 77-yards for another first period score in which Paul Green and Mack Moore were the chief executors.

Green hit Moore with a looping 70-yard pass for the TD.

Arkansas changed operational methods after the opening period and came up with its first touchdown when John Eubanks fielded a fumbled punt on the three.

Joe Napolean, a steady and effective all-around quarterback, scored on the next play.

Neither team scored again until Grambling turned an Arkansas fumble into favorable developments late in the third period.

Green sent a large delegation of Tiger supporters into an uproar by pitching a 35-yard strike to Moore for the score.

All-American candidate Redman, a vivid figure on offense and defense all day, kicked the Pats.

Following the touchdown, Grambling defenders made a personal production out of aresting ball carriers until Joe Davis raced 43-yard for Arkansas' closing score.

Duncan Guides Utah Over Montana State

MISSOULA, Mont., Nov. 20 (AP) —Quarterback Dave Duncan passed for one touchdown, set up two others with his accurate pitches and scored a fourth himself as Utah University whipped Montana State 41-20 in a Skyline Conference football game here today.

Duncan's passes also set up the touchdown he scored personally, bucking over from the one.

Auburn Cops 5th Straight, Dumps Clemson, 27 To 6

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 20 (AP)—Halfback Hoppy Middleton ran for three first half touchdowns to lead the Auburn Tigers to an impressive 27-6 victory over Clemson today for the Auburn team's fifth straight win.

Middleton, a 195-pound speedster who also stars as a dash man on the track team, made the important yards on quick up-the-middle smashes. The victors ran up impressive yardage all day but were handicapped by frequent penalties including one which nullified a 67-yard touchdown pass from Bobby Freeman to end Jim Pyburn.

Fullback Bill O'Dell ran well for the losers but they never managed to get into scoring territory until the final minute.

Score by quarters:

Clemson	0	0	0	6—	6
Auburn	6	14	0	7—	27

Clemson scoring: Touchdowns, Jackson.

Auburn scoring: Touchdowns, Middleton 3, Pyburn 3. Conversions Childress 3.

Unbeaten Bucks Tap Wolverines By 21-7 Margin

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 20 (AP)—Ohio State's unbeaten Buckeyes made good on a four-way bid for gridiron glory here today, coming from behind with two long touchdown drives in the final period to defeat Michigan 21-7. A crowd of 82,438, and a national television audience saw the game.

The conquest gave the brilliant Buckeyes the undisputed Big Ten championship, a berth in the Rose Bowl, a hefty claim to the national title, and their first unbeaten, untied season in 10 years.

In beating Michigan for only the third time in 12 seasons, Ohio became only the second Western Conference team in history to win seven straight games in the rugged league. Only Chicago's 1913 team had done it before.

The Bucks came from nowhere to climb back on the football throne. Held to only four first downs in the first three periods, Ohio came to life after holding Michigan on the 6-inch line to take the ball just as the third session ended.

With the score deadlocked at 7-7, the Wolverines had a first down on Ohio's 4, but four cracks at the line served only to turn the ball over to the Bucks, who promptly marched 99 yards, 2 feet and 6 inches in 12 plays, climaxed by Dave Leggett's 8-yard touchdown toss to end Dick Brubaker.

Late in the session, Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, Ohio's outstanding star of the day, intercepted a pass and ran it back to his own 38, and 11 plays later he ended the 62-yard drive with a 1-yard plunge for the final score. Little Tad Weed, 145-pound placekicking specialist, booted all three placements for Ohio.

Michigan marched 68 yards in 12 plays at the start of the game for its only touchdown, an intricate buck lateral play sending left halfback Dan Cline into the end zone for the score. Ron Kramer, Michigan's great sophomore end, who played a fine game on both offense and defense booted the extra point.

Gun Club Offers Big Turkey Shoot On Range Today

The "Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot" is on tap for the shotgun artists competing in this afternoon skeet and trap events on the Twin City Gun Club's range at Selman Field. Open to all daring to contend, the 10-pound dressed and frozen turkey will be awarded shooters bagging their "phantom targets.

Leroy Stern, range manager, said one bird will be given away on each round, and the best shooter doesn't necessarily get the bird. ...it's the one who cracks the unexpected phantom target.

The range operates only on Sunday since hunting season got into full swing.

Leaders last week:

Methodist Out Of Bowl Race; Baylor Wins, 33-21

DALLAS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Del Shofner, a loose-jointed sophomore with larceny in his heart, and senior Billy Hooper, the faker, feinter and passer of Baylor's thunderous split T attack, combined to lash Southern Methodist, 33-21, today, knocking the Methodists out of the Southwest Conference football race and putting Arkansas into the Cotton Bowl.

Shofner intercepted two passes, running one back 87 yards for a touchdown and using the other to set up another touchdown, and also chipping in with the 35-yard run that led to still a third. Hooper's passing and running accounted for the other two scores.

A crowd of 47,000 saw S. M. U. take a 14-0 lead in the first nine minutes then crumble before the vicious comeback of the versatile Golden Bears.

Arkansas "backed" into the Cotton Bowl. Taking a 7-6 licking from Louisiana State in an intersectional game, the Razorbacks found they were in the Dallas New Year's Day game because Baylor had knocked S. M. U. from the lead.

Baylor also can tie for the championship by beating Rice next Saturday but Arkansas is in the Cotton Bowl anyway since it beat Baylor in regular season play. Arkansas had a 5-1 record in conference warfare.

Score by quarters:

Baylor	6	14	6	7	—33
Southern Methodist	14	0	0	7	—21

Baylor scoring: Touchdowns, Saage, Shofner 2, Dupre, Holley. Conversions, C. Smith 3.

Last Period Rush Brings Harvard Upset Over Yale

CAMBRIDGE Mass., Nov. 20 (AP)—Senior wingback Frank White, playing for Bob Cowles who was injured on the opening kickoff, threw a 40-yard scoring pass to end Bob Cochran with less than five minutes to play today as Harvard staged a magnificent comeback to defeat Yale 13-9.

The victory spelled Harvard's first Big Three championship since 1941 and may have cost Yale a clear hold on the Ivy title.

Trailing 9-0 as the fourth period began, Harvard drove 80 yards for its winning score with sophomore Jimmy Joslin, at tailback for Matt Botsford who was hurt on Yale's touchdown, putting on a sensational display of football skill and grit.

It took the Crimson six plays to score with the key play a fourth down, two-yard gamble by Joslin who made the first down at Yale's 40 on the play before the winning pass.

Harvard had closed the gap to 9-7 with 34 seconds gone in the final period as sophomore fullback Tony Gianelly fought his way over from the one.

Score by quarters:

3 Cage Leagues Want New Clubs Before Opening

The City Basketball League and the Girls Basketball League, both without age restrictions, are needing additional members before launching their winter campaign, and the three City League clubs entered need sponsors.

The City League, setting next Friday as the deadline for accepting entries, plans to open play November 30.

The girls', with three clubs entered, seeks an additional team.

The Church League, showing entries from Trinity, Liberty, Linville, Cypress and First Baptist of West Monroe, will begin playing December 3 at Northeast gym.

Any teams interested in entering any of these leagues are invited to contact the Monroe Recreation Center.

Grayson Boys Sweep 2 Games Fr Kelly

GRAYSON, La., Nov. 20 (Special) The Grayson High "A" and "B" boy's basketball teams swept a double header from Kelly High here last night as the varsity triumphed, 73-47, after the "B" club had won, 51-44.

Billy May and Carroll Stamper, with 27 and 16 points respectively, led the Grayson attack, while James Parker sparked the defense. Billy Thomas led Kelly's varsity with 23 points. Simons, Kelly, and Jordan, Grayson, led in the "B" game and 24 and 13 points respectively.

Helioscope 1st In Pimlico Run

BALTIMORE, Nov. 20 (AP)—William G. Helis Jr.'s Helioscope led all the way over the mile and three sixteenths to win the Pimlico Special from four other 3-year-olds today in the slop and fog.

Walmac Farm's Hasseyampa was second by four lengths and one in front of C. V. Whitney's Fisherman. Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action finished fourth and McMacken stable's King Maple from Canada last.

It took Helioscope one minute and 59 seconds to run over $35,000 first prize.

Helioscope was installed the favorite by the crowd of 21,640 and returned $3.80 and $2.80.

Win and place betting only was allowed because of the slim field and Hasseyampa paid $6 for second.

Vandy Plasters Villanova With 34 To 18 Defeat

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 20 (AP)—Vanderbilt combined and effective passing and running game today to defeat Villanova in a wild-scoring football game, 34-19, and end the longest streak in Commodore history.

The loss the ninth straight for the Villanova Mainliners, who presented one of the best passing combinations seen here this season in lefty Vic Scott and end Don McComb.

Warns Deer Hunters To Abide By Rules; Open Season Mon.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 20 (Special) — John L. McGee, law enforcement division chief of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission, today warned that regulations governing the hunting of deer from a highway right-of-way will be enforced throughout the state.

"It is unlawful to shoot deer while standing on a highway or road right-of-way or to stand or loiter on any road that is maintained by the federal government, state or parish with a gun during deer season," McGee explained.

He also cited a section of the law which prohibits the hunting or shooting of deer with a .22 caliber rifle during the 1954-55 season which opened in south Louisiana November 7 and will begin in the northern portion of the state Monday. Deer seasons in the various parishes will close January 5, 1955.

It marked the first loss for the Fayette team and the sixth consecutive victory for the Vidalians. Fayette will return the game in Vidalia Tuesday night to close out the season for the Vidalians.

Bears Nail Down PCL Crown With 34 To 0 Victory

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20 (AP)—The unbeaten Bruins of U. C. L. A. blasted Southern California 34-0 before 102,548 fans today to win the Pacific Coast Conference championship for the second straight year.

Rounding out a perfect nine-game season before the largest football turnout in the nation this year, the Bruins fired a touchdown shot through the air that actually won the game in the first seven minutes. It was a pass play for 48 yards from little halfback Primo Villanueva to end Bob Heydenfeldt.

Held scoreless the second and third quarters, U. C. L. A. buried the Trojans under a barrage of four touchdowns in the fourth to keep alive the Bruins' bid for the mythical national collegiate championship.

The Trojans marched across the midfield stripe for the first time late in the third period on a pass interception by center Marvin Goux and then moved from the U. C. L. A. 44 to the Bruin eight, first down with a touchdown opportunity.

But a pass by quarterback Jim Contratto was grabbed up by U. C. L. A. halfback Jim Decker and away he went. He travelled 98 yards to cross the goal, but a clipping penalty against a teammate set the ball back on the U. S. C. 23.

The bruins failed to cash in on this break, but the Trojans were dead.

Lions Sock Demons, 32-6, For Perfect Grid Season

By JAMES SAGGUS

HAMMOND, La., Nov. 20 (AP) — Speedy halfbacks Don Marino and Louis Carlisle broke open a tight game by setting up three third-quarter touchdowns that gave Southeastern Louisiana a 32-6 victory over Northwestern State and its first perfect season since 1946.

Carlisle and Marino sped Southeastern on a 74-yard after the opening kickoff of the second half. The drive required only eight plays and ended with fullback Mickey Catalanotto smashing over from the three.

The two ace halfbacks sparked a 65-yard march minutes later and Catalanotto cracked tackle for the final two yards. Before the period ended Carlisle dashed 58 yards from scrimmage the next time Southeastern got the ball.

The victory gave Southeastern its first undivided Gulf States Conference championship. It had shared the 1952 and 1953 crowns with two other teams. Northwestern was one of the defending co-champions.

Carlisle led ground gainers with 105 yards on nine attempts, while Marino had 68 on 14 attempts.

The game was tight until half-time. Southeastern took a first period lead on a 13-yard pass from quarterback Ray Porta to end Huey Husser. Northwestern tied it with a 93-yard touchdown march ground out in 19 plays. Halfback Larry Whitt circled end for the final four yards.

Porta, whose passing and leadership kept the Southeastern attack running smoothly, scored the final touchdown in the fourth period on an eight-yard sneak. Marino added the second of his two conversions.

Northwestern's ground power and Southeastern's speed kept the 10,000 fans on their feet with their even play in the first period. Southeastern seemed unable to crack the Northwestern defense until the third-quarter touchdown burst took the edge off Northwestern's spirit.

Kentucky Barely Edges Tennessee In 14-13 Thriller

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 20 (AP) —Quarterback Bob Hardy ran and passed Kentucky to a 14-13 football victory over Tennessee today to keep alive the Wildcats' hopes for a post-season bowl game.

Kentucky came from behind twice to overcome Tennessee for its second triumph in a row over the Vols and its first on the Vols' home field since 1924. Reserve quarterback Delmar Hughes' second conversion was the margin of victory.

The bitterly-fought game was played on a rain-soaked field before a screaming crowd of 32,000.

Hardy, who went into the game with brilliant passing record of 55 completions in 104 tosses, completed only two of five today. But one of the two was a brilliantly executed 22-yard scoring toss to end Howard Schnellenberger late in the fourth period when it seemed Tennessee might come off with a mild upset.

Unbeaten Bucks Tap Wolverines By 21-7 Margin

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 20 (AP)—Ohio State's unbeaten Buckeyes made good on a four-way bid for gridiron glory here today, coming from behind with two long touchdown drives in the final period to defeat Michigan 21-7. A crowd of 82,438, and a national television audience saw the game.

The conquest gave the brilliant Buckeyes the undisputed Big Ten championship, a berth in the Rose Bowl, a hefty claim to the national title, and their first unbeaten, untied season in 10 years.

In beating Michigan for only the third time in 12 seasons, Ohio became only the second Western Conference team in history to win seven straight games in the rugged league. Only Chicago's 1913 team had done it before.

The Bucks came from nowhere to climb back on the football throne. Held to only four first downs in the first three periods, Ohio came to life after holding Michigan on the 6-inch line to take the ball just as the third session ended.

With the score deadlocked at 7-7, the Wolverines had a first down on Ohio's 4, but four cracks at the line served only to turn the ball over to the Bucks, who promptly marched 99 yards, 2 feet and 6 inches in 12 plays, climaxed by Dave Leggett's 8-yard touchdown toss to end Dick Brubaker.

Late in the session, Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, Ohio's outstanding star of the day, intercepted a pass and ran it back to his own 38, and 11 plays later he ended the 62-yard drive with a 1-yard plunge for the final score. Little Tad Weed, 145-pound place-kicking specialist, booted all three placements for Ohio.

Michigan	7	0	0	0	—7
Ohio State	0	7	0	14	—21

Michigan scoring: Touchdowns, Cline. Conversion, Kramer.

Ohio scoring: Touchdowns, Kriss, Brubaker, Cassady. Conversions, Weed 3.

Gun Club Offers Big Turkey Shoot On Range Today

The "Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot" is on tap for the shotgun artists competing in this afternoon skeet and trap events on the Twin City Gun Club's range at Selman Field. Open to all daring to contend, the 10-pound dressed and frozen turkey will be awarded shooters bagging their "phantom targets.

Leroy Stern, range manager, said one bird will be given away on each round, and the best shooter doesn't necessarily get the bird. ..it's the one who cracks the unexpected phantom target.

The range operates only on Sunday since hunting season got into full swing.

Leaders last week:

Trap—Pete Gonzales, 21X25; Ted Hornbeck, 18X25; Jim Steele Jr., 11X25; Jim Steele 3rd, 14X25; Ford Hendershot, 18X25.

Sixty-one years is the longest period between adoption of any two amendments to the U. S. Constitution.

Methodist Out Of Bowl Race; Baylor Wins, 33-21

DALLAS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Del Shofner, a loose-jointed sophomore with larceny in his heart, and senior Billy Hooper, the faker, feinter and passer of Baylor's thunderous split T attack, combined to lash Southern Methodist, 33-21, today, knocking the Methodists out of the Southwest Conference football race and putting Arkansas into the Cotton Bowl.

Shofner intercepted two passes, running one back 87 yards for a touchdown and using the other to set up another touchdown, and also chipping in with the 35-yard run that led to still a third. Hooper's passing and running accounted for the other two scores.

A crowd of 47,000 saw S. M. U. take a 14-0 lead in the first nine minutes then crumble before the vicious comeback of the versatile Golden Bears.

Arkansas "backed" into the Cotton Bowl. Taking a 7-6 licking from Louisiana State in an intersectional game, the Razorbacks found they were in the Dallas New Year's Day game because Baylor had knocked S. M. U. from the lead.

Baylor also can tie for the championship by beating Rice next Saturday but Arkansas is in the Cotton Bowl anyway since it beat Baylor in regular season play. Arkansas has a 5-1 record in conference warfare.

Score by quarters:

Baylor	6	14	6	7	—33
Southern Methodist	14	0	0	7	—21

Baylor scoring: Touchdowns, Saage, Shofner 2, Dupre, Holley. Conversions, C. Smith 3.

Southern Methodist Scoring: Touchdowns, Nutt, Eidom, Marshall. Conversions, Bernet 3.

Last Period Rush Brings Harvard Upset Over Yale

CAMBRIDGE Mass., Nov. 20 (AP)—Senior wingback Frank White, playing for Bob Cowles who was injured on the opening kickoff, threw a 40-yard scoring pass to end Bob Cochran with less than five minutes to play today as Harvard staged a magnificent comeback to defeat Yale 13-9.

The victory spelled Harvard's first Big Three championship since 1941 and may have cost Yale a clear hold on the Ivy title.

Trailing 9-0 as the fourth period began, Harvard drove 80 yards for its winning score with sophomore Jimmy Joslin, at tailback for Matt Botsford who was hurt on Yale's touchdown, putting on a sensational display of football skill and grit.

It took the Crimson six plays to score with the key play a fourth down, two-yard gamble by Joslin who made the first down at Yale's 40 on the play before the winning pass.

Harvard had closed the gap to 9-7 with 34 seconds gone in the final period as sophomore fullback Tony Gianelly fought his way over from the one.

Score by quarters:

Yale	2	0	7	0	—9
Harvard	0	0	0	13	—13

Harvard scoring: Touchdowns, Gianelly, Cochran. Conversion Ross.

Yale scoring: Touchdown, Campbell. Conversion, Mathias. Safety, Botsford (tackled by Campbell).

3 Cage Leagues Want New Clubs Before Opening

The City Basketball League and the Girls Basketball League, both without age restrictions, are needing additional members before launching their winter campaign, and the three City League clubs entered need sponsors.

The City League, setting next Friday as the deadline for accepting entries, plans to open play November 30.

The girls', with three clubs entered, seeks an additional team.

The Church League, showing entries from Trinity, Liberty, Linville, Cypress and First Baptist of West Monroe, will begin playing December 3 at Northeast gym.

Any teams interested in entering any of these leagues are invited to contact the Monroe Recreation Center.

Grayson Boys Sweep 2 Games Fr Kelly

GRAYSON, La., Nov. 20 (Special) The Grayson High "A" and "B" boy's basketball teams swept a double header from Kelly High here last night as the varsity triumphed, 73-47, after the "B" club had won, 51-44.

Billy May and Carroll Stamper, with 27 and 16 points respectively, led the Grayson attack, while James Parker sparked the defense. Billy Thomas led Kelly's varsity with 23 points. Simons, Kelly, and Jordan, Grayson, led in the 'B' game with 24 and 13 points respectively.

Helioscope 1st In Pimlico Run

BALTIMORE, Nov. 20 (AP)—William G. Helis Jr.'s Helioscope led all the way over the mile and three sixteenths to win the Pimlico Special from four other 3-year-olds today in the slop and fog.

Walmac Farm's Hasseyampa was second by four lengths and one in front of C. V. Whitney's Fisherman. Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action finished fourth and McMacken stable's King Maple from Canada last.

It took Helioscope one minute and 59 seconds to run over $35,000 first prize.

Helioscope was installed the favorite by the crowd of 21,640 and returned $3.80 and $2.80.

Win and place betting only was allowed because of the slim field and Hasseyampa paid $6 for second.

Warns Deer Hunters To Abide By Rules; Open Season Mon.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 20 (Special) — John L. McGee, law enforcement division chief of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission, today warned that regulations governing the hunting of deer from a highway right-of-way will be enforced throughout the state.

"It is unlawful to shoot deer while standing on a highway or road right-of-way or to stand or loiter on any road that is maintained by the federal government, state or parish with a gun during deer season," McGee explained.

He also cited a section of the law which prohibits the hunting or shooting of deer with a .22 caliber rifle during the 1954-55 season which opened in south Louisiana November 7 and will begin in the northern portion of the state Monday. Deer seasons in the various parishes will close January 5, 1955.

VIDALIA, La., Nov. 20 (Special) —Coach Ben Green's unbeaten, untied Little Vikings of Vidalia, kept their record unblemished Thursday night when they beat the Fayette, Miss., Pee Wees 19 to 0.

It marked the first loss for the Fayette team and the sixth consecutive victory for the Vidalians. They will return the game 'n Vidalia Tuesday night to close out the season for the Vidalians.

Bears Nail Down PCL Crown With 34 To 0 Victory

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20 (AP)—The unbeaten Bruins of U. C. L. A. blasted Southern California 34-0 before 102,548 fans today to win the Pacific Coast Conference championship for the second straight year.

Rounding out a perfect nine-game season before the largest football turnout in the nation this year, the Bruins fired a touchdown shot through the air that actually won the game in the first seven minutes. It was a pass play for 48 yards from little halfback Primo Villanueva to end Bob Heydenfeldt.

Held scoreless the second and third quarters, U. C. L. A. buried the Trojans under a barrage of four touchdowns in the fourth to keep alive the Bruins' bid for the mythical national collegiate championship.

The Trojans marched across the midfield stripe for the first time late in the third period on a pass interception by center Marvin Goux and then moved from the U. C. L. A. 44 to the Bruin eight, first down with a touchdown opportunity.

But a pass by quarterback Jim Contratto was grabbed up by U. C. L. A. halfback Jim Decker and away he went. He travelled 98 yards to cross the goal, but a clipping penalty against a teammate set the ball back on the U. S. C. 23.

The bruins failed to cash in on this break, but the Trojans were dead.

Lions Sock Demons, 32-6, For Perfect Grid Season

By JAMES SAGGUS

HAMMOND, La., Nov. 20 (AP) — Speedy halfbacks Don Marino and Louis Carlisle broke open a tight game by setting up three third-quarter touchdowns that gave Southeastern Louisiana a 32-6 victory over Northwestern State and its first perfect season since 1946.

Carlisle and Marino sped Southeastern on a 74-yard after the opening kickoff of the second half. The drive required only eight plays and ended with fullback Mickey Catalanotto smashing over from the three.

The two ace halfbacks sparked a 65-yard march minutes later and Catalanotto cracked tackle for the final two yards. Before the period ended Carlisle dashed 58 yards from scrimmage the next time Southeastern got the ball.

The victory gave Southeastern its first undivided Gulf States Conference championship. It had shared the 1952 and 1953 crowns with two other teams. Northwestern was one of the defending co-champions.

Carlisle led ground gainers with 105 yards on nine attempts, while Marino had 68 on 14 attempts.

The game was tight until halftime. Southeastern took a first period lead on a 13-yard pass from quarterback Ray Porta to end Huey Husser. Northwestern tied it with a 93-yard touchdown march ground out in 19 plays. Halfback Larry Whitt circled end for the final four yards.

Porta, whose passing and leadership kept the Southeastern attack running smoothly, scored the final touchdown in the fourth period on an eight-yard sneak. Marino added the second of his two conversions.

Northwestern's ground power and Southeastern's speed kept the 10,000 fans on their feet with fever even play in the first period. Southeastern seemed unable to crack the Northwestern defense until the third-quarter touchdown burst took the edge off Northwestern's spirit.

Kentucky Barely Edges Tennessee In 14-13 Thriller

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 20 (AP)—Quarterback Bob Hardy ran and passed Kentucky to a 14-13 football victory over Tennessee today to keep alive the Wildcats' hopes for a post-season bowl game.

Kentucky came from behind twice to overcome Tennessee for its second triumph in a row over the Vols and its first on the Vols' home field since 1924. Reserve quarterback Delmar Hughes' second and conversion was the margin of victory.

The bitterly-fought game was played on a rain-soaked field before a screaming crowd of 32,000.

Hardy, who went into the game with brilliant passing record of 55 completions in 104 tosses, completed only two of five today. But one of the two was a brilliantly executed 22-yard scoring toss to end Howard Schnellenberger late in the fourth period when it seemed Tennessee might come off with a mild upset.

Malayan Natives Excited Over 'Battle Of Frogs'

SINGAPORE, Nov. 20—UP—Excited natives reported Saturday that two armies of land and water frogs were surging back and forth across a swampland battlefield in "a battle to the death" deep in the Malayan jungles.

The natives, who considered the frog war a black omen of a coming crisis, said the battle had been going on for four days. They reported that untold thousands of brown water frogs were battling black land frogs in a North Malaya swamp littered with tiny corpses.

Malayan and British officials here had no immediate explanation for the battle.

(In New York, however, Dr. James Oliver, curator of reptiles at the Bronx Zoo, said he never had heard of a frog war. What probably was happening, he said, was that large adult frogs sitting on the edges of the swamp were eating baby frogs just out of the tadpole stage as they tried to get to land.

("Frog species just don't make war on one another," Oliver said.)

The natives reported that the frogs were fighting with their powerful hind legs and tiny-toothed jaws.

They said that a similar jungle swamp struggle took place on the eve of World War II.

The battle scene was just a mile outside the North Malayan village of Sungei Patani.

A dispatch from the correspondent of the Singapore Straits Times said the fighting started Wednesday.

Large crowds since have driven or bicycled to the swampy battleground to watch the strange fight.

"It was a fantastic sight," truck driver H. K. Lim said after watching the black and brown frogs battle.

The latest front dispatches reported that the brown water frogs lost the opening phase of the campaign. They were forced to fall back to a swamp strongpoint where they appeared to be reorganizing for another push across the swampland battlefield.

Sen. Knowland Denies He Will Quit As Leader

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) has told friends he has no intention of resigning as Republican Senate leader because of his public differences with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles over some aspects of foreign policy.

Moreover, Knowland has asserted that in the unlikely event of a challenge to his leadership role in the new Congress, he will fight the issue out within the conference of all Republican senators.

There has been a great deal of speculation around Washington as to what touched off Knowland's proposal in the Senate Nov. 15 that Congress call state and defense officials and members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to determine whether any basic changes were needed in the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy.

It was his view, Knowland said then, that the Communists were advancing "the Trojan Horse of (peaceful) coexistence" to gain time for an atomic stalemate in which they would proceed to "nibble away" the free world.

Eisenhower said that some means of living together with the Russians must be found if the world was to avert destruction. Dulles said he saw no immediate emergency that would require a congressional review of foreign policy.

Knowland was reported authoritatively to have felt that he must speak out to alert both American allies abroad and administration officials at home to a view he believes is strongly supported within Republican ranks in the Senate.

As he has related there to his colleagues, Knowland's views are these:

He believes the free world must choose between peace-with-honor and peace-at-any-price. He fears American allies may be lured into a big power conference with Russia, which the United States could hardly boycott if the others accepted, and out of this might grow some form of security pact for all Europe.

He thinks that almost inevitably such a treaty would legalize the Iron Curtain, destroying the spirit of the enslaved peoples in the satellites and eliminating the possibility of any future revolt by them.

He also fears that as part of security guarantees the Russians would demand United Nations recognition of Communist China and the United States might be outvoted by its allies on that point.

Knowland said in an interview today the United States cannot permit Communist China to seize Quemoy or the Tachen Islands and use them for an assault on Formosa.

Five Men Killed In Plane Crash

WAYNESBORO, Va., Nov. 20 (AP)—A twin-engine plane crashed on a wooded slope on the eastern side of the Blue Ridge Mountains just off the scenic Skyland Drive in foggy weather near here tonight, killing five persons.

Bodies identified immediately were those of A. L. Leskamp, Sinton, Tex., and W. M. Griffith, address unavailable.

Papers on the others indicated all five were from Texas, but they could not be identified immediately.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said the plane, piloted by Art M. Sopper (home address unavailable) was en route to Baltimore after a fueling stop in Atlanta.

SINTON, Tex., Nov. 20 (AP)—Plymouth Oil Co. spokesmen said tonight a vice president of the company and four other employes were aboard the crashed plane that killed five in Virginia today.

The oil company listed the men as W.M. Griffith, vice president of Plymouth, Sinton; A. L. Laskamp, chief geologist, Sinton; Dan Graham, regional geologist, Midland; Art Soper, pilot, Sinton; and copilot Joe Kolodize of Sinton.

J. B. Thompson, Ex-Caldwell Tax Assessor, Dies

COLUMBIA, Nov. 20 (Special)—Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church of Columbia for J. B. "Uncle Jim" Thompson, 77, prominent resident and former tax assessor of Caldwell parish, who died Saturday morning.

Services will be conducted by Rev. Sam Holloway, assisted by Rev. George Jenkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Columbia, Rev. John Lee, of Glenmora, La., and Rev. J. D. Kitchenham, of Columbia.

Interment will be in the Welcome Home Cemetery at Grayson, with the Masonic Order 164 F and AM in charge of final rites. Services will be directed by Riser Funeral Home of Columbia.

Thompson was born at Rosefield, La. on June 6, 1877, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hardie B. Thompson. On October 25, 1900, he was married to Miss Flora Myers of the Ward 7 Community in Caldwell Parish. They had six children, all of whom survive.

He served on the Caldwell Parish School Board for 16 years, and was president of the board 12 years of that time. He also served for a number of years as deputy sheriff of the parish. He was a member of the Board of Stewards of the First Methodist Church at Columbia, a member of the Eastern Star and had taken an active part in all civic and community activities.

For eight years Thompson was tax assessor of Caldwell parish and served for ten years on the Louisiana Tax Commission at Baton Rouge, from which capacity he retired in 1950.

Survivors are his wife of Columbia; one son, James Hardie Thompson of Lake Charles, La.; five daughters: Mrs. W. A. Coates, West Monroe; Mrs. A. P. Crockett, Grayson; Mrs. W. W. Halbert, Waterproof; Mrs. W. D. Dishman, Cleveland, Tex., and Mrs. B. F. Sellars, Dallas, Tex.; one brother, S. H. Thompson, Columbia; three sisters, Mrs. Denie Huthnance, Alexandria; Mrs. Eula Broadway, Grand Cane; Mrs. Pauline Sorrells, Baton Rouge; twelve grandchildren, and ten great grandchildren.

Pallbearers are Clark Hester, O. H. Watson, Edgar Duke, Everson Coates, C. F. Lively, W. R. Lively, John J. McKeithen and C. N. Miley.

General Assembly Of UN To Debate Colonial Issues

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 19 (AP)—With three weeks left on its work schedule, the U.N. General Assembly is heading into debates on colonial issues involving Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

Accords have been hammered out on machinery for new disarmament talks, and acceptance of the Eisenhower atom-for-peace program was almost in sight today.

The demands of Indonesia for the Netherlands to give up West New Guinea will occupy the debates before the atomic program is adopted, probably on Monday.

After that, Greece's demand that Cyprus should be allowed to vote severance from Britain, and Arab clamor for the French to get out of Morocco and Tunisia are on the main Political Committee's calendar.

All of the so-called colonial questions may generate a great deal of heat in and around the U.N. The U.S. position in all of them is in doubt.

A Netherlands spokesman said he hoped that the dispute over New Guinea will be "businesslike," without passion.

The Indonesians, given their inpendence by the Netherlands in 1949, say that the western half of neighboring New Guinea should have been given up by the Dutch at the same time. Talks between Indonesia and the Netherlands on that issue broke down two years ago. Now Indonesia wants the U.N. to vote an appeal to the Netherlands to renew the talks.

The Dutch say such talks are fruitless and they refuse to listen to the appeals. From a test vote on putting the question on the agenda, it appeared Indonesia would be unable to muster a two-thirds majority in the final voting.

A final vote on the atoms-for-peace resolution was delayed at India's request last night until Monday.

India's V. K. Krishna Menon said he would not receive from New Delhi until late Sunday the instructions on how he should vote. He demanded that India be included as one of the founding members of the proposed agency because of India's importance as an Asian country and because it has radioactive materials.

Sponsoring the resolution to set up an atomic agency and a world atom congress are the United States, Britain, France, Canada, South Africa, Australia, and Belgium. With Portugal, which is not a U.N. member, these would be the founding members of the agency.

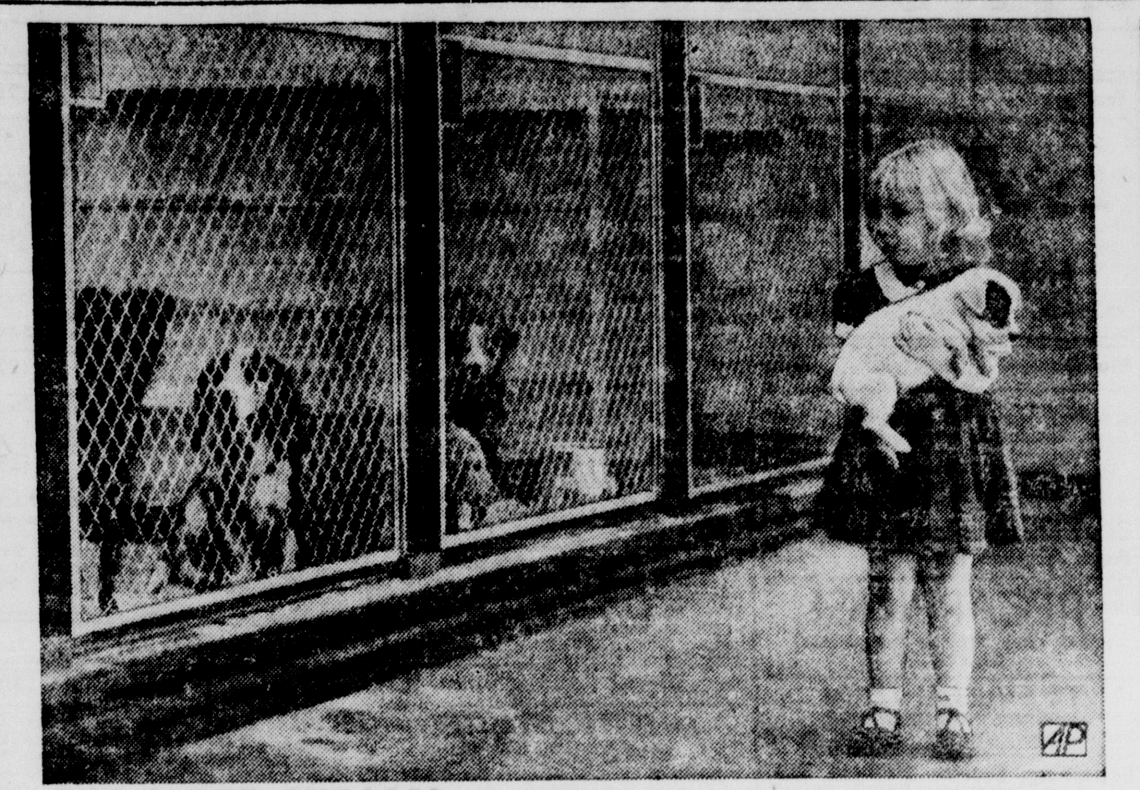
Illness Fatal To Samuel Rockhold, 80, Of Jonesboro

Samuel Jackson Rockhold, 80, died Saturday morning in Alexandria following a short illness.

His home was in Jonesboro where he was a building contractor.

The body will lie in state at the residence until 3 p.m. Sunday when services will be held in the Jonesboro Methodist Church. Interment will be in the Jonesboro Cemetery under the direction of Hixson Brothers Funeral Home of Monroe.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hattie Lindsey Rockhold of Jonesboro, seven sons, Henry J., Alexandria; Curtis, Alexandria; Homer F., Roy E., Manaen, Jack L., all of Jonesboro; William, Clay, La.; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Lanier, Tioga, La.; Mrs. Helen Matherne, Alexandria; Miss Margaret Rockhold, Shreveport; one brother, George Rockhold, Baton Rouge; two sisters, Mrs Julia Strong, Jonesboro; Mrs. Annie Everett, Cullendale, Ark.; 12 grandchildren, and three great grandchildren.



THE RIGHT CHOICE?— Susan Schlomann, 3, picked out a collie puppy but then wasn't sure she made the right choice. Here she pauses to think it over during visit to opening of new annex of Anti-Cruelty Society, Chicago, where dogs were offered for adoption.

Judge Holmes To Retire Nov. 30

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today approved the application for retirement of federal Circuit Judge Edwin R. Holmes of Jackson, Miss.

The retirement is effective Nov. 30. Holmes is 76 and has served on the federal bench for 36 years. He was first appointed a district judge Nov. 4, 1918 by President Wilson and was named a judge of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals April 6, 1936 by President Roosevelt.

Sen. Knowland Denies He Will Quit As Leader

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) has told friends he has no intention of resigning as Republican Senate leader because of his public differences with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles over some aspects of foreign policy.

Moreover, Knowland has asserted that in the unlikely event of a challenge to his leadership role in the new Congress, he will fight the issue out within the conference of all Republican senators.

There has been a great deal of speculation around Washington as to what touched off Knowland's proposal in the Senate Nov. 15 that Congress call state and defense officials and members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to determine whether any basic changes were needed in the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy.

It was his view, Knowland said then, that the Communists were advancing "the Trojan Horse of (peaceful) coexistence" to gain time for an atomic stalemate in which they would proceed to "nibble away" the free world.

Eisenhower said that some means of living together with the Russians must be found if the world was to avert destruction. Dulles said he saw no immediate emergency that would require a congressional review of foreign policy.

Knowland was reported authoritatively to have felt that he must speak out to alert both American allies abroad and administration officials at home to a view he believes is strongly supported within Republican ranks in the Senate.

As he has related there to his colleagues, Knowland's views are these:

He believes the free world must choose between peace-with-honor and peace-at-any-price. He fears American allies may be lured into a big power conference with Russia, which the United States could hardly boycott if the others accepted, and out of this might grow some form of security pact for all Europe.

He thinks that almost inevitably such a treaty would legalize the Iron Curtain, destroying the spirit of the enslaved peoples in the satellites and eliminating the possibility of any future revolt by them.

He also fears that as part of security guarantees the Russians would demand United Nations recognition of Communist China and the United States might be outvoted by its allies on that point.

Knowland said in an interview today the United States cannot permit Communist China to seize Quemoy or the Tachen Islands and use them for an assault on Formosa.

Five Men Killed In Plane Crash

WAYNESBORO, Va., Nov. 20 (AP)—A twin-engine plane crashed on a wooded slope on the eastern side of the Blue Ridge Mountains just off the scenic Skyland Drive in foggy weather near here tonight, killing five persons.

Bodies identified immediately were those of A. L. Leskamp, Sinton, Tex., and W. M. Griffith, address unavailable.

Papers on the others indicated all five were from Texas, but they could not be identified immediately.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said the plane, piloted by Art M. Sopper (home address unavailable) was en route to Baltimore after a fueling stop in Atlanta.

SINTON, Tex., Nov. 20 (AP)—Plymouth Oil Co. spokesmen said tonight a vice president of the company and four other employes were aboard the crashed plane that killed five in Virginia today.

The oil company listed the men as W.M. Griffith, vice president of Plymouth, Sinton; A. L. Laskamp, chief geologist, Sinton; Dan Graham, regional geologist, Midland; Art Soper, pilot, Sinton; and copilot Joe Kolodize of Sinton.

J. B. Thompson, Ex-Caldwell Tax Assessor, Dies

COLUMBIA, Nov. 20 (Special)—Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church of Columbia for J. B. "Uncle Jim" Thompson, 77, prominent resident and former tax assessor of Caldwell parish, who died Saturday morning.

Services will be conducted by Rev. Sam Holloway, assisted by Rev. George Jenkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Columbia, Rev. John Lee, of Glenmora, La., and Rev. J. D. Kitchenham, of Columbia.

Interment will be in the Welcome Home Cemetery at Grayson, with the Masonic Order 164 F and AM in charge of final rites. Services will be directed by Riser Funeral Home of Columbia.

Thompson was born at Rosefield, La. on June 6, 1877, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hardie B. Thompson. On October 25, 1900, he was married to Miss Flora Myers of the Ward 7 Community in Caldwell Parish. They had six children, all of whom survive.

He served on the Caldwell Parish School Board for 16 years, and was president of the board 12 years of that time. He also served for a number of years as deputy sheriff of the parish. He was a member of the Board of Stewards of the First Methodist Church at Columbia, a member of the Eastern Star and had taken an active part in all civic and community activities.

For eight years Thompson was tax assessor of Caldwell parish and served for ten years on the Louisiana Tax Commission at Baton Rouge, from which capacity he retired in 1950.

Survivors are his wife of Columbia; one son, James Hardie Thompson of Lake Charles, La.; five daughters: Mrs. W. A. Coates, West Monroe; Mrs. A. P. Crockett, Grayson; Mrs. W. W. Halbert, Waterproof; Mrs. W. D. Dishman, Cleveland, Tex., and Mrs. B. F. Sellars, Dallas, Tex.; one brother, S. H. Thompson, Columbia; three sisters, Mrs. Denie Huthnance, Alexandria; Mrs. Eula Broadway, Grand Cane; Mrs. Pauline Sorrells, Baton Rouge; twelve grandchildren, and ten great grandchildren.

Pallbearers are Clark Hester, O. H. Watson, Edgar Duke, Everson Coates, C. F. Lively, W. R. Lively, John J. McKeithen and C. N. Miley.

General Assembly Of UN To Debate Colonial Issues

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 19 (AP)—With three weeks left on its work schedule, the U.N. General Assembly is heading into debates on colonial issues involving Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

Accords have been hammered out on machinery for new disarmament talks, and acceptance of the Eisenhower atom-for-peace program was almost in sight today.

The demands of Indonesia for the Netherlands to give up West New Guinea will occupy the debates before the atomic program is adopted, probably on Monday.

After that, Greece's demand that Cyprus should be allowed to vote severance from Britain, and Arab clamor for the French to get out of Morocco and Tunisia are on the main Political Committee's calendar.

All of the so-called colonial questions may generate a great deal of heat in and around the U.N. The U.S. position in all of them is in doubt.

A Netherlands spokesman said he hoped that the dispute over New Guinea will be "businesslike," without passion.

The Indonesians, given their inpendence by the Netherlands in 1949, say that the western half of neighboring New Guinea should have been given up by the Dutch at the same time. Talks between Indonesia and the Netherlands on that issue broke down two years ago. Now Indonesia wants the U.N. to vote an appeal to the Netherlands to renew the talks.

The Dutch say such talks are fruitless and they refuse to listen to the appeals. From a test vote on putting the question on the agenda, it appeared Indonesia would be unable to muster a two-thirds majority in the final voting.

A final vote on the atoms-for-peace resolution was delayed at India's request last night until Monday.

India's V. K. Krishna Menon said he would not receive from New Delhi until late Sunday the instructions on how he should vote. He demanded that India be included as one of the founding members of the proposed agency because of India's importance as an Asian country and because it has radioactive materials.

Sponsoring the resolution to set up an atomic agency and a world atom congress are the United States, Britain, France, Canada, South Africa, Australia, and Belgium. With Portugal, which is not a U.N. member, these would be the founding members of the agency.

In the heart of every man who drives lives a car no road has ever brought to him.
It is himself in motion. It is a dream that travels. It is a hope . . .
Its engine is a whisper. Its brakes are a feather.
Its steering is a wish-machine at his finger-tips.
Not just in steel and paint and cushions will it be the one right car . . . but in the way it lives with him.
Not just as house or horse or yacht will he take pride in this car when he finds it . . .
but as something so personally right he might have planned and built it with his own mind and his own hands.
If you are this man, you know just what this means.
If you are this man, you will never stop the search until you find the car. If you are this man we can promise you here and promise you now the nearest to your dream a car has ever come . . .
far nearer to your dream than you ever thought one would!
It will be a milestone . . . not only in the history of automobiling . . . but perhaps in your own life as well.
It will be the new Lincoln for 1955.
See it November 23rd at JACKSON MOTORS,
310 Walnut Street.

In the heart of every man who drives lives a car no road has ever brought to him.

It is himself in motion. It is a dream that travels. It is a hope . . .

Its engine is a whisper. Its brakes are a feather.

Its steering is a wish-machine at his finger-tips.

Not just in steel and paint and cushions will it be the one right car . . . but in the way it lives with him.

Not just as house or horse or yacht will he take pride in this car when he finds it . . . but as something so personally right he might have planned and built it with his own mind and his own hands.

If you are this man, you know just what this means.

If you are this man, you will never stop the search until you find the car. If you are this man we can promise you here and promise you now the nearest to your dream a car has ever come . . . far nearer to your dream than you ever thought one would!

It will be a milestone . . . not only in the history of automobiling . . . but perhaps in your own life as well.

It will be the new Lincoln for 1955.

See it November 23rd at JACKSON MOTORS, 310 Walnut Street.

We're in a swell location (just off Park Ave.) and selling for only $7950. Only $1200 makes the move with monthly notes of only $43. There's a well-proportioned living room; roomy kitchen with Vent-a-hood and washer plumbing; 2 bedrooms and an enclosed back porch; and there's a new 30 gallon water heater. How 'bouta look?

2401 MARIE PLACE
Completely redecorated; fully air conditioned with 5 tons; central heating; wonderful floor plan; separate living and dining room! These are just a few of the many wonderful features, such as: 3 roomy bedrooms; 78'x150' corner lot in best of neighborhoods; copper plumbing throughout; fully insulated; separate breakfast room BUT the best of all . . . it's sensibly priced at $15,500. It's vacant.

VENABLE LANE
Hankerin' for acreage? Here's 39 acres of good land on a blacktop road with an exciting 7-room home on it "to boot"! Among the 1572 sq. feet of this one are: 3 comfortable bedrooms; beautiful oak floors; nice size living room; attic fan and floor furnace; well - arranged kitchen; separate breakfast room; a 20'x16' enclosed porch and a double garage. There's also a 385' deep artesian water well. It's located north of Monroe just off the Sterlington highway.

806 ALEXANDER
You can look all over the northside of Monroe and never find a 3-bedroom home priced so reasonably! It's selling for only $10,250 with only 5 per cent down to a veteran and just look what it buys: 3 captivating bedrooms; nice oak floors; floor furnace and attic fan; large living room and dining area; copper plumbing throughout and a host of other features. It's vacant and we'd be glad to show today!

1013 NORTH 4TH
1923 Sq. feet of floor space not including a spacious front screened porch! Sounds large and it is, but only in proportion to its livability for there are 3 bedrooms and a den . . . separate living and dining room . . . bath and a half . . . new roof and asbestos siding . . . an unusually roomy kitchen and it's only ½ block to Georgia Tucker grammar. $1700 down is all it takes to make the move!

1601 BOIS D'ARC
(Marie Place)
Gracious living comes easy in the spacious sq. footage of this 1-year old brick home with it's galaxy of exciting features: 3 nice size bedrooms; a den; hardwood block floors throughout; 2 tile baths, both with showers; beautiful living room and dining area; pine-paneled kitchen with GE dishwasher; central heating; 107' frontage lot, corner at that, and it's only 2 blocks to Lexington grammar. It's priced at $20,750, with only $3350 down.

COLLEGE AREA
3711 CADDO
For "comfy" living . . . we suggest you study this home. It's on a 75x200 lot with a mimosa tree in the back yard (and is the yard nice) with small pecan trees. The kitchen's really got it in this home . . . it's 10x23 with tremendous cabinet space, bar and washer plumbing. There's a small den off the living room and screened back porch with awning; two bedrooms and garage with storage. Hardwood floors; attic fan and floor furnace. Price is $10,500 and will 100 per cent G.I.

1507 FILHIOL
If you're a veteran and looking for a 2 bedroom home in the college area, you can purchase this one for 5 per cent down (VA appraised value $8,350). That's all it takes . . . there's an enclosed garage, nice size kitchen with stovehood, breakfast area, washer plumbing and kitchen bar. You'd better investigate at once!

3305 CONCORDIA
Looking for a corner lot? Well, here' 'tis . . . with a two bedroom, separate dining room home to boot. By the way, the bedrooms have nice size closets; back and front screened porch (washer plumbing on back porch); metal cabinets in the kitchen; double garage; hardwood floors and floor furnaces in both bedrooms. St. Augustine grass all over the yard. We'll be glad to show you by appointment.

1408 FILHIOL
100 per cent G.I.! 100 Per cent G.I.! Yep, it sure will. Drive by and see this two bedroom home with a carport (storage room with washer plumbing); bath with shower; kitchen with bar, breakfast area and double sink. And, it has hardwood floors and a floor furnace. Conveniently located, too! It's vacant . . . don't dally . . . dial today for more info!

FINK'S HIDEAWAY ROAD
Bayou conscious? Sure you are. Here's a year old brick home located a mile from the Sterlington highway selling for the FHA appraised value of $13,500. Living room is pine paneled; bath and a half; paneled den with false fireplace; carport; two big window fans; and 125 feet on the bayou. We'll show you by appointment if you'll just call us.

STERLINGTON, LA
101 RONALDSON
This 'uns a family home if there ever was one! Neat as a pin and boasts the following features: Three good size bedrooms (all have 2 closets); separate dining room with china cabinet; a dream of a kitchen; breezeway with aluminum awnings; garage with metal overhead door; extra nice oak floors; attic fan; two floor furnaces; floored attic for storage and wonderful yard (corner lot) . . . and many, many more features. It's $14,000 (FHA appraisal much more). If there're any questions, just call us.

SOUTH
1204 SOUTH 4TH
Whata' deal particularly for a young man who'd like to live "rent free" for as long as he likes. The deal is this: a well-conditioned duplex that's selling for the FHA appraised value of $10,500 AND only $1300 down makes the move. Live in one side (both have 2 bedrooms) and let the rent from the other pay the note. Call for appointment today!

103 GEORGIA
There's absolutely nothing lacking in this delightful 2-bedroom home for the inside has just been completely redecorated; there's new asbestos siding on the outside; gleaming oak floors; 30 gallon water heater; attic's insulated; wired for air conditioner; the back yard's fenced and it's just 2 blocks to Barkdull Faulk Grammar! It's selling for only $7850 with a down payment of only $400 FHA or VA.

203 GRAYLING LANE
Here's a comfortable home in a refined neighborhood for fine people with the following features among it's 1064 sq. feet: large living room with fireplace; separate dining room; an 11'x16' kitchen; 40 gallon glass-lined water heater; screened back porch; hardwood floors; and it's on a paved street with curbs and gutters! $114(down makes the move, now it's your move.

3706 POLK
Here's a 5-room home that's barely 4 years old that's a remarkable buy for only $7750 (VA appraised value). $400 down to a G.I. buys all 984 sq. feet as well as the following: separate living and dining room; 2 roomy bedrooms (one with walk-in closet); forced air heating; 30 gallon water heater and it's just 3 blocks to Lida Benton Grammar. You wanta' look today?

1619 SOUTH 4TH
If the down payment was any less you'd think you were inheriting it for only $400 down buys a heckuva lot of home here! Among the 822 sq. feet are the following: asbestos siding; 2 bedrooms; and 11'x16' kitchen with washer plumbing; ventahood, nice cabinet space; there are 2 wall furnaces and it's just 4 blocks to Plum Street school. We'll gladly show at your convenience.

204 GEORGIA
It's in "tip top" condition and once you see the two spacious bedrooms (one with a 5'x10' closet with sliding doors) you'll think it's heaven-sent! Roomy is the word throughout the home. Roomy living room and dining room. Roomy kitchen with nice cabinet space and of course the 2 roomy bedrooms. It's vacant and selling for $8500 with only $650 down.

WEST MONROE
1003 MEADOWBROOK
How'd ya like to own a home facing the lake? It has three bedrooms, dining room, big living room, breezeway and kitchen loaded with features . . . and, the carport has a big storage room. To continue: hardwood floors, attic fan, floor furnace and two hall closets. Many more features are awaiting you, but wait'll you see it. Selling for $14,000 with a down payment of $1700. How about it, wanta' gander at this three year old youngster?

406 BROWNING
We can't begin to tell you all about this home in this space, but to give you an idea, here you are: wall to wall carpeting throughout; three bedrooms; 9x18 back screened porch; kitchen with everything a housewife wants; floor furnace and it's on a 100x150 lot with nice shrubbery (back yard is private). You can purchase this home for $900 down (plus closing costs). You name the time you'd like to see!

400 ANDERSON
Would you believe me if I told you we had a six room home (plus breezeway and double garage with huge storage and room) on a corner lot for only $12,500? It's no joke . . . you oughta' see it. It has hardwood floors, attic fan, two floor furnaces, 2 blocks from school, nice yard and neighborhood. It'll be a pleasure to show you this one today!

2303 TRENTON
Only $7,600 (and a veteran can purchase for 5 per cent down) buys this two bedroom home located on a 100x150 lot. The kitchen has a breakfast area, good cabinet space and bar . . . and, before we forget, the back yard is private and has trees . . . it's your move now . . . call for an appointment.

ARK. ROAD AND JERSEY AVE.
If you've a large family and you've been looking all W. Monroe for a home to fit it . . . try this for size! 1652 sq. feet of living area crammed and jammed with wonderful features: 3 unusually large bedrooms; spacious living room and separate dining room; nice oak floors; the kitchen's 12'x16' with a separate breakfast area; there's an enclosed utility porch adjoining the kitchen for a dryer, washer, and that "hard to place" deep freeze. It's on a spacious 150x150' corner lot less than 4 blocks to Sunshine Heights Grammar. And selling for the VA appraised value of $12,000 with no down payment on a 100 per cent G.I. loan.

We're in a swell location (just off Park Ave.) and selling for only $7950. Only $1200 makes the move with monthly notes of only $42. There's a well-proportioned living room; roomy kitchen with Vent-a-hood and washer plumbing; 2 bedrooms and an enclosed back porch; and there's a new 30 gallon water heater. How 'bouta look?

2401 MARIE PLACE
Completely redecorated; fully air conditioned with 5 tons; central heating; wonderful floor plan; separate living and dining room! These are just a few of the many wonderful features, such as: 3 roomy bedrooms; 75'x150' corner lot in best of neighborhoods; copper plumbing throughout; fully insulated; separate breakfast room BUT the best of all . . . it's sensibly priced at $15,500. It's vacant.

VENABLE LANE
Hankerin' for acreage? Here's 39 acres of good land on a blacktop road with an exciting 7-room home on it "to boot"! Among the 1572 sq. feet of this one are: 3 comfortable bedrooms; beautiful oak floors; nice size living room; attic fan and floor furnace; well - arranged kitchen; separate breakfast room; a 20'x16' enclosed porch and a double garage. There's also a 385' deep artesian water well. It's located north of Monroe just off the Sterlington highway.

806 ALEXANDER
You can look all over the northside of Monroe and never find a 3-bedroom home priced so reasonably! It's selling for only $10,250 with only 5 per cent down to a veteran and just look what it buys: 3 captivating bedrooms; nice oak floors; floor furnace and attic fan; large living room and dining area; copper plumbing throughout and a host of other features. It's vacant and we'd be glad to show today!

1013 NORTH 4TH
1923 Sq. feet of floor space not including a spacious front screened porch! Sounds large and it is, but only in proportion to its livability for there are 3 bedrooms and a den . . . separate living and dining room . . . bath and a half . . . new roof and asbestos siding . . . an unusually roomy kitchen and it's only ½ block to Georgia Tucker grammar. $1700 down is all it takes to make the move!

1601 BOIS D'ARC
(Marie Place)
Gracious living comes easy in the spacious sq. footage of this 1-year old brick home with it's galaxy of exciting features: 3 nice size bedrooms; a den; hardwood block floors throughout; 2 tile baths, both with showers; beautiful living room and dining area; pine-paneled kitchen with GE dishwasher; central heating; 107' frontage lot, corner at that, and it's only 2 blocks to Lexington grammar. It's priced at $20,750, with only $3350 down.

COLLEGE AREA
3711 CADDO
For "comfy" living . . . we suggest you study this home. It's on a 75x200 lot with a mimosa tree in the back yard (and is the yard nice) with small pecan trees. The kitchen's really got it in this home . . . it's 10x23 with tremendous cabinet space, bar and washer plumbing. There's a small den off the living room and screened back porch with awning; two bedrooms and garage with storage. Hardwood floors; attic fan and floor furnace. Price is $10,500 and will 100 per cent G.I.

1507 FILHIOL
If you're a veteran and looking for a 2 bedroom home in the college area, you can purchase this one for 5 per cent down (VA appraised value $8,350). That's all it takes . . . there's an enclosed garage, nice size kitchen with stovehood, breakfast area, washer plumbing and kitchen bar. You'd better investigate at once!

3305 CONCORDIA
Looking for a corner lot? Well, here' 'tis . . . with a two bedroom, separate dining room home to boot. By the way, the bedrooms have nice size closets; back and front screened porch (washer plumbing on back porch); metal cabinets in the kitchen; double garage; hardwood floors and floor furnaces in both bedrooms. St. Augustine grass all over the yard. We'll be glad to show you by appointment.

1408 FILHIOL
100 per cent G.I.! 100 Per cent G.I.! Yep, it sure will. Drive by and see this two bedroom home with a carport (storage room with washer plumbing); bath with shower; kitchen with bar, breakfast area and double sink. And, it has hardwood floors and a floor furnace. Conveniently located, too! It's vacant . . . don't dally . . . dial today for more info!

FINK'S HIDEAWAY ROAD
Bayou conscious? Sure you are. Here's a year old brick home located a mile from the Sterlington highway selling for the FHA appraised value of $13,500. Living room is pine paneled; bath and a half; paneled den with false fireplace; carport; two big window fans; and 125 feet on the bayou. We'll show you by appointment if you'll just call us.

STERLINGTON, LA
101 RONALDSON
This 'uns a family home if there ever was one! Neat as a pin and boasts the following features: Three good size bedrooms (all have 2 closets); separate dining room with china cabinet; a dream of a kitchen; breezeway with aluminum awnings; garage with metal overhead door; extra nice oak floors; attic fan; two floor furnaces; floored attic for storage and wonderful yard (corner lot) . . . and many, many more features. It's $14,000 (FHA appraisal much more). If there're any questions, just call us.

SOUTH
1204 SOUTH 4TH
Whata' deal particularly for a young man who'd like to live "rent free" for as long as he likes. The deal is this: a well-conditioned duplex that's selling for the FHA appraised value of $10,500 AND only $1300 down makes the move. Live in one side (both have 2 bedrooms) and let the rent from the other pay the note. Call for appointment today!

103 GEORGIA
There's absolutely nothing lacking in this delightful 2-bedroom home for the inside has just been completely redecorated; there's new asbestos siding on the outside; gleaming oak floors; 30 gallon water heater; attic's insulated; wired for air conditioner; the back yard's fenced and it's just 2 blocks to Barkdull Faulk Grammar! It's selling for only $7850 with a down payment of only $400 FHA or VA.

203 GRAYLING LANE
Here's a comfortable home in a refined neighborhood for fine people with the following features among it's 1064 sq. feet: large living room with fireplace; separate dining room; an 11'x16' kitchen; 40 gallon glass-lined water heater; screened back porch; hardwood floors; and it's on a paved street with curbs and gutters! $114[illegible] down makes the move, now it's your move.

3706 POLK
Here's a 5-room home that's barely 4 years old that's a remarkable buy for only $7750 (VA appraised value). $400 down to a G.I. buys all 984 sq. feet as well as the following: separate living and dining room; 2 roomy bedrooms (one with walk-in closet); forced air heating; 30 gallon water heater and it's just 3 blocks to Lida Benton Grammar. You wanta' look today?

1619 SOUTH 4TH
If the down payment was any less you'd think you were inheriting it for only $400 down buys a heckuva lot of home here! Among the 822 sq. feet are the following: asbestos siding; 2 bedrooms; and 11'x16' kitchen with washer plumbing; ventahood, nice cabinet space; there are 2 wall furnaces and it's just 4 blocks to Plum Street school. We'll gladly show at your convenience.

204 GEORGIA
It's in "tip top" condition and once you see the two spacious bedrooms (one with a 5'x10' closet with sliding doors) you'll think it's heaven-sent! Roomy is the word throughout the home. Roomy living room and dining room. Roomy kitchen with nice cabinet space and of course the 2 roomy bedrooms. It's vacant and selling for $8500 with only $650 down.

WEST MONROE
1003 MEADOWBROOK
How'd ya like to own a home facing the lake? It has three bedrooms, dining room, big living room, breezeway and kitchen loaded with features . . . and, the carport has a big storage room. To continue: hardwood floors, attic fan, floor furnace and two hall closets. Many more features are awaiting you, but wait'll you see it. Selling for $14,000 with a down payment of $1700. How about it, wanta' gander at this three year old youngster?

406 BROWNING
We can't begin to tell you all about this home in this space, but to give you an idea, here you are: wall to wall carpeting throughout; three bedrooms; 9x18 back screened porch; kitchen with everything a housewife wants; floor furnace and it's on a 100x150 lot with nice shrubbery (back yard is private). You can purchase this home for $900 down (plus closing costs). You name the time you'd like to see!

400 ANDERSON
Would you believe me if I told you we had a six room home (plus breezeway and double garage with huge storage and room) on a corner lot for only $12,500? It's no joke . . . you oughta' see it. It has hardwood floors, attic fan, two floor furnaces, 2 blocks from school, nice yard and neighborhood. It'll be a pleasure to show you this one today!

2303 TRENTON
Only $7,600 (and a veteran can purchase for 5 per cent down) buys this two bedroom home located on a 100x150 lot. The kitchen has a breakfast area, good cabinet space and bar . . . and, before we forget, the back yard is private and has trees . . . it's your move now . . . call for an appointment.

ARK. ROAD AND JERSEY AVE.
If you've a large family and you've been looking all W. Monroe for a home to fit it . . . try this for size! 1652 sq. feet of living area crammed and jammed with wonderful features: 3 unusually large bedrooms; spacious living room and separate dining room; nice oak floors; the kitchen's 12'x16' with a separate breakfast area; there's an enclosed utility porch adjoining the kitchen for a dryer, washer, and that "hard to place" deep freeze. It's on a spacious 150x150' corner lot less than 4 blocks to Sunshine Heights Grammar. And selling for the VA appraised value of $12,000 with no down payment on a 100 per cent G.I. loan.

MRS. PHANOR L. PEROT, JR.

Perot-Lucchesi Vows Pledged In Mass

Miss Mary Elizabeth Lucchesi, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Pascal F. Lucchesi, and Dr. Phanor L. Perot, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Phanor L. Perot of this city, were married in a beautiful nuptial mass at the Holy Cross Church in Philadelphia, Pa., at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, November 13. The Rev. Joseph Kelly performed the double ring ceremony.

The altar was artistically decorated with white chrysanthemums and illuminated by white cathedral tapers.

A concert of nuptial organ music was presented by the organist and choir.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a gown of ivory satin with a portrait neckline and three - quarter length sleeves. It featured a sculptured bodice scalloped around the hipline and defined by self-piping. Her bouffant skirt of unpressed pleats extended into a cathedral train. She wore a crown of pearls and rhinestones to which her finger-tip veil of imported silk illusion was attached. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

She carried a white orchid surrounded by phanolopsis and stephanotis atop a white prayer book

Miss Ursola Lucchesi served her sister as maid of honor. Her gown was of arcady blue velvet styled along princess lines with a waltz-length skirt. Tiny sleeves accentuated the pleated scooped neckline which extended around to the back and was fashioned with a high back bow. Her hat was of matching velvet and pearls. She carried yellow fijii mums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Anne Liotta, Miss Jacqueline Ducan, Miss Annette Giglio, all of Philadelphia, and Miss Phyllis Fahnestock of Mt. Holly Springs, Pa.

Their gowns were identical to the honor attendant's. They carried bouquets of bronze fijii mums.

Dr. Emmett Neill, Jr., of Vicksburg, Miss., was Dr. Perot's best man.

Ushers were Dr. Earl Spencer of Pine Bluff, Ark., Lt. Montgomery Frazier of this city, Dr. S. K. Brown of Brunswick, Ga., and Dr. Paul Harrison of Philadelphia.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a lovely rose satin model with a small matching hat. Her corsage was of green orchids.

Mrs. Perot, the bridegroom's mother, was becomingly attired in a blue lace with a close fitting hat of sequins and pearls. She wore white orchids.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at the Barclay hotel. Later in the afternoon, the bridal couple, their families and wedding attendants were entertained at a dinner.

The couple departed for a wedding trip to Bermuda. Before returning to make their home at 4867 Battery Lane, Bethesda, Md., they will visit in Monroe and New Orleans.

The bride is a graduate of the Philadelphia General Hospital School of Nursing. Dr. Perot finished at Tulane University's School of Medicine, interned at Philadelphia General Hospital and for a year has been a surgical resident at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania.

Couple Wed In Franklin

Of interest to friends in Monroe is the announcement of the wedding of Mrs. Monita G. Frankos of Franklin and Adolph Dorocher of Baldwin. Reverend John Dish performed the ceremony at a nuptial mass in the Church of the Assumption. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. E. L. Ritter, of Monroe. T. C. Williams of Baldwin served as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorocher will make their home in Franklin.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ritter, Miss Evy Lee Ritter, of Monroe, and Mrs. K. E. McDonald Jr. of Mangham.

MRS. PHANOR L. PEROT, JR.

Perot-Lucchesi Vows Pledged In Mass

Miss Mary Elizabeth Lucchesi, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Pascal F. Lucchesi, and Dr. Phanor L. Perot, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Phanor L. Perot of this city, were married in a beautiful nuptial mass at the Holy Cross Church in Philadelphia, Pa., at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, November 13. The Rev. Joseph Kelly performed the double ring ceremony.

The altar was artistically decorated with white chrysanthemums and illuminated by white cathedral tapers.

Miss Beverly Elayne Smith To Wed Claibourne Griffin

Mr. and Mrs. Solon E. Smith of Delhi announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Beverly Elayne, to Claibourne E. Griffin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Claibourne E. Griffin of Falls Church, Virginia.

The wedding is planned for December 18.

Miss Smith is a Cum Laude graduate of Baylor University, Waco, Tex. where she was a member of Peer Club. She is permanent secretary of the class of 1951 of the university. While there she was a member of Sigma Xi, honorary fraternity, Alpha Chi, honorary scholastic fraternity and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, 1949-51.

Mr. Griffin graduated from Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. and from Princeton University in 1951. He was a member of the Campus Club and is also a member of the Princeton Clubs of New York and Washington. Miss Smith and her fiance are attending the school of graduate studies of the University of Virginia, where Mr. Griffin is an instructor in chemistry. Both are working on their doctorate degrees in chemistry.

Huge rock lobster tails, taken from New Zealand waters, are being split, frozen, glazed and sent to American markets. These "splits" may be boiled and used in salads or other lobster dishes, or they may be broiled and used for individual servings. After boiling or broiling, the solid lobster meat is easily lifted from the shell.

If you're a fortunate owner of a freezer, bear in mind that ice cream bought by the gallon is less expensive than ice cream purchased in separate quart containers.

Federated Garden Clubs Schedule District Meeting

A district meeting of the Federated Garden Clubs in the fifth district will be held December 4 in Bastrop at the Morehouse Country Club, according to Mrs. E. B. Knotts of Sicily Island, district director.

She announced that the Rev. L. G. Wilson will speak on "A gardener's Relationship to God." The state president, Mrs. Homer Harris of Alexandria, will also be a guest.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a. m. Saturday, Dec. 4, and the meeting will get underway at 10 o'clock.

Each club is asked to bring a Christmas arrangement to be displayed at the meeting.

Mrs. Knotts pointed out that all garden club presidents and members are invited.

Reservations should be sent to Mrs. E. L. Gladney, Jr., Bastrop and should be made by November 29, Mrs. Knotts said.

Women's Club To Adopt Constitution

In keeping with the coming season, Mrs. Sadie Lou Calhoun will present a demonstration on Christmas decorations at the November meeting of the Northeast State Women's club. The meeting will be held this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. A. L. Tatum, 3810, Blanks Street.

The hostesses are Mrs. Evelyn Otts, Mrs. Ed Whatley, Mrs. E. J. Upshaw and Mrs. J. R. Brown.

The constitution committee, composed of Mrs. Edward Allen, Mrs. A. S. Huffman, Mrs. J. G. Hammons, Mrs. A. L. Tatum, Mrs. Clint Hanna, Dr. Willa Claire Cox and Mrs. Jerry Rust will present a first draft of the constitution to be considered by the club members.

MRS. MARTIN MONTGOMERY RODGERS

Rodgers-Bacon Wedding Is Solemnized In Mer Rouge

A wedding of wide-spread social interest was solemnized in the Mer Rouge Methodist Church, November 13, at 8 o'clock in the evening when Miss Donna Frances Bacon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Donald Bacon became the bride of Mr. Martin Montgomery Rodgers of Bastrop.

In a setting of florescent beauty, the ceremony was performed by Rev. Floyd M. Durham.

The church was artistically decorated with a myriad pink tapers in seven branched candelabra. On either side of the wrought iron arch decorated with pink gladiolas and fern where the bride and groom stood as they pledged their troth, were placed gladiola trees fashioned of specimen gladiolas and emerald fern.

Impressive nuptial music was presented by Billy Huckaby.

The bride's cousin, Miss Ann Flinn, sang "Through the Years" and "How Do I Love Thee."

The candles were lighted by Mr. Dan McDuff and Mr. John Davis McAdams. The ushers were Mr. Max Brodnax, Jr., Mr. Dan McDuff, Mrs. Charles McDuff, Mr. Bobby Marlath, Mr. Ben Tipton, and Mr. John Davis McAdams, Jr.

The bridesmaides were Mrs. James Fite of Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. William Porch of St. Louis; Mrs. Jack Dubois of Shreveport; Miss Joan Bell of Delhi; Miss Lenna Armstrong as junior bridesmaid. Mrs. Warren S. White and Mrs. Max Brodnax, Jr., served their sister as matrons of honor.

The bridesmaids and matrons of honor wore identical gowns, bouffant in effect, of nylon net in an azalea pink shade with matching hats and veils and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Little Misses Jo Lynn and Becky White served as flower girls, carrying baskets fashioned of pink satin ribbon, and Max Broadnax, III, carried the rings on a pillow of pink satin.

The little girls wore azalea pink exact replicas of the maids.

Miss Bacon was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Warren Shelby White, who substituted for her father, whose illness prevented his participation in the wedding.

She wore a gown of flesh pink satin with fitted bodice, elaborately embroidered in sequins and pearls. The extremely full skirt ended in a train over which fell a flesh pink veil of illusion which was attached to pearls. The bride carried a bouquet fashioned of azalea pink roses, satin ribbon and net adorned with pearls.

Mr. Wirt Rodgers served his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hume.

Mr. Hume, standing at the door, welcomed the guests as they entered, while Mrs. Hume mingled with the guests.

Mrs. Donald Bacon was attired in an exclusive model of black nylon lace and chiffon, with a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Wirt Rodgers, Sr., mother of the groom, chose a gown of orchid nylon lace and net studded with rhinestones. She also wore an orchid accenting the tones of her gown.

Arrangements of pink blossoms were placed about the reception suite. The bride's table, overlaid with a handsome cutwork cloth, was centered with azalea pink roses, placed in a handsome epergne of cut glass and silver.

The three - tiered wedding cake beautifully decorted with full blown pink roses, with a miniature bride and groom standing on top, was placed at one end of the table.

Mrs. Jessye Graves, presided at the punch bowl. Assisting in the courtesies as tea girls were Mrs. Dan McDuff, Miss Dorothy White, Mrs. Wirt Rodgers, Jr., Mrs. Louis Brodnax, Miss Gay McAdams, and Mrs. J. D. McAdams, Jr. Also assisting Mr. and Mrs. Hume with the courtesies were Dr. and Mrs. Clifton Flynn, Mrs. Shelby White, Mrs. Elaine Armstrong, Miss Thelma Powell and Mrs. Evelyn Morrow.,

For traveling, the bride wore a blue wool suit, with navy blue shoes and bag, and a hat of a pale blue, sprinkled with rhinestones. Her corsage was of pink roses from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is the third and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Donald Bacon, and attended Ward Belmont and Louisiana State University. Maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hopkins of Mer Rouge, and the paternal grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Bacon of Bastrop.

Mr. Rodgers is the second son of Dr. and Mrs. Wirt Rodgers of Bastrop. He attended Louisiana Tech and Louisiana State University, receiving his degree in geology from L. S. U. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Fee of Jackson, Miss., paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun Rodgers of New Orleans, La.

After returning from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers will be at home on the new air port road in Bastrop.

Miro Book Club Members Receive Certificates

Mrs. J. H. McCormick was hostess to the Miro Book Club which met in her home on Monday with Mrs. Thomas Jett, president, presiding.

Two guests, Miss Frances Flanders and Miss Marie Powers were presented to the club members before showing the film, Through Mexico, in sound and color made by the Gulf Oil Co. and loaned to the library for this showing. This is a most interesting film and was enjoyed by all present.

Miss Flanders presented the following with a reading certificate from the Louisiana State Library — Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, Mrs. F. L. Smith and Mrs. Thomas Jett.

Mrs. B. L. Mulhern reviewed The Cry of Dolores by Herbert Gorman.

The hostess had a number of articles and pictures on display which were enjoyed by the members and brought back by her while on a vacation in Mexico.

Members present, Mrs. Thomas Jett, Miss Catherine Livaudais, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. John Pracher, Mrs. F. L. Smith, Mrs. George Temple, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, Mrs. R. L. Wood.

Be sure to clean and cook those giblets shortly after you buy your turkey. Season the water the giblets are cooked in with salt, peppercorns, bay leaf, a whole clove or two and a little carrot, onion and celery elaves. The giblets may be chopped fine and used in egg salad sandwiches if desired; the broth should be strained and used in gravy or sauce, or in a hearty soup.

Ever wonder why recipes sometimes tell you to cool a meringue pie away from drafts? The reason is that cold air may make the egg-white topping fall.

Hendrix-Halbrook Wedding Is Solemnized In Bastrop

Miss Geneva Halbrook, daughter of Mrs. Florence Prater of West Monroe, became the bride of Albert A. Hendrix, son of Mrs. A. B. Hendrix of this city, in an impressive double-ring ceremony in Bastrop. The wedding was solemnized in the home of Mrs. J. E. Jackson, sister of the bridegroom, with the Rev. B. W. Graves officiating.

The coulpe pledge their vows before an improvised altar beautifully decorated with fall flowers in the living room of the Jackson home.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of ice blue lace over satin with matching mitts. It featured a scalloped neckline and bouffant skirt. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was held in place by a tiara of lace and satin. She carried a small white Bible topped with a bouquet of pink and blue mums with matching satin streamers.

Miss Thelma Lyde was the bride's only attendant.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Russell Putman.

A reception followed the ceremony.

The couple will make their home at 1515 Trenton Street, West Monroe.

Mrs. T. H. Scott Gives Review At LaVingt Club

Members of the La Vingt Club met Wednesday afternoon in the suburban home of Mrs. Bruce Brooks for their regular meeting. Mrs. A. Petrus, president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Joe Gorman called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. William Crow introduced Mrs. T. H. Scott, a member of the club, who reviewed the book entitled "Not As A Stranger" by Morton Thompson. The book dealt with doctors and the ethics of medicine and was ably told by Mrs. Scott.

During the social hour refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. A. D. Bernhardt, Mrs. William Crow, Mrs. Lucian Harris, Mrs. Charles Koontz, Mrs. A. Petrus, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. T. H. Scott, Mrs. Leon Sutton, Mrs. W. O. Webb, Mrs. W. T. Goward, Mrs. B. W. Bevans, Mrs. Robert Butz, Mrs. Joe Gorman and Mrs. Bruce Brooks. Mrs. Bob Persful was a guest of the club.

MRS. STANLEY MARTIN HEARNE

Hearne-Strong Wedding Is Solemnized In West Monroe

Miss Virginia Nell Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Strong of West Monroe, became the bride of Stanley Martin Hearne, in an impressive double-ring ceremony performed Friday evening at six o'clock at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. W. D. Milton officiated.

The altar was beautifully decorated with baskets of white mums and white stock against a background of greenery and white tapers in branched candelabra. Tapers with greenery and mums were also placed in the windows of the sanctuary.

Mrs. Jack Willis was organist and accompanied Mrs. Earl Cox who sang "With These Hands", "All The Things You Are" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a white wedding gown fashioned of lace and satin. The lace fitted bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which came to points over the wrist. Her bouffant skirt was of satin and featured a chapel-length train and over skirt of tulle. She wore a Juliet cap of satin covered with pearls and sequins which held her finger-tip veil of illusion.

She wore a single strand of pearls and matching earrings. Her bouquet was of white miniature orchids and white split carnations mounted on a white satin-covered Bible with matching satin streamers tied with tuberoses.

Mrs. James Henry Camp of Sulphur, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was gowned in a pale blue lace and net model with a V-shaped neckline and bouffant skirt. She wore a blue satin cummerbund around her waist. Her headdress was of matching blue. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Miss Lynne Hamm and Miss Sharon Payne, cousins of the bride, were the candlelighters. Their dresses also featured blue lace bodices and full skirts of taffeta and tulle, corresponding to honor attendants gown. They wore blue lace gloves and headdresses of pink carnations.

Ralph Reid served the bridegroom as best man.

Ushers were Chester Ellis, John Ellet and Charles Payne Strong.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a rose lace with rose and black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. McClendon, the bridegroom's mother, was becomingly attired in a navy blue crepe trimmed with pink. She wore matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

A reception followed in the social hall of the church.

The bride's table was covered in yellow and overlaid with a white lace cloth. Centering the table was the three-tiered white wedding cake embossed in yellow roses and topped by a miniature bride and groom standing under an archway. White mums and greenery were placed around the base of the cake. On each side were yellow tapers in crystal candle holders. The yellow and white theme was carried out at the punch table and in the reception rooms.

Music was provided by Miss Mary Mason during the reception. Serving the wedding cake was Mrs. Charles Chisholm. Mrs. Ralph Reid presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. D. C. Harper at the guest book.

Tea girls were Mrs. Kenneth Adams, Miss Elizabeth Ann Payne and Lynda Gaar. Mrs. Carl Riggin and Mrs. Earl Hamm assisted with the courtesies.

For traveling, the bride changed to a light blue wool suit with sequins trim and navy accessories. She wore the orchids from her wedding bouquet.

Upon their return, the couple will reside at 502 Alexander Avenue, Monroe.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and attended McNease State College in Lake Charles. She is a member of Delta Kappa Pi.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and is a senior at Louisiana Tech in Ruston.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Minnie Stanley of Malvern, Ark; Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Payne and daughters, Ann and Sharon Payne of Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hemperley of Winnfield; Mrs. Clifford Hughes and daughter, Barbara of Winnfield; J. C. Strong of Jackson, Miss.

Mrs. F. E. Black Entertains Club

Mrs. A. S. Gunter was hostess to members of the Welcome Branch Book Club for the November meeting with Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. E. A. Porter and Mrs. C. S. Swain, co-hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Zell Smith, opened the meeting with the club collect followed by roll call and minutes of October meeting.

Mrs. L. F. Bewick was elected treasurer, and Mrs. O. O. Cummings was elected to serve as chairman of the library commission.

Two new members: Mrs. D. T. Barksdale and Mrs. E. J. Blake were welcomed. Mrs. Norman Coon, Fine Arts chairman, presented the department's outline of work.

Mrs. B. E. McWilliams reported four packages for veterans were sent overseas.

Mrs. E. A. Porter presented the program. "The Meaning of Thanksgiving" was given by Mrs. L. F Bewick.

Mrs. F. H. Peterson, speaker for the afternoon gave an entertaining review of "Freedoms Way," by Theodora McCormick Dubois.

Members present: Mrs. A. S. Gunter, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Mrs. L. F. Bewick, Mrs. Norman Coon, Mrs. O. O. Cummings. Mrs. R. R. Griffith, Mrs. J G.. Hicks, Mrs. Morris Miller, Mrs. F. H. Peterson, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. A. J. Speer, Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. C. S. Swain, Mrs. D. T. Barksdale, Mrs. Robert Carson, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. James Harris, Mrs. E. E. Lawson, Mrs. B. E. McWilliams, Mrs. J. D. Petty, Mrs. Dean Selig, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. W. B. Wheelis.

Girl Scout News

When Troop 9 went to Pine Wood for the work-play day a few Saturdays ago, they took with them an iron cooking pot, which they presented to the camp. It will be just the thing, the girls say, to hang on the crane in the fireplace. We think that's a fine gift for the camp.

Troop 9 and their leader, Mrs. Gordon Jordan, Mrs. J. D. Henderson and Mrs. Jack Norman are a camp-minded bunch. Almost every girl in the troop attended day camp at Pine Wood last summer, where they spent eight days in the out of doors and earned the Adventurer and the Tree badges. Mrs. Norman was the Brownie unit leader, and Mrs. Jordan was a unit assistant part of the time.

The troop, which graduated from Brownie Scouting last spring, has registered for its third year of Scouting. Plans for the year include working on second class rank and planning for their first overnight at Pine Wood.

Invested as Intermediate Scouts by their leaders were: Beverly Brown, Deanna Furlow, Wanda Green, Helen Carol Groves, Sharon Ann Henderson, Diana Jordan, Frances Norman, Sandra Poole, and Linda Skipper. All are in the fifth grade at Mitchell School.

The troop has a meeting place of its own, a one-room building in the yard of the Henderson home. Built by the daddies of the troop, the building has a table and chairs and shelves for supplies. The large yard furnishes plenty of play space. Lucky girls!

Troop 33, which has been mentioned not long ago, has been presented with an American flag by the W. O. W. The troop has practised the flag ceremony, a second class requirement, until the girls are letter-perfect, says Mrs. L. E. Skains, troop leader.

For the International Friendship requirement, Mrs. Ted Allen is teaching the girls a Spanish dance, which ties in nicely with their study of Mexico at school. Also in the international field, the girls are learning about Girl Scouts and guides of other countries from the book, "Hands Around the World," and by dressing the Girl Scout paper doll in the uniforms of the various countries where Scouting is carried on.

Eighty-one people, Ted Straussser counted them, turned out for the showing of the Camp Wawbansee film on the 13th. Campers and their mothers and dads, friends and neighbors enjoyed seeing the camp activities and renewing acquaintances. Mary Jo Strausser and her dad showed the film.

Sunny Miller, waterfront director, came all the way from Pine Bluff, Ark., for the showing. Nicki Poulos and Emily Funderburk of Winnsboro, the Shirleys from Bastrop, Carolyn Joyce Waller from Farmerville, Jessica and Julia Carpenter of Bastrop were among the out-of-towners. Much enthusiasm was shown for next year's camp, we hear.

Why not step up youngsters' intake of milk by diluting canned vegetable soups with it instead of water?

Miss Factor Becomes Bride

St. Matthews Catholic Church was the scene of the recent marraige of Miss Wanda V. Factor and Harvey Dee Maxwell. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Factor and Mr. Maxwell is the son of Mr. Jessie Maxwell of Fresno, Calif.

Reverend Dave performed the ceremony at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride, given in marriage by Otis Bufkin of Edwards, Miss., was wearing an ankle length gown of chantilly lace and satin. The bodice with three quarter length sleeves was fashioned of lace. Seed pearls and satin decorated the collar. The very full skirt was of satin and tulle. Her finger tip veil of illusion was caught to a calot of satin and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white blossoms centered with an orchid.

Mrs. E. F. Gunn was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Margie Wilson, Miss Bea Callendar, and Mrs. Nettie Maxwell. They wore taffeta frocks in pastel shades and carried colonial bouquets of rainbow baby chrysanthemums. They wore headdresses of taffeta matching the color of their frocks.

Travis Maxwell served his brother as best man. Ushers were Bobby Hines of Rayville, James Battaglia and Dick Gunn.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Aubry Maxwell on South 6th St.

A pink and white theme was used in decorations.

When the bride left on her wedding trip to New Orleans she was wearing a suit of light blue wool. Her small hat was white.

The young couple are at home at 201 Highland Ave.

Mrs. Maxwell is a graduate of St. Matthews High School and attended St. Francis Academy in Pittsburgh, Penn. Mr. Maxwell is graduate of Rayville High.

Golson, and the guest of the club, Miss Ola Mae Pennington.

Sylvan Garden Club Meets

URANIA — Members of the Sylvan Garden Club of Urania met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. L. Walsh for the November program and social. Mrs. W. C. Hicks was co-hostess.

Beautiful arrangements of fall flowers and fruit were placed at vantage points about the reception rooms.

The president, Mrs. Q. T. Hardtner presided at the meeting. After a short business session Mrs. Hardtner introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. M. E. Woodard of Arcadia. Mrs. Woodard spoke on her European tour this past summer, describing the beauty and giving historical backgrounds of the eight countries visited. She also showed colored slides of the places. Mrs. Q. T. Hardtner and Miss Norphlet Tannehill of Urania were among the members of this tour.

Refreshments were served to: Mesdames A. M. Johnston, C. M. Newsom, G. S. Walsh, Otto Kees, Ed Blevins, L. Volentine. O. F. Matthews, Quincy Cornwell, F. A. Thomas, John Kellogg, Leon Brooks, Erwin Dunlap, C. E. Tannehill, Monroe Sessions, J. M. Glidden, W. S. Higgins, O. M. Corley, Q. T. Hardtner, Harry Nichols, M. A. Tannehill, D. W. Waggoner, A. J. Sessions, W. C. Procter; guests, Miss Awleen Walters, Mrs. Howard K. Ray, Mrs. Mamie Owens, Mrs. Bessie Walsh of Winnfield, Mrs. L. O. Clinton of Pineville; Mrs. Harry Fuller of Winnfield; Mrs. Damon Bradford, Mrs. M. E. Woodard of Arcadia.

Give a new taste to cornbread—but be sure you use a recipe for the southern kind of cornbread that is made without sugar. Add lots of minced parsley to the batter, then when you have turned it into the pan, sprinkle the top with grated Parmesan cheese. Use a kitchen scissors to cut the parsley fine, or chop it on a board with a cook's knife.

Large kitchen tongs are handy for removing baked potatoes from the oven, turning broiled chops or chicken and lifting bacon slices from a skillet.

MR. AND MRS. ALLEN WAYNE O'QUINN

O'Quinn-Rockett Vows Pledged In Church Ceremony

On Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, the Grace Baptist Church on the Mengel Road was the scene of the wedding of Miss Mary Alice Rockett and Allen Wayne O'Quinn, U. S. Marine Corps, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson Rockett, Rayville, and Mr. O'Quinn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Franklin O'Quinn of the Holly Ridge Community. The Rev. J. E. Chandler, pastor officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The Church was decorated in a green and white color scheme. Centering the altar platform was a wedding arch entwined with ivy. Three large white wedding bells were tied in the middle of the arch, on each side of which stood wedding baskets filled with large white chrysanthemums and pompom mums. Tall tapers burned in the traditional seven branched wedding candlebra.

Mrs. Ralph Rockett was pianist and Richard Rockett, brother of the bride, sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a beige tailored suit with beige hat and brown accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a lavender orchid and lilies of the valley with cascade streamers.

Miss Betty Sue Rockett of Columbia, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her tailored suit was blue and she wore a winter white hat and navy accessories. She carried a French nosegay of yellow carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by Max Crain of Delhi as best man. The candlelighters were Floyd O'Quinn, brother of the groom and Lloyd Crain. Mr. Ottis Henderson and Mr. Marion Gallman served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rockett wore a navy crepe dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a wine faille dress with a pink hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of tiny pink mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mrs. T. B. Branch, Jr., sister of the bride. Guests were greeted by the hostess and members of the wedding party.

The bride's table was laid with a white handmade lace cloth and decorated in a bridal theme. The table was centered with an arrangement of red roses flanked by white candles.

The three tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom. Cake was served by Mrs. Max Crain of Delhi. Mrs. Emory Phillips presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Miss Jane Toney.

Others assisting were: Mrs. Ottis Henderson, Mrs. Autra Branch and Mrs. Don Rockett. Mrs. Ralph Rockett played piano selections during the reception. After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Rayville High School. The bride attended Northeast Louisiana State College. The groom has served twenty-two months in Korea and Japan with the U. S. Marine Corps.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. A. L. O'Quinn, Pollock; Misses Betty Sue Rockett, Willie Mae Seab, Bonnie Dulaney and Mrs. J. E. Key all of Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. Emory Phillips, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Max Crain and Mrs. R. L. Norman of Delhi; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Dorris, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wisecarver, Mrs. E. E. Rugg, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rugg and daughter all of Farmerville.

ROAMIN' IN THE RURAL

—With Euna Spielman

A True Thanksgiving

The beautiful autumn colors, which nature painted the trees this past month, has made Roamin' in the Rural a real treat. Be sure to bring some of this coloring into your landscape by planting a native tree — one which loves to live in Ouachita.

The True Thanksgiving

Eleanor Howe, editor of the magazine, "What's New in Home Economics" shares this story with us in this month's magazine. A wee youngster was crossing a high bridge with her much loved father, and the father sensing a bit of fear, on her part, said queitly, "Take my hand, darling."

"No, daddy," said the child, "you take my hand, because you won't let go and I might." Thanksgiving ,is again drawing near and we are all pondering its deep significance in the light of what seems to be immeasurable problems facing our world today. But we should be grateful for a much loved Father — one to whom we can look and to whom we, too, can always say, "You take my hand, Father, because you won't let go— I might." So let's take time out to list our many, many blessings and acknowledge our gratitude to Him this Thanksgiving.

Easy To Make Cranberry Sauce

That Thanksgiving turkey dinner would not be complete without some fresh, home-made cranberry sauce. It will take only a few minutes to prepare it by this recipe.

Combine four cups (1 lb.) fresh cranberries, 2 cups sugar and 2 cups of water in a sauce pan. Bring rapidly to a boil and boil until berries pop open (about 5 minutes.) Do not stir — pour in hot glasses or molds. Cover and store. (Do not put in ice box.)

Today's Homes

Social Scientist are in a furore about the dangers of the modern day houses — mass produced. But economists tell us there seems to be little danger to our culture because of this change in housing. One fact that is evident — more people own a home than ever before. True, this generation's houses are similar but it is a good similarity that demands an automatic washer in each home, a dishwasher in each kitchen, decent garbage disposal and plumbing, good lighting, and a livable kitchen, well equipped. Furniture is functional. These are the basic tools for family living today.

Space is limited in these houses, but space is working for all its worth. The walls are down whenever practical, creating illusions of space and making each foot of house work for family living. Halls are eliminated or consolidated. The living room is truly a living room. This house in its newest form is turning its back to the street or road and its wide windows overlook its own garden, rather than staring at the neighbors. The front door has been replaced by large openings onto a patio or a deck.

Patios are an expansion of living space — the new way to get more usable space for money.

Going outdoors is made easy. There may be doors from kitchen, living room or from all three. There will be some way to cook outdoors and outdoor furniture, which often times can be used within the house for extra seating. The people who live in these houses want to enjoy leisure, easy housekeeping, more "shirt sleeve parlors," more indoor and outdoor play space.

In fact, they want more of everything that fits into this broad living at a high level of taste and quality with minimum care and maintenance. The surrounding of these houses, too, must be landscaped to meet the needs of the family demanding little care and maintenance. Every part of this landscape must be functional — not just a beautiful picture to be seen. The extension service has a landscape bulletin which will help you make the outside fit into family living. Call for one. The agents will also give personal assistance to those needing help.

Slice a banana thin and overlap the rounds on hot buttered whole-wheat toast. Small fry usually enjoy this snack!

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO MEET

The next regular meeting of the Monroe Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters, will be on Monday at 7:30 p.m., in Castle Hall, 127½ St. John Street. Most Excellent Chief Katie Smith invites all members of Monroe and Bastrop, including Knights, to attend and bring in new applications. Refreshments on second floor after meeting.

Arrange blueberries around sliced bananas for a summer fruit compote. Serve with sweetened whipped cream spiced with a dash of cinnamon or nutmeg.

Three large white wedding bells were tied in the middle of the arch, on each side of which stood wedding baskets filled with large white chrysanthemums and pompom mums. Tall tapers burned in the traditional seven branched wedding candlebra.

Mrs. Ralph Rockett was pianist and Richard Rockett, brother of the bride, sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a beige tailored suit with beige hat and brown accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a lavender orchid and lilies of the valley with cascade streamers.

Miss Betty Sue Rockett of Columbia, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her tailored suit was blue and she wore a winter white hat and navy accessories. She carried a French nosegay of yellow carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by Max Crain of Delhi as best man. The candlelighters were Floyd O'Quinn, brother of the groom and Lloyd Crain. Mr. Ottis Henderson and Mr. Marion Gallman served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rockett wore a navy crepe dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a wine faille dress with a pink hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of tiny pink mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mrs. T. B. Branch, Jr., sister of the bride. Guests were greeted by the hostess and members of the wedding party.

The bride's table was laid with a white handmade lace cloth and decorated in a bridal theme. The table was centered with an arrangement of red roses flanked by white candles.

The three tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom. Cake was served by Mrs. Max Crain of Delhi. Mrs. Emory Phillips presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Miss Jane Toney.

Others assisting were: Mrs. Ottis Henderson, Mrs. Autra Branch and Mrs. Don Rockett. Mrs. Ralph Rockett played piano selections during the reception. After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Rayville High School. The bride attended Northeast Louisiana State College. The groom has served twenty-two months in Korea and Japan with the U. S. Marine Corps.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. A. L. O'Quinn, Pollock; Misses Betty Sue Rockett, Willie Mae Seab, Bonnie Dulaney and Mrs. J. E. Key all of Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. Emory Phillips, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Max Crain and Mrs. R. L. Norman of Delhi; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Dorris, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wisecarver, Mrs. E. E. Rugg, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rugg and daughter all of Farmerville.

ROAMIN' IN THE RURAL

A True Thanksgiving

The beautiful autumn colors, which nature painted the trees this past month, has made Roamin' in the Rural a real treat. Be sure to bring some of this coloring into your landscape by planting a native tree — one which loves to live in Ouachita.

The True Thanksgiving

Eleanor Howe, editor of the magazine, "What's New in Home Economics" shares this story with us in this month's magazine. A wee youngster was crossing a high bridge with her much loved father, and the father sensing a bit of fear, on her part, said queitly, "Take my hand, darling."

"No, daddy," said the child, "you take my hand, because you won't let go and I might." Thanksgiving is again drawing near and we are all pondering its deep significance in the light of what seems to be immeasurable problems facing our world today. But we should be grateful for a much loved Father — one to whom we can look and to whom we, too, can always say, "You take my hand, Father, because you won't let go—I might." So let's take time out to list our many, many blessings and acknowledge our gratitude to Him this Thanksgiving.

Easy To Make Cranberry Sauce

That Thanksgiving turkey dinner would not be complete without some fresh, home-made cranberry sauce. It will take only a few minutes to prepare it by this recipe.

Combine four cups (1 lb.) fresh cranberries, 2 cups sugar and 2 cups of water in a sauce pan. Bring rapidly to a boil and boil until berries pop open (about 5 minutes.) Do not stir — pour in hot glasses or molds. Cover and store. (Do not put in ice box.)

Today's Homes

Social Scientist are in a furore about the dangers of the modern day houses — mass produced. But economists tell us there seems to be little danger to our culture because of this change in housing. One fact that is evident — more people own a home than ever before. True, this generation's houses are similar but it is a good similarity that demands an automatic washer in each home, a dishwasher in each kitchen, decent garbage disposal and plumbing, good lighting, and a livable kitchen, well equipped. Furniture is functional. These are the basic tools for family living today.

Space is limited in these houses, but space is working for all its worth. The walls are down whenever practical, creating illusions of space and making each foot of house work for family living. Halls are eliminated or consolidated. The living room is truly a living room. This house in its newest form is turning its back to the street or road and its wide windows overlook its own garden, rather than staring at the neighbors. The front door has been replaced by large openings onto a patio or a deck.

Patios are an expansion of living space — the new way to get more usable space for money.

Going outdoors is made easy. There may be doors from kitchen, living room or from all three. There will be some way to cook outdoors and outdoor furniture, which often times can be used within the house for extra seating. The people who live in these houses want to enjoy leisure, easy housekeeping, more "shirt sleeve parlors," more indoor and outdoor play space.

In fact, they want more of everything that fits into this broad living at a high level of taste and quality with minimum care and maintenance. The surrounding of these houses, too, must be landscaped to meet the needs of the family demanding little care and maintenance. Every part of this landscape must be functional — not just a beautiful picture to be seen. The extension service has a landscape bulletin which will help you make the outside fit into family living. Call for one. The agents will also give personal assistance to those needing help.

Slice a banana thin and overlap the rounds on hot buttered whole-wheat toast. Small fry usually enjoy this snack!

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO MEET

The next regular meeting of the Monroe Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters, will be on Monday at 7:30 p.m., in Castle Hall, 127½ St. John Street. Most Excellent Chief Katie Smith invites all members of Monroe and Bastrop, including Knights, to attend and bring in new applications. Refreshments on second floor after meeting.

Arrange blueberries around sliced bananas for a summer fruit compote. Serve with sweetened whipped cream spiced with a dash of cinnamon or nutmeg.

MISS BONNIE M'CLURE is betrothed to W. J. McNeely. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McClure of Wildsville and Mr. McNeely is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McNeely of Jonesville. The wedding is planned for November 26 at 7 p.m. in the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church in Jonesville. Friends are invited.

A casserole of dried lima beans and tomato sauce tastes wonderful with boiled or grilled frankfurters. Nice change, too, from the mashed potatoes that usually accompany frankfurters!

The nuthatch is the only tree-climbing bird that climbs down the trunks of trees head first.

MISS SHIRLEY ANNETTE BURKS

Mask-Burks Wedding Date Set

Miss Shirley Annette Burks' approaching marriage to Jon Howell Mask, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mask of this city, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Burks of Bosco.

The couple will be married in an informal church wedding on Sunday, Nov. 21, at three-thirty o'clock in the Bosco Baptist Church. The Rev. Joseph Silvio, pastor of Lidiaville Baptist Church, will officiate. Friends are invited through this medium.

An informal reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride has chosen as her only attendant, Miss June Knight of Monroe. Serving the bridegroom as best man will be Harry Dark of Winnfield.

The bride is a junior at Ouachita Parish High School. Mr. Mask graduated from Ouachita and attended Louisiana Tech in Ruston.

After a wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Bosco.

News From The Public Library

New books continue to be added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Among the recent acquisitions are books to appeal to every type of reader. If you are interested in rereading the classics, we have a new edition of "Barnaby Rudge" by Charles Dickens. In this edition the print is larger than in the older ones. Mystery readers will be glad to know that Erle Stanley Gardner has a new title, called "The Case of the Restless Redhead." An interesting and unusual novel is "Dear Old Gentleman" by George Goodchild.

Margaret Hood has an interesting new book called "The Silent Women." "The Flag in the Sky" by Christopher Landon is an adventure story that sweeps along at gale speed. The time is World War II and the setting is in Persia. The central character is a British intelligence officer. "The Spanish Bride" by Walter O'Meara is a story woven on the rich tapestry of the southwest in the days when Spain ruled Mexico and New Mexico. The scene is laid in Santa Fe. It is a story of love, violence and intrigue.

"Good Morning Miss Dove" by Frances Gray Patton is an interesting story abou' a school teacher and the lives that she influenced. "Alexander the God" by Robert Payne is a historical novel, based on the life of Alexander the Great. Robert Payne writes well and this is an interesting historical novel of the very highest type.

"The Bulls of Parral" by Marguerite Steen is a colorful story of the bull ring. Anyone who has ever seen a bull fight, will want to read this story. "Letter to a Stranger" by Elswyth Thane is an interesting story with a modern setting. It is the story of a novelist, who received a letter from a girl who needed help and it tells how this help was given. It appeared in an abridged form in the "Good Housekeeping" magazine. "The Year the Yankees Lost the Pennant" by John Douglas Wallop could be considered a prophetic sort of story.

Teen agers have not been neglected. There are three new books for them, "To Have and Not Hold" by Jessica Lyon, "Cargo for Jennifer" by Marjorie Vetter and "A Dream for Susan" by Janet Lambert.

For really serious readers, who prefer non - fiction to fiction, there is a wealth of new material. Probably the most popular type is that concerned with the spiritual welfare of man. In this group can be found "This I Believe" by Edward Murrow, "If You Marry Outside Your Faith" by James A. Pike, "The Prayers of Peter Marshall," "Channels of Spiritual Power" by Dr. Frank C. Laubach, "Stop, Look and Live" by James G. Keller, "Windows of Heaven" by Glenn Clark and "Speaking for the Master" by B. B. Baxter. You will notice in this list that all faiths and denominations are represented. Two books which should be helpful to parents are: "Babies Are Human Beings" by C. A. Aldrich and "Guiding Junior High School Pupils in Music Experiences" by Frances M. Andrews.

Scientists will enjoy two new books "Prehistoric Animals" by William E. Scheele and "The Man in the Thick Lead Suit" by Daniel Lang. This is a story about the effect of atomic energy. The most beautiful book recently added to the library is "The Second Treasury of Early American Homes" by Richard Pratt. Books on how to do things are always popular and there are several in the recent acquisitions. "The Ladies Home Journal Book of Interior Decorating" by Elizabeth T. Halsey is a wonderful book on the subject. "It's Your Law" by Charles P. Curtis makes clear many legal points, "Arranging Church Flowers" by Ina Jones is a very fine book. "Art of Tile Setting" by Erwin Carls is a most practical manual on this fine art. "Jesse's Book of Creole and Deep South Recipes" is a wonderful cookbook. "Winning Your Spurs" by Elaine T. Moore is a book of practical information about horseback riding, while "Manners in Business" by Elizabeth McGibbon is invaluable for the girl wanting to get ahead in the business world. "Secrets of Charm" by John Roberts Power should appeal to every woman.

Many thinking people are disturbed about the age in which we live and the apathy of the people. "The Age of Conformity" by Valentine Alan is a splendid book, which shows up many of the weaknesses and dangers in American life. "The Treason of the People" by Ferdinand Lundberg is the same type of book. Both should be most influential. "The Death of Hitler's Germany, by Mr. Blond is an accurate account of present - day Germany.

Books about the far places of the world have a constant appeal. There are two brand new ones in the library collection. "Nanga Parbat" is the story of mountain climbing in India, while "Crossroads of the Mediterranean" by Hendrik De Leeuw is a splendid account of conditions in northern Africa. Three books that can be classed as purely literary works are "First Prize Stories from the O. Henry Memorial Awards, 1919-1954," "The King of Hearts" by Jean Kerr and "Thirty Years" by John P. Marquand.

The libraries in Monroe, West Monroe and the Carver branch will be open every day next week except Thursday. We would like to give a hearty invitation to all school children who have a holiday to visit us at that time.

Next time you make turnovers from pastry dough, sprinkle the tops with sugar. Makes a pretty finish!

Garden Club In Mer Rouge Awarded Prize

The November meeting of the Mer Rouge Garden Club was held in the Methodist Annex on Tuesday night with Mrs. Fred Moss presiding.

A letter from the Fifth District Garden Center was read by the secretary, Mrs. M. W. Phillips, informing the club that a high score of 94 points had been awarded the Mer Rouge Club for arrangements displayed during the month of October and a high score prize of $10 was presented to them from the Garden Center.

During the business session it was suggested that the club adopt a landscaping project and that project be the beautification of the site of the marker recently placed by the Abram Morehouse Chapter DAR.

Miss Beverly Shelton, a delegate from the Mer Rouge Community Council to Girls' State, this summer, gave a report of her activities during the week.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. David Garrett Jr. of Monroe. She gave a very interesting and helpful talk on "Landscaping for Winter Beauty."

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Sid Vosberg, Mrs. L. T. Snider and Mrs. H. L. Herron.

Want something delicious for your outdoor grill? Mix hamburger with finely chopped onion and grated cheese, season with Worcestershire sauce and form into patties. Grill over charcoal until a deep hearty brown.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: About three years ago I married a divorced man who had three children to support until they reached the age of 21. They were then, 10, 7 and 5. His former wife married five years ago. My husband's agreement is to pay one-fourth of his income. As he makes only $75 a week, we have quite a struggle, but we have never failed. The children have absolutely no regard for their father and spend their time raving about "Daddy Bob," their stepfather, when they are here; the mother, too, praises him to the skies.

Last week, we received a notice from her lawyer saying the two younger children were being placed in an exclusive day school for which my husband must pay $60 a month more. Of course, I have to work, but at the rate we're going we'll end up dead broke. I'm at my wit's end as my husband is all for sending the additional money. Please advise.—Bewildered

You're stuck, Honey Bunch . . . it's the price you pay for marrying a divorced man whose heart lies with his children whether they want him or not. Of course, your husband should not have to pay through the nose for such luxuries as an exclusive day school; but if he doesn't see this for himself, he will begin to resent you and your own marriage will be endangered. If you love your husband and want to keep him, you'll just have to keep right on slaving for him and his children until their maturity releases both of you.

Dear Mrs. Landers: We have been married for four years and have two children. Recently, my brother and husband planned going into business together, but just before doing so, my brother said he had changed his mind as he did not think it was advisable because partners often quarrel and it would cause a family split. My husband and I were disappointed, and my husband has used this as an excuse to keep away from my family. I know he never liked them.

My husband has told me to stay away from my own family and that if I go near them, he will stay out nights. Please advise me. —Mrs. B.

He's your baby (and I do mean "baby.") You either want to keep him badly enough to give up your family for him or you don't. It's your piece of cheese. Of course, you could do your family visiting daytimes when he need not be distrubed about it.

P. S. Your brother knew what he was doing when he decided against becoming a partner to your husband.

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a mother who did not help in any way with our wedding but is trying to control everything; she even tried to prevent our having a honeymoon! She reads all the mail we get by opening and sealing the letters again before we get home.

She goes through our dresser drawers and all our possessions; she washes our clothes when we've told her a thouand times not to. When she pays our bills, she keeps the change. What can we do, as she would raise a riot if we moved out (she owns the building).—Helpless

What's the difference, "raising Cain, or raising a riot"? Your mother (or mother-in-law?) is raising Cain in your lives while you remain under her roof; you know you can't change her! So why worry about the riot she will create if you leave? Leave. Period.

Garden Club In Mer Rouge Awarded Prize

The November meeting of the Mer Rouge Garden Club was held in the Methodist Annex on Tuesday night with Mrs. Fred Moss presiding.

A letter from the Fifth District Garden Center was read by the secretary, Mrs. M. W. Phillips, informing the club that a high score of 94 points had been awarded the Mer Rouge Club for arrangements displayed during the month of October and a high score prize of $10 was presented to them from the Garden Center.

During the business session it was suggested that the club adopt a landscaping project and that project be the beautification of the site of the marker recently placed by the Abram Morehouse Chapter DAR.

Miss Beverly Shelton, a delegate from the Mer Rouge Community Council to Girls' State, this summer, gave a report of her activities during the week.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. David Garrett Jr. of Monroe. She gave a very interesting and helpful talk on "Landscaping for Winter Beauty."

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Sid Vosberg, Mrs. L. T. Snider and Mrs. H. L. Herron.

Want something delicious for your outdoor grill? Mix hamburger with finely chopped onion and grated cheese, season with Worcestershire sauce and form into patties. Grill over charcoal until a deep hearty brown.

VALUATING GIFTS—Mrs. Nelle Erwin, rehabilitation chairman of Powell-Martin-Barrett Unit 37, of the American Legion Auxiliary, in Lake Providence is establishing the value of gifts brought to the Toy and Gift Shop banquet held at the Legion Home.

Auxiliary Has Banquet

LAKE PROVIDENCE — The American Legion Club in Lake Providence was the scene of the Powell - Martin - Barrett Unit 37 of the American Legion Auxiliary's annual toy and gift shop banquet.

Mrs. Georgia Payne Pinkston, chairman of department rules and regulations and co - chairman of the past presidents parley of Unit 37, introduced the guests of honor. These included, Mrs. W. K. Jenkins, Louisiana department president and Mrs. Lester Knight, second vice - president of the Louisiana department of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Other guests introduced were Mrs. O. P. Grahagan of Shreveport, Miss Rosa Fousse and Mrs. Katherine Richards.

Mrs. Nelle Erwin, rehabilitation chairman, estimated that the gifts brought by the members and guests were valued at more than two hundred dollars.

It was pointed out that "operation book swap" is to be a project of the Past President's Parley in cooperation with Mrs. Marie Parker, child welfare chairman and her committee.

Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Knight complimented unit 37, on their activities.

Gifts brought to the banquet will be placed in the gift shop at the Veteran's Hospital in Shreveport.

Engagement Is Announced In Montague, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard M. Shackelford of Montague, Texas, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Norma Sue, to the Reverend Robert Edward Taylor, December 18th at the Methodist Church in Montague, Texas. The Rev. Taylor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Taylor of 409 Filhiol Street, West Monroe, Louisiana.

Miss Shackelford received her Bachelor of Science degree from North Texas College. She is completing work on the Master's Degree in Religious Education at Perkins School of Theology.

The Reverend Taylor graduated from Centenary College in 1952 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Bible. At the present time, he is completing his third year of graduate study at Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University. The Rev. Taylor is pastor of the Ringgold-Montague Circuit in the North Texas Conference.

Baffled Police Retrace Steps In Alabama Murder

HALEYVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Baffled authorities are going back over the little they know about the murder of a 29-year-old divorcee hoping to turn up some clue they missed before.

They began yesterday by questioning Albert D. Knox, 35-year-old Birmingham truck driver, her former husband. He returned voluntarily from Louisiana yesterday.

Also questioned was police officer Lee Rickles, who was a friend of attractive Mrs. Elva Knox.

The body of the woman was found in a shallow grave Wednesday. She had been beaten to death.

The gruesome discovery came about five weeks after she disappeared from her home here.

Both Knox and Rickles denied in previous questioning that they knew anything about the killing.

King George VI died February 6, 1952.

Guardsmen To Get Discounts On New Autos

Col. W. H. Johnson, commander of the third battalion, 199th infantry, announced Saturday that he had been informed by the national procurement transportation section that national guardsmen will be given a 17 per cent discount on the purchase of new automobiles.

Col. Johnson said he received the following information:

"Latest model Buicks, Chevrolets, Chryslers, DeSotos, Dodges, Fords, Lincolns, Mercurys, Oldsmobiles, Plymouths and Pontiacs will be available at a 17 per cent discount from dealers list price in the locality from which it is ordered. These autos may be financed as a regular purchase through any bank or finance company which the guardsmen selects. This cut in price to properly identified guardsmen will mean that an automobile selling normally for $2500 can be purchased by the service man for $2075.

"This policy is in keeping with giving our civilian soldiers recognition by national industry.

"Interested guardsmen are encouraged to see their unit commander for details of this offer.

"Non-reservists who are desirous of taking advantage of this opportunity are encouraged to join the National Guard by applying at 218 South Grand Street, Monroe, or the National Guard armories in Bastrop or Ruston."

Fifth Wife Of Vanderbilt Is Welfare Case

New York, Nov. 20 (AP)— Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt, fifth wife of Cornelius Vanderbilt, said today she is "destitute and penniless" and had spent last night as a guest of the City Welfare Department.

In August 1953, the attractive 32-year-old blond applied for public relief, claiming she was destitute at that time except for pawn tickets on jewelry and a mink coat.

Welfare authorities told her then to sell the pawn tickets and come back when she was as broke as the other people on relief. She did not apply again until now.

Early last year, Mrs. Vanderbilt swore out an arrest warrant for her husband, who had obtained a Reno divorce, claiming nonsupport. Her plea at that time was that she was about to become a public charge.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL OFFICERS are making final preparations for the annual Woman of the Year Banquet which will be held here November 30. Included (left to right) are Miss Marguerite Kirkpatrick, first vice-president, Miss Lillie Glenn, secretary, Mrs. Helen Agnew, second vice-president and Mrs. J. Howard Carroll, president. Deadline Fixed For Exams For Delay Of Draft

Lt. Col. Leo W. Davis, Louisiana's acting director of selective service, today reminded students that application blanks for the December 9 selective service college qualification test must be postmarked not later than midnight Tuesday, November 23; 1954. The test will be given at 875 testing centers located throughout the United States and its territories.

The testing centers of the state of Louisiana are: Louisiana State University, Grambling College, Southeastern Louisiana College, Southwestern Louisiana Institute, McNeese State College, Northeast Louisiana College, Northwestern State College, Loyola University, Tulane University, Xavier University, Louisiana College, Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Centenary College, and Francis T. Nichols Junior College.

Col. Davis urges students whose academic year ends in January to take the December 9 test so they will have a test score on file at their local board before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be again deferred as students.

A student may obtain an application from any selective service local board and it will not be necessary to obtain the application from the student's own local board.

Students will mail applications for the December 9 test to Science Research Associates, Chicago, Ill., in preaddressed envelopes which will be given to registrants by local boards. Bulletins of information concerning the test are also available at the local boards.

To be eligible to apply for the selective service tests the student must: (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not previously have taken the qualification test.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score (70) on the qualification test or specified rank among the male members of the class (upper half of freshmen class, upper two-thirds of sophomore class, or upper three-fourths of junior class.)

Students accepted for admission to or in attendance at a graduate school after July 1, 1951 satisfy the criteria if they ranked among the upper one half of the male members of their senior class or made a score of 75 or better on the test. Graduate students admitted after January 1, 1955 must have ranked among the upper one fourth of the male members of their senior class or make a score of 80 or better on the qualification test.

A student deferment is not an exemption but merely a delay in the process toward eventual induction and in no way cancels the duty of the registrant to serve two years in active service. In fact, it automatically extends his age of liability to 35.

Earl Long Still Sees Himself As Next Governor

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Former Gov. Earl K. Long said here today the next governor's race will be a one-primary affair with himself as winner "if things keep going like they are now."

Here for the Louisiana-Arkansas football game, Long d e c l a r e d, "My honest opinion is that if things stay like they are now, and people continue talking like they are now, there won't be any second primary and there won't be any chance for any deals or combinations."

Long predicted that six candidates would go to the post in the January 1956 elections. He did not name them, however.

Those already in the ring include Long, Lt. Gov. C. E. (Cap) Barham and Revenue Collector Rufus Fontenot.

As for state problems, Long said he would announce his program at a later date. He said, however, that roads would get attention.

Guardsmen To Get Discounts On New Autos

Col. W. H. Johnson, commander of the third battalion, 199th infantry, announced Saturday that he had been informed by the national procurement transportation section that national guardsmen will be given a 17 per cent discount on the purchase of new automobiles.

Col. Johnson said he received the following information:

"Latest model Buicks, Chevrolets, Chryslers, DeSotos, Dodges, Fords, Lincolns, Mercurys, Oldsmobiles, Plymouths and Pontiacs will be available at a 17 per cent discount from dealers list price in the locality from which it is ordered. These autos may be financed as a regular purchase through any bank or finance company which the guardsmen selects. This cut in price to properly identified guardsmen will mean that an automobile selling normally for $2500 can be purchased by the service man for $2075.

"This policy is in keeping with giving our civilian soldiers recognition by national industry.

"Interested guardsmen are encouraged to see their unit commander for details of this offer.

"Non-reservists who are desirous of taking advantage of this opportunity are encouraged to join the National Guard by applying at 218 South Grand Street, Monroe, or the National Guard armories in Bastrop or Ruston."

Fifth Wife Of Vanderbilt Is Welfare Case

New York, Nov. 20 (AP)— Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt, fifth wife of Cornelius Vanderbilt, said today she is "destitute and penniless" and had spent last night as a guest of the City Welfare Department.

In August 1953, the attractive 32-year-old blond applied for public relief, claiming she was destitute at that time except for pawn tickets on jewelry and a mink coat.

Welfare authorities told her then to sell the pawn tickets and come back when she was as broke as the other people on relief. She did not apply again until now.

Early last year, Mrs. Vanderbilt swore out an arrest warrant for her husband, who had obtained a Reno divorce, claiming nonsupport. Her plea at that time was that she was about to become a public charge.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL OFFICERS are making final preparations for the annual Woman of the Year Banquet which will be held here November 30. Included (left to right) are Miss Marguerite Kirkpatrick, first vice-president, Miss Lillie Glenn, secretary, Mrs. Helen Agnew, second vice-president and Mrs. J. Howard Carroll, president. Deadline Fixed For Exams For Delay Of Draft

Lt. Col. Leo W. Davis, Louisiana's acting director of selective service, today reminded students that application blanks for the December 9 selective service college qualification test must be postmarked not later than midnight Tuesday, November 23, 1954. The test will be given at 875 testing centers located throughout the United States and its territories.

The testing centers of the state of Louisiana are: Louisiana State University, Grambling College, Southeastern Louisiana College, Southwestern Louisiana Institute, McNeese State College, Northeast Louisiana College, Northwestern State College, Loyola University, Tulane University, Xavier University, Louisiana College, Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Centenary College, and Francis T. Nichols Junior College.

Col. Davis urges students whose academic year ends in January to take the December 9 test so they will have a test score on file at their local board before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be again deferred as students.

A student may obtain an application from any selective service local board and it will not be necessary to obtain the application from the student's own local board.

Students will mail applications for the December 9 test to Science Research Associates, Chicago, Ill., in preaddressed envelopes which will be given to registrants by local boards. Bulletins of information concerning the test are also available at the local boards.

To be eligible to apply for the selective service tests the student must: (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not previously have taken the qualification test.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score (70) on the qualification test or specified rank among the male members of the class (upper half of freshmen class, upper two-thirds of sophomore class, or upper three-fourths of junior class.)

Students accepted for admission to or in attendance at a graduate school after July 1, 1951 satisfy the criteria if they ranked among the upper one half of the male members of their senior class or made a score of 75 or better on the test. Graduate students admitted after January 1, 1955 must have ranked among the upper one fourth of the male members of their senior class or make a score of 80 or better on the qualification test.

A student deferment is not an exemption but merely a delay in the process toward eventual induction and in no way cancels the duty of the registrant to serve two years in active service. In fact, it automatically extends his age of liability to 35.

Hiss Already Has 'Customary Talk' With Warden

LEWISBURG, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—Alger Hiss already has had the "customary talk" with the warden in preparation for his Nov. 27 release from the U.S. penitentiary here.

The disclosure was made today by Warden Fred Wilkinson who said that Hiss' release will be routine. He declined to discuss the nature of Hiss' talk with him except that it concerned the prisoner's future.

Hiss, prisoner No. 19137 and probably one of the most famous in the history of the penitentiary here, leaves after serving 3½ years for perjury in connection with questions on Communist activity asked him by a congressional committee.

Hiss is getting out on a conditional release, having earned "meritorious good time" which was deducted from his original sentence of five years.

Until March 21, 1956, he will have to report at least once a month to a probation officer, to tell where he's living, where he's working, how much he's earning, whomhe's seeing.

World News Briefs

LONDON (AP)—Wholesale dismissals of Soviet government bureaucrats were under way today with thousands of white collar workers sent to factories and farms.

Moscow radio said the big cleanout was brought about by a decision of the Communist party and the government to face up to "serious shortcomings" in administration.

PARIS (AP)—Negotiations to end the revolt of Fellaga bands in Tunisia neared a climax here today as French and Tunisian ministers worked on the text of a joint appeal for peace in the protectorate.

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's two Socialist parties today announced a joint platform calling for peace treaties and trade agreements with Russia and Red China and abandonment of "the Yoshida pro-American foreign policy."

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — King Faisal II of Iraq arrived safely today for a state visit in Lebanon but three Iraqi planes providing escort for the youthful monarch crashed about 60 miles south of Damascus. Believe Green Plant Might Aid Submarine Crews

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20— UP—Navy researchers believe a tiny green plant can be prevailed upon to supply oxygen and even food for submarine and space ship crews.

This is disclosed in the current issue of "Research Reviews," publication of the Office of Naval Research.

The plant is chlorella, an easily cultivated single-celled alga. Its forebears billions of years ago "invented" photosynthetis, a process by means of which plants transform carbon dioxide and water into living tissue under the influence of sunlight.

In this process oxygen is released as a byproduct, a fact to which all of earth's living things owe their existence.

Devices for putting chlorella to work manufacturing oxygen in submarines, or aboard rocket ships flying airless space, are discussed in "Research Reviews" by J. A. Bassham of the University of California radiation laboratory.

"There are no theoretical reasons for believing such a system will not work," Bassham said.

He said that "maintenance of livable oxygen and carbon dioxide pressures in closed spaces in which men must live. . .is a serious problem to the Navy."

The problem has a particular and immediate bearing on operation of atomic submarines. Because their engines do not consume oxygen, the time such craft can run under water is limited mainly by the supply of air available for the crews.

Calculations to date indicate such an apparatus would occupy a space of about 50 cubic feet per crew members. But Bassham said "good engineering design should result in a more compact unit."

If the submarine or space ship were run by nuclear energy, the power requirements for chlorella units, including the lighting and control systems, would be only a little more than one-third of an ounce "of atomic fuel per year per man."

Hiss Already Has 'Customary Talk' With Warden

LEWISBURG, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—Alger Hiss already has had the "customary talk" with the warden in preparation for his Nov. 27 release from the U.S. penitentiary here.

The disclosure was made today by Warden Fred Wilkinson who said that Hiss' release will be routine. He declined to discuss the nature of Hiss' talk with him except that it concerned the prisoner's future.

Hiss, prisoner No. 19137 and probably one of the most famous in the history of the penitentiary here, leaves after serving 3½ years for perjury in connection with questions on Communist activity asked him by a congressional committee.

Hiss is getting out on a conditional release, having earned "meritorious good time" which was deducted from his original sentence of five years.

Until March 21, 1956, he will have to report at least once a month to a probation officer, to tell where he's living, where he's working, how much he's earning, whomhe's seeing.

Brings Hogs Into Home, Better Care

CHICAGO (AP)—Hal White has brought three hogs right into his home to give them better care prior to their entry for competition in the international livestock show.

The three Tamworth barrows are in White's basement in his home in the Beverly Hills residential district on the far South Side. Two years ago when White had some hogs in his back yard neighbors complained to the Health Department and the pigs were moved—to a nearby farm.

White, 32-year-old sports goods businessman, has been raising pigs for 10 years and his porkers have won several blue ribbons. He said he decided to disclose that he had the three pigs in the basement after several dogs began barking in the windows.

"A man's home is his castle," White said. "You can do anything you want in your home as long as it's not immoral."

The show opens Nov. 27.

Going Into Submarine Nothing, Really--Unless It Rests On Ocean Floor

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH

ABOARD USS GREENLET, Nov. 20 (AP)—There's nothing spectacular about going aboard a submarine, unless you do it the way sailors on this ship do — when the sub is resting on the bottom of the ocean.

Despite the 180 feet of water over their heads, they don't even get their feet wet.

The gimmick they use is a U. S. Navy submarine rescue bell, which has been a part of routine submarine training since the 1930s. The bell has been used only once in an actual rescue mission. That was in 1939 when 32 crewmen were taken off the submarine Squalus after it went down off Portsmouth, N. H.

My introduction to the Navy's 11-ton rescue bell took place aboard this sturdy ship during an exercise in the Pacific off Maui, Hawaii. The Greenlet, commanded by Lt. Howard C. Ullrich, of Lafayette, Calif., was practicing its job of finding a wounded submarine on the bottom and rescuing its personnel.

The part of the wounded sub was played by the Sea Fox, a World War II fleet-type sub which has been converted to a Guppy-Snorkel. Its skipper is Cmdr. George S. Bennett Jr.

After entering the general area in which the sub was reported down, Lt. Ullrich made radio contact with it and asked Bennett to release a smoke bomb. This was immediately visible from the Greenlet and then the sub was told to send up a buoy which marked its exact location.

Lt. Ullrich proceeded to drop four anchors at the ends of two 400-yard lines directly over the sub. After attaching lines to these four anchors, the Greenlet was able to precisely control its position above the Sea Fox.

After this ticklish job of seamanship was performed, direct rescue operations were ready to begin.

C.P.O. John J. Bettencourt, of Peabody Mass., a first-class diver, went over the side with a cable to attach to the sub's deck.

As soon as Bettencourt made his cable fast, the huge bell was lowered into the water. It is divided into two compartments, the upper one for operators and passengers. The lower half is open to the sea. Besides the cable used to pull the bell onto the sub deck, another runs from the top of the bell bacl to the ship.

The bell floats and must be pulled under. It can carry seven passengers and two operators. Before it goes down the ship is moved about 75 feet to one side of the submarine.

Passengers enter the bell through a hatch on the top. Once inside, you must stand. The hatch is clamped down. You're ready for the descent. The temperature inside the bell is high and humidity is so heavy the air feels like jelly.

There is no sensation of descent. But on the deck of the bell is a small port hole. After going down about 100 feet, we could make out the sub's outline on the bottom. The bell moved steadily down and settled easily on the deck.

Around the bottom rim of the bell is a thick rubber-like gasket. The Bell operators then began blowing out the lower compartment. Once the water was out the pressure of the sea sealed the bell to the submarine deck.

Fog in the lower compartment was forced out and the pressure adjusted to that inside our compartment.

One crewman opened a hatch and dropped down to the submarine deck. He opened the hatch leading to the compartment used by submariners to release "skin divers" or "frogmen" below the surface and hammered on the inner door. A submariner opened it up and we climbed down into the Sea Fox.

In an emergency, crewmen from a stricken sub would climb in small groups into the bell for the ride back to the surface and safety. The process would be repeated until all hands were removed from the unflooded compartment of the sub.

For those of us on the test, however, climbing from the bell into the sub was the best part of the operation. U. S. submarines are air conditioned.

Careers' Day At Tech December 3

RUSTON, Nov. 20 (Special)—Plans for Louisiana Tech's fifth annual Careers' Day for high school seniors are underway with 1530 students from 47 schools already registered for the December 3 event, it was announced this week by Miss Sallie Robison, guidance counselor here and general chairman of the activities.

Program plans for this year include a morning assembly in Howard auditorium, departmental meetings after lunch, a panel discussion for senior sponsors entitled "I Wish Somebody Had Told Me," and a program presented by the Concert Trio at 3:15 p.m.

Many Tech students are expected to assist during the day, Miss Robison said. Approximately 200 guides will be needed for the day, and a number of other students will have parts on the assembly and in other activities.

In addition to the afternoon presentations of Tech courses by department heads and other faculty members, discussions are also scheduled on some of the professions for which the college here offers preparatory courses. One Tech faculty member and six other Ruston people will lead these discussions.

Speaking about the professions will be Dr. R. L. Patrick, law; Dr. Ragan Green, medicine; Mrs. Raymond Talbot, nursing; Dr. Felton Green, dentistry; Mrs. Lillie G. Foster, social welfare; J. B. Kendall, pharmacy; and Rev. G. Avery Lee, the ministry.

The lower half is open to the sea. Besides the cable used to pull the bell onto the sub deck, another runs from the top of the bell bacl to the ship.

The bell floats and must be pulled under. It can carry seven passengers and two operators. Before it goes down the ship is moved about 75 feet to one side of the submarine.

Passengers enter the bell through a hatch on the top. Once inside, you must stand. The hatch is clamped down. You're ready for the descent. The temperature inside the bell is high and humidity is so heavy the air feels like jelly.

There is no sensation of descent. But on the deck of the bell is a small port hole. After going down about 100 feet, we could make out the sub's outline on the bottom. The bell moved steadily down and settled easily on the deck.

Around the bottom rim of the bell is a thick rubber-like gasket. The Bell operators then began blowing out the lower compartment. Once the water was out the pressure of the sea sealed the bell to the submarine deck.

Fog in the lower compartment was forced out and the pressure adjusted to that inside our compartment.

One crewman opened a hatch and dropped down to the submarine deck. He opened the hatch leading to the compartment used by submariners to release "skin divers" or "frogmen" below the surface and hammered on the inner door. A submariner opened it up and we climbed down into the Sea Fox.

In an emergency, crewmen from a stricken sub would climb in small groups into the bell for the ride back to the surface and safety. The process would be repeated until all hands were removed from the unflooded compartment of the sub.

For those of us on the test, however, climbing from the bell into the sub was the best part of the operation. U. S. submarines are air conditioned.

Careers' Day At Tech December 3

RUSTON, Nov. 20 (Special)—Plans for Louisiana Tech's fifth annual Careers' Day for high school seniors are underway with 1530 students from 47 schools already registered for the December 3 event, it was announced this week by Miss Sallie Robison, guidance counselor here and general chairman of the activities.

Program plans for this year include a morning assembly in Howard auditorium, departmental meetings after lunch, a panel discussion for senior sponsors entitled "I Wish Somebody Had Told Me," and a program presented by the Concert Trio at 3:15 p.m.

Many Tech students are expected to assist during the day, Miss Robison said. Approximately 200 guides will be needed for the day, and a number of other students will have parts on the assembly and in other activities.

In addition to the afternoon presentations of Tech courses by department heads and other faculty members, discussions are also scheduled on some of the professions for which the college here offers preparatory courses. One Tech faculty member and six other Ruston people will lead these discussions.

Speaking about the professions will be Dr. R. L. Patrick, law; Dr. Ragan Green, medicine; Mrs. Raymond Talbot, nursing; Dr. Felton Green, dentistry; Mrs. Lillie G. Foster, social welfare; J. B. Kendall, pharmacy; and Rev. G. Avery Lee, the ministry.

Baptists Ask Large Budget For New Year

The First Baptist Church, which recently observed its centennial, is launching out the most far reaching program in its history. Today it is undertaking to subscribe a budget of $210,000 in a single day to carry on the work for the year of 1955 which will not only include local activities but also state, home and foreign mission work.

The Sunday school departments have been assigned attendance goals and will assemble at 9:30 instead of 9:45 as usual and after making reports, will meet in the auditorium, for a dedication service led by Dr. James T. Horton; the Sunday school superintendent, J. C. Holloway and the every member canvass director, A. B. Clarkson. A feature will be the placing of pledges in the Ark of the Covenant, which will be placed in front of the pulpit.

Following the morning worship service, a turkey dinner will be served in the banquet hall and immediately after, the teams numbering more than 100 will go afield to receive pledges from members unable to attend the morning services.

The pastor, in his earnest appeal, admonishes members to ask themselves the question: "Lord What Would Thou Have Me To Do?" in regard to loyalty day.

PROMINENT EVANGELIST — Cecil Janway, former director for the Assemblies of God in Louisiana, is holding services nightly at the Morningside Assembly of God Church, 306 South McGuire Avenue, Monroe. The public is cordially invited. Services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Rev. E. J. Graves is pastor of this church.

Ike Buys $5 In Christmas Seals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower bought $5 worth of Christmas Seals today to launch the annual drive for funds to fight tuberculosis.

Dr. Esmond R. Long, director of medical research of the National Tuberculosis Assn., made the sale at the White House. Long was once a TB patient himself, while a medical student at the University of Chicago.

The public drive for funds will be conducted by 3,000 tuberculosis associations throughout the country beginning Nov. 22.

Rev. P. D. Walker Of Norih Carolina To Lead Revival

The College Place Baptist church will be engaged in revival services November 21-28. The speaker for this week will be Rev. P. D. Walker, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Lancaster, N. C. Wayne Buck, music-education director of College Place Baptist Church, will be in charge of all the music.

Special music will be rendered at all the services during this week. Sunday services include Sunday School at 9:45 with the worship hour at 10:55 a.m., training union at 6:15 p.m. with the worship hour at 7:30 p.m. Weekday services will be at 10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

College Place Baptist Church is located at 301 Sherrouse Avenue and the public is cordially invited to attend these services during this revival.

President Urges Day Of Thanks

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special) —President Eisenhower called upon all Americans to observe Thanksgiving day with prayers demonstrating "Our humble thanks to God in times past and asking His guidance and beneficence in the year to come." The president issued the following proclamation:

"Early in our history, the Pilgrim Fathers inaugurated the custom of dedicating one day at harvest time to render thanks to Almighty God for the bounties of the soil and for His mercies throughout the year. At this season traditional suggests that our hearts require that we follow that hallowed custom and bow in reverent thanks for the blessings that have been bestowed upon us as a nation.

"We are grateful that our beloved country, settled by those forebears in their quest for religious freedom, remains free and strong and that each of us can worship God in his own way according to the dictates of conscience.

"We are grateful for the innumerable daily manifestations of divine goodness in affairs both public and private, for equal opportunities for all to labor and to serve, and for the continuance of those homely joys and satisfactions which enrich our lives.

"With gratitude in our hearts for all our blessings, may we be ever mindful of the obligations inherent in our strength and may we rededicate ourselves to unselfish striving for the common betterment of mankind.

"Now, therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, in consonance with the joint resolution in Congress, approved December 26, 1941, designating the fourth Thursday of November of each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 25, 1954 as a day of national thanksgiving, and I call upon all our citizens to observe the day with prayer. Let us demonstrate in our lives our humble thanks to God for his beneficience in the year which is past and let us ask His guidance in the year to come."

Family Night Is Planned Here, Couples Advised

Arrangements have been completed for "Family Week" for married people to be held in St. Paschal's Church, West Monroe, beginning Sunday, November 28 and closing Sunday, December 5, according to an announcement of the Reverend Vitus Duschinsky, O. F. M., pastor. Special services will be conducted nightly at 7:30 p. m. throughout the week.

Of recent development, "Family Week" is a program to promote better family living by presenting the balanced view of marriage and its responsibilities. "Forgotten factors in family life must be emphasized," Father Vitus observed.

This week, November 28 to December 5, will be exclusively for the married, including widowers and widows and those to be married within a year. Under the general title, "With This Ring," this group will hear discussed: Love in Marriage; Marriage, the Divine Design; Know Your Partner; Parents Are Important; They're Yours; Your Eternal Love.

To complete the program, a short talk will be given each morning at 7:00 and 8:30 a. m. Fr. Vitus anticipates an overwhelming response. "This program has appeal and meets the needs of the day," for everyone, Catholic and non-Catholic. All are welcome!

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: "I know I have sinned. Now I long to start life over, but don't feel good enough to mix with church folks. What shall I do?" A. T.

ANSWER: Remember that you are not the only one who has sinned. I have sinned. Those people you see walking into church on Sunday morning have sinned.

They are going to church to worship God, and to ask for His forgiveness. Walk right along with them. Take your place in one of the pews. Listen carefully to the reading from the Bible, and to the preaching of God's Word. Then go kneel at the altar and ask God to forgive you. He will.

Are you good enough to enter the House of the Lord? No . . . but you don't have to be! Christ came to save you, and to save me. He died that we might find life in Him.

Go to His church. Worship Him. Live for Him.

Then you will no longer be bound by your old sinful self. The Bible says, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature." (II Corinthians 5:17) That man can be you.

The Bible says: "Be renewed in the spirit of your mind; . . . put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness." (Ephesians 4:23, 24.)

You can start life over. This is the "Good News." You can be born anew, can be a new person. No longer do you need to go limping along, hanging your head. Let Christ enter your life. He will save you from your sin. He will set you free from the bonds of your old self. Then you will not feel ashamed to enter any church.

Serve Him. You will find joy in fellowship with other Christians.

Thanksgiving Is Time Hungry In Phila. Are Fed

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., (Special) —On Thanksgiving Day more than 400 people will sit down to turkey dinner in a four-story building which was once occupied by the mayor of Philadelphia.

But a century ago when the mayor and his family lived on Fifth Street in Philadelphia, the guests did not leave the table with paper bags filled with sandwiches or cookies, or bread for tomorrow's table.

"The spectre of a hungry tomorrow always haunts these people," says the Rev. James S. Simons, superintendent of the Fifth Street Community Center of the Methodist Midtown Parish in Philadelphia, Pa.

Local Churches Of City Will Have Union Services

Downtown churches of Monroe will worship Thursday morning in Thanksgiving service to be held in the First Presbyterian Church. The churches that will be participants are First Presbyterian, First Christian, Temple B'Nai Israel, First Methodist and First Baptist. Rev. R. T. Watson will preach.

In West Monroe a union Thanksgiving service will be held in McGuire Methodist Church Wednesday Nov. 24 at 7:30 p. m. Churches that will participate are: Brownville Methodist, Claiborne Methodist, First Methodist and McGuire Methodist. Rev. J. A. Jones, pastor of Brownville Church will bring the message.

Rev. Wayne W. Gray, minister.
(Services in Brown auditorium of Northeast Louisiana State College).
Sunday school, 9:30, Mr. Frank V. Spivey, superintendent.
Morning worship, 11:00, sermon: "Some Fruits of Righteous Indignation."
There is power and good resulting from a stirred soul which rebels against evil. And every Christian should rebel against that which is wrong and take a positive stand for the right. Many of the greatest reforms which have blessed mankind resulted from such "righteous indignation." The church needs men and women who take a stand for the things of God and become zealous for his church and her work.
The young adults will meet in the home of Bill and Catherine Hollis, 1201 Auburn avenue, this evening at 6:30.
The Seniors and Pioneers will meet in our new church at 6:00 this evening.

6:30 p. m., young people's program.
7:30 p. m., evening worship.
9:00 a. m., morning worship, Idlewild.
The topic for the morning worship service will be "Thankful Living." This Sunday preceding Thanksgiving will be a service of praise and thanksgiving to God for His many blessings.
At the evening worship service at 7:30 p. m. the minister will continue the series of sermons on The Lord's Prayer. The sermon tonight will be the fourth in the series and is entitled "The Prayer for Pardon."
Wednesday night family night program is at 6:00 p. m.
The nursery facilities through church church school and morning worship service consist of a room for babies in arms only, another department for two and three year old children and a kindergarten for four and five year old children. A nursery is also provided in the educational building during the Sunday evening worship service and the Wednesday night program.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
North Second and Auburn St.

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the lesson - sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, November 21, 1954.
The golden text is: "My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever" (Ps. 73-26.)
Among the citations which comprise the lesson - sermon is the following from the Bible: "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved" (Ps. 66:8, 9.)
The lesson - sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science explains all cause and effect as mental, not physical. It lifts the veil of mystery from soul and body" (114.)
Listen to a 15 minute radio broadcast Sunday at 8:15 a. m. over radio station KNOE. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Sunday service at 11:00 a. m. Wednesday service at 8:00 p. m. Baptists Ask Large Budget For New Year

The First Baptist Church, which recently observed its centennial, is launching out the most far reaching program in its history. Today it is undertaking to subscribe a budget of $210,000 in a single day to carry on the work for the year of 1955 which will not only include local activities but also state, home and foreign mission work.

The Sunday school departments have been assigned attendance goals and will assemble at 9:30 instead of 9:45 as usual and after making reports, will meet in the auditorium, for a dedication service led by Dr. James T. Horton; the Sunday school superintendent, J. C. Holloway and the every member canvass director, A. B. Clarkson. A feature will be the placing of pledges in the Ark of the Covenant, which will be placed in front of the pulpit.

Following the morning worship service, a turkey dinner will be served in the banquet hall and immediately after, the teams numbering more than 100 will go afield to receive pledges from members unable to attend the morning services.

The pastor, in his earnest appeal, admonishes members to ask themselves the question: "Lord What Would Thou Have Me To Do?" in regard to loyalty day.

Ike Buys $5 In Christmas Seals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower bought $5 worth of Christmas Seals today to launch the annual drive for funds to fight tuberculosis.

Dr. Esmond R. Long, director of medical research of the National Tuberculosis Assn., made the sale at the White House. Long was once a TB patient himself, while a medical student at the University of Chicago.

The public drive for funds will be conducted by 3,000 tuberculosis associations throughout the country beginning Nov. 22.

PROMINENT EVANGELIST — Cecil Janway, former director for the Assemblies of God in Louisiana, is holding services nightly at the Morningside Assembly of God Church, 306 South McGuire Avenue, Monroe. The public is cordially invited. Services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Rev. E. J. Graves is pastor of this church.

Rev. P. D. Walker Of Norih Carolina To Lead Revival

The College Place Baptist church will be engaged in revival services November 21-28. The speaker for this week will be Rev. P. D. Walker, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Lancaster, N. C. Wayne Buck, music-education director of College Place Baptist Church, will be in charge of all the music.

Special music will be rendered at all the services during this week. Sunday services include Sunday School at 9:45 with the worship hour at 10:55 a.m., training union at 6:15 p.m. with the worship hour at 7:30 p.m. Weekday services will be at 10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

College Place Baptist Church is located at 301 Sherrouse Avenue and the public is cordially invited to attend these services during this revival.

President Urges Day Of Thanks

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special) —President Eisenhower called upon all Americans to observe Thanksgiving day with prayers demonstrating "Our humble thanks to God in times past and asking His guidance and beneficence in the year to come." The president issued the following proclamation:

"Early in our history, the Pilgrim Fathers inaugurated the custom of dedicating one day at harvest time to render thanks to Almighty God for the bounties of the soil and for His mercies throughout the year. At this season traditional suggests that our hearts require that we follow that hallowed custom and bow in reverent thanks for the blessings that have been bestowed upon us as a nation.

"We are grateful that our beloved country, settled by those forebears in their quest for religious freedom remains free and strong and that each of us can worship God in his own way according to the dictates of conscience.

"We are grateful for the innumerable daily manifestations of divine goodness in affairs both public and private, for equal opportunities for all to labor and to serve, and for the continuance of those homely joys and satisfactions which enrich our lives.

"With gratitude in our hearts for all our blessings, may we be ever mindful of the obligations inherent in our strength and may we rededicate ourselves to unselfish striving for the common betterment of mankind.

"Now, therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, in consonance with the joint resolution in Congress, approved December 26, 1941, designating the fourth Thursday of November of each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 25, 1954 as a day of national thanksgiving, and I call upon all our citizens to observe the day with prayer. Let us demonstrate in our lives our humble thanks to God for his beneficience in the year which is past and let us ask His guidance in the year to come."

Family Night Is Planned Here, Couples Advised

Arrangements have been completed for "Family Week" for married people to be held in St. Paschal's Church, West Monroe, beginning Sunday, November 28 and closing Sunday, December 5, according to an announcement of the Reverend Vitus Duschinsky, O. F. M., pastor. Special services will be conducted nightly at 7:30 p. m. throughout the week.

Of recent development, "Family Week" is a program to promote better family living by presenting the balanced view of marriage and its responsibilities. "Forgotten factors in family life must be emphasized," Father Vitus observed.

This week, November 28 to December 5, will be exclusively for the married, including widowers and widows and those to be married within a year. Under the general title, "With This Ring," this group will hear discussed: Love in Marriage; Marriage, the Divine Design; Know Your Partner; Parents Are Important; They're Yours; Your Eternal Love.

To complete the program, a short talk will be given each morning at 7:00 and 8:30 a. m. Fr. Vitus anticipates an overwhelming response. "This program has appeal and meets the needs of the day," for everyone, Catholic and non-Catholic. All are welcome!

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: "I know I have sinned. Now I long to start life over, but don't feel good enough to mix with church folks. What shall I do?" A. T.

ANSWER: Remember that you are not the only one who has sinned. I have sinned. Those people you see walking into church on Sunday morning have sinned.

They are going to church to worship God, and to ask for His forgiveness. Walk right along with them. Take your place in one of the pews. Listen carefully to the reading from the Bible, and to the preaching of God's Word. Then go kneel at the altar and ask God to forgive you. He will.

Are you good enough to enter the House of the Lord? No . . . but you don't have to be! Christ came to save you, and to save me. He died that we might find life in Him.

Go to His church. Worship Him. Live for Him.

Then you will no longer be bound by your old sinful self. The Bible says, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature." (II Corinthians 5:17) That man can be you.

The Bible says: "Be renewed in the spirit of your mind; . . . put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness." (Ephesians 4:23, 24.)

You can start life over. This is the "Good News." You can be born anew, can be a new person. No longer do you need to go limping along, hanging your head. Let Christ enter your life. He will save you from your sin. He will set you free from the bonds of your old self. Then you will not feel ashamed to enter any church.

Serve Him. You will find joy in fellowship with other Christians.

Thanksgiving Is Time Hungry In Phila. Are Fed

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., (Special) —On Thanksgiving Day more than 400 people will sit down to turkey dinner in a four-story building which was once occupied by the mayor of Philadelphia.

But a century ago when the mayor and his family lived on Fifth Street in Philadelphia, the guests did not leave the table with paper bags filled with sandwiches or cookies, or bread for tomorrow's table.

"The spectre of a hungry tomorrow always haunts these people," says the Rev. James S. Simons, superintendent of the Fifth Street Community Center of the Methodist Midtown Parish in Philadelphia, Pa.

Local Churches Of City Will Have Union Services

Downtown churches of Monroe will worship Thursday morning in Thanksgiving service to be held in the First Presbyterian Church. The churches that will be participants are First Presbyterian, First Christian, Temple B'Nai Israel, First Methodist and First Baptist. Rev. R. T. Watson will preach.

In West Monroe a union Thanksgiving service will be held in McGuire Methodist Church Wednesday Nov. 24 at 7:30 p. m. Churches that will participate are: Brownville Methodist, Claiborne Methodist, First Methodist and McGuire Methodist. Rev. J. A. Jones, pastor of Brownville Church will bring the message.

PRESBYTERIAN

COVENANT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. Wayne W. Gray, minister.

(Services in Brown auditorium of Northeast Louisiana State College).

Sunday school, 9:30, Mr. Frank V. Spivey, superintendent.

Morning worship, 11:00, sermon: "Some Fruits of Righteous Indignation."

There is power and good resulting from a stirred soul which rebels against evil. And every Christian should rebel against that which is wrong and take a positive stand for the right. Many of the greatest reforms which have blessed mankind resulted from such "righteous indignation." The church needs men and women who take a stand for the things of God and become zealous for his church and her work.

The young adults will meet in the home of Bill and Catherine Hollis, 1201 Auburn avenue, this evening at 6:30.

The Seniors and Pioneers will meet in our new church at 6:00 this evening.

Winter Grass Helped By Rain

Thanksgiving Day in America is the name of a national holiday which originated in New England. After the first harvest of the New England colonists in 1621, Governor Bradford made provisions for a day of thanksgiving and prayer. In 1864 President Lincoln appointed a day of thanksgiving. Since then, the presidents have issued a Thanksgiving proclamation, generally designating the last Thursday of November, except for a few years when President Roosevelt moved it up a week. We usually think of the day as one of much feasting for the harvest is in and it is time to sample the fruits of the crop. Along with this sampling we offer thanks for our bountiful way of American life.

Take A Drive

Many residents in this area have said this is the most beautiful fall in their memory and I can truly agree with them. Just drive up North Third street in Monroe and you'll see every color. The red maple, golden tallow and all the in-between shades. The crape myrtles look like blooming shrubs, the foliage is so colorful. Wind around down Lee and Gordon avenue, in West Monroe up Trenton — just any place there's a tree or shrub. Even the old pecans have outdone themselves this fall, in color.

While on the south side of Monroe stop by and see the poinsettia that is 84 inches high and has seven large blooms. The proud grower is Mr. R. Murph Jones who lives at the garage apartment between 413 and 415 Calypso.

Be sure to go down South Grand and see the gingko tree in the Layton yard. (1133 South Grand). It's the bright yellow one. You can't miss it.

Around The Yard

The rains were wonderful. The winter grass is coming up in lawns all about the Twin Cities. A green carpet keeps our yards from looking so gloomy during the winter months. Then in January and February when the early blooming shrubs and bulbs bloom, they are so much more beautiful with a green carpet frame.

Many of the good bulbs are on sale now, and it is not too late to plant your favorite ones. November is a good month to root ivy. If possible, cover the ground with mulch and then put the cuttings in the groung letting them rest on the mulch. I've found foot long pieces root just as well as short cuttings and you don't have to wait so long for effects. Most people who have ivy will give you cuttings. The variegated varieties make nice contrast, but you'll have to buy plants of this. Few gardeners have enough to divide. An ivy ground cover in small spaces that make mowing difficult, not only gives beautiful contrast with the lawn, but makes upkeep much easier.

Christmas Arrangements

Mrs. Hugh Sutherland gave some unusual ideas for Xmas arrangements at the Welcome Garden Club Monday. She had dyed some pampas grass with pink rit and used with this silvered holly with glitter scattered on the leaves. One very easy idea to carry out was a hurricane globe filled with apples, cranberries and ivy leaves. A very simple and lovely arrangement was made using mother-in-law tongue painted gold and gold Christmas balls.

Food Notes

When baking your fruit cake, pour the grape juice (or whatever liquid you use) over the cake, just as it comes from the oven. The liquid will sizzle through and take up more than it will after the cake cools.

You'll find many foods in ample supply for your Thanksgiving shopping. Best buy foods are apples, oranges, grapes, cabbage, celery, lettuce, bananas, onions, potatoes, rutabagos, carrots, cauliflower, sweet potatoes, radishes, tomatoes, cranberries, eggs, poultry and turkeys.

There was a time when turkeys were grown on the yard and always had to be steamed. Some people still are in doubt and continue to do this steaming. The highly bred birds of today that never touch the ground need no moist heat. Just place the well greased bird on a rack in your broiling pan, breast down, and turn it over when half done. Salt the inside well before cooking. I'm sure you have your favorite roasting chart. Boil the giblets and neck for broth for the dressing and the drippings in the broiling pan are fine for the gravy.

Events

The KNOE-TV Home Show at 2:30 each Tuesday will really delight the housewife for the next few weeks. On Tuesday, November 23, Mrs. M. L. Hortman and Mrs. J. A. Funston, home garden club members, will do a Thanksgiving table. Jewel McQuiller is doing the coaching so you can expect something outstanding. On December 7, Mrs. Kent Breard will create a Christmas table, with able assistance from another member of the Monroe Garden Club. December 14, two members of the Welcome Garden Club will make Christmas arrangements. On December 21, I'm hoping to get the story lady for the children.

Don't Over Water House Plants

The Green Thumb Garden Club of Ruston presented the flower show at the Garden Center this week. Mrs. H. B. Talbot and Mrs. Stewart Hunt served as judges. The arrangements were created of chrysanthemums, that bright star in our fall flower picture.

First place to Mrs. Herb Neely, In a large crystal compote Mrs. Neely created a line-mass arrangement of white daisy type chrysanthemums with a white candle in the middle. Height was achieved with chrysanthemums buds following the line of the candle. This arrangement was finished on both sides and most suitable for use on a small dining table.

Second place was awarded to Mrs. Earl Puddy. Using a footed bamboo raft for a container, Mrs. Puddy designed a lovely crescent arrangements using the buds and blooms of small bright yellow pom-pom mums. The crescent line was enhanced by bronze chrysanthemums in a slightly larger size. The arrangement was placed against a chartreuse background.

Third place was another beautiful arrangement by Mrs. Herb Neely. A free form container in dull black was used and a delightful line-mass design of small to large yellow chrysanthemums with a focal point of a large bronze mum and grapes in the same shade coming over the rim of the container.

In the horticulture class red ribbons were awarded to Mrs. D. M. Cruse for pyracantha, Mrs. Earl Puddy for red rose and Mrs. Herb Neely for pink daisy chrysanthemum. Congratulations to the Winnsboro Garden Club! They won the high score award for the month ending October 31. A check was presented to Mrs. B. T. Lanier, president of the club.

This is the time of year when many people begin to think of house plants to brighten their homes during the winter days ahead. Plants are like people, they have definite personalities and their likes and dislikes. Every day I am asked the question, "Why do I fail with house plants"? I believe the greatest fault is over-watering. So many people regard watering as a daily routine chore, such as dusting and doing the dishes. In many cases the plants are simply drowned. The first consideration in choosing a house plant is to consider where the plant will be located in the home. Is the spot in sunlight or shade. Is the room kept cool or warm. Human frailties being what they are, many homes and apartments are kept both hot and dry. In this case the best choice is plants of the desert. Cacti and succulents are in this class, and there are many interesting and amusing specimens among them. Sun, sandy soil and moderate watering makes them happy. Important factors in house plant culture are of course, first of all healthy plants potted in good soil, water, light and temperature and, to a lesser extend, humidity.

Plants and Gardens Magazine, the Brooklyn Botanic Garden Record, lists the following 22 toughest plants. These plants can be recommended for growing in the most difficult situations, or for growing under better circumstances by those whose green thumb talents are underdeveloped. Dust, gas and neglect seem to be acceptable to this life - tenacious group of plants: Chinese evergreen (Aglaonema modestum), Aspidistra elatior, Coleus, many colors brighter if given some sun, Chlorophytum capense (spider or airplane plant), Crassula arorescens (jade plant), Diffenbachia (dumbcane), Dracena fragans, Ficus elastica (rubber plant), Ficus lyrata (fiddle leaf fig) Helxine soleiroli (baby tears), Impatiens sultani (touch-me-not), Monstera deliciosa also called Philadendron pertusum, Neomarica gracilis (apostle plant), nephthytis afzell, Pandanus veitchi (screw pine), peperomia, Philodendron cordatum, sansevieria, Aglaonema oblongifolia, Tradescantia (wandering Jew) Tolmiea (pick-a-back plant) and Scindapsus aureus (Solomon Islands ivy-arum). This latter looks like our variegated philodendrons. Many of these are tolerant of gas. Suggested reading —All About House Plants by Montague Free. SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Some Plants For Small Gardens

In the small garden we talked about last week, it will be hard to keep things from growing into each other unless you plant only the naturally small shrubs and trees. Every gardener in the world who has been at it very long is constantly on the outlook for small plants because there are relatively few. Here in the south, we have to keep looking for them because our gardening is not as developed as it is in the northern states. Really dwarf plants which will stay that way permanently are rare. You can be deceived easily by looking at little plants in nurseries, but how big will these shrubs get to be in five years?

Some plants grow so very slowly that, even if they will become quite large in time, we can use them in small gardens for five or ten years and then move them somewhere else on the place and start off again with small ones of the same kind. This is true of the slower growing kinds of boxwood which everybody likes to grow in gardens because of its odor and long history. The tiny leaf forms of Japanese holly look like boxwood and may be used in the same ways. Two of these are Ilex crenata convexa and I. c. bullata. Ask your nurseryman to show you these. Old fashioned lavender and rosemary are good single shrubs for winter grey if you keep them shaped and thickened. They do not like wet places or too much shade but prefer the sunlight. THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

Winter Grass Helped By Rain

Thanksgiving Day in America is the name of a national holiday which originated in New England. After the first harvest of the New England colonists in 1621, Governor Bradford made provisions for a day of thanksgiving and prayer. In 1864 President Lincoln appointed a day of thanksgiving. Since then, the presidents have issued a Thanksgiving proclamation, generally designating the last Thursday of November, except for a few years when President Roosevelt moved it up a week. We usually think of the day as one of much feasting for the harvest is in and it is time to sample the fruits of the crop. Along with this sampling we offer thanks for our bountiful way of American life.

Take A Drive

Many residents in this area have said this is the most beautiful fall in their memory and I can truly agree with them. Just drive up North Third street in Monroe and you'll see every color. The red maple, golden tallow and all the in-between shades. The crape myrtles look like blooming shrubs, the foliage is so colorful. Wind around down Lee and Gordon avenue, in West Monroe up Trenton — just any place there's a tree or shrub. Even the old pecans have outdone themselves this fall, in color.

While on the south side of Monroe stop by and see the poinsettia that is 84 inches high and has seven large blooms. The proud grower is Mr. R. Murph Jones who lives at the garage apartment between 413 and 415 Calypso.

Be sure to go down South Grand and see the gingko tree in the Layton yard. (1133 South Grand). It's the bright yellow one. You can't miss it.

Around The Yard

The rains were wonderful. The winter grass is coming up in lawns all about the Twin Cities. A green carpet keeps our yards from looking so gloomy during the winter months. Then in January and February when the early blooming shrubs and bulbs bloom, they are so much more beautiful with a green carpet frame.

Many of the good bulbs are on sale now, and it is not too late to plant your favorite ones. November is a good month to root ivy. If possible, cover the ground with mulch and then put the cuttings in the groung letting them rest on the mulch. I've found foot long pieces root just as well as short cuttings and you don't have to wait so long for effects. Most people who have ivy will give you cuttings. The variegated varieties make nice contrast, but you'll have to buy plants of this. Few gardeners have enough to divide. An ivy ground cover in small spaces that make mowing difficult, not only gives beautiful contrast with the lawn, but makes upkeep much easier.

Christmas Arrangements

Mrs. Hugh Sutherland gave some unusual ideas for Xmas arrangements at the Welcome Garden Club Monday. She had dyed some pampas grass with pink rit and used with this silvered holly with glitter scattered on the leaves. One very easy idea to carry out was a hurricane globe filled with apples, cranberries and ivy leaves. A very simple and lovely arrangement was made using mother-in-law tongue painted gold and gold Christmas balls.

Food Notes

When baking your fruit cake, pour the grape juice (or whatever liquid you use) over the cake, just as it comes from the oven. The liquid will sizzle through and take up more than it will after the cake cools.

You'll find many foods in ample supply for your Thanksgiving shopping. Best buy foods are apples, oranges, grapes, cabbage, celery, lettuce, bananas, onions, potatoes, rutabagos, carrots, cauliflower, sweet potatoes, radishes, tomatoes, cranberries, eggs, poultry and turkeys.

There was a time when turkeys were grown on the yard and always had to be steamed. Some people still are in doubt and continue to do this steaming. The highly bred birds of today that never touch the ground need no moist heat. Just place the well greased bird on a rack in your broiling pan, breast down, and turn it over when half done. Salt the inside well before cooking. I'm sure you have your favorite roasting chart. Boil the giblets and neck for broth for the dressing and the drippings in the broiling pan are fine for the gravy.

Events

The KNOE-TV Home Show at 2:30 each Tuesday will really delight the housewife for the next few weeks. On Tuesday, November 23, Mrs. M. L. Hortman and Mrs. J. A. Funston, home garden club members, will do a Thanksgiving table. Jewel McQuiller is doing the coaching so you can expect something outstanding. On December 7, Mrs. Kent Breard will create a Christmas table, with able assistance from another member of the Monroe Garden Club. December 14, two members of the Welcome Garden Club will make Christmas arrangements. On December 21, I'm hoping to get the story lady for the children.

Garden Center Notes

Don't Over Water House Plants

The Green Thumb Garden Club of Ruston presented the flower show at the Garden Center this week. Mrs. H. B. Talbot and Mrs. Stewart Hunt served as judges. The arrangements were created of chrysanthemums, that bright star in our fall flower picture.

First place to Mrs. Herb Neely, In a large crystal compote Mrs. Neely created a line-mass arrangement of white daisy type chrysanthemums with a white candle in the middle. Height was achieved with chrysanthemums buds following the line of the candle. This arrangement was finished on both sides and most suitable for use on a small dining table.

Second place was awarded to Mrs. Earl Puddy. Using a footed bamboo raft for a container, Mrs. Puddy designed a lovely crescent arrangements using the buds and blooms of small bright yellow pom-pom mums. The crescent line was enhanced by bronze chrysanthemums in a slightly larger size. The arrangement was placed against a chartreuse background.

Third place was another beautiful arrangement by Mrs. Herb Neely. A free form container in dull black was used and a delightful line-mass design of small to large yellow chrysanthemums with a focal point of a large bronze mum and grapes in the same shade coming over the rim of the container.

In the horticulture class red ribbons were awarded to Mrs. D. M. Cruse for pyracantha, Mrs. Earl Puddy for red rose and Mrs. Herb Neely for pink daisy chrysanthemum. Congratulations to the Winnsboro Garden Club! They won the high score award for the month ending October 31. A check was presented to Mrs. B. T. Lanier, president of the club.

This is the time of year when many people begin to think of house plants to brighten their homes during the winter days ahead. Plants are like people, they have definite personalities and their likes and dislikes. Every day I am asked the question, "Why do I fail with house plants"? I believe the greatest fault is overwatering. So many people regard watering as a daily routine chore, such as dusting and doing the dishes. In many cases the plants are simply drowned. The first consideration in choosing a house plant is to consider where the plant will be located in the home. Is the spot in sunlight or shade. Is the room kept cool or warm. Human frailties being what they are, many homes and apartments are kept both hot and dry. In this case the best choice is plants of the desert. Cacti and succulents are in this class, and there are many interesting and amusing specimens among them. Sun, sandy soil and moderate watering makes them happy. Important factors in house plant culture are of course, first of all healthy plants potted in good soil, water, light and temperature and, to a lesser extend, humidity.

Plants and Gardens Magazine, the Brooklyn Botanic Garden Record, lists the following 22 toughest plants. These plants can be recommended for growing in the most difficult situations, or for growing under better circumstances by those whose green thumb talents are underdeveloped. Dust, gas and neglect seem to be acceptable to this life - tenacious group of plants: Chinese evergreen (Aglaonema modestum), Aspidistra elatior, Coleus, many colors brighter if given some sun, Chlorophytum capense (spider or airplane plant), Crassula arorescens (jade plant), Diffenbachia (dumbcane), Dracena fragans, Ficus elastica (rubber plant). Ficus lyrata (fiddle leaf fig) Helxine soleiroli (baby tears), Impatiens sultani (touch-me-not), Monstera deliciosa also called Philadendron pertusum, Neomarica gracilis (apostle plant), nephthytis afzeli, Pandanus veitchi (screw pine), peperomia, Philodendron cordatum, sansevieria, Aglaonema oblongifolia, Tradescantia (wandering Jew) Tolmiea (pick-a-back plant) and Scindapsus aureus (Solomon Islands ivy-arum). This latter looks like our variegated philodendrons. Many of these are tolerant of gas. Suggested reading —All About House Plants by Montague Free. SOUTHERN GARDENER—

Some Plants For Small Gardens

In the small garden we talked about last week, it will be hard to keep things from growing into each other unless you plant only the naturally small shrubs and trees. Every gardener in the world who has been at it very long is constantly on the outlook for small plants because there are relatively few. Here in the south, we have to keep looking for them because our gardening is not as developed as it is in the northern states. Really dwarf plants which will stay that way permanently are rare. You can be deceived easily by looking at little plants in nurseries, but how big will these shrubs get to be in five years?

Some plants grow so very slowly that, even if they will become quite large in time, we can use them in small gardens for five or ten years and then move them somewhere else on the place and start off again with small ones of the same kind. This is true of the slower growing kinds of boxwood which everybody likes to grow in gardens because of its odor and long history. The tiny leaf forms of Japanese holly look like boxwood and may be used in the same ways. Two of these are Ilex crenata convexa and I. c. bullata. Ask your nurseryman to show you these. Old fashioned lavender and rosemary are good single shrubs for winter grey if you keep them shaped and thickened. They do not like wet places or too much shade but prefer the sunlight. Lavender is sometimes short - lived by nature, but it is not expensive to replace and is worth the trouble because it blooms and provides odor. Ordinary garden sage is coarser and evergreen. They grey lavender cotton (santolina) likes good drainage and must have air circulation and at least sun for three or four hours a day. Plant it on a slope if possible with nothing touching it.

To get the effect of old English yews in a Southern garden without having to go through the agony of trying to keep them alive, plant the narrow columnar plant called plum-yew (Cephalotaxus). The narrow one is called Spiral or Korean plum-Yew. It is one of the handsomest of all narrow evergreens that will grow well in the South. It is very dark green and an excellent background for flowers. It also makes a stunning accent as a single specimen. Of a different shape entirely is the fluffy dwarf Hinoki cypress (Chamaecyparis obtusa nana). You had better spell all this name out in ordering it or you will get the plain type that is beautiful but not so slow growing. This dark olive green conifer grows slowly very slowly to be one of the most glorious of all cone bearing trees. After five to seven years, you may wish to move your specimens to a place where they can go on and develop into magnificent eye catchers for people who really know plants to rave about.

There is usually not much room for flowering shrubs in a tiny garden. Plants that are evergreen and then flower, too, are priceless The warty barberry (Berberis verruculosa) can do even better with flowers and then little blue berries! Espaliered sasanquas are beautiful if you have the patience for this work. They can go on the sides or against the house. A yucca can go into a corner. It will look enormous when in bloom in a small garden. Try growing the winter heath that does not have to have acid soil and blooms in winter (Erica carnea). Like santolina, it must have some sun and nothing touching it ever. It is fine in the pavement. Winter iris has evergreen leaves and blooms from November till March. It also will stay for years without dividing. The tiny bulbs of all kinds will make a show in little patches. Many of them bloom in late winter. Clumps of chrysanthemums can be grown elsewhere and dug up and set into beds to flower and then be taken out again. It will take lots of planning to kep the small garden in bloom, but it is a good game.

Veal chops are delicious when dipped in beaten egg and then in seasoned fine dry bread crumbs. Use salt, pepper, celery salt and paprika for seasoning the crumbs.

Frankfurters taste extra good when they are grilled, put into toasted rolls and topped with a generous spoonful of chili con carne and a sprinkling of finely chopped onion and parsley.

Sound Recordings

By Bruce (Lucky) Humberstone (Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, November 20—One of the world's strangest hobbies was brought to light this week when Irish film star Dan O'Herlihy proudly announced the recording of his 50,000th foot of unusual sound recordings. So let me tell you about this fine young man.

O'Herlihy is the actor who recently did a virtual solo job of starring in "Robinson Crusoe" and who currently has a starring role along with Tony Curtis and Colleen Miller in Universal International's "The Purple Mask," which I am directing. He makes a full-time hobby of obtaining noises from all over the world.

O'Herlihy began his unique collection five years ago when a group of his fans in Ireland presented him with a portable recording machine. The actor, who was in London at the time, went out the next day and recorded the noontime chimes of London's historic "Big Ben" clock. His collection was under way.

Within a year's time, O'Herlihy had recorded the shouted commands during the famous daily changing of the guards at Buckingham Palace; the throaty whistle on the main stack of the Queen Mary; the voice of Winston Churchill; the bleat of a London Bobby's whistle; the clicking of the wheels of England's most famous train, the Flying Scotsman; the voices of most of the Royal Family and a portion of a performance given at the annual Shakespearean Festival at Stratford-on-Avon.

Traveling abroad the following year, the actor really went to town on his cacophonic hobby. Within a few months he emerged with twenty consecutive minutes of genuine Swiss yodeling; the "spiel" of a guide in the Louvre museum in Paris; the bleatings of street singers in Naples; an argument over politics in the lobby of Rome's Bristol-Bernini Hotel; the squabbles of street urchins in Madrid; the splashing noise made by the world-famous "Little Boy" fountain in Brussels and the trumpeting of sacred white elephants in India.

O'Herlihy had very definite ideas on what noises he wanted for his collection when he reached America to take up a film career—and he's well on his way towards getting most of them. They include the recordings of a speech by President Eisenhower, the sounds made in the Times Square District of New York; various regional accents representative of the American people; the sounds of quarters and half dollars dropping in Las Vegas slot machines; the rumble of the Pacific Ocean on a stormy day and a "backstage" recording during the making of a typical Hollywood movie scene.

This last selection—which has brought his footage up to the 50,000 mark—was obtained on the "Purple Mask" set one day this week. O'Herlihy had the script clerk handle the machine for him and record the metallic sounds of sword clashing as he went through an arduous dueling scene with leading man Tony Curtis.

You folks may wonder how it is that I know all these details about Dan O'Herlihy. Directors and players often become friends during the making of a picture, and Dan and I have swapped experiences. When he spoke of his unusual hobby, I asked him a few questions, and he readily answered them.

O'Herlihy and Tony Curtis have been doing some remarkable fencing scenes in "The Purple Mask." I'll digress a moment to say a few words about Tony. He's one of the most versatile young actors it has been my pleasure to direct. You'll remember his magic in "Houdini." Remarkable work. Tony does not claim to be a magician, but to be a good actor he rehearsed himself into a baffling magician. You perhaps saw him in "So This is Paris." Good dancer, don't you think? He's never gone in for a dancing career, but in order to put over some of these scenes Tony rehearsed them for weeks under competent instructors. Then came roles that required swordsmanship. Seeing him in action you'd think he was a veteran of the days when men really settled their differences with swords.

Now back to my friend O'Herlihy. He's a lover of fine horse, and himself is a horseman of note. Before coming to America he took part in a number of smart events in Ireland and England, especially in jumping contests. When his friends see him on the bridle paths in the Los Angeles parks, they admire his poise and the "perfectly at home feeling" he exhibits while astride a proud, high-stepping animal.

Thanks, Jimmie Fidler, for this opportunity to write about two of my good actor friends.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Nearly always. Read a passage; then start daydreaming. If your mind wanders back to your book, resist it! Keep the dream going fifteen minutes — then back to your book. Repeat daily for three weeks. Results are often amazing. This method — called "negative practice" and devised by the late Knight Dunlap — often cures stuttering and other bad habits.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. Researches on over half a million persons showed that men and women who work have the greater number of hobbies; also that far more men than women have hobbies. These findings were true of people in all occupations and at all income and social levels.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. News dispatches tell of Dr. Lionel Farber's new invention which detects freshness and spoilage in fruits, vegetables, and other foods — far beyond the power of even Jimmy Durante's famous snozzle. It doesn't tell whether you will like the odor—you can't smell it anyway—but the device does tell you whether you are eating good or bad foods.

How to Improve Your Memory

Do you have difficulty remembering names? Telephone numbers? Good stories? Follow the simple, effective rules outlined in the booklet, "How to Improve Your Memory." For a copy send 15 cents (coin only), plus self-addressed, stamped envelope (give name of city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper.

Training For Civil Defense Is Specialized

Specialized training of Civil Defense service staff in the 12 parishes of District F has been the fall project of District F headquarters, announced A. B. Clarkson district director. "Our program has been intense and thorough as to material, and scheduling instructors for our service workshops, at which all deputy directors were able to get a workable plan to utilize in their own parishes. Scheduling a workshop each week for nine weeks," Clarkson commented, "took pre-planning with District F staff and instructors also detailed work from the office of Civil Defense.

"This program of workshops took not only the immediate district F staff's cooperation but state Civil Defense staff and Region V Cicil Defense staff and Red Cross, however, if parish directors and their deputies had not responded wholeheartedly, the time and effort would have been fruitless.

"We fell," Clarkson said, "that with 158 people trained in the parishes and 10 parishes represented at District F workshops we have accomplished our goal."

Workshops offered to the 12 parishes for specialized training were transportation, rescue, health, welfare, fire, engineering, supply and warden with communication and police. Federal Civil Defense specialists assisting with these workshops were L. R. Fimian, Dr. C. D. Head, Walter Ilgenfritz, and Herbert Moran, Red Cross assisted with a workshop for welfare by sending from the southeastern Red Cross area office, Miss Margurite Potts, assisted locally by Mrs. Mildred Lomax, department of welfare, state specialists assisting were Leslie Broussard and Clay Johnson with local instructors fire Chief F. W. Faler, Jim Clower, rescue training officer, Major Jack Davis and George Whitlow, rescue organizing officer.

One of the most urgent recommendations made at the conclusion of our series of workshops, Clarkson continued, was the need to recruit auxiliary police also the parish directors should immediately list equipment and personnel available for the first 72 hours of a Civil Defense emergency.

Coon Backing Fund For Fight On Dystrophy

Mayor John E. Coon Saturday gave his support to the current national drive for funds to fight against muscular dystrophy, a campaign being handled locally by the Monroe Fire Fighters Association.

"As mayor of the City of Monroe," Coon said, "I cannot urge too strongly the necessity of contributing to the drive to further the research in the field of muscular dystrophy."

"At the present time there is very little known of this dreaded disease and of the preventive measures necessary to protect the lives of the people of our country," he continued. "With funds secured from this drive the necessary research can be continued, someday bringing forth a cure as well as a preventive drug."

"The firefighters of Monroe and other cities and towns throughout the nation have volunteered to spearhead this drive, and to them I wish every possible success," he said.

According to P. V. Cutrer, secretary of the Monroe Fire Fighters Association, firefighters here will conduct a drive here at 7 p. m. Tuesday to collect funds for the national muscular dystrophy campaign.

Cutrer sail the firefighters will go from door to door in the city requesting funds, and asked that all planning to donate to the campaign leave their porch lights burning.

The International Fire Fighters Association is conducting the 1954 muscular campaign and in most cities and towns over the country will conduct similar drives during Thanksgiving Week.

Firemen helping in the drive here Tuesday will be in uniform, Cutrer said.

Mrs. Lou Gehrig, wife of the famed ballplayer who died of muscular dystrophy, is chairman of the national drive to collect funds.

Muscular dystrophy is a disease which slowly cripples the muscles and leads to eventual death. It strikes mainly at children, and there is no cure for it at present.

Firemen taking part in the drive here Tuesday night will be:

Cutrer, B. R. Breland, Capt. R. H. Wunch, Wayne Cristman, Charles McGough, G. R. Fowler, Lovie Free, James Richards, Capt. A. S. Johnston, Melvin Johnston, V. S. Carr, J .D. Brownlee, Charles Finkheiner, Capt. A. T. Brown. Lou Barton, Dan Ryals, M. L. Smith, Capt. H. O. Hampton, John Hand, G. G. Stiles, M. Beaudion, Raymond Woolsey, Huey Hadley, Capt. A. R. Gilliland, Raymond Sutton, Carl Tatum, and C . W. Sims.

Sound Recordings

By Bruce (Lucky) Humberstone (Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, November 20—One of the world's strangest hobbies was brought to light this week when Irish film star Dan O'Herlihy proudly announced the recording of his 50,000th foot of unusual sound recordings. So let me tell you about this fine young man.

O'Herlihy is the actor who recently did a virtual solo job of starring in "Robinson Crusoe" and who currently has a starring role along with Tony Curtis and Colleen Miller in Universal International's "The Purple Mask," which I am directing. He makes a full-time hobby of obtaining noises from all over the world.

O'Herlihy began his unique collection five years ago when a group of his fans in Ireland presented him with a portable recording machine. The actor, who was in London at the time, went out the next day and recorded the noontime chimes of London's historic "Big Ben" clock. His collection was under way.

Within a year's time, O'Herlihy had recorded the shouted commands during the famous daily changing of the guards at Buckingham Palace; the throaty whistle on the main stack of the Queen Mary; the voice of Winston Churchill; the bleat of a London Bobby's whistle; the clicking of the wheels of England's most famous train, the Flying Scotsman; the voices of most of the Royal Family and a portion of a performance given at the annual Shakespearean Festival at Stratford-on-Avon.

Traveling abroad the following year, the actor really went to town on his cacophonic hobby. Within a few months he emerged with twenty consecutive minutes of genuine Swiss yodeling; the "spiel" of a guide in the Louvre museum in Paris; the bleatings of street singers in Naples; an argument over politics in the lobby of Rome's Bristol-Bernini Hotel; the squabbles of street urchins in Madrid; the splashing noise made by the world-famous "Little Boy" fountain in Brussels and the trumpeting of sacred white elephants in India.

O'Herlihy had very definite ideas on what noises he wanted for his collection when he reached America to take up a film career—and he's well on his way towards getting most of them. They include the recordings of a speech by President Eisenhower, the sounds made in the Times Square District of New York; various regional accents representative of the American people; the sounds of quarters and half dollars dropping in Las Vegas slot machines; the rumble of the Pacific Ocean on a stormy day and a "backstage" recording during the making of a typical Hollywood movie scene.

This last selection—which has brought his footage up to the 50,000 mark—was obtained on the "Purple Mask" set one day this week. O'Herlihy had the script clerk handle the machine for him and record the metallic sounds of sword clashing as he went through an arduous dueling scene with leading man Tony Curtis.

You folks may wonder how it is that I know all these details about Dan O'Herlihy. Directors and players often become friends during the making of a picture, and Dan and I have swapped experiences. When he spoke of his unusual hobby, I asked him a few questions, and he readily answered them.

O'Herlihy and Tony Curtis have been doing some remarkable fencing scenes in "The Purple Mask." I'll digress a moment to say a few words about Tony. He's one of the most versatile young actors it has been my pleasure to direct. You'll remember his magic in "Houdini." Remarkable work. Tony does not claim to be a magician, but to be a good actor he rehearsed himself into a baffling magician. You perhaps saw him in "So This is Paris." Good dancer, don't you think? He's never gone in for a dancing career, but in order to put over some of these scenes Tony rehearsed them for weeks under competent instructors. Then came roles that required swordsmanship. Seeing him in action you'd think he was a veteran of the days when men really settled their differences with swords.

Now back to my friend O'Herlihy. He's a lover of fine horse, and himself is a horseman of note. Before coming to America he took part in a number of smart events in Ireland and England, especially in jumping contests. When his friends see him on the bridle paths in the Los Angeles parks, they admire his poise and the "perfectly at home feeling" he exhibits while astride a proud, high-stepping animal.

Thanks, Jimmie Fidler, for this opportunity to write about two of my good actor friends.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Nearly always. Read a passage; then start daydreaming. If your mind wanders back to your book, resist it! Keep the dream going fifteen minutes — then back to your book. Repeat daily for three weeks. Results are often amazing. This method — called "negative practice" and devised by the late Knight Dunlap — often cures stuttering and other bad habits.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. Researches on over half a million persons showed that men and women who work have the greater number of hobbies; also that far more men than women have hobbies. These findings were true of people in all occupations and at all income and social levels.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. News dispatches tell of Dr. Lionel Farber's new invention which detects freshness and spoilage in fruits, vegetables, and other foods — far beyond the power of even Jimmy Durante's famous snozzle. It doesn't tell whether you will like the odor—you can't smell it anyway—but the device does tell you whether you are eating good or bad foods.

Alan Ladd, Audrey Dalton Co-Star In 'Drum Beat'

Alan Ladd stars in his first CinemaScope thriller, "Drum Beat," which will open Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre. Filmed in WarnerColor by Jaguar Productions for Warner Bros. presentation, "Drum Beat" features two leading ladies, Audrey Dalton and Marisa Pavan. Delmer Daves produced and directed the action drama from his own screenplay.

"Drum Beat" is the story of the Modoc Indian war of 1869 in Northern California. Most of the film was reportedly made in the rugged Coconino National Forest of Arizona where the desert vistas are interrupted only by mountainous mesas and mile-high buttes. The story is personalized mainly through two characters, Johnny MacKay, a frontier scout, and Captain Jack, eccentric and wily leader of the Modoc Indians who liked to dress in stolen uniforms and affect a military title. Alan Ladd is Johnny MacKay. Charles Bronson, one-time Pennsylvania coal miner and a specialist in "heavy" roles, plays the Indian leader.

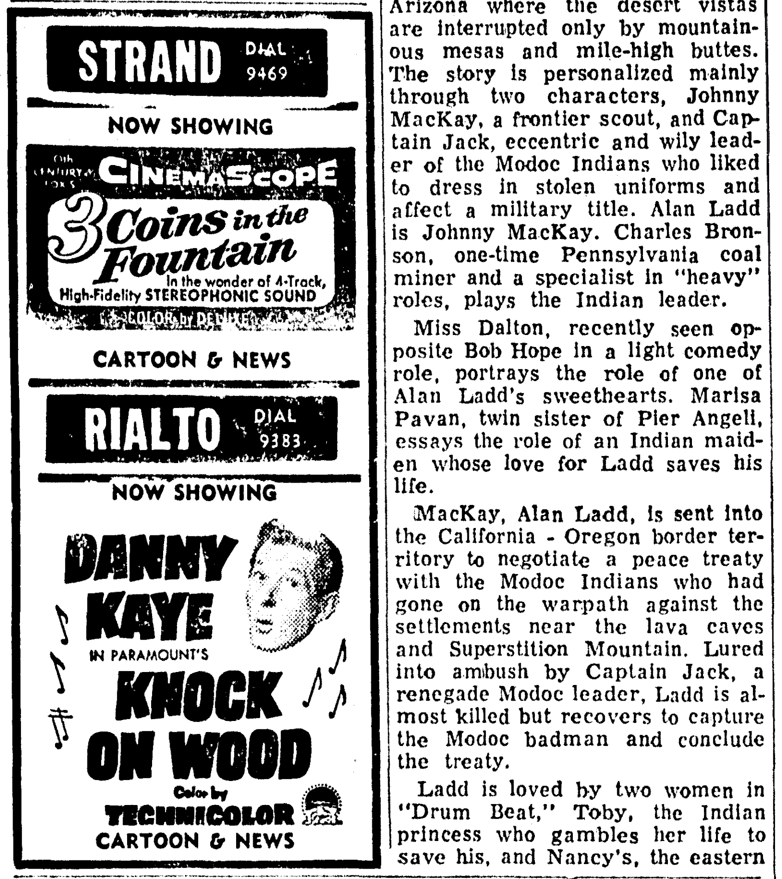
Miss Dalton, recently seen opposite Bob Hope in a light comedy role, portrays the role of one of Alan Ladd's sweethearts. Marisa Pavan, twin sister of Pier Angeli, essays the role of an Indian maiden whose love for Ladd saves his life.

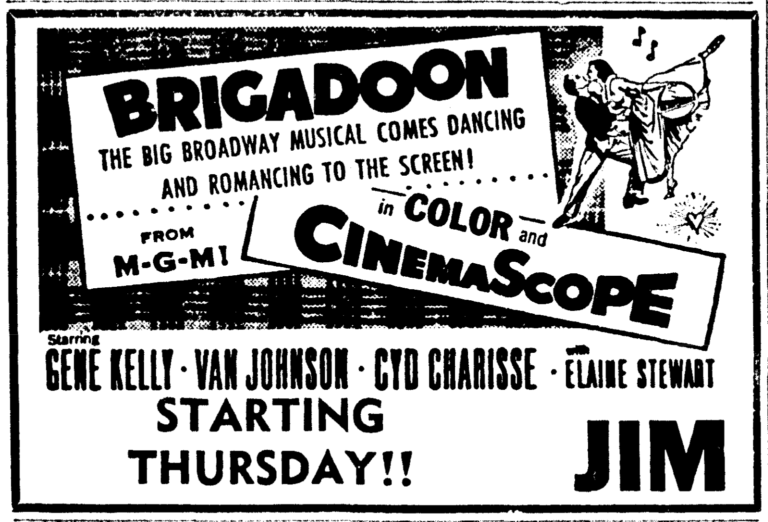
MacKay, Alan Ladd, is sent into the California - Oregon border territory to negotiate a peace treaty with the Modoc Indians who had gone on the warpath against the settlements near the lava caves and Superstition Mountain. Lured into ambush by Captain Jack, a renegade Modoc leader, Ladd is almost killed but recovers to capture the Modoc badman and conclude the treaty.

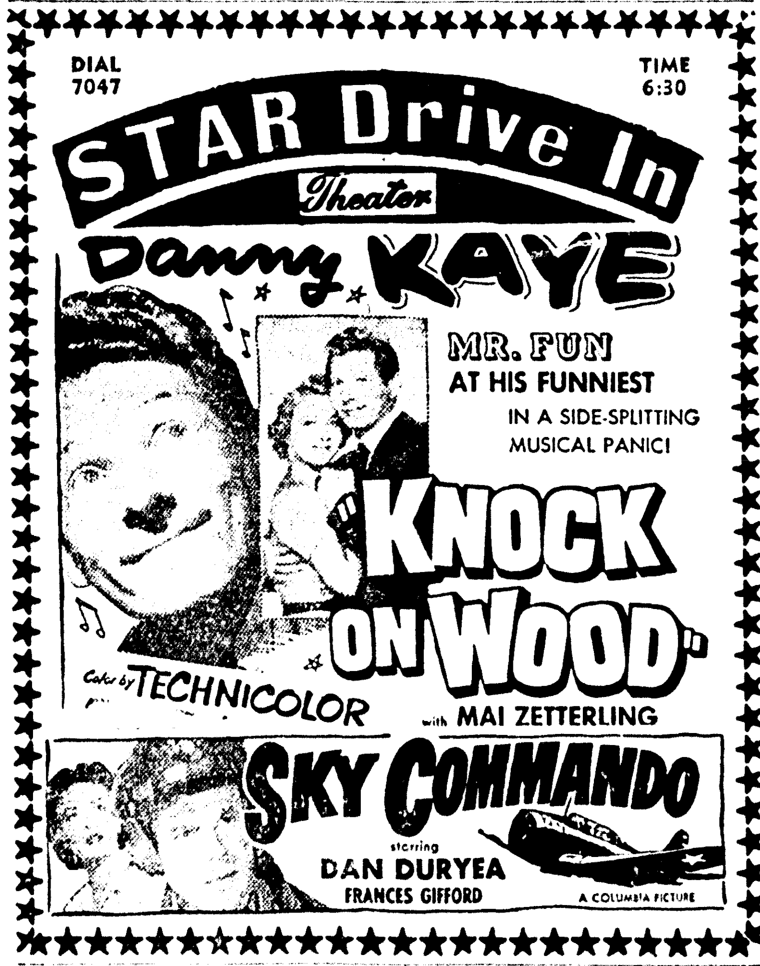
Ladd is loved by two women in "Drum Beat," Toby, the Indian princess who gambles her life to save his, and Nancy's, the eastern girl whose family is wiped out in an Indian raid.

The producer - director - writer of "Drum Beat," Delmer Daves, scored one of his greatest successes with "Broken Arrow," a picture which showed Indians in a sympathetic light. Daves' most recent effort was in connection with the CinemaScope spectacle "Demetrius and the Gladiator."

The filming of "Drum Beat" involved the construction of 80 sets. They ranged in variety from President U. S. Grant's study in the White House to a scaffold from which Captain Jack and his renegades were hanged. Some 500 studio people were actively engaged in the production.







NEW ROMANTIC TEAM—Stewart Granger and Elizabeth Taylor appear together for the first time in "Beau Brommell," M-G-M's color romance of England's famous 18th century dandy, who wooed one of his country's most aristocratic beauties. Peter Ustinov, remembered for his Nero of "Quo Vadis" has another vivid role as the petulant Prince of Wales, with Robert Morley cast as the mad King George III. The new picture opens today at the Jim Theater.

City Classroom Teachers Hold Monthly Session

The Monroe City Classroom teachers held their meeting in the library of Neville High School last Tuesday. The president, Mrs. G. E. Boggs presided, and called on Mrs. LaVern Riddle to introduce the speaker of the afternoon, who was Dr. Frank Ervin, a member of the faculty of Tulane University and psychiatrist at the Monroe Guidance Center.

Dr. Ervin explained the progress that has been made at the Monroe Guidance Center, which is one of ten such organizations in the state. Here children who have definite behavior and social problems may be treated, and although so far most of the cases have been brought in by pediatricians or the juvenile court, teachers and parents are invited to refer cases to the center also.

Much can be done in this way to help the maladjusted child to find happiness and achieve success in his school life. It is only with the consent and cooperation of the parent that a child is brought to the center, but parents and teachers working together through this agency can be of great help to the child.

Following Dr. Ervin's address the meeting was opened for questions and discussion which further clarified and explained the services offered by the Guidance Center.

During the business session it was decided to ask the public relations committee of the Classroom Teachers to see what they could do to help in the work of the center.

At The Theaters

Jim Theatre

Today through Wednesday: "Beau Brummell" with Stewart Granger, Elizabeth Taylor, Peter Ustinov and Robert Morley. Great in wide screen and glorious color.

Midnight show Saturday: "The Golden Mistress" starring John Agar and filmed in color by Technicolor.

Gay Musical Hit 'Brigadoon' Is Coming To Monroe

"Brigadoon," screen version of the Broadway musical hit, filmed in CinemaScope and Ansco Color, will be the next attraction at the Jim Theatre.

The new M-G-M musical stars Gene Kelly, Van Johnson and Cyd Charisse, with the supporting cast featuring Elaine Stewart, Barry Jones, Albert Sharpe, Virginia Bosler of the original stage cast, and the noted Broadway dancer, Hugh Laing making his film debut after starring with the New York City Ballet Company.

As a stage musical "Brigadoon" won the New York Critics Circle Award and ran in New York for 581 straight performances, later repeating its success in England end Scotland. Its story, drawing a fine line between reality and fantasy, tells of a Scottish village rising out of the Highland mists one day in each century and of a stranger who gives up the mundane world for love and the enchantment of the village of Brigadoon.

The picture reunites Gene Kelly and Cyd Charisse for the first time since the successful "Singin' in the Rain," and also marks the first time Kelly and Van Johnson have worked together in a musical since 1941, when both appeared on Broadway in "Pal Joey."

Behind the production were the same group of film-makers responsible for the Academy Award-winning "An American in Paris" — producer Arthur Freed, director Vincente Minnelli, writer Alan Jay Lerner, musical director Johnny Green, costume designer Irene Sharaff and star and choreographer Gene Kelly.

Lerner, author of the stage play of the original musical, also wrote the book and lyrics of the film version of "Brigadoon," with the music written by Frederick Loewe. Among the songs are "Heather on the Hill," "From This Day On," "I'll Go Home With Bonnie Jean," "Waitin' For My Dearie," "Almost Like Bein In Love," "Down On MacConnachy Square" and the title song.

Another musical highlight is the "Wedding Dance" production number filmed on a sound stage covering 40,000 square feet of floor space in the largest single set ever constructed for an M-G-M picture.

This Man Thinks At 87 There's No Reason To Be Old

Yesterday, November 20, was of importance to one of the most active veteran workers in the Twin Cities. He is William T. Bennett, of 1215 College avenue, who is listed in the city directory as employed by the state department of highways. Yesterday, his 87th birthday, he did his usual round of work and this included, when he got home, a round of effort in his yard, where he has some choice fruit trees, pecan trees and a winter garden.

Born in Kentucky, he came to Monroe to live about 1912 and has resided here ever since. He was father of two sons and two daughters. The sons died in past wars in which they served their country and his daughters are both dead. .But his pride lies in the fact that he has two granddaughters who live nearby and in their lives he derives great comfort.

Despite the fact that he has had many birthdays, he is not at all inclined to think that he is getting up in years, for he can do a good day's work and delights in keeping busy. "This is the life for me-" he declares.

"May he have many more" is the wish of unnumbered friends.

Cub Pack Holds Monthly Meeting

Cub Scout Pack 231 met for its monthly session in St. Paul's church Thursday at 7 p.m. with 100 attending.

The meeting opened with a flag ceremony led by Michael Oliver, Sammy McGowen and George Nichols who are all boys of Den 4.

Awards were presented: Gold and Silver Arrow Points on the Bear badge to George Nichols and the Lion Badge to Steve Davis.

The following skits were presented on the theme of the month "Events of American History," showing the entrance to America by the Vikings which was given by Den 4 under direction of Mrs. Malcolm Mason. Then next came Columbus with his ships, presented by Den 5 directed by Mrs. Breard.

Den 1, directed by Mrs. Hall comprised Indians. Pilgrims and Indians were represented by members of Den 6, Mrs. Hewell, leader and the Governor and Massasoit were impersonated.

The meeting closed with Cubmaster Truman Britton leading in singing of "God Bless America."

New trick: use buttermilk in place of the milk or water called for in the package directions when you are baking a white cake.

Alan Ladd, Audrey Dalton Co-Star In 'Drum Beat'

Alan Ladd stars in his first CinemaScope thriller, "Drum Beat," which will open Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre. Filmed in WarnerColor by Jaguar Productions for Warner Bros. presentation, "Drum Beat" features two leading ladies, Audrey Dalton and Marisa Pavan. Delmer Daves produced and directed the action drama from his own screenplay.

"Drum Beat" is the story of the Modoc Indian war of 1869 in Northern California. Most of the film was reportedly made in the rugged Coconino National Forest of Arizona where the desert vistas are interrupted only by mountainous mesas and mile-high buttes. The story is personalized mainly through two characters, Johnny MacKay, a frontier scout, and Captain Jack, eccentric and wily leader of the Modoc Indians who liked to dress in stolen uniforms and affect a military title. Alan Ladd is Johnny MacKay. Charles Bronson, one-time Pennsylvania coal miner and a specialist in "heavy" roles, plays the Indian leader.

Miss Dalton, recently seen opposite Bob Hope in a light comedy role, portrays the role of one of Alan Ladd's sweethearts. Marisa Pavan, twin sister of Pier Angeli, essays the role of an Indian maiden whose love for Ladd saves his life.

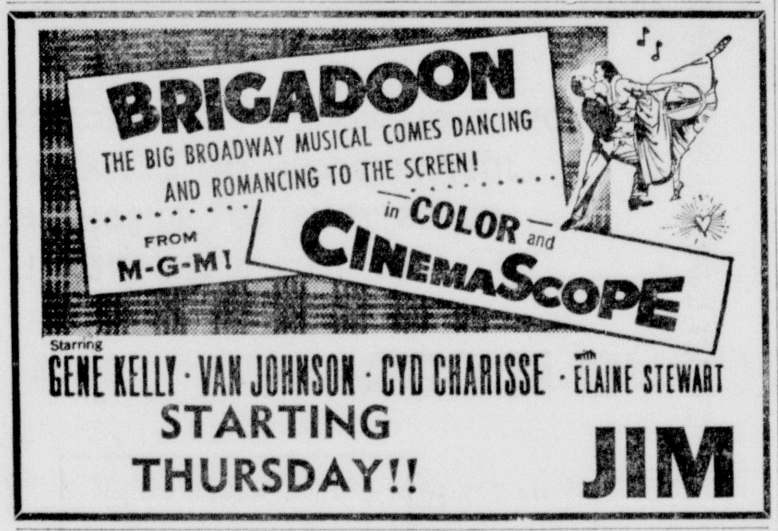
MacKay, Alan Ladd, is sent into the California - Oregon border territory to negotiate a peace treaty with the Modoc Indians who had gone on the warpath against the settlements near the lava caves and Superstition Mountain. Lured into ambush by Captain Jack, a renegade Modoc leader, Ladd is almost killed but recovers to capture the Modoc badman and conclude the treaty.

Ladd is loved by two women in "Drum Beat," Toby, the Indian princess who gambles her life to save his, and Nancy's, the eastern girl whose family is wiped out in an Indian raid.

The producer - director - writer of "Drum Beat," Delmer Daves, scored one of his greatest successes with "Broken Arrow," a picture which showed Indians in a sympathetic light. Daves' most recent effort was in connection with the CinemaScope spectacle "Demetrius and the Gladiator."

The filming of "Drum Beat" involved the construction of 80 sets. They ranged in variety from President U. S. Grant's study in the White House to a scaffold from which Captain Jack and his renegades were hanged. Some 500 studio people were actively engaged in the production.

NEW ROMANTIC TEAM—Stewart Granger and Elizabeth Taylor appear together for the first time in "Beau Brommell," M-G-M's color romance of England's famous 18th century dandy, who wooed one of his country's most aristocratic beauties. Peter Ustinov, remembered for his Nero of "Quo Vadis" has another vivid role as the petulant Prince of Wales, with Robert Morley cast as the mad King George III. The new picture opens today at the Jim Theater.



Gay Musical Hit 'Brigadoon' Is Coming To Monroe

"Brigadoon," screen version of the Broadway musical hit, filmed in CinemaScope and Ansco Color, will be the next attraction at the Jim Theatre.

The new M-G-M musical stars Gene Kelly, Van Johnson and Cyd Charisse, with the supporting cast featuring Elaine Stewart, Barry Jones, Albert Sharpe, Virginia Bosler of the original stage cast, and the noted Broadway dancer, Hugh Laing making his film debut after starring with the New York City Ballet Company.

As a stage musical "Brigadoon" won the New York Critics Circle Award and ran in New York for 581 straight performances, later repeating its success in England end Scotland. Its story, drawing a fine line between reality and fantasy, tells of a Scottish village rising out of the Highland mists one day in each century and of a stranger who gives up the mundane world for love and the enchantment of the village of Brigadoon.

The picture reunites Gene Kelly and Cyd Charisse for the first time since the successful "Singin' in the Rain," and also marks the first time Kelly and Van Johnson have worked together in a musical since 1941, when both appeared on Broadway in "Pal Joey."

Behind the production were the same group of film-makers responsible for the Academy Award-winning "An American in Paris" — producer Arthur Freed, director Vincente Minnelli, writer Alan Jay Lerner, musical director Johnny Green, costume designer Irene Sharaff and star and choreographer Gene Kelly.

Lerner, author of the stage play of the original musical, also wrote the book and lyrics of the film version of "Brigadoon," with the music written by Frederick Loewe. Among the songs are "Heather on the Hill," "From This Day On," "I'll Go Home With Bonnie Jean," "Waitin' For My Dearie," "Almost Like Bein In Love," "Down On MacConnachy Square" and the title song.

Another musical highlight is the "Wedding Dance" production number filmed on a sound stage covering 40,000 square feet of floor space in the largest single set ever constructed for an M-G-M picture.

City Classroom Teachers Hold Monthly Session

The Monroe City Classroom teachers held their meeting in the library of Neville High School last Tuesday. The president, Mrs. G. E. Boggs presided, and called on Mrs. LaVern Riddle to introduce the speaker of the afternoon, who was Dr. Frank Ervin, a member of the faculty of Tulane University and psychiatrist at the Monroe Guidance Center.

Dr. Ervin explained the progress that has been made at the Monroe Guidance Center, which is one of ten such organizations in the state. Here children who have definite behavior and social problems may be treated, and although so far most of the cases have been brought in by pediatricians or the juvenile court, teachers and parents are invited to refer cases to the center also.

Much can be done in this way to help the maladjusted child to find happiness and achieve success in his school life. It is only with the consent and cooperation of the parent that a child is brought to the center, but parents and teachers working together through this agency can be of great help to the child.

Following Dr. Ervin's address the meeting was opened for questions and discussion which further clarified and explained the services offered by the Guidance Center.

During the business session it was decided to ask the public relations committee of the Classroom Teachers to see what they could do to help in the work of the center.

Cub Pack Holds Monthly Meeting

Cub Scout Pack 231 met for its monthly session in St. Paul's church Thursday at 7 p.m. with 100 attending.

The meeting opened with a flag ceremony led by Michael Oliver, Sammy McGowen and George Nichols who are all boys of Den 4.

Awards were presented: Gold and Silver Arrow Points on the Bear badge to George Nichols and the Lion Badge to Steve Davis.

The following skits were presented on the theme of the month "Events of American History," showing the entrance to America by the Vikings which was given by Den 4 under direction of Mrs. Malcolm Mason. Then next came Columbus with his ships, presented by Den 5 directed by Mrs. Breard.

Den 1, directed by Mrs. Hall comprised Indians. Pilgrims and Indians were represented by members of Den 6, Mrs. Hewell, leader and the Governor and Massasoit were impersonated.

The meeting closed with Cubmaster Truman Britton leading in singing of "God Bless America."

New trick: use buttermilk in place of the milk or water called for in the package directions when you are baking a white cake.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

As a habit of life, eat more fresh fruit.

Have You Lost Weight? You Must Keep It Lost

During 1954 I have offered my eight-week self-improvement Marathon which brings a loss of around 20 pounds in eight weeks' time, and my nine-day reducing diet which brings a loss of from 5 to 10 pounds in nine days, and most recently, my Tubby Hubby reducing diet, which brings a loss of from 7 to 12 pounds in 12 days' time. Therefore I know that there are a lot of men and women who became happier, healthier and more attractive. How are you now? Have you begun to accumulate those extra pounds you lost, or are you struggling not to do so? Being human, this is no doubt happening to many of you.

Therefore, at this time, I believe it will be helpful to outline for you a few suggestions about how to hold that line!

You learned while on your reducing diet what foods are important to your health and which are non-essential. Of course, the foods which are non-essential physically, tempt the palate and, provide some comfort to the spirit.

Add More

When you have reached your ideal weight you can begin to add more calories to your diet and can indulge in some of those wonderful things you forgot while reducing, but don't go haywire. Keep the eating habits you learned while reducing, as a lifetime plan, except that you add a conservative amount of the items left off.

For instance, you can have some gravy, more butter or margarine, some salad dressings, some desserts and so forth. BUT do not go back to your old habits of eating, because if you do, you will not only gain back those extra pounds but you will be leaving behind a diet which will make it possible for you to remain young longer, and feel and look better.

As a habit of life, eat more fresh fruit and less pastry, drink more skim milk or butter milk or powdered, fat - free milk, and less cream, eat more yellow and green vegetables and less starch. Today the protein and mineral and vitamin-high diet is the one we strive for. Of course you need some sugar and starch and fat. These are all an important part of the well-balanced diet. Just don't be extreme about them. They always add such a bang to eating.

Get up from the table before you ever feel stuffed (except once in a while), and emphasize the essential foods. This will pay off in health and physical attractiveness and pep and prolonged youthfulness.

In order to help women who have lost weight to hold that line, I have prepared menus for six days in order to give them some idea of what I mean. If you would like to have the leaflet, "Hold That Line," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 71.

Also, if you missed the nine-day diet (for women) or Tubby Hubby diet (for men) and would like to have one of them in a convenient booklet, send ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the one you want. If you want both, send 20 cents and a stamped, self - addressed envelope. Address Josephine Lowman in care of Morning World.

West Carroll Seeks Parish Health Building

OAK GROVE, Nov. 20 (Special) — H. E. Philley, president of the West Carroll police jury, was authorized by the body to make application for federal and state funds totaling $30,447 to erect a parish health center building.

Dr. T. D. Boaz, district health officer, explained to the jury that the total estimated cost of construction of a 3,000 square-foot health center would be $38,540. Boaz said that federal funds of $24,666 were available and $5,781 was available from state department of institutions. This would leave the parish to furnish $8,093.

North-South vulnerable. South deals.

The bidding:

South, 1 spade; West, Pass; North, 2 clubs; East, Pass.

South, 2 diamonds; West, Pass; North, 4 clubs; East, Pass.

South, 4 diamonds; West, Pass; North, 4 spades; East, Pass.

South, 5 spades; West, Pass; North, 6 spades; East, Pass.

South, Pass; West, Pass.

Opening lead: Ten of hearts.

The opportunity for a post-graduate play was presented to the South players who held it in a recent tournament. The contract of six spades is not recommended as a sound investment by this department. In the first place the trump holding is not what we regard as blue chip variety for slam purposes and secondly the difficulty of communication should have been apparent from South's void of clubs. South, moreover, can be sure from North's belated spade support that only three trump would be found in dummy. A six club contract would have succeeded because the jank of clubs falls in time, and if North were minded to accept the slam invitation he should have done so in that suit.

West opened the ten of hearts end East's queen went to declarer's ace. Declarer led a spade which brought forth the ace from West, who returned a heart, forcing dummy to ruff. Now, if spades are three-two, declarer is home. So he cashed the king of spades and got the bad news when West showed out. Declarer gave it the old college try by running the clubs in the vague hope that East would be induced to ruff, but East kept discarding in all directions, knowing that declarer would eventually have to ruff, himself. He could not, therefore, be prevented from scoring with the jack of trumps.

The winning play for declarer was to reduce his trumps once earlier in the play and come down to the same number as those held by East. When West takes the ace of spades at trick two, he should be suspected of holding a singleon, though he might have ace-jack alone, which will prove immaterial. So that when the heart comes back and dummy is forced to ruff, the spade king should not be cashed at this point. South should "unnecessarily" ruff a club, reducing his hand to three trumps. Then he should lead to the spade king. If trumps break all is over, after South discards his losing heart on the ace of clubs. But in the actual case the break is discovered and dummy keeps running the club suit. At the end East has two trumps, jack-eight, end declarer has queen-ten. When North teads from dummy at trick 12, East is trapped.

YEAH, BUT THEY DIDN'T TURN OUT SO HOT! FACT IS, THEY DIDN'T LOOK AS MUCH LIKE TH' REAL ME AS YOUR PICHURE DID! SO I SENT HIM YOURS..
WHAT!! YOU SENT MY PICTURE? WHY, OF ALL—
I'LL EXPLAIN TO HIM AFTER WE MEET HIS TRAIN, AN' HE'S SHOWED A REAL INT'REST IN ME. LISSEN... I HEAR IT NOW! C'MON!
BUT—
THAT'S FUNNY... TH' ONLY MALE STRANGER THAT GOT OFF IS THIS OLE GOAT!
PARDON ME...AREN'T YOU MISS LULU BELLE SUGGS? I'M PROFESSOR GABRIEL HORNER—WOT! THEN THAT PICHURE YOU SENT MUST OF BEEN TOOK WHEN COOLIDGE WAS PRESIDENT!!
AND HOW DOES THAT CONCERN YOU, MADAM?
WELL, I'LL TELL YOU HOW, YOU FOXY OLE FOSSIL—
TAKE IT EASY, LULU BELLE! AT LEAST HE SENT HIS OWN PHOTOGRAPH!
LULU BELLE? THEN YOU'RE MISS SUGGS?
YOU GUESSED IT, GABE!
THANK HEAVENS, I LEARNED THE GHASTLY TRUTH IN TIME TO CATCH THE SAME TRAIN OUT!
HMM...HEY, WAIT, GABE! AFTER ALL, YOU ARE A MAN... SO TO SPEAK!
WOT'S MORE, YOU'VE COME A LONG WAYS TO WOO ME...AN', BY GUPPY, YOU'RE GOIN' THRU WITH IT!

MIRACLE SHORTENING!

IT'S NEW! IT'S GOLDEN-YELLOW!

PROCTER & GAMBLE'S FABULOUS Golden FLUFFO

GOLDEN FLUFFO IS PURE SHORTENING—NOT A TABLE SPREAD

Gives appetizing new richness to everything you bake or fry!

NATURE HAS GIVEN unusually appetizing, nourishing richness to foods with the color yellow. Now comes a fabulous yellow shortening...Procter & Gamble's Fluffo . . . golden yellow from Nature's own carotene! To give appetizing new richness to everything you bake or fry!

Look at Fluffo! How creamy it is and how rich-looking!

Blend it! Feel its creamy richness cut into flour for golden-rich pastry dough. Bake with it! Never—till now—could you get such temptingly good, golden-brown pies as Fluffo gives you. Such high, light, golden-rich cakes!

Fry with Fluffo! Get flavorful, golden-brown "fries" never before possible.

Fluffo is different. It does things no other shortening can do! Get a can. It's available in most areas. Discover how it gives appetizing new richness to everything you bake or fry.

NEVER BEFORE POSSIBLE...

such rich-tasting, golden-brown, flaky pie crust!

Give your family the kind of eatin' they've been missin' . . . with wonderfully beautiful and rich-tasting golden Fluffo pies like this!

GOLDEN FLUFFO SPICY APPLE PIE

The prettiest, tastiest apple pie that ever came out of your oven!

2¼ cups sifted flour
¾ cup golden Fluffo
1 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons water

Mix flour and salt in bowl. Cut Fluffo into flour until pieces are size of peas. Add water and mix with fork until dough holds together. Divide into two parts. Roll half of dough about ⅛" thick. Place in pie plate. Trim.

For filling combine 5 cups sliced apples, ¾ cup sugar, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1 tbsp. flour, 1 tbsp. lemon juice and 1 tbsp. golden Fluffo. Roll other half of dough. Place on filled pie.

Trim and flute edge. Prick top crust. Bake 10 minutes at 425° F. Reduce to 350° F. for about 30 minutes longer.

IMPORTANT! Use Fluffo in all your recipes that call for shortening—without changing a single measurement!

Tales from the Great Book
JOASH
by John Lehti
JOASH — ONLY DESCENDANT OF DAVID LEFT ALIVE — HAS BEEN HIDDEN BY HIS AUNT AND UNCLE, JEHOSHEBA AND JEHOIADA, FROM THE WICKED QUEEN ATHALIAH WHO HAD ORDERED HIM KILLED. BUT NOW ATHALIAH BREAKS INTO THE ROOM WHERE JOASH IS HIDDEN....
WH..WHAT DOES MY QUEEN WISH?
WHO IS THIS?
IT IS ONLY MY CHILD- LITTLE RUTH.
A GIRL? LET ME SEE!
SO IT IS!... FOR A MOMENT I THOUGHT... WELL, NEVER MIND — LET US LEAVE!
I FORGOT THERE WERE SERVANTS' CHILDREN IN THE PALACE.
WHERE.. WHERE IS YOUNG JOASH?
WE WERE HIDDEN HERE.
GOD HAS HELPED US SAVE THE PRINCE!
BUT WE MUST NOT TAKE FURTHER CHANCES. JOASH MUST BE WELL HIDDEN FROM THIS MOMENT ON!
THAT NIGHT, JEHOSHEBA AND JEHOIADA DECIDE TO HIDE JOASH IN THE TEMPLE... THE ONE PLACE WHERE PAGAN ATHALIAH HARDLY EVER ENTERS!
WE MUST BE VERY CAREFUL... ATHALIAH'S GUARDS ARE EVERY-WHERE!
HALT!

ER-TWO TENS, TO BE EXACK.
BUT MOON WILL GIVE ME MY MONEY BACK IN DUE TIME, TOOTS.
PHOOEY! HE WON'T EVEN GIVE YOU A EXCUSE.
FOUR ACES! WELL, GENTS, THAT TAKES ME TO TH' CLEANERS.
HOW A GUY WITH YER TOUGH LUCK EVER STAYED SINGLE ALL THESE YEARS IS A PUZZLE TO ME.
FOUR STACKS. THAT'S EXACTLY TWENTY BUCKS YOU OWE.
AND NIX ON THEM PHONY I.O.U.S. I CAN'T SPEND THEM.
YEH, I GET MINE IN CASH OR-
NOW KEEP YOUR SHIRTS ON-YOU'LL GET YOUR $20. I GOT IT AT HOME.
OKAY-THEN WE GOES HOME WITH YOU.
I TOLD YOU THE NEIGHBORS WOULD CALL TH' COPS IF YOU DIDN'T STOP HOLLERING AT ME, HONEY.
COPS, ME EYE! IT'S MOON BRINGIN' HOME A BUNCH OF BUMS.
THANK GOODNESS, THIS DOUGH'S STILL HERE WHERE I HID IT.
WOT TH'?
OOP!
HAR HAR HAR!
OOF!
BUT, MAMIE, I OWES THAT DOUGH TO SOME GENTS IN TH' PARLOR.
WELL, YOU OWES IT TO YOUR UNCLE WILLIE AND HE OWES IT TO ME... "FIRST COME FIRST SERVED" THAT'S MY MOTTO.

MAN! WILL WE EAT TONIGHT!
SAY, SPEAKIN' OF EATS! WILL YOU BOYS DELIVER ANOTHER PACKAGE OF "SMOKED EEL"?
SO LONG, UNCLE RIVER RAT··· THANKS AGAIN!
N77Z
COME BACK REAL SOON, BOYS··· I GIT LONESOME OUT HERE ON THIS 'GLADES RIVER!
SAY, PALS, I'M LATE AND I'VE GOT A DATE··· WILL YOU DROP OFF THIS "SMOKED EEL"?
IT'S ON YOUR WAY HOME···AND UNCLE RIVER RAT WROTE TH' ADDRESS ON TH' PACKAGE!
I'M TH' MAID! I'LL GIVE TH' PACKAGE TO UNCLE RIVER RAT'S FRIEND. THANKS, BOYS!
THAT "TOKEN" DELIVERY THAT MY DUMB "PALS" MADE SPUN A WEB AROUND THEM, LADY LONGLEGS!
YES, IF THEY SHOULD GET WISE, WE CAN PROVE THEY ARE ALSO INVOLVED AS "DELIVERY" BOYS!
ZACK MOSLEY
NOW THEY CAN BE FORCED, IF NECESSARY, TO FLY TO ANY PLACE I DICTATE!
HAVING "ABOVE-SUSPICION" YOUNG FLIERS TO TRANSPORT MY "WARES" IS A PERFECT COVER-UP FOR ME!
